MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

BUNGLING LEGISLATION.

The bungling and abortive efforts which have been recently made in the State Legislature to compass the subject of mortgage legislation, whether for exemption or taxation it is difficult to discern, certainly constitute the very embodiment of legislative incapacity. A fortnight ago we called attention to the manifold evils of a bill which had then passed the Senate. We are agreeably disappointed in being able to congratulate our readers upon the defeat of that bill in the Assembly. Along with these glad tidings comes the information that another bill of kindred import has been incubated in the Ways and Means Committee of the Lower House. The relation of these two bills appears to be that of father and son. The text of the later one will be found in our news column. A superficial examination of it will convince those who have taken any interest in the subject that, while some of the intricacies of the earlier bill have been removed, its greater evils and absurdities have been intensified and perpetuated in the new measure. Our best information leads us to believe that these measures have had their origin principally, if not exclusively, among country members, and that their object is to relieve the farmers, who happen to own mortgaged farms, from some few dollars of taxation which they find it inconvenient to bear. As the organic law requires such legislation to partake of a general character, the relief demanded by this rural constituency is likely to impose upon the owners of landed interests in cities a peculiar and excruciating burden. It passes comprehension how such vicious, partial and perplexing legislation can escape the condemnation of keen lawyers and business men in the committees of the respective Houses. Such enactments arouse just suspicion as to the amount of wisdom which presides in our legislative councils.

If the country at this moment is suffering from one evil more than another, it is from unwise, intrusive and disturbing legislation. At a time, when of all others, its business interests need repose and exemption from irritating causes, they seem more than ever to be menaced with radical, special and ill-advised legislation. For five bitter years the best business interests of the country, mercantile and manufacturing, have writhed under the agitation of the currency question in Congress, and now these same interests are shaken to their very centres by the prospect of a complete overturning and reconstruction of the tariff laws. In our own State, real estate interests, lying at the foundation of the whole social and mercantile fabric, have been burdened with a load of taxation piled mountain high; administered under processes which are slowly strangling their very life. Instead of the permanent and substantial relief which wholesome legislation would afford, the very first presentment of the subject of taxation in the State Legislature is in the shape of crude, bungling and ill-digested devices, such as the measures upon which we are animadverting.

It is not easy to clearly define the real object sought to be attained by the promoters of this suspicious legislation. Many objects may be imagined and assigned, and the evil effects of the proposed measures may be readily traced by those accustomed to watch the operation of such laws. The least insight into the subject will furnish an assured conviction that if the present proposed law finds a place upon the statute book, it will afford no real relief to the owners of property nor to the owners of mortgages, while it will be sure to entail upon the whole community confusion, distraction and serious hardship. Assuming that in these measures a double object is contemplated, that of relieving the property owner and the mortgage owner, or of providing the means of equating taxation between the two, it is safe to say that they fly flat in the face of both of these propositions. It is proposed to allow a mortgage debtor to deduct the amount of his mortgage from the assessed valuation of his property for taxation, and to impose upon him the obligation of giving the authorities a clew to the owner of the mortgage, so that if he happens to be a resident of this State, he may be made to respond to the full amount of the tax upon his mortgage. As a majority, probably, of mortgages are held by moneyed institutions, which are already exempt by law from taxation on their mortgage investments, and as another proportion, not a small one, are held by lenders residing out of the State, it is more than likely that in practice the mortgage debtor will be debarred from availing himself of the exemption which this law professes to grant. In this light it is simply a discrimination against the private lender on mortgage who happens to be a citizen of this State, and will certainly, if the law is strictly enforced in the interests of borrowers, drive our own capitalists out of the mortgage market.

There is another provision, however, in this law which resembles the Irishman's famous postscript to his letter, in which, after writing it, he announces his decision to not send it. This other section provides that an agreement may be made between the borrower and lender as to which one shall bear the tax, or whether it shall be divided between them in an agreed proportion. The privilege of making such an agreement certainly does not require the authority or mandate of any statute. In effect this section will defeat the operation of the whole law, or rather will so far suspend its action that the capitalist will either decline altogether to lend on mortgage, or else will compel the borrower to pay the taxes as he is doing at present. To complete the farcical character of this statute it would be only necessary to add an additional section to the effect that this statute is intended for legislative pastime, and will probably have no application after all to the relations of borrowers and lenders.

We are forced, however, to welcome even such crude and bungling legislation as this, as the earnest of a desire on the part of our law makers to deal, if not intelligently then to the best of their abilities, with this pressing and imperative subject of real estate taxation. By the best authorities, the taxation of mortgages is recognized as a double taxation of real estate, and this proposition is too simple to require demonstration. It is the highest injustice and the exemplary evil of our present laws that real estate, the least able to bear oppressive taxation, is really subjected to a double tax. If there is an honest and sincere purpose on the part of our law makers to mitigate the evils which now oppress our real estate interests, especially in the matter of mortgages, the way is really plain and clear. When we recall the able and lucid expositions which have been made of this subject during the past fifteen years, we are simply amazed at the lack of information at present displayed by the legislature.

To remove this double tax on real estate and to lift in the most direct and effectual manner the burden of oppression from both property owner and mortgage owner, we merely require to have the tax entirely taken off mortgages.

Probably three-quarters of the amount of existing mortgages are exempt by previous enactments, and yet the fact that the remaining portion is held for taxation, that mortgages owned by individuals resident in this State are subject to taxation whenever found, introduces an element of uncertainty and disadvantage in the negotiation of mortgage loans which has a tendency to throw them into the hands of moneyed corporations and non-resident lenders. Were the taxation of mortgages once removed, large volumes of resident personal capital would at once seek these investments, and the rate of interest at which good mortgages would be easily negotiable would correspond with the rate of interest paid on government bonds or any other prime untaxed securities.

It is not only with reference to this single matter of taxation of mortgages that legislative action is required. Sooner or later the whole subject of State and municipal taxation must forcibly present itself to the minds of our law-makers, and imperiously demand broad, comprehensive and rational treatment. There is no subject at the present moment that is more profoundly agitating the minds of the people of the entire country, and especially of this State and city. The demand is outspoken and clamorous for thorough reform of the wretched system of tax administration with which we have struggled, and by which we have been cursed and oppressed for so many years. Partial, piecemeal, bungling legislation will not afford the desired relief. The subject must be taken by the roots and dealt with intelligently, decisively and promptly.

THE TAX ROLLS.

It is the glorious privilege of American citizens to be taxed. Formerly we rebelled against taxation without representation, but now, having representation, we are called upon to bear contentedly the fullest measure of taxation. In whatever respect our system of republican government may excel or fall short of European systems, it has certainly reached a point where it can challenge comparison with the most absolute and despotic of the old governments in the matter of levying and collecting taxation. The annual product of Federal, State, County and Town taxation of the State of New York is reckoned by experts at one hundred millions of dollars. This sum is probably below rather than above the actual figures, and, as it stands, constitutes an enormous drain upon the industry of the people. In New York City, under the operation of an obsolete and fossilized code, the burden of taxation is levied upon three principal objects: organized capital, real estate mortgages and real estate, and upon these disproportionately, inequitably and capriciously. The sum of personal capital reached by taxation is too small to be taken into account and of the amount assessed a large fraction fails entirely of collection.

The unequal operation of taxation in this city was scarcely felt or realized during the flush times of prosperity. When rents were high and easily collected, and when the values of land showed an annual, if not a monthly increase on paper, the real tax payers of this city were estopped from making any complaint of unjust burdens. In fact the plausible doctrine of the self-diffusion of taxation seemed under the circumstances to be also self demonstrating and self-operating. Then, indeed, the property owner enjoyed the unresisted and unqualified prerogative of reassessing upon his lessee or vendee the full amount of assessed taxation.

But circumstances have materially changed. The beautiful fabric of colossal real estate values has tumbled in a wreck. Rents of property, always apt to be measured by the capabilities of tenants, are now found to be scarcely sufficient to meet the expenses of mortgaged property, and the net income derived from unmortgaged property, when held in limited quantities, is totally inadequate to afford the means of livelihood for moderate families. And yet taxation is undiminished, being, in fact, higher than ever as regards property owners, for through some mysterious occult agencies and curious transmutation of figures the assessment of personal property, never above three hundred millions of dollars, has fallen to two hundred millions; and this reduction, of one hundred millions, has been transferred bodily to the item of real estate. This condition of the tax rolls has been brought about in the face of an average decline in real estate values of forty per cent., and when the legitimate and natural increment of taxable values by the annexation of new wards, and by building improvements, scarcely amounts, within the period we are considering, to fifty millions of dollars.

Meanwhile the banks are becoming restive under the pressure of what they esteem to be an unequal burden of taxation, and after fruitless efforts to get relieved of some portion of it, their officers are now besieging the Legislature to remit the tax altogether. In fact, a distinguished merchant of this city sought and obtained a seat in the Legislature, apparently with the sole object in view of procuring legislation to effect the remission of this tax. If this effort should in time be successful, and organized efforts, especially when backed by large capital, usually are successful in this country, the real estate owners in this city may then be prepared to see their property and a certain portion of the mortgages secured by it become the sole objects of taxation.

Withal, the present tax-laws are declared to be so ambiguous and inexplicable as to defy the best ability and ingenuity to construe and enforce them. Practically, taxation is levied in this city not according to the letter of any fixed and positive statute, but simply according to the will of the official administrators of the law. It so happens that these officials elect to fasten the major share, and may in time be compelled to fasten the entire burden of taxation upon real estate and its cognate interest—mortgages. Facetiously, or seriously, it is difficult to tell which, we are assured that this method of levying taxes is highly proper and warrantable, since under this method real estate becomes merely the yard stick whereby the entire roll of taxation is fairly, uniformly and equitably distributed throughout the community. We are disposed to lament that we do not possess the philosophical insight necessary to appreciate the aptness of this brilliant theory, and to adopt it as a conclusion, because the inventors and propounders of it really seem to derive such placid satisfaction from its statement. We have tried in vain to grapple with this deduction and to trace its possible application in practical affairs. We are forced to conclude that the present system of levying the whole sum of taxation upon one object, to wit: real estate, is either not a felicitous illustration of the beauties of this principle, or else the principle itself is a delusion. The New York system of taxation bears a stronger resemblance to a trip-hammer which is slowly pounding the life out of real estate.

We have sought in vain for some specific remedy which we could offer to our tax-paying readers in the present exigency of their affairs, but confess with regret that we have found none short of the total repeal of the present tax laws and the enactment of new, intelligible and effective laws calculated to secure the equal distribution of taxation. The present season is generally full of anxious concern to about twenty thousand of our citizens—those we mean who are the actual taxpayers of the city—as the season in which the tax-rolls are opened for inspection, and the measure of individual liability determined beyond any chance of evasion, re-opening or commutation. The rest of the community plod on their way rejoicing in the satisfying conviction that though the bloated property-holders give their checks for taxes, they, the citizens at large, through the operation of some inscrutable law, are the real and actual payers of these taxes. It would suit our purpose admirably if we could honestly adopt this forced and foregone conclusion, for, in doing so, we might conspicuously and suddenly enlarge the audience to which we could address our lucubrations. A regard for honest and scientific statements, however, compels us to limit the scope of our reflections to those among our present readers who are actual tax-payers—the ones who are accustomed annually to draw their checks for large or small amounts to the order of the Receiver of Taxes, a process just now that resembles in too many cases a contribution to charity or an investment in a mining scheme—utterly hopeless of any immediate or adequate return in this world.

The tax commissioners and sub-assessors having heretofore completed their valuations of real and personal property, are now supposed to be exhibiting their performances to the curious and inquiring gaze of taxpayers for the ostensible purpose of equalizing and correcting these valuations. The basement and second story of the brown stone building in the park are now daily besieged by an anxious throng of taxpayers desirous of obtaining a forecast of the individual tax bills which will become due and payable in the fall. This recurring spring exposure of the tax books is a most commendable device of government, not unlike the operation of slow poisoning or gradual strangulation, as it enables the taxpayer fully six months in advance of the day of reckoning to make his calculations of how little or how much of his income from real estate may be safely appropriated for his own enjoyment or means of livelihood. It is, doubtless, a great annoyance to the tax commissioners and their sub-assessors to be compelled to meet and vanquish or repel the invading host of tax-payers madly bent upon overhauling valuations, asking pertinent and impertinent questions, and indulging in all sorts of special pleadings for the purpose of escaping taxation. Taxes to be comfortably levied and unobstructively collected should be imposed arbitrarily and despotically with an express provision that the reluctant and recalcitrant tax-payer should have no opportunity of caviling, criticizing or jawing back. He should be made to pay or suffer. Such a method would facilitate the despatch of business and relieve underpaid and overworked officials from the carping cares of office. Perhaps the utterance of the French king might somewhere find a response in the present day. "Kings are absolute lords, naturally possessing the entire and uncontroled disposal of all property to be exercised for the general interests of the State."—Louis XIV.

These monarchical and mediæval ideas, however, will not answer in this country. Tax paying is not an agreeable duty to average humanity however complaisantly and promptly New Yorkers may have been in the habit heretofore of handing in their checks. No one spends money even for taxes more cheerfully than does the American citizen in prosperous times. But in hard and grinding times like these, necessary expenditures, such as the discharge of taxation, become, in the majority of cases, veritable acts of self-immolation and self-abnegation. Taxes which were formerly light as feathers have at length become oppressive and blighting, and apply themselves to the tax-payers' bank account with a ravenous tooth.

These few reflections are indulged and intended for the edification and comfort of that patient, long suffering and greatly forbearing portion of our community—the tax-payers. Generally supposed to have no rights which officials or citizens at large are called upon to recognize or respect, we would fain undertake the task of becoming their champion and mouth-piece. We cannot blame them for besieging the office of the tax commissioners. On the contrary, we would urge all tax-payers, of high or low degree, to put in at least one appearance during the season, at that office of inquest, and there exercise the constitutional right of scrutinizing and verifying the official returns of values displayed for inspection.

The tax rolls are divided into two sorts—lists of personal property and lists of real property.

PERSONAL PROPERTY.—Under the present law, it is expected that every citizen who owns a dollar above his actual indebtedness will pay annually a tax upon that sum to the city. Through the operation of special statutes, and more particularly of legal adjudications, there are many species of property which the tax commissioners are not allowed to assess, and which no citizen is expected to pay taxes upon. In every case, all individual indebtedness, whether upon mortgage, note or account, may be deducted from capital in estimating the amount of taxable personal property. All debt instrumentalities of the United States government, such as bonds, notes, certificates of deposit and the bonds of other States are exempted. Goods consigned and imported, goods manufactured out of the State, shipping registered in other States, personal property located and operated out of the State, besides money in pocket, are among the items recognized as exempt. All corporations, whether financial or commercial, unless expressly exempt by law, are liable to taxation, and business capital and all evidences of indebtedness other than those specified are regarded as taxable. Notwithstanding the hue and cry which has been raised over the impolicy of taxing personal estate, there has really been so little disposition and energy manifested on the part of the commissioners to discover and levy upon this class of property, that there is probably less irritable oppression and a greater degree of placid self-gratulation on the part of owners of personal property, in respect to taxation, than among any other class in the community. It is commonly alleged that there is a great deal of false swearing and downright evasion practised in regard to this tax. These are harsh and grating criticisms to make upon any community, and if warranted by facts, they merely go to illustrate a natural, and perhaps, inmate repugnance to tax-paying. There is no limit to the power of the tax commissioners in assessing this class of property, outside of the items which we have enumerated as exempt, and the responsibility or even criminality of evading personal taxation, must rest with the individual tax-payer, after he has been called upon to respond to a given assessment by the commissioners. There must certainly be either great inefficency in enforcing this tax, or else an incredible facility for evading it. Instead of the beggarly total of two hundred millions, the assessment under the present law might easily be brought to an amount between five hundred and a thousand millions of dollars. That it has not been so enlarged is probably owing to the greater ease and directness with which the tax can be collected from real estate, and also to the absolute terror of State taxation, that has pervaded the minds of successive commissioners. It is not improbable that they have tacitly consented to the escape of large sums of personal property, rather than by including them justly in the total of valuations, to run the risk of rendering the city liable for any greater share of State taxation.

REAL ESTATE.—The real estate owner is conspicuously the one who furnishes the music while the owner of personal property dances. The consideration if true, and if not true we hope it will be speedily corrected, that ten-elevenths of the whole burden of taxation is levied directly or indirectly upon real estate, suggests very appalling reflections to real estate owners. At a moderate calculation the real estate of this city is estimated to be worth fifteen hundred millions of dollars. Probably, if very accurately valued, the grand total would be found to be, even in these hard times, not less than two thousand millions of dollars. But for obvious reasons, to wit, the desire to escape State taxation, the Commissioners have seen fit to place the aggregate of real estate valuation at nine hundred millions, which is modestly claimed to represent a former ratio of sixty per cent.; a present ratio of eighty-five per cent. This assessment of nine hundred millions is made up of itemized valuations of each separate piece of property in the city. If the average valuation of each piece was but ten thousand dollars, there would necessarily be ninety thousand pieces. The probabilities are that the number of separate pieces of property ranges considerably above one hundred thousand. The chances for disparities of valuation in enumerating in separate parcels such a large bulk of property must be obvious.

It has been admitted in published documents that upon a special examination of the assessed valuations of five hundred different pieces of property, located at different points in the city, that disparities were found to exist, representing a range of from forty-five to one hundred and three per cent. of actual values. More recently, in attempting to meet the charge of unequal valuations, it was stated by one of the commissioners that these irregularities simply consisted in variations of judgment; and that as no two judgments ordinarily agree upon the valuation of real estate, the sub-assessors are not so much to blame.

The truth is there are notorious, palpable and flagrant inequalities of valuation, which it behooves the taxpayer to examine in person. Every owner of real estate should make it his duty to examine the tax-books and find out at what amount his property is assessed. He has the right to claim that it shall be assessed for no more than it would ordinarily sell for. He can confront the commissioners with proofs of such a value; and we doubt not in any given case the commissioners might be compelled by legal process to establish these values upon the statutory basis.

Pro, erty owners have also the right to know that their properties are rated or assessed upon the same scale as other properties; that there shall be no inequality or disproportion in relative valuations. It would be a tedious process to make up and present to the court a case based upon any alleged or actual disparities of valuation; and in any specific case doubtless the commissioners might be able to defend themselves by the looseness of the law.

It is, however, the moral and bounden duty of the commissioners, and the inalienable right of the taxpayer to claim that these valuations shall be placed upon an equitable level. No man should be obliged to pay taxes on more than his property is worth, or upon a greater relative valuation than his neighbor. Therefore, after scrutinizing the value of his own property, the taxpayer should endeavor to gain information respecting the valuations of adjoining property to see how he is relatively assessed. For the purpose of securing a fair equalization of values there is probably no better means than for taxpayers to band themselves together in ward associations. The united voice of the taxpayers in any given ward could not fail to be heard and properly responded to by the commissioners.

MR. CLARK'S MAMMOTH APARTMENT HOUSE.

The line of the Seventh avenue, for some reason or other has heretofore not been a very popular locality for important improvements, but when prominent property owners, like Mr. Clark, President of the Singer Manufacturing Company have the foresight of taking advantage of the present low prices of material to erect handsome buildings there, the dark cloud that has so long, and without any adequate reason, hung over that avenue will soon be dispelled. The improvement on which Mr. Clark has set his mind is not by any means a trivial one, and when the work is completed he will have the satisfaction of owning the most extensive apartment house in New York.

The entire block, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets, swarms now with workingmen, laying the foundation for an, as yet, unchristened apartment house that will have a frontage of two hundred feet on the avenue and one hundred feet on each of the side streets. The building which is to be erected in the Queen Anne style, will have no stores on the lower floor, and will be six stories high, each story to contain six suites of apartments, making thirty-six suites in all.

The main and distinguishing feature of the plans prepared for this building by Mr. H. J. Hardenbergh, architect, of 111 Broadway, is that in true French style, there will be a large court in the centre measuring 35x126 feet, with an outlet on the block, so that each suite of rooms will have not only a good outlook on the street but also on the court, which is to be embellished with attractive flower beds This great advantage of a court—that is to be a court, indeed—shows that our architects, if only sufficient room is given them, are slowly coming up to the true French idea of apartment houses, so that all the service for the building can come through this court leaving the main entrances for the exclusive use of visitors. These main entrances are to be on the side streets, leaving the entire Seventh avenue front in an unbroken line free to represent, what it really will be, an imposing structure. One half of the block, however, will be the exact counterpart of the other, the whole forming together such a gigantic edifice as Gothamite eyes have not heretofore rested upon, except when contemplating either the Windsor or Fifth avenue hotels.

The excavations for this mammoth apartment house have been completed by the contractor, John D. Crimmins, with wonderful expedition. The rock there laid very uneven, which necessitated the contractors to go in deeper and make a sort of pocket in the earth near Fifty-sixth street. He had to blast a great deal with the steam drill, and still his work was concluded before the time called for by the contract.

His place has now been taken by Mr. John Banta, master builder, of 294 West Fourth street, who has charge of the entire mason work, and now has an army of men on the ground all actively engaged in laying the four feet foundation wall, every inch of which, so to speak, is being carefully looked after by Mr. Cooper, Mr. Banta's experienced foreman. The work is done by the day and is progressing satisfactorily to the owner and architect. The front is to be of Philadelphia brick, to be furnished, by Rowe & Denman, with Nova Scotia stone, and also terra cotta trimmings. Mr. James Gillis, foot of West Fiftieth street, will furnish this Nova Scotia stone and also do the cutting, while the terra cotta, of which we have seen some fine specimens, will, probably be obtained from Hall & Sons, in Perth Amboy, for whom Mr. Frank, in Murray street, is the general agent. The latter contract, has, however, not yet been concluded and may still be considered open for the competition of others.

As this building is to be entirely fireproof it will be of interest to the various firms interested in this particular line to be informed that the contract for this work has not yet been awarded, and will not be for a week or ten days. The delivery of the iron beams has been separately arranged for with a Pennsylvania firm, which took the contract at a very low figure, but so far as the actual fireproof material is concerned the door for competition for this vast building stands wide open. Both Mr. Schillinger's and Mr. Beckwith's claims will be duly considered, also Lyons & Bunn, who we understand, propose to call the architect's attention to their excellent composition.

The ordinary carpenter work, such as pine wood flooring and other ordinary matters pertaining thereto, will be entrusted to Mr. John L. Hamilton, of 350 West Twenty-seventh street, who bears an excellent reputation in the trade, but all the hard wood and trimmings will be attended to at the works of the Singer Manufacturing Company and will receive special care and supervision from Mr. Hamilton.

In order to make the building thoroughly fire proof the two main stair-cases will be of iron. For this iron work, as well as other, estimates have already been received from the Cornell's, and also from the Excelsior foundry of G. R. Jackson's, Sons, 201 Centre street. Mr. Burnett is also competing for this contract, which will also be decided now in a very few days.

The two passenger elevators required for this buildings will be supplied by the firm of Wm. E. Hale & Co.

As the rooms will all be nicely grouped, leaving the family and private apartments in a more retired part of each suite, the question of ventilation and steam heating becomes a very important one for this building. The contracts for steam heating, not yet given out, are open for competition, Messrs. Angell & Blake, Messrs. Gillis & Geoghegan, and W. H. Warner, of Leonard street, being the principal competitors.

There will be a flat and a peaked roof on the building, the former to be covered with slate, the flat roof with cement and gravel.

The entire building will, when completed, not cost over $300,000, a small sum considering the vast ground it covers, but everything will be furnished in first-class style and the architect and builder unite in a desire to erect a building that will not only be satisfactory and remunerative to the owner, but ornamental to the City of New York.

TAXING MORTGAGES.

The following bill affecting the subject of mortgage taxation has been reported by the Committee of Ways and Means.

SECTION 1.—In all cases of mortgage upon real estate hereafter executed the mortgagor therein may have deducted from the assessed valuation of such real estate the amount of any such existing unpaid lien thereon. But in all cases such mortgagors so claiming such deduction shall state in writing and under oath to the assessor the amount and terms and times of payment of such mortgage lien, and the name and place of residence of the mortgagee, his or her trustee, guardian, or assignee, or the corporate name or place of business of any corporation holding or owning such mortgage lien; and thereupon such assessor shall assess upon such person or corporation so holding or owning such mortgage lien the true and full value thereof, provided such holder or owner shall reside, or such corporation shall have its place of business within his town or city; but if such owner or holder shall reside or such corporation shall have its principal office of business elsewhere within the State then such assessor shall immediately transmit by mail a memorandum in writing to the assessor of the town, city or ward where such holder or owner shall reside or such corporation shall have its place of business, showing the existence of an amount secured to be paid by such mortgage lien, together with the name of the holder or owner of the same or the corporation owning the same, whereupon the assessor, to whom such memorandum is transmitted, shall cause the same to be assessed upon his assessment roll to the holder, owner or corporation owning the same, and such assessor allowing such mortgage lien so to be deducted as aforesaid, which may be owned outside of his district, shall also cause a like memorandum to be sent by mail to the clerk of the city or town where the holder or owner thereof resides or has a place of business, and upon the receipt thereof, it shall be the duty of such clerk to deliver the same to the assessor of his city or town, to be entered by him on the assessment roll as aforesaid.

§ 2.—It shall be lawful for the parties to any mortgage described in the first section of this act to make and enter therein an agreement to the effect that the mortgagor will pay all taxes, both ordinary and extraordinary, assessed upon such mortgage in the town or city where the mortgaged premises are situated, and in all cases in which a mortgage shall contain such agreement the provisions of this act shall not apply to real estate so mortgaged nor to such mortgage.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

A few sales, other than judicial, were held during the week at the Exchange Salesroom, among which were the following: A. H. Muller & Son sold the three-story brick house, with lease of lot (22x117.6), No. 463 West Twenty-third street for $8,500, to W.C. Hodgkins; Mr. R. V. Harnett sold a plot of land bounded by Lewis, Mangin, Fourth and Fifth streets, also a plot bounded by Mangin, Fifth, Tompkins and Fourth streets, and eight lots on Tompkins street, extending to East River, between Fourth and Fifth streets, for $150,000. E. H. Ludlow & Co., sold the house and lot No. 152 Bleecker street, (25x125) for $13,000, and B. P. Fairchild sold the premises, No. 129 East Fifty-ninth street between Lexington and Fourth avenues, for $11,950.

