DESCRIPTION:

Correspondence, manuscripts, documents, photographs, printed materials, and microfilms of Vladimir I. Lebedev (1884-1956), Socialist Revolutionary Minister of the Navy in the 1917 provisional government and journalist and writer (one of the editors of Volia Rossii) in Europe and the United States. Most of the collection consists of manuscripts by Lebedev and others on Russian and East European literary and political topics from about 1914 to the 1930s. There are three microfilm reels of materials on Gavrilo Princip and the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand in Sarajevo, 1914. Correspondents include Hamilton Fish Armstrong and George F. Kennan. There are several drafts of articles by Mark Slonim and materials on the Socialist Revolutionaries in the emigration from about 1930. Lebedev's personal documents cover from his army service (the Russo-Japanese War), through the 1917 revolution and Civil War, and his later life in Europe and the United States. There are photographs from interwar Albania and Bulgaria, including ones of Aleksandur Stamboliski. Printed materials include a copy of Lebedev's book Novym putem and issues of Volia Rossii.
