DESCRIPTION: Collection of Mikhail P. Osipov( - ), an officer in the White Army who emigrated to France after the Civil War and became active in the Russian General-Military Union(Russkii obshche-voinskii soiuz). The collection consists of a photograph of Sergei M. Lifar', correspondence, a diary, manuscripts and memoirs, subject files, documents, military service records and questionnaires, membership registers of the Union of the Knights of St. George(Soiuz georgievskikh kavalerov), photographs and printed materials. The collection mostly concerns the Russian General-Military Union and the Union of the Knights of St. George. The diary is by Lev L. De-vitt on the Civil War. Subject files include materials on the Union of the Knights of St. George and Major-General Ippolit V. Savitskii. Service records, military service questionnaires, membership records and photographs deal with members of both organizations. Printed materials include mimeographed bulletins of these organizations and a book listing the recipients of the Order of St. George, dated November 26, 1916.