In partition proceedings, the estate of P. W. Engs succeeded in making an absolute sale of two of the parcels offered by P. F. Myer, at fair prices. Mr. J. P. St. John bought the three-story brick house and lot No. 102 West Fourteenth street for $25,050, and Dennis Burke bought the house and lot No. 110 West Fourteenth street for $20,050. The remainder of the property was bid in for the account of the heirs.

In about all the forclosure sales noted to be held during the week, the plaintiff in the action became the purchaser.

Contracts have been recorded with the Register for the sale of the premises situated on the northwest corner of Amity and Greene streets (25x92.8), and No. 223 Greene street, to Peter Herche, Orange, N. J., for $36,300, and for the sale of the three-story brick dwelling with lot (22x80) No. 104 Rivington street for $9,200.

It is reported that Dr. Main has sold his elegant new house on Fifty-seventh street near Fifth avenue, to W. L. Cutting, for $60,000. The size of the lot is (25x100.5) and the house is 75 feet deep. O'Reilly Bros. have sold one of their houses on Forty-fifth street, near Madison avenue, to Chauncey M. Depew, for $40,000. Henry J. Barbey has sold to Thomas McManus, builder, two lots on the south side of Fifty-eighth street, commencing 225 feet west of Sixth avenue, for $21,000 each. Ira A. Doying has sold to Theodore M. Wehle, house and lot (20x55x100.5) on the north side of Sixty-sixth street, between Madison and Fourth avenues, for $24,000.

Andrews Soher has purchased from the Jones estate eight lots on the west side of Fourth avenue, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets (200.10x100), for $60,000, and a plot of land (66x100.5) on Fifty-sixth street, commencing 100 feet east of Madison avenue, for $30,000.

It is reported that Charles Fox has sold to Samuel Hammerslough the house and lot No. 44 East Fifty-eighth street (25x65x100.5) for $32,500.

The transaction lately reported between Scholle Bros. and Jacob Campbell was an exchange of five lots on the northwest corner of Sixth avenue and Fifty-sixth street for house and lot, 325 West Fifty-seventh street (25x70x105.5), the equities being adjusted with cash.

An enormous business in sales under judicial decree will probably be transacted at the Exchange Salesroom next week. The advertised list is larger than we have ever before known, and the attention of readers is invited to such list printed in another column. Under the heading of advertised sales, not judicial, will be found the announcement of the sale by the Executors of Louis Levy, on Tuesday next, of seven eligible private houses on West Twelfth, Twenty-fourth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-ninth and Forty-seventh streets, and two substantial dwellings on Bank street. Favorable terms are offered to purchasers.

On April 20th, at 4 P. M., at Commercial Exchange, No. 389 Fulton street, Brooklyn, Mr. J. Cole will sell the house on the corner of St. Mark's and Rogers avenues, and the five adjoining houses will be sold without reservation, by order of H. B. Claflin.

The number of plans filed with the Superintendent of the Department of Buildings during the week ending April 18, shows a decrease from the week preceding. The estimated cost of the buildings embraced in such plans amounts to $103,625, and the noteworthy buildings to be erected are two five-story brown stone dwellings on Fifty-eighth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—On Common Hards we find a less promising market than last week. The demand has proven smaller from all sources, the few buyers who did appear were in an extremely indifferent mood, and in order to conclude sales it was necessary to shade off prices somewhat from former extremes, although even this was not successful in preventing an accumulation, as the receipts have proven comparatively free, and neither contractor or dealer would handle stock in excess of known wants, no matter how cheap it might appear. The average of quality, too, was running somewhat higher, and this reduced competition to secure the best lots. There is said to be some little delay in building operations, consequent upon difficulty with workmen, but aside from this the consumption is evidently below expectations. On Haverstraws, $5.50 is about the top rate, and on "Up River" $5.00. Some few lots came in from Long Island, and were worked off at a proportionate valuation. Pales have also weakened on price, and it must be a very fine lot to now exceed $2.25 per M., and sales have been made as low as $2.00 per M. Fronts have met with a moderately active demand only on local account, and remain at about former rates, but some shipping orders have been filled on Croton, mostly for Florida. The export demand is said to be less active. Stock goes forward still on old contract, but sellers are not altogether satisfied with the terms offered, and now move with greater caution.

We quote Pale, ℔ M., $2.00@$2.50; Hards, Up-rivers, $4.50@$5.00; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@$5.50; favorite brands, $—@$5.75: Fronts, Croton—brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $23@$27; Baltimore, $31@$38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@$3 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

CEMENT.—On Rosendale there is no change. A fair amount is distributed on shipping orders to the South and East, etc., but on local account demand is extremely moderate, and confined to very small retail parcels. Prices as before. Foreign is selling to some extent, and appears to be a little irregular on price, though quoted as before. Supplies are ample, and nearly 4,000 bbls. have come to hand this week, about one-half respectively from England and the Continent.

DOORS, SASH AND BLINDS.—Spring trade thus far, has been slow, and by no means satisfactory. Stock has gone out to some extent, but the orders were small and carefully drawn to the most positive consumptive necessity, and buyers, whose custom was desirable, could not be induced to go beyond. Local demand, in particular, has proven light, but out of town calls now much beyond the average, and even the usually good trade in hot bed sash has dwindled materially. On a line of credit, with somewhat dubious collateral, a more extensive distribution could have been done, but manufacturers are not seeking this line of custom. Prices have not varied on the lists this spring, but discounts are arranged to suit circumstances. On the export demand, business moderate, but a quiet effort is being made to expand this outlet, and a partner of one of our principal manufacturing firms, is now in London, superintending a branch house. The East India trade does not promise well, as yet, and in this connection, we give the following token from an article in an English journal, giving a description of houses built in Sydney:

The rooms are loftier than in England, and the doors hail from San Francisco, as every mail steamer brings some thousands of them; and the market is so glutted with them, that, at the auctions, where they are sold in lots of about 100, they only fetch about what the material would cost in Sydney, and there is a duty of 2s. per door upon them. Two years ago the lowest price realized at auction was 15s., now it is 7s. We know that in San Francisco every building operative is now working for his bare board; but as this is a state of things that cannot last, they will soon desist from sending their doors here to be given away at auctions, when of course it will pay to make them in Sydney.

GLASS.—Matters appear to be quite unsettled on this market, regarding values, and dealers nearly all have a discount of their own. This, to some extent, is beneficial to buyers, who shop closely and set one offer against another, but, as a rule, there is not much apparent inclination to let prices go off greatly, as the margin has been small for some time, and further concessions must entail a loss. Business has not been quite so active as recent indications seemed to promise, and, in many quarters, we hear complaints of positive dullness, which, in connection with the current tendency to easy terms, affords evidence of the indifference of buyers toward supplies, where there is no clearly shown necessity yet operating. All quoted discounts, at present, are nominal only.

HARDWARE.—Business is quite uneven on this market, but seldom reaches a fully satisfactory point. The indications for some time past were thought to point quite decidedly to increased call from the interior, and a very good trade on local account, but rather the contray has been the result thus far, and dealers are disappointed. Export orders continue very good, and this tends to neutralize the slow movement on other outlets. The fashion is still to quote the position as steady, but it is only nominally so, most dealers being willing to cut prices somewhat, in order to secure customers. Some new lists have been issued, the most important of which, may be noted as follows:

On strap and T hinges the discount is 60 and 10 per cent.; table and back flaps, 35 and 10 per cent.; narrow butts, 40 and 10 per cent.; reversible butts, 50 and 10 per cent.; loose points and broad butts, 40 and 10 per cent. Iron black, iron tinned rivets (in papers of M), and block and carriage rivets (in papers of C), 50 per cent. discount; iron rivets in bulk, 40 per cent. discount. Terms: Cash within thirty days from date of invoice. Any party purchasing and receiving $250.00 worth or more of iron rivets and burrs during the six months ending June 30th or December 31st, shall be entitled to an additional discount of seven and one-half per cent.

LATH.—There has been no arrivals since our last, and without sales up to the present writing, the market has a nominal position only. There does not appear to be much demand, and most of the leading jobbers may be considered as out altogether, but here and there a buyer is to be found, and a cargo or two could probably be placed. The supposition is that $1.50 per M. could be obtained.

LIME.—There is nothing new on this market, of special importance. At one time since our last, a moderate accummulation afloat existed, put this appears to have been pretty much all worked off, and there is little at little at present seeking sale. Prices as before. State Lime nominally, steady and meeting with a moderately active jobbing demand.

LUMBER.—Business still fails to make much headway and as a rule we find a slow market with if anything a slight undertone of weakness on values in some cases. It is found simply impossible to excite or hasten buyers in their movements, the basis of all demand being absolute necessity and where supplies are commencing to turn in this direction, receivers are showing anxiety, past experience having revealed the dangers of attempting to carry too much of a stock upon an unwilling market. Consumption, both local and at dependent points, has failed to increase to the extent anticipated, and the foreign outlet is very uncertain, most exporters awaiting positive orders before taking supplies, with possibly the exception of one or two styles of hard woods, which have an assured sale abroad. Under existing circumstances the extent of the new crop of logs is a matter of less general interest, and we find few of the trade who have given the subject much attention of late. Their main trouble is still to be found in the short crop of buyers, and it will require a decided and continuous demand to create apprehenson respecting fresh supplies.

Eastern spruce has scarcely done as well as expected this Spring. At the opening there was a little upward flurry, according to programme, but it proved of short duration and the tone has since been rather weak. Buyers have been found for about all the stock offered, but they were hunted up in many cases and refused to operate, except upon comparatively easy terms, except where settlements were offered on rather dubious paper. We quote at $12@13.50 for random, possibly $14.00 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $14@15.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine does not find much activity toward any outlet. Home wants at the best are small and met slowly on the hand-to-mouth policy of purchasing, and the shipping call fails to give symptoms of encouraging revival. Still holders are inclined to a pretty steady tone in view of moderate and broken ajustments here, and no increase likely for some time to come, especially of desirable grade. We quote at $15@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@20.50 for South American do; $15@16 for box boards; $17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@40 per M.

Yellow Pine is reported as nominally unchanged. Further deliveries have been made on contract, but the fresh demand was not very active, the sales less, if anything than last week, and buyers unwilling to exceed former rates. Exporters are ordering a little stock for West Indies and South America, and an occasional cargo for Europe, but appear to be rather careful on the latter outlet. We quote random cargoes at about $19@22 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@24 do; green flooring boards, $21@23 do; and dry do. do. $23@24; Cargoes at the South, $14@16.50 per M; hewn timber, $7.50@14.

Hardwoods remain pretty firm on price as a rule and are not offered with much freedom. As before advised, a great many parcels have been finding an outlet this Spring on both home and foreign account, and comparatively moderate supplies give holders the advantage. Advices from the interior also indicate a steady cut, especially of walnut, and this has had a strengthening influence. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@85 ℔ M; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do.. do., culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $15@75 do.; white wood, ¼ and ⅝ inch. $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $25@30 do. for Western, and $40@50 for good nearby stock.

Yard business continues somewhat fluctuating and seldom reaches a very full volume. The tendency at this season however is rather to increase than to fall behind and supplies are held steadily on about the former general range, with the ordinary minor changes according to quality of stock handled terms, etc.

The first charter of the season from Albany was the Glenwood, 136 tons, for Petersburgh, Va., with sycamore, at $3 per M. Other engagements are reported as follows: A Br. barque, 434 tons, from Pensacola to a direct port United Kingdom, timber, £5 15s.; an Am. schr, 378 tons, from Pensacola to Oporto, deals, £5 15s.; an Am. ship, 991 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Liverpool, deals, 7s. 6d.; a Br. ship, 1,076 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Liverpool, deals, 6?s. 6d., and White Pine timber, 23s. 4d.; a Br. schr, 142 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Crookhaven for orders to a port in Ireland, deals, 80s.; an Am. schr, 197 tons, from St. John, N. B., to North Side Cuba, lumber, $6.50; a schr, 174 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, $7.50 for the round; a brig, 130 M lumber, from St. Simons Island to New York, $5.25; a schr, 256 tons, from Savannah to St. John, N. B., resawed lumber, $8 and timber $8.50; two schrs, 125 and 194 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, $8 for the round; a schr, from Jacksonville to New York, lumber, $6, one do. do. $5.50, one do. do., $5, and a schr, 210 tons, from Cambridge, Md., to Thomaston, timber, $3.75 ℣ ton.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Lumberman's Gazette reports as follows:

BAY CITY, Friday, April 12, 1878.

The demand for lumber continues active, and as the supply of logs for this season's sawing may now be safely calculated upon as a short one, manufacturers are firm in their demand for prices same as quoted in our last. A number of sales have been made during the week at prices ranging from $6@7, $12@13, and $28. Some manufacturers who have choice lots hold them at still higher figures, and we have not much doubt that they will realize them.

There has probably been more lumber sold here thus early this season to go to Chicago than there was during the whole of the season of 1877. In fact, the principal portion of the business this spring has been transacted with Chicago lumber dealers. The Albany and other eastern dealers cannot as yet see their way clear to pay prices asked by manufacturers in the valley.

The shipping season has fully opened and cargoes are now being loaded along the river.

The shingle trade is brisk and prices firm.

Lath is in good demand, with very little in the market to supply the trade.

The drives are in the same condition as at our last report and the prospects are growing more unfavorably day by day.

The Chicago correspondent of the Gazette writes:

A lively demand at firm prices has characterized the trade during the past week. The price list is firmly adhered to and the demand from territory heretofore supplied by this market is good, while from the far west and all points heretofore supplied from the Mississippi the demand is heavy. In fact, I think at present prices here it is impossible for Mississippi River trade to compete, and also impossible for these prices to be maintained here long.

There have been a few arrivals of lumber, which have gone direct to the yard docks. This has been bought to arrive and at private terms, as I hear of no fixed prices. The local demand for lumber is good, probably better than it has been at this season of year for a long time. The weather is now and has been for two months very propitious for building and repairing purposes, and is being well improved.

The Lumberman and Manufacturer has the following:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., April 11, 1878.

There is no reasonable cause of complaint, either at the volume of trade or the prices realized, the reported shipments being nearly the same at Chicago and all western ports, with an upward tendency rather than downward. The following, from the Chicago Times of the 8th, will give an idea of the situation there:

A busy week was experienced at the lumber yards, the shipments, many of which were to points beyond the Mississippi river, being very large. The question of the extent of the lumber supply during the season just opening was the subject most generally discussed, and as is always the case in debates there were two sides, one party prophesying an extraordinary scarcity of lumber at this point, and an advance in prices to such figures as to greatly curtail sales. The other party argued that plenty of lumber would be received, as there have been extraordinary efforts made at Green Bay and Michigan to secure enough logs, and that prices would rule low enough to enable everybody to buy all the lumber wanted. As to which of these views was right, the Times is unable to state, but judging from the latest advices from the mills and lumbering points, it ventures the opinion that while there will be no surplus of lumber, the receipts at this distributing point will be sufficient to supply requirements, and that if prices are not advanced too early and often, dealers will be much better off at the close of the season than for several years past, last year, perhaps, excepted. Cargo prices open much higher than last year, green joist and scantling having been sold last Wednesday at $9.50—an advance of $2 on the first sales in the spring of 1877.

CANADA.

The Toronto Globe remarks that "it is satisfactory to find that there is springing up in the United States an increased demand for Canadian lumber. Should the new tariff be accepted, the reduction of the duty on pine lumber from $2 to $1 per thousand feet will still further tend to improve the market there for our lumber dealers. By the tariff becoming less protective Canadian lumber will be able to compete on fairer terms with Michigan lumber."

The Pembroke Observer says that teamsters still continue to come down from the Temiscamingue and distant Kippewa. They say the snow is just about as scarce an article up there as it is with ourselves, but that the ice has heretofore been pretty good. Some of the firms on the Temiscamingue Lake are reported to be doing some short drawing on bare ground, and we have also heard it stated that ploughing could have been successfully accomplished in some places up there about a month ago. This looks tough, certainly, but we merely tell the story as related to us.

Bobcageon (Ont.) Independent says:

The continuous labors of lumbermen, supplemented of late years by the co-operation of the Ontario Government, have created in the north country such a vast number of water reservoirs, that drives of logs and timber can be brought down almost independently of the spring and summer rains. This year the water stored up by means of dams will probably prove of the utmost value, for again we have a dry spring following a winter remarkable for its small fall of snow, and it is probable that throughout the country, with the sole exception of the Gull River districts, there will be considerable numbers of logs hung up. From Ottawa we learn that a large portion of last season's cut will be left high and dry, the water already having passed its highest level. The head waters of the Gull River are only a few miles removed from the head waters of the Ottawa tributaries, and the ring of the axe in Mr. Boyd's northern shanties can sometimes be heard by the men at work on the lumber operations on that great tributary of the Ottawa, the Madawaska. It is curious to note that while sanguine hopes are entertained of successfully driving all the forest crop of the season down to the Trent, on the Madawaska, the men are already at work barking the logs to protect them from the worm whilst lying in the woods until next spring. The shortage in the supply of logs in the Central Canada district will be considerable, for not only was there a large proportion of the cut left in the woods owing to the want of snow, but a large percentage of those actually hauled to water will be certain to be hung up for want of water to drive.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

LONDON, March 29, 1878.

We have to notice a considerable revival of activity in the trade of London as far as a willingness to buy is concerned, and during the lull of importation, goods at the docks are moving off in an increasing ratio, which it is pleasant to see. Whether our remarks on the sacrifices sometimes made at the public sales here have brought our country friends to town in larger volume, in order to obtain a share of the good things going, we cannot say; but we noticed increased gatherings on these occasions lately, and a larger preponderance of provincial buyers than usual, and by consequence prices are better sustained. A bidder may give more than the price he had reckoned on if he has occasion for the article, and find it is still as cheap as any other buyer at the same sale has obtained it. Shippers abroad are watching the markets on this side, and beginning to make the most of such opportunities of effecting sales as present themselves, which looks as if they fully comprehended the tendency of trade on this side, and were disposed to sail with the stream.

LIVERPOOL, March 27, 1878.

There is little if any change to note in the state of our market since the last report, now a month ago. All business, so far as regards wholesale transactions, is upon a very limited scale, and there appears to be a great aversion in the minds of importers against entering into contracts for next year's supplies, which is owing not only to the present bad condition of trade, but to the uncertainty which exists from the complicated turn that political matters may take. Hence comparatively few ships are being chartered, and those which have been engaged have been taken at low rates, especially for Canadian ports, and very few contracts have been closed at free-on-board prices unless at low figures. We may therefore expect that the ensuing import season will bring a larger proportion of Canadian goods upon the open market than has been the case for some years past.

The same remarks in a general way apply to Baltic shipments, and as most of the goods offered appear to be of qualities below first-class, it is to be apprehended that low prices will rule, while for good brands and favorite dimensions fair prices may be relied upon.

The latest auction sales of soft woods were held on the 8th inst., several cargoes of spruce and pine deals, pine boards, &c. The attendance was fair, and one cargo of Halifax spruce deals was sold as under:

16 to 22 feet, 3x9 and 11, £9 2s 6d; 16 to 22 feet, 3x8 and 10, nearly all 8, £8 2s 6d; 16 to 22 feet, 3x7, £8 17s 6d; 12 to 15 feet, 3x11, £8 7s 6d; 12 to 15 feet, 3x9, £8 5s 0d; 12 to 15 feet, 3x10, £7 15s 0d; 12 to 15 feet, 3x8, £7 15s 0d; 12 to 15 feet, 3x7, £7 15s 0d, and £7 17s 6d. And on the 21st inst. four cargoes of spruce and pine deals, together with birch and pine timber, but only little was sold. The prices realized were as follows:

St. John, N. B.—	£	s.	d
Spruce deals, 19 to 24 feet, 3x11	9	0	0
" " 12 to 24 feet, 3x11	8	5	0

" " 22 to 26 feet, 3x 7	8	5	0
" " 20 to 21 feet, 3x 7	8	2	6
" " 16 to 17 feet, 3x 7	7	17	6
" " 15 to 17 feet, 3x 7	8	0	0

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot has undergone no great change in value, and on the whole retains a pretty steady tone, with a fair average business doing. We quote at 17@17¼c. for Lake. Manufactured Copper has been fairly active and on a uniform range of values, but sellers meet all calls readily. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary sizes, over 16 oz., per sq. foot, 28c. per lb; do. do., do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per square foot, 32c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per square foot, 34c. per lb.; circles, less than 84 inches in diameter, 31c. per lb.; do. 84 inches diam ter and over, 34c. per lb.; segment and pattern sheets, 31c. per lb.; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz., per square foot, 26c. per lb., and Bolt Copper, 28c. per pound. IRON—Scotch Pig has met with about the usual trade demand, for which the supply proved ample and prices underwent no great change. We quote at $23@26 per ton, according to brand and quantity. American Pig has continued to sell along slowly, and only in the small parcels wanted by dealers for their regular consumption. Prices range as before, but are weak. We quote at $18@19 for No. 1 per ton, $17@18 for No. 2 do, and $16@$17 for Forge. Rails in moderately active demand, with the general tone of the market about steady. We quote at $32@35 for new iron, and $41@43 for Steel at the mills. Old Rails, $19@19.50 per ton; scrap, $22.00@23.00; the latter slow. Manufactured Iron in about the ordinary demand, with a steady tone on values. Common Merchant Bar can be had in round lots at 1.7c. and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.9c. and 2.1c. are respectively insisted upon. Common sheet, 3c., and best R. G. American, 4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic pig has sold slowly, and prices gradually favored the buyer, closing weak. We quote at about 3⅝@3¾c. currency. The manufactures of lead are quoted: Bar, 5½c.; Pipe, 6c., and Sheet, 6¼c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin-lined Pipe, 15c. Block Tin Pipe, 45c., on same terms. TIN—Pig remains in a very dull condition, as a rule, and prices weak. We quote at 17@17¼c. for Banca, 14½@14¾c. for Straits, 14¾@14⅞c. for English Refined, and 14⅝@14¾c. for do. common. Tin plates have sold pretty freely, but mostly under pressure to realize, and the tendency was downward. Spelter is slow and uncertain, but on an average sale worth about 5¼@5⅝c. Sheet Zinc is dull and unchanged. We quote at 7⅝@7¾c. gold for foreign and 6½@6⅝c. currency for domestic.

NAILS.—Demand somewhat variable, but never very active, and no difficulty has been experienced in meeting all calls. Indeed, evidences of a surplus stock are occasionally visible, and manufacturers endeavor to counteract this by keeping production down to about half quantity. We quote on a basis of $2.60 per keg for 10d. to 60d.

OILS.—A good, steady jobbing trade doing for the season, and taking an ordinary assortment against which there is an ample amount of stock available. Supplies, however, are not weighty upon the market, and sellers are pretty firm as regards prices. We quote Linseed oil at 59@61c. per gallon from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—Business fluctuates to some extent, one day pretty quick and the next dull and unsatisfactory, but after all, when the week comes around, dealers find reasonably encouraging footings, and the general market is in fair shape. Prices about as before, though on some of the foreign grades the tendency is toward greater firmness.

PITCH.—Care continues to be shown by the average buyer, and operations run mainly to jobbing parcels. Supplies full enough to satisfy the outlet and keep terms about as before. We quote at $2.00@2.25 for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—For small parcels the inquiry has been fair and at a comparatively full run of prices, jobbing dealers refusing concessions. Stocks are fairly under control and offered somewhat indifferently. We quote at 31½@33c., according to quantity handled.

TAR.—Easy terms have been necessary, as a rule, to secure customers, the demand proving moderate and indifferent beyond the most imperative necessity. On the general range, however, about former figures are current. We quote at $2.00@2.75 for Newberne and Washington, and $2.12½@2.37½ for Wilmington.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus reports for the week ending April 16, 1878.

There is a fair attendance of buyers in the District to-day, with more doing on the opening of the Canals than we have noticed the past three or four seasons. Still at the prominent consumptive points there is some hesitation on the part of buyers in the hope that the advance obtained this season may be yielded; while on the part of holders, there is, in view of strong markets at Chicago and at the West, a general belief that present quotations will be maintained and that the tendency is to an advance. Reports from the Ottawa are of a lack of water to float the logs to the mills. Prices are unchanged with a steadily decreasing stock.

In coarse lumber there is a good trade for the season. Stocks continue moderate at current rates.

A sale was made last week at Bay City for shipment east of 14,000,000 shingles; this is said to have been the largest single trade in shingles ever made in Saginaw valley. The arrival at Bay City, within the past few days, of a large number of boats of a capacity of over ten millions—and more were expected—for the lumber trade developes the fact that large sales have been recently made for Chicago and Eastern markets. Lumber was moving lively at $6.00, $12.00 and $28.00, and some choice lots had been sold at $6.50, $13.00 and $28.50.

THE DAILY PRESS AND TAXATION.

A distinguished commentator has said that "the liberties of Great Britain have no real security except in the freedom of the press, which rests itself rather upon the habits and opinions of the nation than upon any legal enactments or judicial decisions."

Fortunately for this country the freedom of the press rests upon no vacillating or unstable foundation, but is engrafted into the organic law of the land, and is indelibly ingrained into the web and woof of public sentiment. It is the very corner stone upon which the whole fabric of American government rests.

During the past fifteen years our republican institutions have been subjected to exceptional and successive trials. They have undergone the hazards of an armed assertion of the right of secession, the perils of a prolonged condition of war, the miseries of a protracted inflation of the currency and the inevitable reaction under a forced resumption of specie payments; and later still have been brought face to face with the consequences of a disputed and doubtful presidential count.

Out of all these signal crises the government has emerged unbroken and unscathed, and in the midst of them the press of the country was found equal to the demands of each emergency, a formidable engine in the vindication of right and the exposure and extirpation of wrong. The growing and cumulative power of the press would be menacing and startling were it not invariably prompt and ready, in given emergencies, to espouse the cause of popular rights. As an educator of the people it has fairly usurped the place of the pulpit and it does not shrink from addressing counsel and warning to the bench itself. All the learned professions have become tributary and subservient as well as amenable to the great power of journalism.

