

African Renaissance

Vol 2. No.6 November/December 2005

Contents

From the Publisher Jideofor Adibe	5
South Africa: The New Big Brother or the New Imperial Power in Africa
Coherence and Contradictions in South Africa's Foreign Policy in Africa Laurie Nathan	11
Friend or Foe? South Africa and Sub-Saharan Africa in the Global Trading System Peter Draper & Nkululeko Khumalo	25
South Africa: An Opportunity for African Transformation and Post-Colonial Liberation ? Mammo Muchie	51
The emerging giants of Africa: A Study of Nigeria-South Africa Relations in the Post Apartheid era Jonah I. Onuoha	58
Nigeria
Poetics, Politics and the Paradoxes of Oil in Nigeria's Niger Delta Region James Tar Tsaiior	72
The Nigerian Oil and Gas Industry: From Joint Ventures to Production Sharing Contracts Madaki O. Ameh	81
Cameroon
44 years of Cameroon's unification: Has it been success? Elie Smith	88
Africa and the world
Two Nations, One Destiny Bankie F. Bankie	93
Human Security: A Focus on Africa Kenneth Omeje	97
Migration and Diaspora: Craze, Significance and Challenges Patrick IROEGBU	105
Determining Whether the Glass is Half-full or Half-empty: The Continuing Challenge of Making Poverty History Joe L. Washington	123

France: Unveiling Racism and Police Brutality in the Land of Free
Issaka K. Souare

130

Rhetorics of Violence in Alex La Guma's Novels
Blessing Diala-Ogamba

136