DESCRIPTION: Correspondence, manuscripts, documents, photographs, and printed materials of Aleksandr N. Rozhdestvenskii (1883-1968 or 1969), lawyer in Imperial Russia and emigre in Bulgaria, France, and Chile. The correspondence chiefly covers from the 1920s to the 1960s. Manuscripts include an extensive autobiography; a memoir about his work before World War I as a prosecutor in the Tbilisi region, "Desiat' let sluzhby v prokurskom nadzore na Kavkaze;" and notes and manuscripts and many topics, including history and his years in Georgia and the emigration. Included are Rozhdestvenskii's personal documents from both Russia and the emigration, and photographs of him and of members of emigre organizations. Among the printed materials are clippings and several early twentieth century political pamphlets.