The salient and threatening evils of the present day in our American system, which need to be vigorously and sharply combated and which become alarming and portentous mainly on account of their insidious operation, are these two: the perpetration of wrong-doing under the forms of law and the absorption of the means of the people through oppressive systems of taxation. The first of these is confessedly the monster abuse and vice of modern times. The prostitution of the forms of law has been practised not merely for the accomplishment of political and partisan ends, but the same daring and reckless spirit has invaded the domain of finance. Under the protection of fraudulent charters and the screen of questionable legal enactments, no small number of the fiduciary institutions of the country have been quietly absorbing and appropriating the savings of the people until their exposure and destruction have become a national duty and necessity. In the crusade against fraudulent fiduciary institutions, the press has lent a helpful hand and proved itself a sufficient antidote to the purposes of fraudulent trustees, bringing them to swift and condign punishment. The other issue, that of the depredation of private property by taxation and the harsh injustice of unequal levies has gradually loomed upon the public mind, until now it is beginning to claim the serious attention of the press. Of the onerous and blighting legacies of the war, perhaps the most difficult to eradicate or dispose of are the mammoth debts which now bear so heavily upon the people. The effort to provide for the principal and interest of vast indebtedness together with more or less exaggerated expenses of government has occasioned a volume of taxation, which is all but destructive to the prosperity and industry of the country.

It becomes an inquiry of the highest moment to know what position the press will assume toward this subject. Heretofore it has been slightly or superficially treated. Until quite recently it had become almost the chronic habit of the press, particularly of the press of this city, to frown down any criticism of the volume or methods of taxation. The tone and spirit which characterized the editorials of the leading journals were decidedly favorable to the maintenance of large budgets, without any consideration of the sources whence taxation was being derived. With rare exceptions, the press has been allied to the principle of promoting and expanding public expenditures, especially for costly works and alleged improvements. In the name of building up the suburbs, enlarging the borders and beautifying the physical conditions of the city, claims have been constantly pressed for this and that expenditure, either for improved docks, new parks, expensive boulevards, supplemental water supplies, or many other mammoth and costly public enterprises. However meritorious such demands may seem, and however laudable may be a wise forecast of the future needs of the city, it is warrantable to aver that the merit and wisdom of these public improvements must rank as secondary to the consideration of where the funds are to come from, which will be required to pay for them. Already it is acknowledged that the debt of this city is as large as its credit can comfortably stand, and certainly the present budget of taxation has reached a volume which can admit of no further enlargement. Premature and extravagant public works have plunged property holders in the depths of poverty, and brought the government to the verge of insolvency. We must defer the projection of further public enterprises until the city grows up to the capacity of those already provided. It behooves the press, therefore, as guardians of the public safety, to forego for the present the urging of any further elaborate or expensive works, and direct its attention to the matter of providing for the existing obligations of the city, and of devising such a rational, comprehensive and equitable scheme of taxation as will distribute the burden of necessary taxes upon objects and persons best qualified to bear it. Instead of opening new outlets of public expenditure, let the press study to devise proper methods of raising and apportioning city revenue. In a great and active city like ours, there need be no fear of public expenditures becoming parsimonious or illiberal. The contrary result is the one more to be feared. The temptation to adorn and build up the city is constant and pressing, and the danger is imminent and present at all times of exceeding the abilities of tax-payers, and of loading the business interests of the city with an unmanageable and intolerable burden of debt.

It is a truism to allege that all great popular movements derive their germinating force from the daily press; that no important reform, either in political, commercial or social life, has ever been successfully accomplished without the initiative or at all events the co-operation of the daily press. We will invoke this mighty and majestic power to bend itself to the relief of the over-burdened tax-payers of New York. We have no idea of minimizing or depreciating the ability of the business interests of this city to respond to both the obligations of present city indebtedness and to the requirements of an honest and even liberal city budget. But the difficulty is, that under our present fossilized and impracticable tax system the whole burden of these obligations rests oppressively upon one interest, to wit., real estate. It is venturing but little to say that this one unaided interest is not able to bear up under the strain. The operation of taxation has intensified the universal depression in this interest, and threatens now at a time when we might reasonably expect the operation of recuperative forces to prolong and petrify the disasters which have overwhelmed it.

The doctrine of the self-diffusion of taxation is a very pleasing and captivating one for philosophers to discourse about, but that doctrine finds no fit or sufficient illustration when taxation is applied solely to real estate. The article is too unwieldy and unnegotiable to admit of any certain distributive or diffusive effects. It is incapable in its very nature, and owing to the methods by which it is dealt in of giving reliable distributive or diffusive power to taxation. Taxation falls upon real estate with a heavy thud without reaction or rebound. The owners of real estate have the alternative constantly presented to them of foregoing all return or benefit from their property, or else of voluntarily assuming to pay the tax out of their own means and allowing the purchaser or lessee to escape free of tax. As a consequence, this interest seems to be blighted beyond any hope of early recovery, and until substantial relief is afforded, the perils of the situation must grow greater rather than less. The inevitable outcome of those perils will be to concentrate the title of real property into fewer and fewer hands. The men of colossal wealth, the great financial institutions and the city itself will in time so tighten their grip upon real estate as to render its ownership unattainable, and its occupation impossible by the average citizen.

We hold it to be plainly demonstrable that the real estate of this city is not designed nor fitted to be the foot ball of speculators, or the impaled victim of the cormorants of government. In its natural character and capacity, it is best qualified to be the depository of the savings of average well-to-do citizens. The safety and prosperity of the municipality depend largely upon the widespread distribution of real estate titles among well-to-do citizens of the medium class. It should be the ambition of successful mechanics, shopkeepers and merchants in this city, to own individual dwelling places and places of business, and to own them, when possible, free and clear of any debt, and under the most favorable conditions as to taxation. Such a rational and wholesome distribution of property interests is impossible, so long as the government fastens upon real estate nearly the whole lien of its indebtedness, and nearly the whole volume of taxation. Such a method of taxation insures the exclusion of the medium class, and tends directly and inevitably to pauperism and confiscation.

The grievance and wrong that we represent, are real and pressing. They involve, not only the welfare of citizens, but the prosperity and progress of the city itself.

We have no purpose of assailing the volume or budget of necessary taxation. That, we conceive to be out of our province. If ever so much disposed to criticise the details of expenditures, we should be estopped by the consideration, that this task has been already well undertaken and faithfully carried out by representative members of the daily press. The attention of the press, however, does not seem to have been attracted to the method or means by which taxes are now collected and distributed. The slight and casual reference to this branch of the subject, occasionally met with in the press, indicates a lack of information in regard to it, and we had almost said, a lack of disposition to enter into the discussion of it. So intelligent and well-informed a paper as the Sun but recently stated, in an editorial on the "Assessed Valuations of City Real Estate," that "In order to make a fair and equitable reduction of the assessed values of city property practical, a reduction must first be made in the city's expenses."

It is inconceivable how any intelligent writer on city matters could so inextricably confuse two such plain and simple topics. Equalization is a separate and distinct branch of the subject, and should dominate the distribution of taxes whether the budget be large or small. Increase or diminution of the budget has no necessary connection with the equitable distribution of taxes among those whose duty it is to pay them. We cite this as a flagrant example of the misinformation or lack of information which prevails upon this subject among intelligent men.

Again, the Herald, in a recent editorial says: "To be sure, we justly complain of the burden of taxation but the people of New York will never begrudge money honestly expended on noted and beneficial public works." However true this statement may be in the main, it still evinces an absence of appreciation or consideration of the enormous hardship attending the duty of taxpaying at the present moment and under the present system.

Whether the budget of taxation is to remain at its present standard or to be slightly reduced, it becomes a duty of paramount importance for the press to devise and arrange some equitable system whereby taxes may be properly distributed among the people, and whereby the inordinate oppression of one interest may be done away with. If one tithe of the energy daily expended by the press in collecting foreign news or in elaborating the details of foreign systems could be devoted to this simple problem of political economy, to wit, the fair and equitable distribution of taxation, we venture to say that a method would be quickly devised, which would challenge the admiration of a whole college of political economists. We have already pointed out the sources from which taxation could be easily and surely derived, namely, rental valuations, organized capital, business licenses and special franchises. It can be no difficult or onerous task for the press to undertake, first, to expose the inequalities and oppressions of the present system, and second, to elaborate a new system which will commend itself to the conscience of every citizen.

THE NEW HOUSES ALONG MADISON AVENUE, FIFTY-FIFTH AND FIFTY-SIXTH STREET.

We have often in the columns of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, referred to the private residences erected by Messrs. Duggin & Crossman, and the success which has attended the building operations of this enterprising firm, has according to the testimony of well-informed builders, been an incentive to a large number of the trade. The secret of this success is, however, not based upon ephemeral ground, as happened to come under the writer's observation a few days since, when he noticed the progress of the work on the ten houses, now in course of erection on Madison avenue, Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth streets. Upon entering for instance, the house on the northwest corner of Fifty-fifth street and the avenue, it becomes apparent at once that the workmanship is superior, the supervision steady and systematic, and all material used of the first class.

All the masons' and carpenters' work is done by their own workmen, who are not hired for a special job, but are detailed from the factory of Messrs. Duggin & Crossman, located at the corner of Forty-first street and Park avenue. Here are four floors where no machinery whatever is used, but where all the trimmings to the doors and windows are put together by cabinet makers, employed there throughout the year. Long before these casings or other material are actually wanted, they are here molded, prepared, varnished and painted, thus seasoning them before they are actually used in the houses. This method, which necessarily involves a large outlay of capital, and can, of course, not be followed by all engaged in the trade, has the effect that when the stuff is once put in the houses no shrinkage or possible disarrangement can occur. With the use of dowels the various moldings are made into a whole, avoiding the numerous nailings of the old carpenter method. In this factory, the work is systematically divided so that trimmings all prepared to the smallest part of an inch are turned out with their smooth-velvet facings ready to be put in their places in the respective houses in course of construction. The result of all this is, that the same pains are taken with the construction of a house as with the most expensive cabinet work.

The enclosing of the flooring and beams, in these houses, is left to the care of Austin Gibbons, 347 West Forty-third street, on whose conscientious work, Messrs. Duggin & Crossman place great reliance. The mason work is also done by themselves, but they leave the cutting of the brown stone to Mr. Chas. Huber, at his extensive stone works, 79th street and East River.

Upon entering the yards of the houses, now in course of construction, we noticed that they were covered with Schillinger's Patent Portland Cement Paving on a good bed of concrete. This system of finishing yards prevents the soakage of water into the cellars and guarantees their dryness.

The plumbing work, which is all done by days' work, by John Toumey, of 124 Park avenue, is looked after with special care, the several waste pipes being carefully and thoroughly trapped. The trap used, is a patent wrought trap, from James G. Dubois & Co., 512, 514 and 516 West Thirtieth street, and is pronounced an admirable contrivance. The lead pipes which are of extraordinary thickness here, are all furnished by the Colwell Lead Company, of which Mr. Hooper is President. The Fuller faucets, of which builders generally speak so highly, are used in these houses, while the copper boilers and bath tubs are supplied by Jochum & Jetter, 148 East Fiftieth street. The latter gentlemen, have the reputation of furnishing first class work.

The plastering of these houses is done by George Stone, of 202 West Fortieth street, a gentlemen who has been for years in the business, and whose conscientious work has given satisfaction in so many first class houses, while the stairs, all of hard wood, are obtained from Graham & Sons, often alluded to in these columns for their excellent work.

Before entering more in detail upon the interior fitting of these houses, we ought to add that the blue stone sidewalks are from George Crawford, foot of West Fifty-first street, and that roofing of all of these houses as well as the metal cornices, is attended to by Mr. James Kennedy, 450 West Nineteenth street. Seeing the extraordinary care which these builders take in supervising the smallest possible detail connected with their houses, the writer asked Mr. Duggin for the names of parties who furnish supplies for the interior, and on making an examination of any one of the houses it was found that all the doors, sashes and blinds came from Hall, Hatt & Parker, in Newark. Most of the iron work, including the iron window guards is done by Cook & Radley, 214 East Thirty-seventh street, and all the furnaces are supplied by John Hyslop, 208 East Twenty-ninth street; these are preferred over other furnaces notwithstanding their higher price, while the ranges come from Bramhall, Deane & Co., 724 Broadway, and again the grates, with attendant fittings, are all purchased from the firm of J. S. Conover & Co., 368 Canal street, who for years have supplied this firm.

So far as the communication is concerned between the various stories, no other dumb waiter is ever used than Murtaugh's, who has the call in all of Duggin & Crossman's houses and between whom there exists that mutual confidence which results in satisfactory work. Mr. A. G. Newman, of Broadway and Twenty-eighth street, supplies all the bells and speaking tubes. All the locks, bronze hinges, and fittings come from P. & F. Corbin, 87 Chambers street, who are the heaviest manufacturers in that line.

A great item of expense in all these first class private residences is the purchase of wood and marble mantels. The Guelton Marble Company enjoys the confidence of the builders for all the marble work, and also for the mantels; while M. J. Keveney, of 334 East 33rd street supplies the plumbers' slabs and tilings; the wood mantels, as well as the mirror frames and the window cornices, are all purchased from Francis Hayek & Co., cor. Forty-fourth street and Tenth avenue.

J. H. Moran & Co., of 1675 Broadway, invariably get the contract for painting and frescoing, and their work gives great satisfaction, not only to the architects, but to those occupying these houses.

When it is added that in addition to the ten houses here alluded to, three of which have already been sold even before completion, the same firm are erecting six more houses in other parts of the city, they being actually engaged to-day upon sixteen houses, it will be noticed at once the enormous life and activity these gentlemen infuse into the building trade. We also take plesure in adding that this number of sixteen is an increase of four upon the number in course of construction during the corresponding month of last year. In all, Messrs. Duggin & Crossman average some twenty-two houses in one year, and they are all first class. True, the work they are furnishing to day, is not so elaborate, that is to say the houses they are erecting are not so costly as those erected by them during the era of inflation, but the same principle of solidity, care and artistic workmanship guides them all.

Those on Madison avenue, Fifty-fifth and Fifty-sixth street will be completed in September and their prices range from $33,000 for an eighteen feet front house, to $48,000 for a thirty-two feet house. The one particularly described above fronts twenty-five feet on Fifty-fifth street and extends sixty eight-feet along the avenue. The asking price for that corner house is $43,000.

A NEW DECORATIVE PAINT.

The injurious effects on the health of various persons by the use of ordinary wall paper, for the obvious reasons that its surface retains dust, and the application of layer after layer, affords a convenient harbor for vermin and the accumulation of filth, causing an offensive odor, to say nothing of the fact, that the colors used in the manufacture of paper often contain arsenite of copper, have led to the introduction of a valuable coloring medium as a substitute for paper which is entirely free from the poisonous effects of lead paints. The advantages claimed for this material are, that lead is not used as an ingredient; the paint cannot be rubbed off; its tints are not affected by gas or other fumes, and as a decorative material is superior to paper hangings. This paint is supplied by the Silicate Paint Company, represented in the United States by Howard Fleming, 10 Pine street. The basis of these paints, as the name implies, is Silica, and according to one scientific authority "Silica in the mineral world corresponds to the diamond in its own sphere, but utilize its impermeable qualities, purity is further essential to allow of ts being calcined to an impalpable powder so that instertices in the coating shall be impossible."

The Company effects this, and the proof of purity is in the fact that with the water driven off there remains 95 per cent. of the dry mass. This pure deposit of silica was, we may note, discovered by the company and is worked by them alone.

It may be stated further that the paint has a glossy appearance and a beautiful surface which can at any time be washed with water without injury, and which is absolutely unaffected by atmospheric influence. The Silicate Paint can be used for all purposes to which ordinary paint is applied, while its surface is such that no dirt or dust can lie on it and after it has been years in use, it looks as fresh as when first painted on the walls. It is, indeed, protective to such an extent that it is very largely used for coating wood and iron work and it has also been extensively employed by the English Government and many large firms to resist the penetration of moisture into wood brick, stone, &c., and has been found in every respect satisfactory.

Many experts have given testimony in its favor. Professor Goodwin, of The Builder, speaking at the meeting of the Social Science, held recently at Liverpool, said: "When they recollected the enormous amount of injury that lead paint did every year, and the number of persons who were damaged most seriously by it, and the difficulty of keeping damp out of houses, and when they found that this Company claimed to meet these two points, their preparations were of the greatest importance." Lloyd's official list has also pronounced in its favor, and eulogistic notices of it are before us from the Architect, Builder, Engineering, The Sanitary Record and many other journals dealing with such matters. It is noteworthy, in conclusion, that the artistic merits of these paints are equal to their sanitary properties. They mark not only, as Dr. Richardson said, a distinct advance in sanitary science, but they can be applied in such a fashion as to render the walls of our rooms delightful to artistic eyes. In this country it has given great satisfaction wherever used, and the Silicate Paint only requires to become more widely known to be appreciated as it deserves.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The transactions at the Exchange Salesroom during the past week were of great variety and extent, embracing sales of almost every description. Although judicial sales greatly preponderated, the number of offerings made by Executors was unusually large, the following being the most important:

39th st (No. 216), s s, 166.6 w 7th av, h & l (20.6x 98.9)..... $12,000
47th st (No. 167), n s, 120 e 7th av, h & l (20x 100)..... 16,000
Bank st (No. 22), w s, 58.4 n Waverley pl..... 10,000
Bank st, No. 24, adj the above..... 10,150
129th st (No. 22), s s, 288.11 e 5th av, h & l. 6,900

None of the property belonging to the estate of Jane Beekman Borrowe was sold, owing to the unsatisfactory bids made.

In every sale made under foreclosure proceedings, the inevitable plaintiff, with one or two exceptions, became the purchaser, and the only noteworthy feature to be recorded, respecting such sales, is that two institutions, viz.: The Union Dime Savings Institution and The New York Life Insurance Company purchased parcels, the former institution purchasing property to the amount of about $78,000, and the latter's purchases aggregating $59,900, to satisfy liens acquired by mortgage amounting to about $113,725.

The important recorded transactions, are the transfer of property on the west side of Madison avenue, extending from Sixty-seventh to Sixty-eighth streets 200.10x195, in consideration of $178,000, subject to mortgage of $97,300, taxes, &c., and the lots with buildings situated on the northeast corner of Broadway and Forty-second street, recently sold by Josiah Jex, for $165,000.

There does not, as yet, appear to be any reduction in the number of prospective sales under forclosure proceedings, and the advertised list of these sales printed in another column, comprises many valuable parcels. Several sales, not judicial, are also announced among them one by A. H. Muller & Son, who will offer on May 2d next, by order of executors of Nathaniel Niles, deceased, thirteen lots on Seventy-third street, commencing 100 feet west Ninth avenue, four lots on the northwest corner of Ninth avenue and Seventy-third street, also lots on Broadway boulevard near Seventy fourth-street, and other parcels, a full description of which appears in our advertising columns.

Attention is invited to the table of Market Quotations for vacant lots, printed elsewhere, which has recently been revised. This table is compiled upon the basis of mortgage loan valuations, which standard has been chosen as open to the fewest objections. Great care has been taken in the revision of the table so as to secure accuracy and reliability.

The records of the Building Department show an increase in the number plans filed during the week ending April 25th inst., over the week preceding. The total estimated cost of the buildings embraced in the plans filed is $374,000. Mr. George Sloane purposes erecting a store for his business at the corner of Broadway and Thirty-second street, at an estimated cost of $80,000; the building will have a frontage on Broadway of 54 feet and 123 feet on Thirty second street. Philadelphia brick will be used for the front with brown stone trimmings. The upper part of the building will be used for offices and flats. There will also be erected down town at the southeast corner of Division and Pike streets two stores, the estimated cost of which is $28,000, and one five-story store and dwelling will be erected on the northeast corner of Spring and Thompson streets. On the west side of Fifth avenue, between Fifty-seventh and Fifth-eighth street, four four-story brown stone houses will be built, and three four-story dwellings on Fifty-fifth street between Fifth and Madison avenues.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—The market for Common Hards has undergone no decided change since our preceding report and we have few features of interest to advise. The shading on cost then noted failed to attract buyers out of the cautious form of operations and demand has kept along at the old slow rate with the offering quite equal to all calls, indeed stock has, if any thing, proven somewhat larger than was required and, while not weighty enough to force further decline, has occasioned some little trouble to receivers. The distribution has been mainly to what may be called local sources only and merely in such parcels as could be put to immediate use. There is an expectation among sellers that within a couple or three weeks the city consumption will increase, as many jobs are now fairly advanced in the way of digging out, etc., and contractors control very little stock, while of the new crop arrivals are not expected in any quantity until the close of next month. Manufacturers, however, are nearly all at work and having had an earlier and more open spring than usual it is possible their product may come to hand in sufficient quantity to fully satisfy all wants. Pales are dull and irregular and some poor lots have again sold low. Fronts are without change. The sales consummated for export are reported as moderate but signs of a revival of the demand for the Provinces are again to be seen.

We quote Pale, ℔ M., $2.00@$2.50; Hards. Up-rivers, $4.50@$5.00; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@$5.50; favorite brands, $—@$7.75; Fronts, Croton—brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $23@$27; Baltimore, $34@$38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@$3 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

HARDWARE.—A very fair amount of business is reported among the leading houses and the impression seems to be that the prospect is favorable for an increase rather than any positive diminution, as the wants of interior dealers are more urgent. Some of the local buyers also have shown increased interest but principally in the way of small invoices taken to satisfy immediate necessities. Export orders keep up very well and cover quite a goodly proportion of builders hardware, tools, etc. Regular styles and assortments continue to be best suited to the present outlet. We learn of no new lists published since our last and as a rule the line of discounts remains as before, but values cannot be understood as fully settled and there is apt to arise considerable irregularity over opportunities presented for consumating large sales. Stocks in quantity and assortment are satisfactory and most manufacturers and dealers are anxious to move their goods.

LATH.—The quotation is very much the same as last week. The latest sale we hear of to present writing was at $1.45 ℔M. and this is the nominal figure, but no stock is offering at the moment and the market lacks a fair test. Receivers think $1.50 at least could be obtained for small cargoes or parts of cargoes, and the general impression prevails, that no stock of magnitude is on the way, which tends to impart a little confidence. Dealers, however, are not particularly anxious buyers, and one or two sellers, who have recently canvassed the city and vicinity, report the prospect not very encouraging.

LIME.—Matters continue without features of interest as a rule, and the average report from receivers is simply "nothing new." The demand has proven sufficient to about exhaust the supply and former rates were sustained with possibly a slightly steadier tone at the close. State lime also selling at former figures with common about steady, but finishing showing a stronger tone.

LUMBER.—The slow tone of business continues unbroken and most of the current operations are confined to meeting the ordinary run of orders. In some cases dealers assert this state of affairs to be just about what they expected, but as a rule the evidences of disappointment are plain and the more so from the fact that the present outlook affords little of a really encouraging character. There is to be a fair city and near by consumption this season in all probability, but buyers are in no way inclined to call for stock until they absolutely want it, then only take enough for immediate use, and neither predictions of increased cost or temptations of easier terms serves to seduce them from this plan of operations. Equal care is shown on the foreign outlet, shippers either waiting for positive orders or putting on board only such small parcels of carefully selected supplies as must have almost a sure sale when they arrive out, and there appears to be more or less fear over the condition of the market abroad. With a few unimportant exceptions our supplies have not received any great addition since the first of the year, and in some cases assortments are pretty badly broken up, yet there is no hurry to restock shown, and thus the condition of the local demand is reflected back upon the primary points, so far as orders from our dealers are concerned. Interior lumbermen, however, are evidently in a pretty confident mood and most of our exchanges indicate strong markets at the points of supply.

The Manufacturer and Builder may possibly intend to compliment our market reports by using them as the sole basis from which to manufacture its review of the building material trade, etc., with each issue published, but common decency might induce an occasional word of credit to the RECORD. Its last rehash of our lumber reports, and especially of March 23d, we should have borne with usual patience had the publication been confined to the columns for which it was so thinly disguised, but in looking over the Lumberman and Manufacturer of April 19th, we find the latter journal has once more "found a good thing" and the Manufacturer and Builder gets all the credit for original matter on an article stolen nearly bodily from an issue of ours about a month old. Our Western contemporary we hold blameless, of course, but as this is the second time it has been misled in precisely the same manner, we feel justified in calling attention to the dishonesty of the publication to which it has given such prominence.

Eastern Spruce has not arrived with much freedom and the absence of supplies accumulating afloat gave some advantage to the selling interest by preventing a further shrinkage on cost. The position at the best, however, was only nominally steady, as desirable buyers were not plenty and moving with both caution and indifference. Opportunities have arisen where both a larger quantity of random or ordered stuff could have been placed at extremely or even better rates, but the majority of our receivers seemed to think the terms of payment were not satisfactory, and no great effort was made to sell. As a whole the market does not present a very promising look but can hold fairly on light receipts. We quote at $12@13 50 for random, possibly $14.00 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $14@15.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine continues to sell rather slowly on home account, and to this outlet dealers seldom manage to get rid of more than a fair jobbing invoice. Buyers, however, do not make serious objection to cost, and close negotiations quickly when they have selected the amount required, but are very careful not to take any stock they will be likely to find left over consumptive wants. Last week's sales for export were fair, but during the period under review there does not appear to be so much moving. There is now being reported among the weekly clearances quite a number of small lots of lumber for Europe, supposed to be in the main stuff taken for ceiling, dunnage, etc. We quote at $15@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@20.50 for South American do; $15@16 for box boards; $17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@40 per M.

Yellow Pine continues without much animation beyond an occasional call for siding or a small order for flooring, and the local market would scarcely stand the presence of any very large offering. Agents, however, are making a few sales for direct shipment from Southern ports, in part to West Indies and now and then to the South American markets. Supplies are ample for the calls made and prices as a rule continues easy. We quote random cargoes at about $18@21 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@24 do; green flooring boards, $20@21 do; and dry do. do. $20@23; Cargoes at the South, $14@15.50 per M; hewn timber, $7.50@14.

Hardwoods show a continued favorable market on the leading styles, and for the best goods, the amount available proving small, and offerings from the interior indifferently made. Last week we intended to speak of a short cut of walnut logs, but the types made us say a steady cut, and this bungled the entire paragraph. It is said that very few accumulations of first class walnut have been made at the primary points. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@85 ℔ M; ash, $35@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do.. do.. culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $15@75 do.; white wood, ½ and ⅝ inch. $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $25@30 do. for Western, and $40@50 for good nearby stock.

The retail yard trade is slow and annoyingly monotonous. Orders are received and buyers come themselves, to about the average extent, with more or less stock going out in jobbing invoices. Much the same old line of general quotations remains, and they may be called steady.

The lumber charters this week are unimportant.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Lumberman's Gazette has the following:

BAY CITY, Friday, April 19, 1878.

