

The Workshop on Critical Approaches to Race and Ethnicity, a Program of the Center for the Study of Ethnicity and Race, Presents

DOWN & DELIRIOUS IN MEXICO CITY

The Aztec Metropolis in the Twenty-First Century

A New Book

by Daniel Hernandez

April 14th
7-9pm

420 Hamilton Hall
Columbia University

Panelists

join us for the after party at Cantina Royal,
58 N 3rd St. Brooklyn, NY

Claudio Lomnitz

Professor of Anthropology,
Columbia University

Seth Fein

Professor of History, Columbia University

Imani Johnson

Performance Studies, NYU

Romeo Guzman

Latin American Studies
Columbia University

Daniel Hernandez has been a staff writer at the Los Angeles Times and LA Weekly. His journalism has appeared in The New York Times T Magazine, El País, The Guardian, and "All Things Considered" on National Public Radio. He currently lives in Mexico City.