The lumber market during the past week has been very active, more so, in fact, than at any other time during the season. A large amount of lumber has been sold, and there are now a large number of buyers in the market who will purchase a considerable quantity of lumber before the week is closed. The ruling prices are $6, $12 and $28, although we hear of one sale of half a million at $7, $13 and $28. This was, however, an exceptionably fine lot of lumber and the price paid should not be taken as the going rates. There is no lumber to be bought at less than $6, $12 and $28, and manufacturers are firm in their demands.

The shingle trade is very brisk, and prices vary according to quality at from $1.60@2.00 to $2.60@3.00.

Lath is firm at $1.40@1.50 with a very small stock on hand with which to supply the trade.

The drives are in about the same condition as at our last report, some being hung up and abandoned while others are moving along slowly and at an increased cost. The driving that is being done is aided very largely by the use of dams, in fact this is the only way in which the water is made available. It will take very heavy rains to raise the streams sufficiently to bring down all the logs.

SHIPMENTS.

Below we give the shipments for the season to date:

Lumber, feet	11,113,742
Lath, pieces	937,000
Shingles	2,984,600
Salt, bbls	16,494

The wholesale quotations following are the prices at which manufacturers hold stocks:

Three uppers	$28 00@30 00
Common	12 00@14 00
Shipping culls	6 00@ 7 00
Lath	@ 1 40

Summer logging is still being prepared for in all quarters, and tram roads, rail roads, pole roads, trucks and slides are all the talk. Even if the logs put into the streams by these contrivances do not come down this season, it will prevent them being destroyed by worms.

The Gazette's Chicago correspondent says:

The receipts upon the cargo market so far have been light, but stock has gone off like hot cakes at the prices annexed. Many heavy dealers throughout the West are here, or have their agents here, waiting and watching to pick up stock as fast as received, showing conclusively what the feeling is throughout the West in this trade. The sales the past few days would indicate about the following prices and firm:

Pine stuff	$9 00@ 9 50
Common stuff	@10 00
Mill run stuff and boards	@11 50
Small timber	@11 00

The schr. Ida from Muskegon, 172,000 feet com., $10; barge Major Fenny from Montague, 145,000 feet mill run strips and boards at $11.50; schr. McDonald, 100,000 feet piece stuff at $9.50, 78,000 feet small lumber at $11; barge Collin Campbell, 185,000 feet 2-inch, and schr. Cooper 108,000 feet, all at $9. "A" shingles nominal at $2.10. Lath, $1.50.

HARDWOOD.

This trade is active and prices firm. Stocks are running quite low now, and the local as well as outside demand is fine. The high wind prevailing for the past few days has had a wonderful effect upon the roads, drying them up rapidly and adding largely to the general volume of business.

Walnut culls are much firmer if not quotable at an advance, as well as the finer grades of hardwood. This trade is in a very healthy condition, and a large business is anticipated the coming season at slightly advanced prices.

Square timber is still very scarce, but a supply is soon expected. It is to be hoped that the stocks will not be permitted to run so low hereafter.

A Cincinnati dispatch dated April 12th, says: "The lumber dealers in this city are very much excited over the condition of the lumber trade. They seem to be impressed with the belief that, owing to the absence of snow this winter in the lumber regions, and the present low stage of water, it has been impossible to get the usual quantity of lumber to the mills. A meeting of dealers was held to-day, at which it was resolved to advance prices from 15 to 25 per cent. Some of the prices fixed are these: 1¼ to 2-inch first common and clear, $40; second common $27.50; third common, $17.50; first common flooring, $45; first common weather-boards, $20."

The Lumberman and Manufacturer reports as follows:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., April 18, 1878.

A good demand for lumber is springing up under the influence of a premature spring, and the sales and collections are now satisfactory in most sections of the West. The still further depletion of stocks at the river points is going on rapidly, from Minneapolis to St. Louis. At the former place the stocks have been reduced to a little over 45,000,000 feet, against about 110,000,000 feet a year ago, and sales aggregating nearly 2,500,000 feet per week. St. Paul has less than 4,000,000. Stillwater less than 6,000,000, Clinton, Lyons, and Fulton 15,000,000, and other points equally low, and trade better than last year.

CANADA.

The Montreal Journal of Commerce, speaking of the outlook in Canada says: "The prospect for the lumber trade continues to brighten, so far as demand and prices are concerned. A number of the mills in the Ottawa Valley, which have been closed down for the last two or three seasons will resume work immediately. The price of sawed lumber is said to average $1 higher this season than last. Considerable loss will of course accrue to manufacturers through having to leave large quantities of logs in the woods, but desperate efforts are being made to get out all possible, in some cases tramways being laid down for the purpose. It is satisfactory to find that there is springing up in the United States an increased demand for Canadian lumber. Should the new tariff be accepted, the reduction of the duty on pine lumber from $2 to $1 per thousand feet will still further tend to improve the market there for our lumber dealers."

MISCELLANEOUS.

From a recent article in the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, we take the following: With two or three exceptions all the saw mills of the city that will run at all during this season will be in operation today. Though the prospects have not been specially flattering, our lumbermen have had sufficient pluck to put in a pretty fair stock, and the majority of them will run their mills a portion of the season if their logs get down. Very few logs were left over last fall, but the number put in during the winter was about the same as was put in for last year. The cut, therefore, for this season, will vary scarcely any from that of last season. The logs have not been coming in very rapidly yet, and over half the number that have reached the boom have already been rafted out. The shingle mills and planing mills, with one two exceptions in each, are in active operation.

* * * * * *

Rafting out of the boom began last week. In the first three and a half days 5,156,143 feet were rafted out. That much more has been rafted out up to the present time. From 9,000,000 to 10,000,000 feet are still in the boom.

The Tonawanda Herald says:

The season now opened promises fairly, but dealers do not look for any unusual activity in trade during the early months, or until buyers settle down to the conviction that the advance in prices at the mills can be held firm beyond a peradventure. This is pretty well settled in the minds of wholesale dealers and makes them firm in their prices, and not anxious to force dry stock even at to-day's quotations.

We append a corrected list of prices current for seasoned stock:

℔ PRICES CURRENT, APRIL 18, 1878.

Cargo lots—Michigan Inspection—
Three uppers	$32 00@34 00
Common	14 50@15 50
Culls	9 00@10 00

NAILS.—A moderate production has been adhered to by nearly all the mills, and in some cases a complete suspension of work temporarily, but no actual scarcity of supplies followed, as the demand was quite moderate. Indeed, business has been dull on all outlets, and the tone of the market heavy. We quote: 10d. to 60d., common fence and sheathing per keg, $2.60; 8d. and 9d., common do. per keg, $2.85; 6d. and 7d., common, per keg, $3.10; 4d. and 5d., common do., per keg, $3.35; 3d. and 4d., light, per keg, $4.10; 3d., fine, per keg, $4.85; 2d., per keg, $4.85, Cut spikes, all sizes, $2.85. Floor casing and box, 75c. above the same sizes of common. Finishing, $1 above and fine finishing $1.25 above.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1½in.	2 & 2¼in.	2½ & 2¾ in.	3 in. & longer
$5@$5.25	$4.75	$4.50	$4.25 per keg

OILS.—The jobbing movement moderately active and without new features, the basis of most calls being actual necessity. Holders views on prices remain as before, and the position may be called nominally steady. We quote: Linseed, about 59@61c. ℔ gallon; lard, 60@61c. for winter, 52@56c. for No. 1, and 49@51c. for No. 2; crude cotton seed, 35@40c., and refined summer yellow do, 48@50c.

PAINTS.—The market still fails to show much animation, but the outward movement of stock holds its own with other articles of merchandize, and most jobbers appear to think they are doing quite as well as could be expected. As before, the demand calls for merely such small invoices as may be required to satisfy early and positive wants, and buyers prefer to constantly repeat orders rather than handle anything in excess of early consumptive ability. Selections are made principally on a basis of low cost and thus tends to give the more ordinary grades a slight preference in most cases, though to some extent consumers are to be found, who do not overlook the fact that the best goods are very apt to be the cheapest in the end. The amount and assortment offering proves fair, both of domestic and foreign production, and nearly all sellers incline to keep their views upon an easy basis.

PITCH.—Demand does not become very active, and is confined in the main to small jobbers orders for local distribution, though occasionally a little is taken for shipment. The supplies are ample for all wants offered without much hesitation and on easy terms. We quote at $2.00@$2.25 for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—A steady demand is received from the usual sources for retail lots, and a considerable amount of stock finds market in this way. Stocks are very well under control, and this preserves a steady tone, though holders could not realize except at a concession. We quote at 30@32c. according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Demand continues moderately active and without new features worthy of note. There has been supply enough for all wants and a little to spare but holders were not urging business and generally asked about former figures. We quote at $2.00@$2.25 for Newberne and Washington and $2.12½@2.37½ for Wilmington.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus reports for the week ending April 23, 1878:

We have not any change to note in the value of Pine Lumber. The trade has been fair and about up to what we have at the opening of the canals. Stocks are well assorted and are ample for all wants of the trade. From Buffalo, Tonawanda and Oswego but little has been shipped, so far, this season. The stock of dry lumber is reported to be light at all shipping points. We have not any rate of freight from Buffalo to Albany; from Tonawanda to Albany the rate is $2.15@2.20 ℔ M feet; from Oswego to Albany, $1.75 ℔ M feet. From Ottawa to Albany the rate is $2.75; to New York, $3.00.

In coarse lumber there has been a fair trade, but stocks, especially of hemlock, are very light. Receipts by canal are not looked for before the 3d or 5th of May, and it is pretty generally understood that they will yield not to exceed half of the needed stock.

The reported shipment on the 19th inst., of 1,520,000 feet of lumber from Tonawanda to Bay City, shows that the Western markets, for the present, at least, are more profitable to shippers than the Eastern. Indeed so strong has the current set in toward the West that we are told that parties in the District contemplate shipping lumber hence to the Western markets.

The stock of lumber at Chicago on the 1st of April was 245,509,000 feet against 317,811,000 feet on 1st March, and 240,515,000 feet on April 1st, 1877. The receipts at Chicago from January 1st, 1878, to April 12th were 31,238,000 feet against 20,221,000 feet for a corresponding period in 1877. The shipments were 103,302,000 feet against 97,621,000 feet.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week by lake are 960,000 feet; by rail, 70 cars. At Oswego the lake receipts for the week 1,020,000 feet; the shipments by canal 978,000 feet.

THE HYGIENICS OF BUILDING.

VI.—Conclusive.

GAS LIGHTING.—The three sources of danger in a modern dwelling which science is called upon to deal with are the invasion of sewer gas through the house soil pipe, the invasion of coal gas through the furnace flues, and the invasion of illuminating gas through leakages in the gas fittings.

We have already discussed two of these topics and suggested means of prevention. We now come to discuss the third and last one.

The fastidiousness of American taste calls for the burying of gas service pipes out of sight. In France the law compels the builder to place these service pipes on the outside of walls and ceilings without reference to appearances. If the Health Board was aware to what extent the modern dwelling house is subject to the invasion of this poisonous illuminating gas from cracked pipes and broken joints of gas fitting, probably a similar law would be enacted in this State. These fractures and dislocations of joints arise as much from the manner in which they are introduced into buildings as from any chance inferiority of pipe metal used for this purpose. Ordinarily these pipes are suspended from ceilings by hooks attached to the floor beams. These horizontal pipes are connected with vertical supply pipes leading directly from the house meter. Probably no more insecure method of introducing these pipes can be devised than the one now commonly employed. The weights sustained by house beams are unequal and unevenly distributed, and these alone tend to produce the dislocation and cracking of such pipes. To these causes is superadded the certain and unavoidable shrinkage of beams which are often introduced into buildings in a damp if not a green condition. In time they completely give up their moisture through the action of artificial heat and the natural dryness of the atmosphere which surrounds them.

Besides leakage from pipes which are carried over ceilings, under floors and within partitions, there is apt to be considerable leakage about the fixture joints, especially about the faucets which turn on or shut off the illuminating gas. There is no excuse for these leakages of fixtures, provided the householder takes pains to purchase the goods from the best manufacturers and there is certainly no remedy for them except the watchfulness of the housekeeper. It is important that all exposed fixtures should be periodically examined, as even the best made joints are apt to become loose, and the thread of the screw which holds the fixtures to the pipe may corrode and rust. The plug or core of the faucet is also liable to wear away like the core of a croton faucet and should be periodically renewed. All the devices of good workmanship may fail to protect us from possible leakage in the supply pipes themselves. In a very carefully executed job, it might be wise to introduce the gas by means of lead pipe which is more tractable than the ordinary iron pipe, and the joints can be securely and tightly soldered.

Another safe method would be to encase the ordinary iron gas pipe in an outside pipe, say of galvanized iron or cheap lead pipe. The enclosing pipe would act as a container or receiver for any gas which might escape from the service pipe. It would be necessary to provide an outlet for this enclosing or containing pipe into a ventilating flue, or at some one accessible point where the fact of a leakage might be easily discovered. The proper distribution and protection of these gas service pipes is a subject that deserves the attention of sanitarians equally with that of sewer pipes.

Escape of gas often arises from the corrosion or faultiness of the burner tips or nipples, and from the imperfect combustion of the flame. The central dark blue spot that is perceptible in most jets represents uncombusted gas that finds its way into the atmosphere of the dwelling. The lava tip burner with automatic check valve is the latest mechanical improvement in this department. This fixture, coupled with the opal glass globe, with broad flaring bottom, which has been lately introduced, seems to afford the perfection of result in gas lighting, to wit: a bright steady flame of completely combusted gas, the glare being softened by the color and shape of the new globes. Automatic gas lighters are now attracting attention and exhibit meritorious results.

DISINFECTANTS.—Probably the commonest ambition in this country, and the subject about which the American intellect is most actively exercised, is to devise some useful and valuable invention by the patent of which the inventor may expect to derive a comfortable fortune. It may be safely said that not more than five or ten out of every five hundred current inventions are of permanent utility. The rest have either an ephemeral value, or fail entirely to satisfy any actual want. We regard as a benefactor of the race any one who exercises his inventive faculty to devise methods and appliances calculated to promote household convenience or healthfulness. There is no field more inviting for such exploits than the human habitation, and certainly none where the efforts of genius might rely upon ampler rewards. We have no terror of inventions and no morbid sensitiveness about alluding to them. Next to the credit of perfecting meritorious inventions, honor belongs to whoever will take pains to find out the honest and useful ones, and give the public the benefit of his experience and research. We intend, as far as our limited opportunities will permit, to inform ourselves upon the efficacy of current inventions in the sphere of building improvements, and from time to time we will give our readers the benefit of our information. We will expressly stipulate that no inventions shall be mentioned in our editorial columns except such as have been thoroughly examined and tried, and then we shall aim to confine our criticisms to those which we consider practical and praiseworthy. We have no fear of taxing the credulity of our readers, but shall rely upon their intelligent discrimination to rightly estimate the weight and value of such criticisms as we may offer. Unwillingness to test improvements, to be the first to take the new departure will account for much of the stereotyped character of our New York buildings. A more liberal and enlightened spirit is beginning to prevail. Any prudent and painstaking builder or house holder can well afford to run the risk of encountering a few failures in alleged improvements, for the sake of securing one that is of permanent practical benefit. Such notices as we shall offer, it may be proper to say, will be unsolicited, gratuitous and independent.

The special device to which we invite attention at this time, is called a disinfector, but its tittle hardly conveys any adequate idea of its method or mechanism. It is designed principally, if not solely, for application to water-closets; and consists of an earthen tank or jar, which holds a disinfecting fluid intended to be automaticly injected into the bowl of the closet. It is simply, then, an appliance for introducing disinfecting fluid into water-closets. The advantage of this device is, that it is sure and regular in its operation, delivering into the water-closet pan a fixed quantity of fluid every time the handle of the closet is raised. Such a service is a vast improvement upon the irregular and spasmodic efforts of servants or house-keepers to attend to the disinfection of sinks, by mechanically depositing proper fluids from a hand bowl or pitcher. To be of any lasting and useful service, the operation of disinfecting must be performed with certainty and regularity.

We will endeavor to describe the ingenious contrivance of Mr. Jennings' for accomplishing this important object.

The principle of the apparatus is the well known one in hydraulics of the siphon, and it is thus applied:—A large earthen jar, capable of holding two or three gallons of fluid, is placed upon a shelf about four feet above the closet seat. Through a hole in the bottom of this jar, a glass bulb or vial, about an inch in diameter and holding three ounces of fluid is suspended. The only connection between the vial and the bowl is a small feeder about the size of a quill, through which the fluid passes into the vial. A quarter inch pipe leading from the bowl of the closet pierces the bottom of the jar and cranes over near the top, passing into the glass vial underneath, thus forming a conduit pipe between the vial and the water-closet bowl. Half way between the seat and the jar containing the disinfectant, this conduit pipe is pierced by another pipe connected with the Croton service that supplies the water-closet bowl. The joint is so formed that water passing up this pipe from the service impinges against a plate at this joint and is so forced down into the water-closet bowl through the first-mentioned conduit pipe. After the handle of the water-closet is dropped and the Croton service shut off, the last gush of water that passes through this pipe produces a vacuum of sufficient suction power to draw the charge of disinfecting fluid that is in the glass tube through the conduit pipe, discharging it into the pan of the water-closet bowl. As fast as the vial is emptied, it is promptly supplied from the jar of fluid. The bulb or vial is capable of containing about three ounces of fluid, and the jar is intended to supply one hundred and fifty charges of this quantity, so that when once filled it is likely to last one or two weeks, according to the frequency with which the closet is used. Almost any of the leading disinfectants can be used in this method, although the preference will, in all likelihood, be given to the Bromo-Chloralum or to the Girondin Disinfectant. Either preparation is expressly intended for household use, being inodorous, non-poisonous and non-corrosive, besides being very efficient and quite inexpensive.

This invention, when properly applied, secures, in the most perfect and thorough manner the great desideratum of the proper deodorizing and disinfecting of water-closets. It is the invention of a practical English plumber, and is extensively used in England and Canada. It is working its way gradually into use among our own citizens, and is favorably regarded by the medical profession. It is one among the many devices which are presented to the New York public by Mr. A. G. Myers, at his depot of sanitary plumbing supplies, at 94 Beekman street. The public can find there a disinfector in practical operation, and will be better able, by examination, to judge of its merits and serviceability than by any verbal description.

Whatever pains may be taken in the arrangement of soil pipes for the exclusion of sewer gas, and for the ventilation of sewer pipes, it is still necessary to bear in mind that the generation of poisonous gasses begins the moment fæcal matter is deposited in the trap. Amid the most abundant precautions such gases are likely to find their readiest outlets in the bowl of the closet or in the basin and tub drain pipes when connected with the soil pipe. The only means at our command for combating these gases is the application of disinfectants, and no more efficient or reliable vehicle of application can be devised than Jennings' disinfector. The accumulation of successive charges of disinfecting fluid in the traps of the soil pipe, and their passage through the soil pipe itself, have the effect to purify the whole drainage system of a house. Its principal service, however, is to purify the closet bowl and the atmosphere of the room in which the closet is placed.

THE TAX OFFICE.

It may perhaps be needless, but it is nevertheless expedient, to say that the Tax Office in this city comprises three functions. The Tax Commissioners determine the measure of each taxpayer's indebtment. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment determine the aggregate of the tax budget. There two functions are separate and independent under the laws although one of the commissioners of taxes also serves as a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The Receiver of Taxes is the third co-ordinate official, and it is his business to collect the taxes and pay over the proceeds to the Chamberlain of the city.

The Tax Commissioners are vested with the supreme power of determining what portion of each taxpayer's property shall be taken for governmental expenses in any given year. While the tax budget is being made up, citizens at large and the press may be more or less indifferent as to its details, conscious that it will be eventually spread over a very large area of taxable values and apportioned among a large number of individuals. But when the climacteric period arrives of determining the precise measure of each individual's quota of tax, the operation of the tax system then becomes intensely and personally interesting to every taxpayer in the community.

We will endeavor to illustrate by simple tables the effect upon the individual taxpayer of these two operations, to wit, the making up of the general tax budget and the defining of individual tax indebtedness, in certain hypothetical cases.

CASE No. 1.

Gross Valuation	$1,000,000,000
Budget	30,000,000
Rate	3 per cent
Individual Valuation	10,000
Amount of Individual Tax Bill	300

Gross Valuation	$1,000,000,000
Budget	35,000,000
Rate	3½ per cent
Individual Valuation	10,000
Amount of Individual Tax Bill	350

CASE No. 3.

Gross Valuation	$1,000,000,000
Budget	30,000,000
Rate	3 per cent
Individual Valuation	11,666
Amount of Individual Tax Bill	350

These tables are almost too simple to need any exposition. We have assumed in each case that the gross sum of tax valuation remains the same. By a comparison of these tables the reader will perceive the effect of the increase of the tax budget in one case, and the effect of an increase of an individual valuation in the other case. The relative power of inflicting damage upon the taxpayer, as demonstrated in these tables may be thus translated into language: An increase in the general budget of city expenses amounting to $5,000,000 has the same effect upon each taxpayers indebtment as does the increasing of his individual valuation from $10,000 to $11,666. Conversely stated, when a sub-assessor in valuing property for taxation raises the valuation of a given piece from $10,000 to $11,666, he invades the interest or pocket-book of the taxpayer to the same extent as if the city expenses had been increased $5,000,000.

These illustrations will furnish an adequate idea of the vast power and incomparable responsibility which are vested in the Tax Commissioners, and explain the intense and irrepressible interest which concentres in their office during the first four months of the year, the period when by law the books of valuation are exposed to public scrutiny.

LEGAL DECISIONS.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS AFFECTING ASSESSMENTS.

The last General Term decided several assessment cases of interest. In the matter of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank, application was made to vacate the assessment, amounting to nearly six thousand dollars, on sixty-one lots, for paving One Hundred and Forty-fifth street, between Seventh avenue and the Boulevard, on the grounds of fraud and substantial error, it being alleged that the Commissioner of Public Works was not authorized to pave the street by what is known as days' work, but that a contract therefor was necessary, that the cost of the work was overcharged, and that expenses, not authorized, incurred were included in the assessment. Judge Donohue denied the application at the Special Term, and his order is now affirmed. The Court, Davis, P.J., writing the opinion, holds that assessments, except in cases of repavement, can be vacated only for actual fraud; that the Commissioner of Public Works had power to improve the streets and avenues above Fifty-ninth street either by days' work or by contract, as he might determine, without an ordinance of the Common Council; and that the alleged overcharges could only be inquired into upon certiorari. The total amount affected by this decision is over $100,000.

In the matter of Thomas H. Walter it was claimed that the assessments exceeded the limitation imposed by the law of 1840, viz., one-half of the value of the property as fixed by the tax commissioners. The assessments were for regulating and grading, and for paving Manhattan street, adjoining which the property is situated, each assessment amouts to one-half the assessed value of the property, and together they are equal to its entire value. The petitioner argued that the two works, regulating and grading, and paving, constituted but one improvement, and that separate assessments therefor were laid to evade the statute of 1840. Mr. Justice Donohue, at Special Term, denied the application to vacate, and his order is affirmed by the General Term, which holds, Judge Brady writing the opinion, that the assessments are for two distinct and separate improvements, and are in entire accord with the provisions of the act of 1840.—Register.

THE CLERMONT.

The erection of this apartment house on the north-east corner of Broadway and Fifty-fourth street, shows that there are some owners of property in this city willing and disposed to supply residences in this class of buildings that can be called homes in the true sense of the word. Mr. Edward J. King, though he will reap a good return for his investment, nevertheless does not crowd his tenants in small boxes. Only one suite of rooms is to be found on each floor, and each suite is composed of no less than ten rooms, large in dimensions, and light and airy throughout.

Extending forty-one feet along Broadway and fifty-four feet seven inches along Fifty-fourth street, the Clermont, with a large store on the corner, represents a convenient-looking and ornamental apartment-house. There is room, here, for everybody to move in, as the architects, Messrs. Jardine, have not divided the various spaces at their command, but have parceled out for each tenant enough room to enable each family to occupy a comfortable residence. Withal the building, though not pretentious, has a wonderfully cosy appearance, with just room enough for five families, only five flats constituting this latest addition to our apartment buildings. Mr. Robert L. M. Darragh, of 1539 Broadway, has, under the immediate supervision of the Messrs. Jardine, had charge of the mason work and fulfilled his contract to the very letter. The front of Philadelphia brick and Nova Scotia trimmings reflects at once the modest tone, which characterizes the entire building, though the indoor carpenter work, by Mr. Thomas Wilson, of Harlem, with the hardwood trimmings, is fully up to the more elaborate structures of this kind. The hardwood mantels and the mirrors, from Mr. F. Schaettler, 245 West Twenty-eighth street, deserve particular commendation, and are superior to those one is wont to meet with on the ordinary flats. The marble work throughout the Clermont has been furnished by Mr. Volkening, 104 West Forty-seventh street, and like all the work which comes from this place, has in this instance, again given satisfaction to both owner and architect. Thomas Aspinwall & Son, who have just opened a new place of business in the upper part of Broadway, have supplied the tiles for the hall, and the selection, judging by the impression they make upon the visitor, has been a very favorable one. The plumbing and gas fitting has been satisfactorily furnished by David Hennessey 1603 Broadway. A peculiar incident in connection with this Clermont building occurred which should be mentioned as a warning to those who like to plume themselves with other peoples' feathers. It appears that some straggling mechanic proffered to supply a Murtaugh dumb-waiter, as called for in the specification at a lower rate than the ordinary article. His offer was accepted, but it so happened that the Murtaugh dumb-waiter put in by the party would not work. In fact the fellow did not understand the business at all and disgusted both Mr. Darragh and Mr. Jardine. They had to send at last for Mr. James Murtaugh himself, and he was the only man who could give satisfaction in placing in proper shape the product of his own handiwork.

All the floors of the Clermont are already occupied with the exception of the ground floor. The private entrance on Fifty-fourth street, is not at all interfered with by the corner store, as ample space is left between the corner and the steps that lead to the apartment house proper. Of course this entrance is ornamented with hard wood doors and embossed glass giving the vestibule a very excellent appearance. When it is added that the entire structure has been erected at cost less than $30,000, it will be seen by those who still hestitate that now more than ever is the time to improve their real estate.

Messrs. Hall & Nixon, corner Fifty-first street and Broadway, are the agents for this building, and before the Messrs. Jardine surrendered their charge, it was all rented with the exception of one flat.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

We have again to record the unusual number of fifty legal sales advertised for the coming week by plaintiffs, prominent among whom the New York Life Insurance Company stands credited with five actions involving $115,000. Last week our list of legal sales numbered forty-one, the net results of which showed thirty-one pieces of property brought in by the plaintiff, three actual sales and seven adjournments. It is surmised that the plaintiff in many cases became the not unwilling owner of the property involved.

The sale of forty-four lots belonging to the Nathaniel Niles estate was withdrawn, the executors deciding that the market would not warrant the offering.

Plans to the number of twenty-seven, involving the erection of forty-nine buildings, costing $415,800, have been filed this week at the Department of Buildings. This shows an increase over last week, but a slight decrease in comparison with last year when thirty plans, involving fifty buildings, costing $430,150, were filed. In anticipation of the success of rapid transit, Mr. F. P. Furnald will erect eight dwellings on Seventh avenue corner One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street. Mr. Joseph F. Loubat proposes building a five-story iron front store, on Nos. 503 and 505 Broadway, costing $75,000. On the Bowery, Nos. 313 and 315, Mr. Jacob Weeks will build two six-story stores. For other buildings our readers are referred to the regular column of Projected Buildings.

The following tables show the amount of consideration expressed in the deeds and mortgages recorded in the Register's office for the first four months of the present year in comparison with the preceding one:

	1877	1878.
January	$5,353,956	$4 996,760
February	6,016,768	6,526,952
March	7,158,189	7,602,381
April	6,295,158	6,613,904
	$24,824,071	$25,739,997

MORTGAGES.

Following are the amounts of mortages recorded during the same period exclusive, of mortgage made by Philadelphia & Reading Railroad of $10,000,000, and one by Central Railroad of New Jersey for $25,000,000:

	1877.	1878.
January	$3,282,766	$3,087,216
February	2,906,111	3,161,169
March	3,462,484	3,395,509
April	3,534,54	3,074,241
	$13,185,715	$12,718,135

The list of foreclosure suits filed during the month of April this year shows a decided increase in comparison with the number for the year 1877, when there were filed 161 suits against 197 for the same month in 1878. The total number of foreclosure suits for the first four months of the present year is 808, against 796 for the corresponding months of 1877.

In our advertising columns to-day will be found the announcement of the sale by Richard V. Harnett, auctioneer, of 300 lots belonging to the estate of Richard F. Carman, deceased. The character of the property offered, the location and the good effect which the completion of rapid transit will surely have on values in this region ought to attract a large attendance of buyers.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Trade has been slow, and the market rather easier on Common Hards, a shading on cost becoming a sort of necessity, in order to keep stock in motion. At one time during the week the accumulation of cargoes afloat was very full, with the weather unfavorable for the progress of out-door work, and buyers in a very indifferent mood, but rather lower prices and other little favors finally drew out sufficient demand to work the supply down into somewhat more manageable proportions. "Up Rivers" have sold as low as $4.25, though $4.50 was considered an average rate, and Haverstraws went at $5.00@5.25@5.50, the latter for very fine. On Pales, the range was $2.00@2.50, the outside figure a little extreme, and the sales not very large or rapid. As we close, there seems to be a slightly more confident undertone, and a belief is expressed in a steadier market near at hand. A great deal of work commences to appear above the foundations, the first of May has passed, and new jobs have already been taken in hand, with contractors likely to soon be on the lookout for material, and the available supply of brick is not large. The major portion of manufacturers, to be sure, are either at work or in a forward state of preparation, but the recent unpropitious weather has retarded production and with the bulk of the old crop now marketed, the selling interest could probably gain some advantage on any important addition to the demand. For export, the inquiry has not been free, and we hear of only a couple of cargoes sold. The total clearances last month were a trifle over one million brick. Croton Fronts are in about the average demand, and command former rates. Baltimore Fronts have had some few inquiries lately, but the cost is rather high for the average consumer. Philadelphias are doing fairly, but are not commanding as much by $1.00@2.00 per M., as Trentons, the latter appearing to be in favor this spring, and the supply scant.

We quote Pale, ℔ M., $2.00@$2.50; Hards. Up-rivers $4.25@$4.75; Haverstraw bay, $5.00@$5.50; favorite brands, $5.75@$6.00; Fronts, Croton—brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $23@$27; Trenton, $24.00@$29.00; Baltimore, $34@$38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@$3 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

GLASS.—The absence of a combination still keeps the market in a somewhat uncertain condition. A portion of the trade endeavor to make their discounts as nearly uniform as possible, but not under any mutual understanding or agreement, and there is therefore a pretty general tendency to shape terms to a more favorable form when an effort is necessary to secure some very desirable customer. The general business at the moment is rather moderate, and while quotations are still to some extent nominalr about 60 and 20 per cent. on French, and 70 and 5 per cent. on American, appears to be somewhere near the average discount.

HARDWARE.—The movement of stock continues fair, mostly toward ordinary and regular outlets, and at times the market had a pretty quick tone. Business, however, is by no means up to hopes and expectations, and the most promising buyers stop short the moment they have completed their carefully prepared lists. On prices the old irregularity prevails, and price lists at discounts are not allowed to stand in the way if a moderate deviation will secure the order for any reasonably full quantity of goods. We however, learn of no important variation made public since our last.

LATH.—The position has remained the same, possibly a shade firmer, but without new features worthy of note. Not many dealers are really in want of stock, but those who do come upon the market mean business, and with limited arrivals receivers have sufficient advantage to hold the basis of value steady at $1.50 per M. for cargoes lots. It is evident, however, that the position just at the moment possesses very little natural bouyancy, and very few additional arrivals are desired. We understand that the great bulk of the piled-out stock has been worked off in small lots.

LIME.—Something new has at least been developed, and it comes in the form of a decline on Eastern. Manufacturers have not forced in upon receivers any remarkably large amount of stock as yet, but trade is so very slow that even an ordinary run of arrivals makes a surplus, which must either be carried, and run up expenses, or offered on terms attractive to buyers. The latter course has been adopted, and the rates are now marked down to 75c. for common, and 90c. for finishing. On State lime the business is also moderate, and naturally values have followed the course of the Eastern product.

LUMBER.—We are unable to discover much amination to business or any good indications of early revival. In few cases dealers are lucky enough to secure some fair sized orders, now and then an export account, for pine, etc., and in same lots there is still quite a little amount of stuff in the way of hardwoods, especially walnut going abroad, but taking the average through our lumbermen are doing a comparatively small trade. We can find no new explanation for this condition of the market, the general theory still attributing the slack business to the most rigid economy of consumption, an entire absence of waste, and a positive refusal among all buyers to handle one foot more than the most careful calculation assures them will be required. Even as slow as the movement appears, however, it makes a steady drain upon the stocks when no contracting purchases are consummated, and we note evidences of a reduced and broken accumulation in many cases. Yet so thoroughly has the hand to month plan of operation permeated the different divisions of the trade, that the consumer, the retailer, the jobber, and the wholesale dealer all wait until they see pretty nearly the last stick going out before thinking of replenishment. This same condition of affairs to a greater or less extent prevails on most of the seaboard markets with every evidence of continuation, but how far it will tend to counteract the feeling on the primary market remains to be seen. The Eastern and Canadian producer talks steady to firm, and at the West the expression of tone is very strong at advanced figures, with the latter position apparently better fortified than any other on the present outlook. The run of logs has been short, stocks are reported small and buyers have been found to pay the higher figures asked, forming a good basis for confidence, but happily this far failing to infuse any general tendency to speculative movements of magnitude. As a matter of course Chicago goes off at a tangent, and some of the reports from that city appear to predict a sky-rocket sort of advance, without admitting the possibility of the return of the empty stock, to carry out the simile in the form of an overstrained and consequently collapsed market. But this view of the situation is not general exceptions to the rule, being found even at Chicago, and journals which are accepted as authority at the West, take the conservative policy of carefully nursing the advantage accrued and increasing only when supported by positive demand from buyers who will move stocks into consumption. "Supply and demand," in fact, seems to form the pivot upon which values hinge, to a much larger extent than for many years, with a prevailing tendency to let demand have its own natural development and competition, and thus secure to supply all it is worth on its natural merits. The assumption that crop or supply would be short against some distant, and frequently near-by future want, has brought more operators to grief in this country during the past few years than any other speculative theory, simply because consumers and intermediate actual handlers of goods rendered absolutely no assistance, but on the contrary, forewarned by the attempted and possibly temporarily successful addition to cost have so cut down operations as to fully neutralize all buoyant tendencies or bring about disastrous reaction. This has not been confined to luxuries, but has probably been more marked on the most ordinary articles of the good and clothing product, and it would be remarkable if lumber should escape the same fate under similar circumstances. There is little reason to doubt that lumber has passed the lowest point of depression if the markets of the country are judiciously managed, but the effervescent portion of the Trade who hope to regain all lost ground in one season should recall to memory the fable of the goose and the golden egg.

Eastern Spruce shows no great change. Demand is moderate from most quarters, and all buyers who are considered as first-class customers are very close and cautious in their bids. By keeping supplies down to moderate compass, manufacturers and dealers manage to hold values about as before, but there is an absence of strength and little to counteract pressure to realize should the attempt be made. We quote at $12@13 50 for random, possibly $14.00 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $14@15.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine is moving moderately, and except the support obtained through the strength of the primary markets, the position has little support. Home wants as usual are small and give little promise of increase, while the demand on foreign account is erratic, with limits so low as to afford little margin for profit, even when sales can be closed. We quote at $15@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@20.50 for South American do; $15@16 for box boards; $17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@40 per M.

Yellow Pine in moderate demand for consumption in this vicinity, and few satisfactory specifications can be placed. The orders for shipment, too, are somewhat backward still, but afford some relief occasionally. Prices without many positive changes. We quote random cargoes at about $18@21 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@24 do; green flooring boards, $20@21 do; and dry do. do. $20@23; Cargoes at the South, $14@15.50 per M; hewn timber, $7.50@14.

Hardwoods are steady and not very plenty. The exporters continue to afford an outlet for a fair amount of walnut, and more or less demand prevails for cherry on local account, but other kinds are rather dull at the moment. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@85 ₱ M; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do.. do., culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $45@75 do.; white wood, ¼ and ⅝ inch., $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $25@30 do. for Western, and $40@50 for good near-by stock.

Yard business is moderately active, the movement covering about the usual amounts and assortments, and with no great variation in price. Stock in many cases appear to be reduced and broken, but as a rule dealers are not much inclined to replenish until absolutely forced to in order to retain their custom.

Recent lumber charters are as follows: A Nor. barque, 450 tons, from Pensacola to Oran, Algiers, deals, £6; a schr., 199 tons, from Calais to Sagua, lumber, $6; a Br. schr., 250 M. lumber, from Savannah to Cadiz, $15; a schr., 227 tons, from Orange Bluff to Barbadoes, lumber, $8; an Am. brig, 281 tons, from Wilmington to Pernambuco, lumber, $20 and primage; an Am. brig, 483 tons, from Portland to Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, lumber, $14 net, up-river ports $3 extra; a schr., 350 M. resawed lumber, from Pensacola to Boston, $8 or Portland, $8.50; a schr., 299 tons, 350 M. lumber, from Pensacola to New York, $7, or Boston, $7.50; a schr., 190 M lumber, from Satilla River to Rockland, $7; a schr., 350 M lumber, from Pensacola to New York, $7; a schr., 175 M lumber, from Jacksonville to New London, $6; a schr., 175 M lumber, from Savanah to New York, $5; a schr., 250 M lumber and timber, from St. Simons Mills to New York, $6 and $7; two schrs., 154 and 226 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, $8 for the round; a schr., 120 M lumber, from Fernandina to New York, $6; a schr., 150 M lumber, same voyage $7, covering outward cargo hence.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Lumberman's Gazette has the annexed:

BAY CITY, Friday, April 26, 1878.

The activity which marked our last report of the lumber market continued during the past week and nearly all the dry lumber on the river has been sold. Several buyers are now in the market looking around to pick up what stray lots still remain unsold. Considerable of this year's cut has been sold a $6, $12@$28.

The heavy rains which have fallen during the past week have raised the streams throughout the lumber regions so that we anticipate no further trouble at present from the drives. The probabilites are that all the logs in the various streams will reach the booms within a short time. Reports from the lumber districts of Wisconsin show that the streams throughout that State have also raised sufficiently to make a good drive.

Shingle trade is still active and prices remain firm.

The wholesale quotations following are the prices at which manufacturers hold stocks.

Three uppers	$28 00@30 00
Common	12 00@14 00
Shipping culls	6 00@ 7 00
Lath	@ 1 40

Our Chicago correspondent of April 26th says;—The demand continues heavy for all kinds of lumber and especially from a distance. The low rate of freights from here all over the West and especially to the Southwest is taking much stock daily. St. Louis being one of the large buyers now, and the local and near-by demand has been good, but with the prevailing wet weather this will now probably fall off. This has been a very wet week, and we think wide extended, and may have more to do with the lumber prospects than one would at first think, for the streams will be raised and many logs brought down that would have been left on the banks only for the prevailing rains.

The receipts for the past week have been about 20,000,000, while the shipments have been about 17,000,000 feet, a very small accumulation for a market that is so badly broken. We understand that we may expect large receipts of dry stock from the Saginaws.

Prices are well maintained at quotations. If any shading is done it is well known why, and is kept very close. Sales at the docks have been about as follows: Piece stuff, $8.75@9.00; common boards, $9.75@11.00; shingles, $2.10@2.25.

Frieghts may be put about on the basis of $1 from Muskegon; they are not yet definitely settled, but will be soon, we suppose.

The Stillwater (Minn.) Gazette says:

Information from the upper part of the logging country indicates that the prospects for the drives coming in are very flattering, and that they will get in at least thirty days ahead of the usual time. A few old logs are now running into the boom.

THE EAST.

A correspondent of the Lumbermen's Gazette writes from Oldtown, Me.

The weather here is fine, the snow is all off, and the frost nearly all out of the ground.

The prospect for driving looks hard on the small streams and brooks. There is no snow to make water, and the streams are low for this season of the year. Lumbermen have got to depend entirely on rain to fetch their logs out. It is early yet to tell, but the general impression is, that a large amount of logs will be left back.

But few mills have started up, as yet, and those by parties who wintered logs. None of the mills that are for rent, have been taken yet, and business does not start as brisk as many supposed it would.

The Bangor Boom Co. have let the driving and delivery of the logs from the Penobscot Boom to Bangor, a distance of 14 miles, to John Crain & Co., at 39 cents per M. This includes rafting out of the Bangor Boom and delivery at the mills in tide water.

According to the Bangor (Me.) Whig, the saw mills on the St. Croix River, Me., are expected to start up rather earlier than usual this spring, as the lakes and rivers are already clear of ice, and driving is in progress. It is stated that the cut of logs on that stream and the lakes which feed it, will fall considerably short of the customary amount, owing to the early breaking up of the hauling. The shipment of lumber from Calais, the principal manufacturing point on that river, has already begun.

FOREIGN.

From the Timber Trades Journal we make the following extracts:

LONDON, April 12th, 1878.

There is very little improvement to report in the state of the timber trade, which, perhaps, in the provinces and midland districts, has seldom been so much depressed at this season of the year as it is at present. Those who hold stocks cannot get a profit if they stand for ready money, and a good deal of embarrassment among the building fraternity renders them very cautious of giving the usual easy credit. A party appealed to as to the state of business in his neighborhood, where he appeared to have a large stock of foreign timber and deals, remarked that "he had at present only the alternative to weep over his goods, or to weep after them," signifying thereby, that he had rather hold than sell to parties on credit, whose ability to pay, he no longer had any confidence in.

LIVERPOOL, April 10th, 1878.

There is no improvement in the state of our market, excepting, perhaps, for pitch pine timber, for which a better feeling exists, and late sales show that the lowest point has been touched, and the tendency of the market is now upward. There is little doing in spruce and commoner qualities of deals, and the business done in Canadian woods, is merely of a retail character, which makes but little impression upon our heavy stocks, and the sales that are made run chiefly upon good to prime qualities, of which the quantity now on hand is comparatively small.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has shaded off in cost somewhat, and the tone is still a little slack, but holders are not inclined to give way freely. We quote at 16⅞@17⅛ for Lake. Manufactured copper held at about former rates, but the market quiet. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary sizes, over 16 oz., per sq. foot, 28c. per lb: do. do., do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per sq. foot, 32c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per sq. foot, 34c. per lb.; circles, less than 84 inches in diameter, 31c. per lb.: do. 84 inches diameter and over, 34c. per lb.; segment and pattern sheets, 31c. per lb.; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz., per square foot, 26c. per lb., and Bolt Copper, 28c. per pound. IRON—Scotch Pig continues to job out slowly in the usual form, and is nominally steady. We quote at $23@$26 per ton according to brand and quantity. American Pig cannot be moved in large quantity, buyers contenting themselves with just enough for immediate wants, and refusing to go beyond. Values about as before. We quote at $18@19 for No. 1 per ton, $17@18 for No. 2 do, and $16@17 for Forge. Rails are in good demand and higher on steel, most of the mills being compelled to refuse further orders. We quote at $32@35 for new iron, and $44@45.00 for Steel at the mills. Old Rails, $18.00@19.00 per ton; scrap, $22.00@22.50: the latter slow. Manufactured iron in quite limited demand, and a little irregular on value. Common Merchant Bar can be had in round lots at 1.7c. and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.8c. and 2c. are respectively insisted upon. Common sheet, 3c., and best R. G. American, 4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic pig has not been very active, but of late holders manifested a somewhat steadier tone, and did not offer quite so freely. We quote at about 3⅝@3¾c. currency. The manufactures of lead are quoted: Bar, 5½c.; Pipe, 6c., and Sheet, 6½c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin-lined Pipe, 15c.

Block Tin Pipe, 45c., on same terms. TIN—Pig selling slowly, and the general tone of the market easy all around. We quote at 17@17¼c. for Banca, 14½@14¾c. for Straits, 14¾@¾c. for English Refined, and 14⅝@14¾c. for do. common. Tin plates favor the buyer, without attracting attention beyond ordinary wants. Spelter in moderate demand from manufacturers at about former rates, and quoted 5¼@5½c. Sheet zinc slow and barely steady. We quote at 7⅝@7¾c. gold for foreign, and 6½@6¼c. currency for domestic.

NAILS.—The amount of stock available still appears to be large enough for all wants, with a little to spare. The demand does not greatly improve, and is confined principally to the ordinary run of trade orders, with an occasional invoice for export on the Pacific coast. We quote on a basis of $2.50@$2.60 for 10d. to 60d.

OILS.—Business has had a somewhat irregular tone on the wholesale market, but in a jobbing way there was a fair average distribution and a steady feeling on values. Linseed oil is quoted at 60@62c. per gallon from crushers hands.

PAINTS.—Of standard seasonable goods there is a fair amount going out from day to day, but no unusual demand, and indeed, as a whole, the market is a little dull. Jobbers prices remain as before, with a steady tone, and supply and assortment of stock available quite equal to the call. According to reports published it has been resolved by corroders, jobbers and dealers that hereafter on all sales of pure White Lead in Oil, in any quantity under 500 lb. at one time, not less than 9 cents net shall be charged, subject to no rebate or cash discount, unless the sales be made to buyers entitled to a rebate under the rules, in which case this rule does not apply.

PITCH.—The market is dull and seemingly unchanged. Stocks are not oppressive upon the market, but are ample, with owners willing to sell on any fair bid, and prices rule easy. We quote at $2.00@2.25 for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Business has proven somewhat unsettled, but much the usual amount went out in a jobbing way, and sellers managed to secure a pretty steady range of prices, although on wholesale lots there was some shading. We quote at 29@32c. according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—The accumulation of stock on hand is not very large, but still quite enough for the requirements of the market, and holders are, as a rule, willing to sell. Prices under the circumstances are easy. We quote at $2.00@2.25 for Newberne and Washington and $2.12½@2.37½ for Wilmington.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus reports for the week ending April 30, 1878:

The market since our last report has been rather quiet, and little will be done until new lumber comes forward freely. Prices of pine lumber are unchanged.

The hardwood trade moves along steadily at quotations.

Coarse lumber will be coming forward now that the Champlain canal is about to be opened, and fair supplies are looked for within the next few days. The trade since our last has been moderate, and prices unchanged.

Continued activity is reported in the Chicago and Cincinnati markets, and at advancing prices, many heavy dealers being free purchasers of lumber, which is taken as fast as it arrives. How far this may be checked by the heavy rains, which have recently fallen in the lake lumber districts, and, which, it is stated, will float to the mill booms, and that within a short time, the logs banked last winter remains to be seen. Similar reports reach us from the lumber lands on the Mississippi river.

We do not notice any further shipments of lumber from Tonawanda to Bay City; that a movement of so much importance to the trade, was not known a week ago, to "one of the trade" who reports for an evening paper, shows how unfitted he is for so important a charge.

Exception was also taken to a statement in our last report, which was based on information furnished us by a gentleman in the district, of whose judgment we have long availed ourselves in preference to those of the Journal's reporter, who is on safe ground only, when he rehashes the reports of the Argus.

The receipts at Chicago, from January 1st, 1878, to April 19th, were 51,438,000 feet against 22,360,000 feet for a corresponding period in 1877. The shipments were 120,418,000 feet against 102,360,000 feet.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week by lake are 4,346,000 feet; by rail, 58 cars. At Oswego the lake receipts for the week, 2,600,000 feet; the shipments by canal, 1,800,000 feet.

Freights: To Albany from Buffalo, $2.00 ₱ M feet; from Tonawanda, $2.05; from Oswego, $1.75.

At a meeting of the Board of Lumber Dealers, held Monday, April 29, the following were adopted as the rules of this market:

The limit of credit without interest shall be sixty days from date of bill.

The deduction for cash shall not exceed two per cent.

The expense of cartage, and one-half the expense of measuring and inspection, shall be borne by the purchaser, and items showing amount of such expense shall appear on bills rendered.

A GOOD RESOLUTION.

Not long ago there appeared in the daily papers an item of information, valuable and interesting to real estate owners, to wit:

The following resolution was offered by Senator Edick, and, being concurrent, went over under the rule:

Resolved (if the Assembly concur), that William F. Allen, George H. Andrews and A. S. Thurston be and they are hereby appointed a committee whose duty it shall be to prepare and present to the next Legislature, within thirty days after it convenes, a bill in relation to the assessment and taxation of property in this State, which shall contain provisions providing what kind or species of property shall be assessed or taxed for State purposes, and what kind or species of property shall hereafter be taxed for county and local purposes, and generally to revise and so amend the present assessment laws of the State of New York, to the end that each kind and species of property may be made to pay its proper proportion of the taxes now levied for all purposes, and to relieve and equalize property now unduly and improperly compelled to bear the burdens of taxation.

We have deferred any allusion to this subject in hope that prompt action might be taken by the Legislature upon such a praiseworthy and meritorious resolution, and that we might have the satisfaction of informing our readers of the appointment of the contemplated commission, and the likelihood of some decisive and intelligent action being taken upon the important subjects confided to its care. We have not been able, however, to discover any later information; and we present the matter to our readers, even at this late day, in the hope that it may attract the attention of influential parties who will take pains to urge the passage of this resolution at the present session of the Legislature. We are gnorant of the origin of this measure, except so far as surface indications may suggest its authorship, though we should be more than glad if we could believe that the persistent effort of this paper during the last two years to draw attention to this all-important matter of taxation had been the means of inducing the proposal of this action.

The measure awakens our warmest interest, and if such a commission should be eventually established we will not be found lacking in sympathy with its objects. The experience during the last few years of the difficulty of arriving at satisfactory results by means of commissioners and arbitrations has well nigh discouraged the public in entertaining any high expectations of the good to be accomplished by such methods. The Constitutional Commission, the Code Commission and the Taxation Commission of 1871, besides the Electoral Commission, are all unsavory reminiscences of our recent history; yet the practical failure of these several conferences must be attributed to the partiality, partisanship and incompetency of the majorities controlling those bodies. The system itself seems to be the only available and practicable method of canvassing mooted topics, and arriving at some conclusion in regard to them. That such conclusions should be unacceptable to the majority of the people should not discourage a renewed effort to find out satisfactory conclusions. The ill success of previous efforts simply demonstrates the independence of the public mind in this country, and the difficulty of fastening it to leading strings. After the system of referring matters for arbitration and discussion to commissions shall have been tested and perfected by experience, we have faith in its continued usefulness and permanent acceptability to the people. We sincerely desire to see the new Tax Commission become an established fact, and shall take great satisfaction in assisting its deliberations by any suggestions and information which we may be able to offer upon this all absorbing subject.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

We have again to record the fact that but little business was transacted at the Exchange Salesroom, except such as related to foreclosure proceedings. The premises known as Nos. 142 to 150 Thompson street, 122 feet 3 inches south of Houston street (20.5x175 to South Fifth avenue), were sold to George E. L. Hyatt for $49,600, and the three-story brick building with lot (21.6x102.2), No. 199 Seventh street was sold to Thomas S. Clark, for $4,700. The plot of land bounded by Third avenue, Fourth avenue, Ninety-eighth and Ninety-ninth streets, after repeated adjournments, has been finally sold to J. B. Dutcher, for $140,000, to satisfy mortgage liens amounting to about $170,000. It is reported that the easterly half of the block will be purchased by the New York Elevated Railway Company.

Some important transfers are printed in the columns of the conveyances. The Excelsior Medical College has conveyed to Benjamin Brandreth the premises known as the Brandreth House, for $160,000; Mr. N. D. Higgins takes title to the property No. 538 Broadway in consideration of $60,000, and the house and lot on the east side of Broadway, 100.5 north of Fifty-eighth street, has been conveyed to Mrs. R. H. Arkenburgh, for $72,500. Mr. W. H. L. Smith has become the owner of property on the west side of Madison avenne, extending from Ninety-eighth to Ninety-ninth street, 201.10x300, and other property on Fourth avenue, paying therefor $122,000.

It is reported that the Willet Stevens estate has sold two lots on the north side of Fifty-first street, commencing 150 feet west of Fifth avenue, for $30,000, to George Mosh, of Pavenstedt & Co., who intends to erect on them a mansion of extra size. It is also reported that Mr. R. T. Auchmuty has bought the plot of land on the west side of Madison avenue, between Sixty-second and Sixty-third streets (200.10x70) for $77,000.

The important legislation at Albany during the week affecting city tax-payers, is the reduction of about $700,000 on the tax levy of this city. The rate of the State tax, which last year was 3 1-6 mills, has been reduced to 2 6-10 mills. The Committee on Cities reported favorably the bill for repaving Fifth avenue from Fifty-ninth to Ninetieth street and Seventh avenue from Eleventh to Fifty-ninth street. In another column tax-payers will find a list of all assessments received from the Commissioner of Public Works as well as those sent to the Board of Revision and Correction of Assessmeuts during this year up to March 30, 1878. The nature and location of the improvements and the amount to be expended are also given. Within a day or two fresh assessment lists have been received in the Bureau for Collection of Assessments, which are printed elsewhere. We again direct attention to the important partition sale to take place on May 17th, when Mr. Harnett will dispose of 300 lots on One Hundred and Fifty first, One Hundred and Fifty-second, One Hundred and Fifty-third, One Hundred and Fifty-fourth, One Hundred and Fifty-fifth and One Hundred and Seventy-fifth streets, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh and New avenues, water fronts on Hudson and Harlem Rivers, villa plots at High Bridge Park, including the elegant residence of the late Richard F. Carman. A full description of the property appears on our second page Another important sale in partition is also announced for the 15th day of May. Mr. Jacob Cole under the direction of H. C. Murphy, Jr. referee, at the Commercial Exchange, No. 389 Fulton street, Brooklyn, will then sell 571 lots in the Twenty-third Ward of the City of Brooklyn, situated on Nostrand, Marcy, Tompkins and Putnam avenues, Halsey, Hancock and Jefferson streets. It will be recollected that this tract belonging to the estate of Leffert Lefferts, deceased, which is now the choicest vacant property in Brooklyn, was sold in December, 1872, for $894,000. A legislative act, however, which it was supposed relieved the title from all objection was declared unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals. Since that decision, by means of a new remedy in the nature of a friendly suit in partition, the title has been tested in legal proceedings and adjudged valid.

Twenty-one plans, embracing thirty-two buildings, the estimated cost of which is $456,000, have been filed with the Superintendent of the Department of Buildings during the week ending May 9th, inst. The noteworthy buildings to be erected are two four-story frame store houses on Fifty-eighth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues; two five-story stores at No. 377 Broome street; three four-story brown stone dwellings on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and Eighty-first street, and three four-story brown stone dwellings at Nos. 24, 26 and 28 East Forty-ninth street.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sale room for the week ending May 9:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—The undertone of the market on Common Hards appears to be somewhat better, and the tendency of values, as we close, is toward a higher range. The amount of stock offering afloat has been smaller, and while possibly the demand was no larger, it has been sufficient to give a show of greater animation and keep the market more closely sold up, and on this sellers have gained the advantage. There appears to have been a considerable amount of rough and undesirable stock offering, due in a measure to clearing of yards, etc., and this also was of benefit to holders of really fine and attractive cargoes, buyers in most cases discriminating rather closely over quality. As we write there is a little more irregularity over the prices, but for first class stock the figures seem to stand at about $4 50@5.00 for "Up Rivers," and $5.25@5.75 for Haverstraws, possibly 12½@25c more for extra. As yet we hear of no new stock from the "River," but one or two lots have come in from New Jersey; and a more general arrival is expected within ten days or a fortnight. The prospects for consumption continue very fair, though manufacturers and builders move slowly and will not handle stock until they are fully prepared to use it. Pales have met with a fair proportionate demand and participate in the firmer tone, with $2 25 now an inside figure, and the best reaching as high as $2 75 per M. For most kinds of Fronts there has been a sale of greater or less magnitude and a well sustained market on all grades, with not very abundant supplies offering. Among the operations for the week was a contract of fair size for Baltimores. The export demand is not very large, but still shows a little vitality, and we hear of charters this week of a schooner from Cold Spring at $2.25 per M, and for Haverstraw at $2.00, both for St. John, N. B.

We quote Pale, ₱ M., $2.25@$2.75; Hards, Up-rivers, $1.50@$5.00; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@$5.75; favorite brands, $6.00@$6.25; Fronts, Croton—brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $23@$27; Trenton, $24.00@$29.00; Baltimore, $34@$38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@$3 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

CEMENT.—On local account, we hear of a continued, moderate and careful demand, and not much to encourage manufacturers for the present. There is likely to be as much cement used as last year, indeed the chances favor a larger amount, if anything, but the profitable character of the hand-to-mouth policy, has been so clearly shown that neither the consumer or the dealer are likely to handle supplies until they absolutely require them. Values remain about the same as for some time quoted, though there is an occasional quiet shading, we understand. On foreign, the market undergoes no essential change. Arrivals have not been quite so heavy of late, and the demand continues fair, without variation on the general line of quotations, but buyers of large invoices, gain some favors. A considerable amount is moving toward the interior, the reopening of canal navigation enabling shippers to overcome the difficulties growing out of the exactions of the railway freight charges.

HARDWARE.—Business has shown some little irregularity, both in volume and form, but no changes of a radical character have become established on the market. A fair sort of local movement takes place, embracing a general assortment of goods, of which builders' hardware forms a full average proportion, and there is a comparatively large amount of stock wanted on export orders. Interior demand is uncertain still, but on the whole, appears to be picking up somewhat, from the larger towns along the lines of railway travel. Among the recent changes, we note that the manufacturers have made a reduction on the cost of the Excelsior wrench and screw driver, the discount now standing at 60 per cent., instead of 45 per cent. as before. The Girard Wrench Company have reduced the price on agricultural wrenches, from $5.60 per dozen to $4.80 per dozen, net, for 12-inch. The "Perfect Door Stop and Holder" is quoted as follows: Coppered, per gross, $9.00; Tinned, per gross, $11.50; Nickel Plated, per gross, $20.00. Discount, 10 per cent. to the trade. The manufacturers of the Common Sense hoisting blocks, Nos. 440 and 441, have issued a new list, showing a slight advance. On Garrett & Beach's double-cut gimlet bits, extra, the discount is 40 and 10 per cent.; D. C., No. 1, 60 per cent.; and German pattern gimlet bits are quoted at $10 per gross, net. The Bemis & Call Manufacturing Co., have issued a new list, showing some important reductions in their specialties, and the following are the current discounts: Dividers, 33⅓ p. c.; Compasses and Calipers, 10 p. c.; Saw Sets, Spring Hammer, 10 p. c.; Saw Sets, New Pattern Lever, 10 p. c.; Saw Sets, New Pattern Hammer, 30 p. c.; Cast Steel Drive Punches, 30 p. c.; Springfield Socket Drive Punches, 20 p. c.; Spring and Check Punches, 20 p. c.; Timber Scribes, 20 p. c.; Pocket Squares, 20 p. c.; 6-inch Steel Marking Gauges, 10 p. c.; Steel Bevels, 10 p. c.; Scratch Awls, 5 p. c.; Steelyards, 5 p. c.; Wrenches, "Merrick's Pattern," 20 p. c.; do., "Briggs' Pattern," 10 p. c.; do., Cylinder or Gas Pipe, 30 p. c.

LATH.—The tone of the market has been firmer, but due rather more to moderate offerings than any actual increase of demand. The amounts sent forward have been small; there is little or no piled out stock to fall back upon, and receivers were in consequence better enabled to stand off for full figures than for some time past. On cargo sales as high as $1 55 is a positive rate, and $1 60 was made in a small way, with the better figure as a rule the asking price. The local consumption is not large at the moment, however, and it is still evident the market has not an exhaustive capacity for many cargoes.

LIME.—We hear of no further change of a positive character since our last. The decline then noted represents values still and the position is nominally steady, but without particularly active elements, buyers taking in stock carefully and seldom piling away more than early necessities require. Arrivals, however, are within sufficiently narrow compass to probably offset this, and a surplus accumulation afloat is prevented. State lime appears to be a little irregular, the finishing being quoted at $1.00 by most companies, but the common down to 65 and even 60c. in some cases. Business is reported as fair in the aggregate, but this covers many shipments to interior and Southern points. Ground lime finds a fair average demand, and sells at 75c. per barrel.

LUMBER.—Taken as a whole the market is still dull, but more especially so on local account. The consumption for both building and manufacturing purposes keeps within much the old narrow limits, and supplies could not be placed here in any quantity at the moment except by force, and this, naturally, would be accompanied by a reduction on cost. Luckily, however, the offerings afloat have been small and receivers were saved the necessity of a slaughter. On the foreign outlet, however, we have reports of improvement and some few dealers tell us they were successful in placing more stock than for several weeks past, this in part covers cargoes sold to go out from points of production, especially along the Southern coast, and in part includes some very fair invoices to load here for the West Indies and the east coast of South America, with some indications that West coast orders are at hand and that shippers will soon desire to fill. The amount available is not over large and being fairly under control is held at full rates. Recent advices from the interior appear to be somewhat more encouraging for buyers both as to the run of logs and the tone on values.

Eastern spruce has made no great improvement, indeed the general feeling appears to be that it is a little "off" if anything. Specials are seldom called for, and randoms are of uncertain sale, but receivers are still lucky in having no very large supply afloat to cope with. The general line of values remains about as before. We quote at $12@13 00 for random, possibly $13.50 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $13@14.50 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White pine is in rather better form this week. The home outlet continues quite moderate but sellers have received and closed upon quite a number of negotiations for West India and South American shipment, and the natural tendency is to infuse a somewhat more cheerful tone. About former prices obtained but no advance. We quote at $15@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@20.50 for South American do; $15@16 for box boards; $17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@40 per M.

Yellow pine has sold to some extent in the way of cargoes to be exported direct from the South, but the local demand remains dull and unpromising. About the old range of prices is given, but the tone is stronger as vessels are already a little scarce in view of the warmer weather and the dislike for the Southern trip among the crews. We quote random cargoes at about $18@21 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@24 do; green flooring boards, $20@21 do; and dry do. do. $20@23; Cargoes at the South, $14@15.50 per M: hewn timber, $7.50@14.

Cypress shingles are meeting with a fair sort of demand from week to week on export account and selling at about $8.50@9.00 for No. 1 and heart, and $6.00@7.00 for saps.

Hardwoods are quiet. Export orders are not so plenty and the little home trade doing has also taken smaller proportions on all kinds. About old rates cover holders views. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@85 ₱ M; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do.. do., culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $15@75 do.; white wood, ½ and ⅝ inch., $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $25@30 do. for Western, and $40@50 for good near-by stock.

Among the yards the movement about as before. Some dealers report a dull tone compared with the preceding week, others find an increase, and this keeps up the average. Values show about the usual variation according to the many governing influences, but our figures cover the ordinary run of retail sales of good sound stock as made from day to day.

No charters this week except a few coastwise at about former rates, though an advance is now asked.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office:

BAY CITY, Friday, May 3d, 1878.

The past week has been a rather quiet one in the way of sales in the valley, those that have taken place being mostly small lots of dry stock which have brought from $6, $12@ 28 to $6.50, $13@28. The heavy rains which have fallen throughout Michigan and Wisconsin during the past ten days have raised the streams to such an extent as to bring out all the logs put into them. Our latest advices from all the streams tributary to the Saginaw, as well as from those in the western part of the State, are very favorable to the loggers. In some portions of Wisconsin the streams are in good driving condition, while in other parts the water is yet too low to admit of any work being done in the way of driving. The Eau Claire drive has reached the boom, while only about 20 per cent. of the logs in the Chippewa have reached the boom limits. In our editorial columns will be found more news on this subject.

The rise of water in the Saginaw and the heavy sea in the bay have prevented logs being towed up the river, which has caused some of our mills to shut down for want of stock.

Shipments from the river during the past month aggregate nearly 50,000,000 feet, while not a board had been shipped up to this date last year.

Shipping culls	6 00@ 7 00

Our Chicago correspondent says: The market for the past week has been active, and the demand good, although prices have not been fully maintained, owing to a "bear" feeting that seems to pervade the market. Many cargoes arriving go direct to the yard docks, but the cargo market notwithstanding this fact, has been more active than at any time this spring.

The market is fearfully bare of dry merchantable stock, and in order to fill orders considerable "shinning" is necessary, and as all are inclined to accommodate, little difficulty is experienced save the trouble. The demand for stock from far distant points is still active, especially to the southwest, as freights in that direction are unprecedently low, and the disposition seems to prevail to utilize and make the best of the opportunity.

The prices for cargoes the past week have ruled about as follows: Boards and strips of the commoner qualities have sold for $9; piece stuffs, $8.50@8.75, while good boards and strips brought $11@14.

The demand for good qualities of mill run stock is fine, and all offerings of this description go off like hot cakes. Good to prime shingles, $2.10@2.30; $1.37½ for green lath, and $1.50 for dry.

Editorially the Gazette says of the log crop.

The question of the supply of logs for the present season's demand has been much discussed, and many different conclusions arrived at, some maintaining that there would be an overstock, others that there would not be more than 25 per cent. of the usual supply, and others still who figured all the way between these two extremes. That the winter was a poor one for logging all over the country does not need to be repeated, and the outlook this Spring was anything but encouraging. The streams and swamps were unusually low, and the entire absence of snow, together with the limited rainfall in the early part of the spring, made the prospect for driving the limited amount of logs banked extremely dubious. But during the last two weeks matters have assumed a different aspect. In this region rain has fallen in torrents nearly every day for the past fortnight, and the country is nearly flooded, and all the streams in the Valley and up the Shore have sufficient water, with the aid of dams, to run their logs into the booms.

The latest reports from other parts of the Northwest indicate that the rains have been general, although probably not so heavy as in Michigan.

The latest reports from the principal streams are as follows: The Eau Claire drive has been very successful, about 70 per cent. having reached the boom. About 70,000,000 feet, or 20 per cent. of the Chippewa (Wis.) drive has reached the booms, and the balance of the drive is practically abandoned, the river having fallen about three feet. A letter received by a gentleman in Chicago, dated La Crosse, the 28th, says: "The lumbermen here calculate that the logs on the upper Mississippi and the St. Croix will all be got to the mills during the season. The former stream is put down at 130,000,000, the later at 150,000,000. Although they have had but very little rain on the upper waters as yet, a liberal allowance for the Chippewa river on this rise is 60,000,000. The Black river drive is all in, and counted at 50,000,000. The two last-named streams will have no more logs without heavy rains. There is about 40,000,000 dry lumber at Minneapolis and 100,000,000 at Winona. There is no umber on the river at any other point worth speaking of except at Dubuque, 13,000,000." By this it will be seen, says the Chicago Times, that what is known as the Minneapolis district will unquestionably yield the average amount, that is, about 130,000,000 feet; as will also the St. Croix River district, the average crop of which is 150,000,000 feet. As to the Chippewa River district, including the Cedar and Eau Claire, the yield will not be one third f what it has been in former years. The crop in this district is estimated at 2 0,000,000, but this year, unless as stated, heavy rains come, the crop will not exceed 60,000,000 feet. The Black River district is usually counted upon for 300,000,000, but it is pretty well settled that not over 50,000,000 feet, or one-sixth of this amount, will be harvested. As to the Wisconsin 70,000,000 of the 75,000,000 feet may be got down, but the chances are against such a yield.

A dispatch from Centralia, Wis., May 1, says: "The heavy rains of the past few days have placed the streams in a fine condition for driving logs, and the probabilities are that all the logs cut—being about one-third crop—will be run to the mills."

At Muskegon there is plenty of water for driving, but the rains have made the ground so soft that trucking is impossible.

The lumber market at Chicago, as noted, has recently undergone a "break," and matters do not look as roseate. Referring to the matter and to the action of a committee from the Lumberman's Exchange appointed to average prices, a Chicago journal says: Some time ago a meeting was held and bold resolves to advance prices indulged in. The advance was made—on paper. The figures were given in the Lumberman with due flourish of trumpets, but subsequent investigation developed the fact that the actual price of lumber did not change to accord with the union list. A few parties had new list printed and sent them out, but quotations were privately given by some of those most prominent in the price list convention at a rate below the going price previous to the advance. This coming to the ears of their competitors raised a breeze at once, and new price lists are making their appearance every day, each a notch lower than its predecessor. The "union" list is no more respected than if it had never been made.

The Lumberman and Manufacturer as follows:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., May 2, 1878.

The enthusiasm which marked the resolves of better figures settles back into old channels, and Chicago and western points are struggling with the problem of trying to sell all the lumber needed in the western world, without any reference to the distance which the stuff is to be transported—railway fights or discriminations, and a very general feeling in the West that if the railway companies are going to hand the lumber trade of Iowa and Nebraska over bodily to Chicago, it were better that some arrangements were being made to meet the contingency. Some are advocating a reduction so as to prevent Chicago from shipping to certain parts of the West. Others, more conservative, regard the fight as only temporary and desire to adhere to present figures. The "bear" element is strongly reinforced by the announcement that Chicago is cutting her printed lists hagely, and securing thereby trade at many points which they could not reach, with even the present low freights on railways. In the Northwest shipments are exceptionally large, considering the stocks from which sales are made.

The driving news of the week is hardly as encouraging as last week brought us. On the upper Mississippi about all the logs will come in, an outside estimate at Minneapolis being 110,000,000 feet for the year. The logs are nearly all out of the smaller streams, and the Rum river logs will all be in the boom early next week, which gives Anoka nearly 30,000,000 and some 16,000,000 to Minneapolis. The St. Croix has suffered a falling on the main river and the lumbermen are liable to be forced to wait for more rain to get their logs out, but, as our correspondent puts it, "they must have 'em," and doubtless will secure, at all cost, the bulk of logs out. The Chippewa had further rains and gets out some 60,000,000 besides the Eau Claire, which has 25,000,000 down at the booms. The Menomonie logs are being labored with by a large crew and the improvements of Knapp, Stout & Co., render the drives safe there, with patience and perseverance. The Black River has dropped on them during during the last week, but they have some 15,000,000 in the booms, and will get perhaps 50,000,000, all told. On the Wisconsin they are in luck. The bulk of the logs which stop at Wausau are coming in on the late freshet, and lumber is being sent forward by raft freely, to river markets.

Stocks of dry lumber are about as low as they can be and be called stocks, and, as usual, those who have the least are the most anxious to sell and willing to shade prices.

STATE.

The Tonawanda Herald reports: Market firm at present quotations. Dealers are not anxious to dispose of dry lumber at less than quotations. Barges are beginning to arrive, and the yards are filling up to replenish stocks broken by an active winter's trade. Round pine holds firm at present figures, as it is too early for any influx of rafts from the West. Sales active, and shipments are made daily to eastern markets. Preset rates will hold firm for some time to come.

FOREIGN.

The mail advices from Rio Janeiro, per steamer Memnon reports:

Pitch Pine Deals.—The arrivals consist of 235,405 feet, per Winifred, 291,960 feet per M. A. Reed, 213,640 feet per Farewell, 291,739 feet per Sadie, all sold at 32$000 per dozen, and 250,000 feet per Cara which are not yet sold.

There being now only few cargoes reported on the way some improvement in prices seems probable.

White Pine Lumber.—The arrivals consists of 155,276 feet per Robert Dillon, 67,532 feet per John C. Noyes, both from New York and sold at 75 rs.; 83,541 feet per Anita Berwind, from Philadelphia, sold at 70 rs.; and 59,761 feet per Henry L. Gregg from Philadelphia, sold at 75 rs.; 129,313 feet per David Stewart from Baltimore, sold at 65 rs.; and 37,036 feet per Surprise from Philadelphia, not yet sold.

The market continues steady and we quote 65 to 75 rs. according to quality.

NAILS.—The demand continues moderate, and uncertain, with the general tone of the market dull. Production has been conducted with much care, but it was found impossible to prevent a surplus, and buyers in one way and another were enabled to gain little advantages in some cases on trade orders, and figures have been shaded beyond the usual discount. We quote: 10d. to 60d., common fence and sheathing per keg, $2.60; 8d. and 9d., common do. per keg, $2.85; 6d. and 7d., common, per keg, $3.10; 4d. and 5d., common do., per keg, $3.35; 3d. and 4d., light, per keg, $4.10; 3d., fine, per keg, $4.85; 2d., per keg, $4.85. Cut spikes, all sizes, $2.85. Floor casing and box, 75c. above the same sizes of common. Finishing, $1 above and fine finishing $1.25 above.

CLINCH NAILS.

$5@$5.25	$1.75	$4.50	$4.25 per keg

OILS.—A steady sort of jobbing business has taken place on most goods, and without much change on the general range of values. Sellers, however, have least advantage, as buyers stoutly and successfully resist any attempt to advance cost. We quote: Linseed, about 59@61c. ₱ gallon; lard, 57@59c. for winter, 52@56c. for No. 1, and 43@51c. for No. 2; crude cotton seed, 35@40c., and refined summer yellow do, 48@50c.

PAINTS.—There is not much new to advise on the general situation of the market. The usual spring speculation in Paris Green is under way and stocks are held with much firmness, but aside from this the demand keeps within the bounds of ordinary trade wants, and shows no special animation. A few of the choice foreign styles are a little scarce, but as a rule the accumulation and assortment is full enough for the current distributive necessities, and sellers meet their orders without difficulty. Prices do not vary greatly from the general range some time prevailing, though allowances may be made for quantity delivery, terms, etc. The export movement is moderate and confined mainly to small orders on West India and South American account.

PITCH.—There has been a quite steady demand for ordinary trade lots, without features worthy of extended note. Supplies equal all calls and are offered without hesitation with holders willing to accept former rates. We quote at $2.00@$2.25 for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The supply continues under fair sort of control and this prevents an undue amount coming upon the market. There is, however, enough for all wants, and holders willing to keep business moving. The quotations remain at about 29c.@32c. according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Demand keeps along n about the old channel, and without particularly new features. Stocks ess than last year, but fairly offset the outlet offered, and owners generally well inclined to listen to fair bids. We quote at $2.00@$2.25 for Newberne and Washington and $2.12½@2.37½ for Wilmington.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

ALBANY LUMBER MARKET.

The Argus reports for the week ending May 7, 1878:

Though the market for pine lumber has ruled rather quiet since our last report there is a good, healthy trade throughout the district. Michigan lumber is arriving, and we now have a good assortment. We do not make any change in quotations.

Coarse lumber arrives slow; there is not any accumulation of stock. There has been a good trade since our last at steady prices.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week by lake are are 4,470,000 feet; by rail, 49 car loads. The rail receipts during April were 279 car loads.

The receipts at Oswego for the week were 5,392,000 feet; the shipments by canal 1,951,800 feet.

Freights from Buffalo and Tonawanda to Albany are $2.00 ₱ M. feet; from Oswego, $1.75.

Saginaw shipments for the season to May 3d. are 49,243,800 feet. At Bay City, sales to a considerable extent have been made at $6.30, $13.00 and $28.00. Dry lumber is in light stock and is firmly held at these figures.

The receipts at Albany by Canal from the opening of navigation to May 1st are 835,000 feet boards and scantling; at tide-water the receipts are 1,534,100 feet boards and scantling.

SPRING REVIEW.

The marked condition of real estate affairs today, is still that of transition. Having passed through storm and tribulation, these interests have yet to moor themselves in a safe and comfortable harbor. Although problems that once hung menacingly and embarrassingly over the market have resolved themselves into permanent and active conditions, and, although the reaction from the period of highest inflation is now complete, and all the relations of these interests are steadily settling down into legitimate and conservative lines, yet a general survey of the situation fails to inspire us with conviction that the market has reached a consistent and well adjusted condition of stability.

Rapid transit has been practically attained, specie payments are virtually resumed, and the general business of the country, though partaking of no speculative impulses, is still slowly and steadily reasserting its recuperative vitality.

We will bestow on each of these topics a few passing remarks as upon issues whose outcomes have ceased to be speculative, and must be recognized as active and controlling forces in real estate affairs.

RAPID TRANSIT.—This is no longer a Utopian dream, nor the subject of prophesy and controversy, but an actual accomplished fact susceptible of ocular demonstration. Accustomed as we are to abrupt and sudden changes, it must seem even to the most progressive New Yorker like a vision that the space between the Battery and the Central Park may be traversed through the heart of the city in less than fifteen minutes. The ultimate realization of some such scheme of conveyance was never a matter of serious doubt, but its absence was such a palpable detriment to the city that the question of chief anxiety was, how long were we to be deprived of its beneficial offices? The system, as established, is likely to become a prominent physical feature of the city. Crude and imperfect as the adopted method may seem, it undoubtedly possesses the capacity to fully supply the great need of rapid locomotion. That this system will give way in time to a more solid structure, and that steam locomotion will pervade and ramify over the whole surface of the island, no intelligent person can hesitate to believe.

The successful inauguration of a rapid transit system is the central and significant fact of the day. Its extension, improvement and utmost limit of capabilities will be quickly developed and demonstrated by our energetic and enterprising population. This great fact casts a long reflection over the whole subject of our real estate, since it is destined to embrace within its reach and influence every inch of territory now comprised within the corporate limits of New York City. Experience alone can properly define the nature, value and effect of this new element so suddenly projected into the arena of real estate speculation. It is certainly within the possibilities of this new system of travel to completely overturn and transform the methods and bases of calculation that have heretofore prevailed in real estate transactions.

2. SPECIE RESUMPTION.—The attainment of rapid transit might have furnished sufficient subject of jubilation for an entire decade as did the introduction of Croton water. But that this great and luminous event should be associated with the prospect of the immediate resumption of specie payments after so long a term of suspension, furnishes a twin theme for exultation whose chorus may resound through a century. In view of the clamor of demagogues and politicians, and the suspicious outcry that was arising from various quarters of the country in favor of continued inflation, it has been a curious and interesting study to note how steadily the solid interests of the country have moved in the direction of specie resumption. The powerful opposition which has heretofore been made to this most desirable consummation undoubtedly sprang from great corporations struggling with mammoth indebtedness, and from leading speculators who were already hopelessly submerged in bankruptcy. These shrewd and skilful manipulators have sought to make it appear that this opposition arose from the laboring classes and the masses of the people or was conducted in their interest and for their benefit. The slightest investigation serves to dispel this illusion. The wages-earning people—by far the largest proportion in any community—really represent the creditor class and not the debtor class, being unable to secure credit beyond the amount of their weekly stipends and their ability to respond on the following pay day, and as savings bank depositors they represent in large numbers the capitalist class. In these their representative capacities they are interested in receiving their pay, whether wages or deposits, in the best money, that is, in money which possesses the largest purchasing power. This remark will apply to all persons who work for their living, and are entitled to receive more than they are obliged to pay out. The debt-ladened, the insolvent, the impecunious, unproductive, and inert classes are the only ones whose interests can demand cheap money.

We can offer no better explanation of the phenomenon of national legislators throwing their influence in the direction of continued expansion of paper money while the business interests of the country were naturally gravitating in the direction of gold payments, except that the live, active, potential business men, whether employers or employed, whether capitalists of millions or only of hundreds, were silently but unalterably set in the direction of resumption, while the advocates of inflation, and the opponents of resumption, belonged entirely to a helpless and ineffective class of demoralized and prostrate speculators whose last spasm of vitality found an echo in Congress. The nearness of actual resumption promises to afford us relief from all further discussion of this greatly mooted question, and to withdraw the public mind from abstruse speculations in this branch of political economy. Probably before the summer passes the premium on gold will be completely obliterated.

The effect of this condition of things upon real estate is one of the unsolved problems. No speculations upon the subject can avail at this late moment, nor can they successfully conflict or compete with the realization of the facts of the case which must be now so near at hand.

3. GENERAL BUSINESS.—While all speculative interests have suffered unspeakable misfortune during the last five years, it is, nevertheless, a fact that during this period there has been a slow but gradual recovery of the best business interests of the country, the results of which are now beginning to reveal themselves. The public mind was so taken up with prominent speculations during the inflation era, that these operations began to assume a somewhat legitimate character, and were being taken as indices to the prosperity of the country. The course of these great speculations in stocks, railroads, real estate and merchandise was watched with intense eagerness and anxiety, as if the fate of the country depended upon their issue. All investments of capital connected with these speculative enterprises have suffered enormous shrinkage: but so far from prostrating or ruining the business interests of the country, it has been demonstrated, during the past five years, that not all the active capital of the country was embarked in these schemes: a goodly proportion of it must have been withheld and kept in such an accessible condition as to be readily used in new undertakings.

A fair analogy of general business recuperation is presented in our own city in the case of retail jobbers or distributors of goods, who hold conspicuous positions on our leading business avenues. These tradesmen having promptly unloaded their stock of high-priced goods, and realized their losses, were careful to lay in a new stock at prices which would defy competition, and yield them a sure profit. This operation has been going on at the expense of the heavy manufacturers, of their commission houses, and of such dealers as made time contracts with the mills at fixed prices some years ago. The immense shrinkage in the values of goods which has been a source of profit to the retail dealer, and of untold benefit to the public at large, has been an intolerable hardship to the men whose money was capitalized in the mills that produced these fabrics. In like manner, the owner of lots capitalized at high prices has been obliged to suffer an enormous loss in order to turn them into money in these reactionary times; while the builder who now purchases them for improvement is thus able to use them in his manufactured product, at a small profit, and the public are enabled to secure houses at moderate prices.

The great ground swell of our business population is slowly but surely recovering its position of strength, solvency and thrift, and is thus laying a broad and deep foundation for a universal recovery of business prosperity throughout the land. With the reform and adjustment of our federal tariff, there will be a market found for our surplus productions in the other countries of the world, and the tide of wealth which is sure to flow back upon us, as the proceeds of enlarged exportation, cannot fail to revivify all the leading interests of this country. The possibility of a new and extensive European war enters as an important factor in the prospect of an early recovery of business prosperity. The characteristics of new business, and we may say of all business that is likely to be done in future, is that of large volume at low prices with small profits. To this condition business affairs are quietly settling down, and most conspicuously are real estate interests adapting themselves to this new standard.

Whether the final issue of these three important problems, which are at the eve of their complete determination, will have the effect of creating a new speculative movement in real estate, or of forcing prices to a still lower plane, or of holding the market in a state of stable equilibrium, are questions which can be better solved at a later day. A new and imperious issue, however, has been slowly arising which threatens to be the dominating topic, and at length to supersede in importance all others in the real estate market. We refer to the oppressive burdens of taxation which real estate is called upon to bear. These burdens have been slowly and persistently piled upon it, and the dismal and discouraging aspect of the whole matter is that neither the Legislature nor our leading municipal officials seem disposed to give any serious thought to the subject, but are satisfied to let property owners struggle on with their massive burdens while the office-holder is contentedly enjoying the fruits of the property owner's great sacrifices.

It should be borne in mind that what greatly accelerated the decline in the values of real estate that took place in the memorable year 1861, was the premonition, which was widely entertained, that the national government in its great extremity would be compelled to levy war taxation upon real estate as the most accessible object. The idea was predicated upon the supposition that all other classes of property would be withdrawn beyond the reach of taxation, and that real estate alone, amid the general wreck of business, would be left to respond to the calls of government. To be sure, this adverse prognosis was not realized, because the government helped itself by means of forced loans to the substance of the people, and the issue of government paper money imparted a new and startling activity to all lines of business. Although the evil then prognosticated was averted at the time, such apprehensions contined to be indulged until the close of the war.

In a careful review of the real estate situation during the war, we think it will be found that this one consideration exerted a more powerfully depressing influence upon real estate than any other of the great events which were happening at that time. The great and extended inflation in the value of real estate did not begin until after the close of the war, and until the national government had demonstrated its ability to derive revenue from other sources than from the taxation of real estate. It was left for our municipal government to inflict upon real estate a measure of taxation and a contingent volume of indebtedness such as had never been known before and such as would rival any infliction that could possibly be attempted by the national government in the gravest extremities that might ever arise. The fact presents itself then that, to-day, real estate in this city is called upon to bear a taxation equal to any war tax that ever was or is likely to be levied upon it. No thoughtful or observing citizen can believe that there will be any get up in the condition of real estate until taxes have been greatly reduced or distributed upon other objects.

SALES.—The torpor and stagnation which prevailed in this department of real estate during the winter, owing partly to the season of the year and partly to the agitation of the silver measure in Congress, were succeeded with the opening of spring by an extended and liberal demand on the part of the public for all classes of real estate, but at planes of prices so arbitrarily low as to seriously abridge transactions. There is a conspicuous exhibition of demand for good productive property, of which our records are full of instances. We have frequently called attention to notable investments by capitalists and small dealers in the best productive property of the city. Although these investors claim a productive capacity for property quite in excess of the current rates for money, and notwithstanding rent calculations are mingled more or less with uncertainty on account of the state of the times, it is still believed that in many cases investments have been made which afford at the present time a gross income of ten per cent. on the money invested. There is no lack of millionaire capitalists ready to deposit large blocks of capital in real estate investments where satisfactory bargains can be made, and notable examples of such investments have been presented during the past three months.

There is the smallest possible outcropping of interest in vacant lots on the west side. This interest has taken the shape of projected improvements by present owners, and undoubtedly owes its origin to the extension of rapid transit. We hear of no less than a dozen contemplated projections of buildings on the west side—all of the most moderate kind, either three-storied dwellings or avenue flats of the plainer sort. We shall gladly welcome any symptoms of activity and life in this interesting portion of the city. With wise and circumspect action on the part of present owners of that property, a large and legitimate demand, both from builders and investors, might be attracted, and the improved area of our city be largely extended.

On the easterly side of the city there is a gingerly disposition to take up eligible lots. Some half dozen parcels, large and small, have changed hands recently at prices which indicate that there is considerable value in this property. A number of instances have occurred of the taking up of single lots by private owners for the erection of their own residences; and there is still an active projection of buildings by speculative builders in this quarter of the city.

In the fashionable quarter the disposition to sell vacant property is the predominant one with owners. Even the millionaire and aristocratic owners of vacant land have at length realized that the days of inflation are over, and that the prices that then ruled cannot be expected to return at an early day. The strongest and most stubborn of this class are quietly offering and marketing their lots as opportunities present themselves. There is every prospect of a large development of building in this quarter, and upon a scale of values that will fully indemnify the builder and will make a fashionable residence reasonably attainable. The sale of dwellings in this quarter, although largely in excess of preceding years, has not been sufficient to absorb the entire number produced. Builders have been compelled to carry a surplus over the first of May perhaps less owing to absence of demand than from inability to offer houses at such prices as buyers were willing to pay. Some of the new buildings in the fashionable quarter have been capitalized at relatively high prices, and awaken but little interest in the minds of buyers frugally or parsimoniously inclined. Builders cannot be too deeply impressed with the fact that the buying public, after all, are the arbiters of values, and the prices that they are willing to give are the true indices to the value of property. Builders must gauge their operations according to these standards in order to meet with prompt and successful results. The largest demand, as usual, is for the lowest priced houses. Sixteen and eighteen feet houses are in active demand at from $20,000 to $25,000. Wider houses readily bring from $27,000 to $30,000, while full front houses have been sold at from $35,000 to $45,000.

RENTS.—The universal response on the part of landlords and house-agents is that rents have been almost unquotable during the past season. The anxiety of landlords to keep their premises employed, so as to be able to derive some income from them to meet the city's demand for taxes, has led to a serious and almost universal marking down in rents throughout the city in respect to all classes of rented property. The spirit of reduction and contraction has even extended to leading apartment houses, which have heretofore been looked upon as instruments of economy, and have, by their ability to cater to the frugal sentiment of the people, been able to maintain a stable and uniform scale of rents. During the past season, owners of flats have been compelled to make a considerable reduction in their rents in order to retain their old tenants and to avoid vacancies. The reduction in rents, which has been established during the past year, might be indicated by an average of twenty-five per cent. In making up this average the range appears to be from ten per cent. to fifty per cent. of last year's prices. The best stores and dwelling houses have suffered the least. While some of this class have been rerented at the prices of last year, in the case of others the rents have shrunk about ten per cent. Private dwellings that rented last year from $2,000 to $1,500 are off twenty-five per cent. Dwellings of from $800 to $1,200 rent are the scarcest and most stable commodity in the market. The same proportion of reduction applies to the rents of apartments as we have indicated in the case of whole houses.

The recurrence of the general moving day prompts us to suggest that this barbarous custom should be abrogated as early as possible. The surplus of rentable property that is likely to be carried over unoccupied during the present season, affords an opportunity for landlords to establish a new precedent—that of making leases to terminate at other dates than the 1st of May. This practice obtains largely in the matter of renting wholesale stores, where we believe leases are made to expire in every month in the year according to the circumstances and wishes of the parties. In a city like New York, where but few people are willing or able to own a residence, it becomes a serious matter that a large body of tenants should be forcibly set in motion on the same day in each recurring year. It would promote the interest of real estate generally, and be favorable alike to landlord and tenant, if arrangements could be made by which leases should expire at different seasons of the year, according to the taste and convenience of the parties.

LOANS.—Notwithstanding the delivery of a legislative bomb-shell which threatened seriously to disturb the relation of mortgagor and mortgagee, and to effectually close up the mortgage loan market of this city, there has been a fair amount of activity in this department during the past season. Money continues to be offered in superabundance, although some few lenders have withdrawn from the market on a premonition of unfavorable legislation. The great obstacle to activity in this market is the scarcity of prime applications. The competition for good loans has extended so far as to result not only in a material reduction of interest, six per cent. being the established rate, with occasional offers of money at five per cent., and one offer that was reported of a considerable sum for one year at four per cent.; but also in the close calculation of the expense of procuring loans, and a deliberation as to whether the whole or a portion of this expense shall be borne by the lender. The example set by several of our leading moneyed institutions in bearing the whole expense, with the exception of the cost of official searches, has compelled private lenders, in order to come in competition with them, to offer the same inducement. Cases have occurred where private lenders have voluntarily assumed the settlement of the legal fees connected with loan negotiation for the sake of securing prime investments. There is the foreshadowing of a complete inversion of the conditions under which this business has been conducted. If lenders continue to be as exacting and cautious as they have been during the past two years, there is an assured certainty that the expenses of procuring loans will be largely reduced, and perhaps permanently taken off the borrower.

PROPERTY OWNERS.

While conversing lately with a distinguished metropolitan editor upon matters relating to real estate, we were startled in our equanimity, and somewhat disturbed in our sense of propriety, by hearing the observation made by him that real estate interests in this city had to contend with no greater obstacle than the stupidity of the property owners themselves. We must confess that this seemed rather a novel and blunt presentment of the situation. We were disposed to be in a measure overcome by feelings of indignation and resentment, but a moment's reflection compelled us to refrain from any explosive expression of them, or rash defence of our constituency. Upon sober second thought, we felt admonished to seek to discern what foundation, if any, really existed for this sweeping accusation or profound philosophic induction. In however humble a sphere of life one's industry may happen to be exercised, an abiding and satisfying conviction is apt to be indulged, that in his sphere the individual possesses the average, or, perhaps, the exceptional intelligence of his class. Probably no greater offense can be offered to one's amour propre than to be accused of a deficiency of intellectual or technical equipment for the service in which one may have enlisted. We have been educated and accustomed to regard the property owners of this city as representative, not only of the highest and best expression of capitalized wealth, but also of the wisest conservatism and most mature and instructed public spirit.

We have no purpose of combating with argument the assertion of our colloquialist, but will rather seek instruction in an attempt to investigate what apparent causes may have given rise to such criticism. If property owners at large, or as a class are amenable to such an accusation, the sooner they become aware of it, and take steps to correct their fault, the sooner they will be likely to reinstate themselves in the good opinion of the community.

We hold that the true characteristics of a wise property owner are conservatism, prudence, calculation and reasonable foresight. These qualities need no apologist. We are prepared to deprecate the exhibition of reckless daring and inconsiderate enterprise in matters of real estate. The subject is altogether too stolid, apathetic and unresponsive to admit of any brilliant displays of enthusiasm. The permanent fortunes realized from real estate investment illustrate the slowest order of accumulation. Speculation in real estate has given rise to many ephemeral fortunes of great magnitude, but their sequel only too often has served to point their moral.

Now let us consider some of the respects in which—not to use the harsh phrase already quoted, but we will say—the dulness of apprehension on the part of property owners as to their own interests sometimes displays itself.

First.—In reference to the projection of beneficial public works, it has become almost proverbial in this State, that the intense and almost insuperable opposition of property owners, large and small, may be certainly counted upon. From the inception of the Erie Canal and the introduction of Croton water, property owners have arrayed themselves almost solidly against beneficial public improvements. Respectable, intelligent and wealthy property owners were loud in their protests and warnings that the Croton aqueduct system would prove a total failure, as inadequate, unreliable and too costly, that it would be ultimately abandoned, and that the pump system would be revived as the only sure and convenient means of supplying this great city with water. The introduction of the horse car system in this city, was another bone of contention. While some property owners were ready enough to recognize its possible benefits, none were willing that the rails should be laid in front of their property. The height of blundering infatuation and obtuseness was exhibited by the owners of property on Broadway, below Fourteenth street, in refusing to allow the introduction of horse cars on that thoroughfare. They are suffering to-day, and we may say, have been suffering for over ten years the bitter results of this lack of foresight. The most active and prosperous portion of the great thoroughfare is that through which the horse cars pass. The banishment of the Broadway Horse Railroad to the purlieus and back streets has been the efficient means of ruining the business capabilities of a great portion of Broadway. Ladies are the principal patrons of retail stores, and it is not to be expected that they will consent to being carried in the cars through the most disreputable streets of the city, and then to be compelled to walk through lateral streets of no better reputation, in order to reach lower Broadway. The resuscitation of that portion of the great thoroughfare, between Broome street and Fourteenth street might be immediately and signally effected even at this late day by the introduction of horse cars. Public sentiment, fortunately, has preserved property holders on the line of the present rapid transit systems from financial suicide. After exhausting their means of opposition to this latest and wisest improvement in travel, they were compelled finally to yield an ungraceful and reluctant assent to the measure, and are now sitting down in the depths of despair. Probably in less than a year they will realize that majorities are sometimes wiser than minorities. The obstructiveness and lack of foresight on the part of property owners of a preceding generation afforded the opportunity and the necessity for the exploits of the Tweed era. If property owners had been more wisely alert to their own interests in fostering really necessary and meritorious public improvements they would probably never have been so perfectly overridden by the demagogues of the Tammany Ring. The dilatoriness and stubbornness of property owners furnished the real occasion for the overgrown enterprise of Boulevard projections.

We are fast approaching the limits of our new projections of great public works, and the sensitiveness and obstinacy of property owners in this regard will be but little subjected to strain in the future.

Second.—In regard to the disposition of their own property, in renting, selling and improving, the misjudgment or lack of judgment on the part of property owners is sometimes conspicuous. In some respects, this criticism invades the domain of private right, and yet there are respects in which the action of property owners is amenable to public judgment. It is an egregious act of folly for property owners to cherish too exalted views of the value of vacant lots, and after holding them for a length of time at prices which no sane person would be willing to pay, it is then unaccountable what impulse should lead them to place upon conspicuous and admired thoroughfares, structures, in the way of improvements, which would disgrace a back alley. The erection of temporary shops and cabins on lots which are more than ripe for permanent improvements, suggests a species of real estate madness. It is superserviceable, perhaps, to call attention to the unwise treatment of tenants by landlords. The mutual interests, which necessarily exist between landlord and tenant, certainly cannot be construed to involve a total sacrifice of the tenant. Imperious and high handed treatment is hard to be borne in a free country, and the tenant, as the real toiler and earner of the rent or revenue for the land owner, is entitled to better treatment than would be accorded to a vassal or serf. The hardship of owning property, of which landlords are only too ready to complain, might be greatly mitigated by the infusion of a larger measure of common sense and common humanity into the dealings between lessor and lessee. It is a disgrace to our city and a monumental act of folly on the part of a landlord that a block of eligible stores in the most conspicuous part of the city, should be allowed to remain vacant for a continuous period of nearly fourteen years.

Third.—In respect to the operations of government, and particularly, to the question of taxation, the property owners of this city occupy the least defensible position. The influence which might be exerted by property owners, even though their numbers are comparatively small, ought to have momentum enough, directly and indirectly, to impress their combined judgment on current affairs. And, yet, so far from being represented in government, it is a notorious fact, that prominent property owners neither seek nor obtain recognition in the administration of affairs. It is still more deplorable that property owners have for years supinely, unresistingly and with craven spirit borne the brunt of most odious exactions in the way of assessments for street improvements as well as the most formidable and colossal up-piling of taxation that this country has ever known, the parallel to which could scarcely be found under any absolute and despotic government. Without remonstrance, protest or demurrer, the property owners of this city have presented their backs for the imposition of the burden. All suggestions and propositions of legislative action which have heretofore been made point in the direction of increased hardships to be inflicted on real estate owners. If we may except feeble and ineffectual attempts by Ward associations to combine for mutual protection, there is no evidence of any united action, purpose or spirit on the part of the actual taxpayers of this city, to challenge their task masters or to seek to throw off some of the cruel impositions which are being swiftly and firmly fastened upon them. If the rule of the Commune should ever be inaugurated in this city, or, what might be even worse, the rule of an irresponsible and non-tax-paying bureaucracy, tax-payers will have themselves principally to blame for allowing the possibility of such a situation.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Readers of this current number are referred to our editorial columns for an extended review of the estate market. During the past week the ma presented no new feature and with the exceptic the sale of the estate of R. F. Carman, and that Hoyt in partition proceedings, nothing notewor has occurred. Sales under foreclosure were plentit with little competition in the bidding against t plaintiff in the action.

In Brooklyn, on Wednesday last, the auctioneer, M

Jacob Cole, after having disposed of a portion of the lots belonging to the Lefferts estate, adjourned the sale to June 6th. In the meantime it is proposed to judicially determine the validity of the title of such lots as were disposed of, and thereby quiet the groundless doubts of those who may have been deterred from competing for the property.

At private sale Messrs. Duggin & Crossman have sold to McKendree W. James the house and lot No. 42 East Fifty-seventh street (21x65x100) for $30,500.

The bills passed by the Legislature affecting taxpayers in the city of New York, will be printed in full upon their approval by the Executive. The acts extending the time for the payment of arrears of taxes and assessments, have already received the signature of the Governor. The bill in relation to taxes provides that at any time within one year tax-payers may pay the amount of taxes remaining unpaid, together with interest at 8 per cent., to be calculated from the time of the imposition of the tax up to the time of payment. In relation to assessments, at any time within two years any person liable therefor may pay the amount of the assessment for any local improvement heretofore confirmed and now unpaid with interest thereon at 8 per cent. from the date of confirmation, and where any installment or installments of any assessment have been paid under chap. 103, laws of 1876, or chap. 159, laws of 1877, the amount of such assessment remaining unpaid may be paid within the time aforesaid with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent., from the date of confirmation.

The Public Burdens bill provides for a reduction of $2,000,000 in the tax levy for next year, and that $1,000,000 shall be taken from general expenses and $1,000,000 from salaries. The bill affecting assessments, public works and contracts now in the Governor's hands for approval, provides that no ordinance or resolution which requires the expenditure of public money shall be valid unless passed by the Board of Aldermen by a three-fourths vote, and when the ordinance relates to an expenditure for which an assessment may be imposed it will be necessary to have the written consent of one-half the property owners of the front feet on the line of the proposed improvement, unless it be for work connected with sewerage or draining. No proceeding to vacate any assessment which has been heretofore confirmed can be commenced after the expiration of three months after the passage of the act. After December 31, 1878, no head of department, officer or employee in any department shall be paid his salary, nor shall persons furnishing supplies be paid from the proceeds of bonds or stocks of the city, but the Board of Estimate and Apportionment shall provide all necessary expenses for such purposes in the annual estimate in the same manner as other expenses are now provided for.

Plans embracing 20 buildings were filed with the Superintendent of the Department of Buildings during the week ending May 16, the estimated cost of which is $325,100. The important buildings to be erected are three five-story stores at Nos. 507, 509 and 511 Broadway, and two five-story flats at the northeast corner of Second avenue and Sixty-sixth street.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—The general market has not justified the expectations of the selling interest as entertained last week, and the somewhat better tone then noted fails to hold its own. Demand has been fair, and in one way and another a considerable number of brick found sale, but buyers throughout have rather held the advantage, and retain it to a great extent up to the present writing. Especially is this the case on medium and ordinary grades of which the bulk of the offering was composed, though the influence has been felt upon the upper qualities also, and former extreme figures must be somewhat modified. On "Up River" grades the range was about $4.25@$4.75 and Haverstraws $5.25@$5.50, though extra fine of the latter might command 25c. per M. more. A few arrivals are reported from Staten Island, but most of the supply came from the Hudson River yards. Production has to some extent been delayed by the condition of the weather, but dealers seem to think they will have new brick quite as fast as they are wanted, in view of the slow careful manner in which all clases of buyers are moving. Pale Brick appear to have found a very unfavorable market, and the tone was unsettled and demoralized all around with prices down to $2.00@$2.25 per M for the ordinary run of stock. The concession, however, does not increase demand, and it is difficult to find a place for supplies coming in. Fronts without much animation, but meet with a little demand on nearly all grades, and about former prices remain current. We hear of nothing doing at present for shipment to the Provinces, though there is said to be a few discretionary orders here.

We quote Pale, ₱ M., $2.00@$2.25; Hards, Up-rivers, $4.25@$4.75; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@$5.50; favorite brands, $5.75@$6.00: Fronts, Croton—brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $23@$27; Trenton, $21.00@$29.00; Baltimore, $34@$38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@$3 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

GLASS.—On the general market there is an irregular nominal sort of feeling still extant, and very few dealers quote alike on discounts. The differences, however, are not quite so great as when the combinations first broke up, and buyers who took stock out a few weeks ago would find no great variation on cost at present. The supply of stock on hand, and the general assortment is fair and any ordinary selection can be made without difficulty. Business without much activity, and confined largely to jobbing parcels. The most general quotations at the moment are 70 and 5 per cent. on American and 60 and 15@60 and 20 per cent. on French.

HARDWARE.—On local account there is a moderate distribution of standard goods of the ordinary assortment, and the interior demand keeps up reasonably well, a combination which affords basis for a fairly active market. Exporters, too, are well represented and on calls from nearly all the principal countries to which shipments have became comparatively common. Supplies hold out very well, but are not greatly increasing as the manufacturing section of the trade is at present quiet and production confined to unfinished orders on back contract. Since our last no changes on price lists have been made public which would prove of interest to our readers. As a rule, the tone is quoted steady, but competition still occasions some irregularity on a few articles, especially in the way of butts, hinges, etc.

LATH.—The general demand for stock is not large or free, and, in nearly all cases buyers show an inclination to move with caution, the principal jobbing dealers of this city in particular. Consumption is slow and uncertain and not very promising for an immediate improvement, and at this season of the year the utility of piling up and carrying stocks is not apparent. On the other hand, however, receivers have not found cargoes coming in upon them with freedom, and an arrival every few days appears to just about fill the outlet and preserve an even balance on value. The latest sale we hear of to present in writing was at $1.55 per M for Calais mode stock.

LIME.—There is nothing new on the market this week. At the recent reduction on cost, stock continues to sell as it comes to hand and the arrivals proving rather moderate a surplus accumulation afloat is prevented, but the lower cost does not increase the demand, and few dealers are willing to take in more stock than is likely to be required for early distributive wants.

LUMBER.—That portion of our lumber dealers who come in direct contact with consumers, or rather those who make the actual distribution, continue to report a slow business. There is a little going out all the time, and in exceptional cases the deliveries are pretty full on contract, but no free or continuous movement, and buyers promising little improvement for the nearby future. This, of course, is reflected to a great extent upon the wholesale market, and cargo sales from either coastwise or inland sources cannot as yet be greatly increased, and the support of previous figures appears to be about the best that sellers expect on prices. The export demand affords continued relief on certain grades, but is not of a general character. From primary markets the advices at hand show a continued weakening at the West on the views with which the season opened, but Maine and Canadian lumbermen still talking firmly of what they ex ect to get.

Eastern spruce arrives rather slow, but there still appears to be enough for the wants of the market, which do not greatly increase. Places are known to exist where a few attractive randoms could be disposed of without much difficulty, and now and then a buyer comes along with a special bill, but no basis is afforded for a quick, snappish trade, and all bids are on a low basis where the bids come from a desirable source. We quote at $12.00@$13.00 for random, possibly $13.50 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $13.00 @$14.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine remains firm in price and is still attracting a fair demand of attention on shipping orders. A portion of this business is for South American, East coast orders, and there is said to be one or two West coast calls at hand, and under close negotiation. The West India outlet, however, is the most reliable and promises fair for the near-by future. Many of the returning sugar luggers find it profitable to carry out cargoes of lumber. Home wants are small and uncertain. We quote at $15@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@20.50 for South American do; $15@16 for box boards; $17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@40 per M.

Yellow Pine has not found many calls on local account or for delivery to near-by dependent points, as early wants are likely to be satisfied from stock coming in on contracts made early in the season. Buyers, too, object to somewhat fuller rates asked, the latter the natural sequence of increased freight charges, through causes before noted. Agents, however, continue to find customers to some extent for shipment to the West Indies, South America and Europe, and cargo sales of this kind are on a basis of about former rates. We quote random cargoes at about $18@21 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@24 do; green flooring boards, $20@21 do; and dry do. do. $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $14@15.50 per M; hewn timber, $7.50@14.

Hardwoods without particularly new features, the movement keeping within rather narrow limits, and buyers figuring closely on cost. The purchases of quite a little assortment of stock a few weeks ago has satisfied local buyers for the time being and until they nearly or quite consume the amount they have on hand are not likely to again appear upon the market, while foreign orders are less plenty. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@85 ℔ M; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do.. do.. culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $45@75 do.; white wood, ¼ and ⅝ inch., $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $25@30 do. for Western, and $40@50 for good near-by stock.

The retail distribution continues moderately active with rather more doing, however, among some of the up-town yards, on the ordinary run of orders. Values are about steady on most grades, though we hear occasional figures mentioned by buyers, which would seem to indicate that a little cutting under now and then takes place.

From among recent lumber charters we select the following: A Nor. barque, 597 tons, from Richibucto to Waterford, deals, 6ls. 6d., option Liverpool or Bristol, 7os.; a barque, 465 tons, from Calais, Me., to Buenos Ayres, spruce lumber with spars on deck, $14 and primage; a schr, 628 tons, from Portland to River Plate, lumber and a Br. barque, 412 tons, from Weymouth to Glasgow, deals, private terms; a schr, 212 tons, from Jacksonville to Bermuda, lumber, $6.75; a schr, 181 tons, from Albany to Richmond, spruce lumber, $2.25; a schr, 202 tons, from Cedar Keys to New York, cedar, 9c. ℔ cubic foot; a schr, 200 M lumber, same voyage, $9; a schr, 200 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $6, out in ballast; a schr, 185 tons, from the Rappahannock to New York, oak lumber, $5 ℔ M.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The Albany market is reported by the Argus to May 14th, as follows:

In pine lumber there has been an improved trade during the week; there is not any change in quotations, which are firmly held. The receipts by canal have been fair, and are enough to keep up a good assortment. Within a few days several parties, extensively engaged in box making, have been looking through the District, making offers on large lots suitable to their trade to come forward, and at prices showing a marked improvement on the figures current a year ago.

New York letters report an increasing trade in lumber for South America and Southern shipping points, and an active prospective demand in that direction.

A falling off in the shipping of coal to Canada has diminished the usual supply of boats on the Ottawa, for which there is some inquiry.

Coarse lumber is very active and prices are steady. The receipts of spruce are free; hemlock is in good demand, and is taken as fast as it arrives, the demand at New York for ceiling for grain vessels being very good. Stocks of both spruce and hemlock are fair.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week by lake are 6,610,000 feet; by rail, 51 car loads.

The receipts at Oswego for the week 2,597,100 feet; the shipments by canal 1,910,700 feet.

Freights from Buffalo and Tonawanda to Albany are $2.10@2.15 ℔ M. feet; from Oswego, $1.75.

The receipts at Albany by Canal for the first week of May were 6,823,200 feet boards and scantling, and since the opening of navigation, 7,659,100 feet. The tide-water receipts of boards and scantling for first week of May were 10,726,600 feet, and since the opening of canal navigation, 12,315,700 feet. We have no comparative figures for last season, the canal not having been opened until May 8th.

Albany prices current will be found among our regular tabular quotations.

The Tonawanda Herald as follows:

The favorable outlook for an increase in prices in the near future instils confidence in dealers generally throughout the country, and a decline this season is an impossibility. The supply of logs on the Hudson has been light, and the mills not having to shut down for high water this spring, the product will be light and soon exhausted. In the West, many large manufacturers will pile and dry their lumber on their own docks this season, to anticipate better prices, as the stock on hand at the various distributing points must necessarily diminish rapidly, with the increased consumption consequent upon the present favorable outlook for large crops and general prosperity, to say nothing of the short run of logs. All these circumstances are of a nature to make our local market firm and sales active at upward prices. We quote as follows:

PRICES CURRENT, MAY 8, 1878.

Cargo lots—Michigan Inspection—
Three uppers	$32 00@34 00
Common	14 50@15 50
Culls	9 00@10 00

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office:

BAY CITY, Friday, May 10th, 1878.

The past week, like the previous one, has been a quiet one in lumber matters, not many transactions taking place for the simple reason that there is but very little dry lumber remaining on the river which is for sale. Quite a number of buyers have been in the Valley, but they say that they experience considerable difficulty in finding what they want. There is no change in prices to note. They are somewhat "stereotyped," as a buyer said to us the other day, $6, $12 and $28 being about the figures asked by those who have any lumber to dispose of. We think that from this time forward a shade better than those figures might be realized by those manufacturers who have the stocks to fill orders with.

We do not hear of any sales of lumber cut this season as having been made yet. We doubt, however, if the new cut of 1878 will open at the present going rates. The prices, however, will not fall much below present figures.

The high water in the Saginaw and its tributaries of late has interfered with rafting logs from the booms, and some of the mills have been compelled to shut down from want of logs.

The logging railroads have not as yet made much of an impression on the prices or the amount of logs banked, very few of them as yet having been put in successful operation.

The wholesale quotations following are the prices at which manufacturers hold stocks.

Three uppers	$28 00@30 00
Common	12 00@14 00
Shipping culls	6 00@ 7 00
Lath	@ 1 40

The lumber trade has been somewhat quieter in this valley for the past week than for some time previous. Most of the dry lumber on the docks has found purchasers, and those looking for lots to sort up their yards do not readily find what they want.

A change in the way of doing business by the lumbermen on the west shore of this State is being inaugurated. A correspondent at Ludington, Mich., writes us: "Lumber manufacturers here have made up their minds to cross-pile and hold a good share of their lumber, unless they get their price, and this work has been commenced in good earnest. Freights to Chicago are $1 per M, for large vessels, and $1.12½ for the smallest."

The Chicago correspondent of the Gazette writes:—Business at the lumber docks for the past week has not been very live.y. The arrivals have been light and the weather showery and stormy, and much of the time the wind has been unpropitious for the receipt of stock, and the heavy rains in many parts of the country have made the roads very bad again and somewhat curtailed the trade.

There have been in the city many heavy Western, dealers who are quietly observing the way things go with a view to making heavy purchases when the prices get to the proper point, in their estimation.

The "bear" feeling still continues and has forced prices down somewhat since my last report. Piece stuff has sold as low as $7.75@8, common inch $8.75@10, medium do, $10.50@11, choice do. $13@14, lath $1.37½, shingles $2.10@2.20.

The receipts and shipments for the past week have been as follows for lumber and shingles:

RECEIPTS.

	Lumber.	Shingles.
Last week	23,623,000	12,596,000

Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., May 9, 1878.

The important matter of the week is the adjustment of the railroad war and the resumption of ante bellum rates on all the lines leading west from Chicago, which took effect on Tuesday. This puts an entirely different face on the trade. Western points from Minneapolis to St. Louis are once more permitted by their masters, the railroad managers of Chicago, to resume business. It is to be hoped that they are sufficiently grateful to remember the favor.

Shipments are all that could be desired, considering how low the stocks are in the West, and the length of time required to season the new crop so as to make it fit for shipment.

The Chicago market is again reported weak, and prices will probably fall off again, as there is some four dollars difference in the cost of shipping to western points, and as they could not maintain prices when they had this advantage over all competing points except St. Louis, it is hardly to be expected that they will do so now.

News from the logging and driving districts is of interest, and may be summed up as follows: The new crop of logs on the upper Mississippi is in and coming into the booms, fully a month earlier than usual, and the same may be said of the other streams with regard to the part of a crop which they will get out. On the St. Croix but very few logs have yet reached the boom, but the drivers are wrestling with them in very low water, and last week they met with a serious accident—the logs from all the tributaries above Yellow River jammed at Big Island, some four miles below the mouth of the Namacoggan, and more rain will be required to get them off. The upper Snake River logs are being "sacked" down by heavy crews, and it is still claimed they will all come in.

On the Chippewa the drives are practically ended, and have yielded some 60,000,000 feet, of which 25,000,000 feet had run into Beef Slough up to Wednesday, as we learn from a report of Mr. D. J. Spaulding, who looked up the matter. On the Black they will get out 50,000,000 feet. On the Wisconsin River, from which our last week's reports were so cheerful, it seems the lumbermen fooled themselves out of a chance by failing to send crews up onto the logs in time, and the water has left them. From Eastern Wisconsin and Michigan reports of the week are to the effect that the bulk of the logs will be got out, as the various sections have been favored with rains to make driving water.

The amount of logs cut last winter will hardly reach the published estimates anywhere, and will not reach fifty per cent. of a usual crop in the three States.

FOREIGN.

The London Timber Trades Journal as follows:

LIVERPOOL, April 25, 1878.

There is little if any change in this market to record, but prices, if at all altered, are in favor of buyers, especially for common to low qualities. In fact, for some poor goods, either in deals or in logs, hard woods or soft woods, scarcely an offer can be obtained by sellers. The outlook for those who have already contracted for their supplies during the coming import season is the reverse of cheering, and shippers who purpose sending their productions to this market must act very cautiously, unless they are prepared to drop some money. Short as the probable supply from Canada may be, and large as the quantity hung up in the woods, owing to the want of snow to get it down to the rivers may be estimated, there is quite sufficient poor pine timber in this port to meet the probable demands for many months, whereas prime pine, oak, and other hard woods, and also good deals, are scare, and will probably meet with fair sale at ordinary prices.

LIVERPOOL TIMBER SALES.

The most important auction sales have been those held by Messrs. A. F. and D. Mackay, who on the 12th instant offered several cargoes of spruce and pine deals, birch, &c. The attendance was large but the competition only languid, however; a good quantity changed hands, the brokers apparently being disposed to meet the market.

GLASGOW, April 24, 1878.

Three cargoes of pitch pine are the only arrivals into Clyde to report at this time. One of these, discharging at Glasgow, is to be forwarded per rail to the Speedwell Iron Works, Coatbridge; the other two remain on the market.

The bare appearance of the deal yards at present is satisfactory to notice, in view of the approaching imports. There will not likely be any public sale held here at Yorkhill till fresh stock comes to hand.

Yard room has also been got ready by the Clyde trustees on the south side of the river, as the experience of past seasons has shown this to be necessary, to relieve Yorkhill yards, where sufficient accommodation is required for log timber.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has continued in moderate demand from all quarters, and at times the market was very dull. Holders offer carefully, but as there is little immediate danger of scarcity on supplies, are easier in their views. We quote at 16¾@17c. for Lake. Manufactured held at old rates, but moves slow, and in a quiet way a little shading occasionally takes place. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary sizes, over 16 oz., per sq. foot, 28c. per lb; do. do., do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per sq. foot, 32c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per sq. foot, 34c. per lb.; circles, less than 84 inches in diameter, 31c. per lb.: do. 84 inches diameter and over, 34c. per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 31c. per lb.; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz., per square foot, 26c. per lb., and Bolt Copper, 28c. per pound. IRON—Scotch Pig selling moderately in small lots at about former rates. We quote at $23@$26 per ton according to brand and quantity. American Pig remains under neglect, and some holders are anxious enough to urge sales which has a weakening influence on values. We quote at $17.50@19 for No. 1 per ton, $16.50@18 for No. 2 do, and $15.50@17 for Forge. Rails show rather a dull market for iron, but steel are in good demand, scarce and firm. We quote at $32@35 for new iron, and $44@45.00 for Steel at the mills. Old Rails, $18.00@19.00 per ton; scrap, $20.00@22.00; the latter slow. Manufactured iron in very fair demand on small lots, but all holders are anxious to sell, and rates show irregularity. Common Merchant Bar can be had in round lots at 1.7c. and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.8c. and 2c. are respectively insisted upon. Common sheet, 3c., and best R G. American, 4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic pig in rather limited demand from all quarters, with values unsettled but mostly in buyers' favor. We quote at about 3½@3¾c. currency. The manufactures of lead are quoted: Bar, 5½c.; Pipe, 6c., and Sheet, 6¼c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin-lined Pipe, 15c. Block Tin Pipe, 45c., on same terms. TIN—Pig is again lower, with a slow, tame market, and supplies full for all calls. We quote at 17@17¼c. for Banca, 14¼@14¾c. for Straits, 14¼@14⅝c. for English Refined, and 14¾@14½c. for do common. Tin plates in moderately active demand at nominally unchanged prices in all cases. Spelter pretty freely offered, buyers not plenty, and the tone of the market weak at 5@5¼c. Sheet zinc going out in small lots, with no great change on prices. We quote at 7⅝@7¾c. gold for foreign, and 6¼@6¼c. currency for domestic.

NAILS.—Competition continues almost too strong to admit of sellers securing any great advantage and the general tone of the market is more or less unsettled. Stocks are not large but fully satisfy the necessities of the market and are offered readily. We quote on a basis of $2.60 for 10d to 60d.

OILS.—Operations are moderate and buyers handling only enough for immediate wants, the general market showing rather a dull tone. Supplies equal the outlet, with something to spare, and prices show no great strength. We quote linseed oil at 59@61c. ₱ gallon from crushers hands.

PAINTS.—From first hands the movement of stock is only sufficient to satisfy some special necessity of jobbers, as the latter class of operators are distributing slowly. About former rates are quoted with the tone nominally steady.

PITCH.—Trade is not active and seldom extends beyond the limits of the ordinary jobbing call. Supplies are ample and within reach, while holders accept about former rates when they are bid. We quote at $2.00@$2.25 for city demand.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—No great change on the general situation and especially for jobbing parcels a steady movement of which takes place from day to day. Exports however have been larger and thus strengthened values all around, the market closing from at 30c.@32c. according to quantity handled.

TAR.—Some dealers have materially reduced their stocks and in no case is the accumulation very full, the position in consequence ruling about steady. Demand fair and of a general character for the season. We quote at $2.00@$2.25 for Newberne and Washington and $2.12½@2.37½ for Wilmington.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

We direct attention to the advertisement of Brandeis' Patent Trap, letter's patent for which have been secured within the last sixty days. Invention seems not yet to be exhausted in an attempt to secure proper trapping of all outlets from waste and soil pipes for the purpose of cutting off all noxious vapors, and the inventor in this instance seems to have framed a trap which is intended to retain a quantity of water as a seal and absorbing medium for pestilential odors. The ordinary trap is simply a pipe bent by pressure, and so recently as 1859 traps were made painfully slow by hand, of sheet lead and soldered together. These so-called plumbers' traps always cracked and gave way where the solder joined the parts together.

Some ingenious mechanic then cast them and fused the parts together by hydrogen gas, while a later invention shapes and presses the entire trap in one piece. The new invention which has been felicitously named the "Paragon," consists in casting a trap in one piece, even to the draw screw attachment with a surface as smooth as glass, thereby preventing the adherence of organic matter. It will also contain a larger amount of water than any other trap; occupies less space; siphonage is prevented, and all the defects of old fashioned traps are effectively remedied.

HALE'S HYDRAULIC ELEVATORS.

We have frequently had occasion to refer to the merits of Hale's hydraulic elevator, which has rapidly grown into favor by reason of the simplicity and safety of its construction, and the perfection of its working. In a previous number the points of excellence achieved by the inventor were enumerated at length, and the extensive use made of these elevators since then by owners of numerous public and private buildings demonstrates their full appreciation by the public. In addition to the list of prominent buildings in which these elevators were in use at the time the attention of our readers was first called to their merits, the Messrs. Hale have supplied many of our mammoth apartment houses, stores and dwellings recently erected, and one of our leading firms engaged in the manufacture of steam elevators has become so impressed with their superiority that they have just concluded an arrangement with the Messrs. Hale whereby they have become by purchase the sole manufacturers of Hale's Hydraulic Elevators for the New England and Atlantic States, with the right to sell the same. This fact appears in the advertisement of Messrs. Otis Bros. printed on our first page to which attention is directed as well as to the full page advertisement of the Hydraulic Elevator appearing on another page.

PERSONAL HABITS OF BROKERS.

That was an ill-tempered and unmerited aspersion which Mr. Choate cast upon brokers in his address to the Columbia law students, when he told them if they did not mean to be honest in the profession they had chosen, they had better turn brokers at once. We may assume that Mr. Choate had in his mind the class of brokers with which his profession is brought most in contact, the real estate brokers; and that he did not intend to use the term generically. Whether brokers in general or real estate brokers particularly were thus reproached we consider the reflection equally undignified and uncalled for. The hindrances and hardships of a broker's career are formidable enough without having his profession stigmatized and branded thus publicly and by an eminent citizen with the label of dishonesty, while the efficiency and dignity of his calling are sufficiently attested by the liberal and constant employment of his services by the public. From an extensive acquaintance with both the professions of law and brokerage, we feel justified in declaring that the ratio of honesty to dishonesty is quite as large in the latter as in the former. We have no hesitation in flinging back this foul aspersion in the face of Mr. Choate or any other practitioner who seeks to laud and elevate the purity of his own profession by reviling another equally honorable and respectable. All fair minded men will promptly condemn the method of odious comparisons which Mr. Choate employs in his effort to instil into the minds of fledgeling barristers a true conception of their office and a decent regard for common morality. He had no occasion to wander beyond the limits of the legal fraternity, or, indeed, beyond the circle of his own acquaintance in the profession, either for models of legal virtue or for examples of flagrant departure from the code of professional ethics and of the depth of turpitude to which learned and honored men may fall. How pungent and caustic might have been his denunciation of professional dishonesty if he had presented with his matchless oratory, for the execration of his young hearers, the bad examples of recent and notorious legal apostacies. He might have pointed with just indignation and honest scorn to the examples of Barrett, the forger, the would-be reformer of the Episcopal Church, whose membership he disgraced, who invited the trust of widows, orphans and other dependent persons only to betray it most shamefully; or to the example of Nicol, the defaulter—the founder of the Bar Association, the exemplar of the dignity, probity and learning of the bar—who was accustomed in his day to address students very much as Mr. Choate addressed them, reminding them that in discharging the duties of trustees, as they might be called upon to do, they should be careful to keep all trust monies in separate bank accounts and on no pretext to merge them with their own personal funds. Yet at the very moment, and doubtless for years previously, this man had been merging the funds of clients and wards in a most inextricable and promiscuous confusion in his own bank account, where all evidences of title and ownership were hopelessly obliterated.

The brokerage profession is accustomed, like the legal profession, to be honored with important and confidential trusts, such as the management of estates, investment of funds, and collection of income. The very nature of the business requires the broker to become the depository of the mutual confidence of the parties to a negotiation. We are not foolish enough to set up any claim of immaculateness for this profession, but we do feel called upon to claim for it a relative purity quite as conspicuous and determinable as any which may be claimed for the legal profession. The legal practitioner is practically irresponsible, his acts being reviewable only by his own fraternity, who are too apt to look indulgently upon and deal leniently with the faults and lapses of fellow practitioners. Suffering beneficiaries, clients and wards have told their tales of misplaced confidence and plundering abuse. Brokers are amenable to the courts where they find short shrift and small mercy since chicanery on their part becomes a crime in the eyes of the law and punishable as such. We have yet to hear of any noteworthy default or breach of trust by brokers. Their faults are apt to be venial, arising out of misconstruction or difference of opinion.

We desire to see the elevation and purification of both professions of law and of brokerage, which are so closely allied and whose functions in the domain of real estate transactions are and have been so inseparable. At times we have not hesitated to criticize both and to point out what we believe to be remediable defects. We have good reason to believe that our homilies and expostulations have been attended with good effect. Indeed, portions of them might have served as the text of some of Mr. Choate's remarks. Many vices and reproaches usually charged upon brokers have their inception in the practice of lawyers who are only too ready to use brokers as decoys and go-betweens in making extortionate exactions. The legal profession naturally exerts a potent and controlling influence upon the brokerage profession, and, if the spirit of reform should take possession of the former, it would be sure to produce a wholesome reactionary effect upon the latter.

In this connection we desire to present for the consideration of our broker patrons a few remarks which naturally grow out of the foregoing observations. The best and only retort that can properly be made to any such unfair derogation as that just referred to, is for the brokers themselves to live down the aspersion by their acts. We are now addressing ourselves to those brokers who hold the honor and reputation of the profession dear to them, and who recognise in their dealings the established code of business morality. No refutation of ours can so completely silence the reproach sought to be cast upon brokers, as will the determination on the part of the leading members of the profession to allow in themselves and to tolerate in others no sign or suspicion of dishonesty. Regard for truth must dominate all their dealings, whether in verbal statements or in the substance of their written contracts. A broker whose reputation for mendacity is once established may lead a precarious existence for a while, but he is sure to be avoided by dealers as soon as his character is once developed. The very breadth of the field which real estate negotiation presents for false, misleading or exaggerated statements compels dealers to place the highest value upon the virtues of honest dealing and plain truth telling. The reputation most to be coveted by brokers is that of being square dealing men.

As in certain creeds cleanliness is esteemed to be next to godliness, so in framing the ethical code of brokers we would venture to suggest a further personal consideration. It is the misfortune of many, of perhaps a majority of the brokerage profession, to be poor and to be compelled to struggle hard for a simple existence. Yet, a due regard for their customers and respect for themselves require them to present a proper personal appearance. In pursuing their business, they are called upon to conduct negotiations between gentlemen occupying the highest social and commercial positions, to enter and pass much time in punctilious law offices and sumptuous counting and banking rooms. Sometimes their duties throw them in the society of ladies. Right or wrong, it is the American habit to estimate a man by the appearance which he presents. A broker has no right to create a prejudice against himself by an untidy exterior. Without advocating habits of foppery, we assert that the occupation of a broker makes him dependent in a measure for success upon the assistance of his tailor. Whatever standard or degree of artistic decoration he may adopt, in no case except of necessity should his order of apparel be allowed to fall below mediocrity or into an unkempt and slovenly state. Above all other men, the broker should present the appearance and manners of a gentleman. It will be decidedly to his advantage if he can lay a just claim to familiarity with the customs of polite society.

Furthermore, we must deprecate the habit which prevails among brokers of indulging in the inordinate use of tobacco during business hours. It is no assistance to their clients in considering the merits of a negotiation to have successive puffs of tobacco smoke blown in their faces or to have the fragrance of tobacco laden breath wafted under their olfactory organs. If brokers are wedded to the narcotic weed, they should try to limit their gratification of this taste to other than business hours, or to such opportunities of leisure as the business may present. While we will freely avow our adhesion to the Astor code of temperance, to wit: indulgence in light wines, and our detestation of commonplace moralizings on temperance, we still feel called upon and warranted in saying that stimulants, particularly spirituous stimulants, are not the proper basis for successful real estate negotiation.

It is rumored that some brokers are in the habit of plying their victims with copious doses of alcoholic stimulants as preparatory to a prospective negotiation; and it is known that some few brokers habitually indulge in alcoholic potations. To average mortals the fumes of incipient inebriety are more offensive than those of tobacco. We can imagine no surer disqualification for success than for a broker to become addicted to habitual tippling. It not only renders the person signally offensive, but is apt to muddle the intellect, to confuse speech, besides arousing an irresistible instinct of suspicion and doubt on the part of clients.

The severest demands of the brokerage profession are made upon the personal habits of the broker; and the highest measure of success that has ever been attained in this calling may be looked for among the men whose characters are untainted with any of the vices which we have enumerated.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

DEAR SIR: In your issue of the 18th inst. you say, editorally,—

"It would promote the interest of real estate generally, and be favorable alike to landlord and tenant, if arrangements could be made by which leases should expire at different seasons of the year, according to the taste and convenience of the parties."

Now, sir, whether the accepted "moving day" be the first of May, or the first or any other day of any other month, I submit that a departure from the present plan of holding a regular "season" for the renting of property would result in great inconvenience and perplexity to the tenants, and much greater and more frequent loss to the landlord than they are even now called on to suffer. Once a year regularly and simultaneously property remaining unrented for the ensuing year is placed on the market, the rents fixed upon a practically uniform scale, and tenants invited. The landlord is met at once by a demand—not from one applicant, but from many, and the rule is that his property is rented at current rates. On the other hand, when the tenant appears in the market for a house or store he is not obliged to choose from among the limited number that might happen to be to let under your proposed system, but has hundreds, perhaps thousands, from which to select, and the chances are altogether in favor of his securing premises exactly suited to his wants, both as to accommodation and price. I do not doubt that the tenant class would be the most strenuous opponents of your proposed method.

The trouble of moving is not worth mentioning. It would be just as troublesome to each individual, no matter what day he moved.

You say further:

"This practice obtains largely in the matter of renting wholesale stores, where we believe leases are made to expire in every month in the year, according to the circumstances and wishes of the parties."

THE REAL ESTATE RECORD should be a record of facts, and this statement is emphatically contrary to all the facts, in that it conveys the impression that leases of wholesale stores in this city are constantly falling in on the first of every recurring month. Let me invite you to a canvass of the region know to Insurance men as the "Dry Goods Block." The tenants here found that to move on May 1st was not convenient. Did each then aim to have his lease expire at the most convenient date for him, regardless of other considerations? Not at all. At their solicitation the renting season was advanced three months, and the great bulk of the best property in that district is now placed in the market November 1st, the leases expiring on February 1st, and the moving being done on that date. You will not have to go far from your offices to find that there are very few stores in that district rented from any other date. In fact, below Canal street we may say there are a few leases expiring on January 1st. Almost all the best property in the dry goods district is rented from February 1st, and the remaining property of all kinds from May 1st. The exceptions to the above are so few as only to prove the rule.

A. B.

In all our statements we aim to avoid fiction and confine ourselves to authentic facts. We happen to know that leases are made in the dry goods district to conform to the exigencies of co-partnership agreements, the lease year coinciding with the fiscal year of given firms. We know also that leases of wholesale stores, in numbers sufficient to establish a rule, do expire in every month of the year excepting perhaps the summer months, the exception according with "the circumstances and wishes of the parties."

The task of moving might be shorn of its terrors if optionally distributed throughout the year, but when concentrated and limited to a single day it becomes a formidable evil.

The owners of apartment houses, like the pew committees in fashionable churches, have found an advantage in establishing lease years different from the conventional one. A business uniformly distributed throughout the year would carry with it mutual benefits to lessor and lessee which are signally defeated in the periodical termination of leases on a single day of the year.—Editor.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The transactions during the week were of very ordinary character, judicial sales engrossing the principal share of attention. No public sales of any interest have been held since our last report, and no reports of private sales have been received.

Notwithstanding the apparent dulness in the real estate market, there are manifestations of great activity in the Department of Buildings. The estimated cost of new buildings, plans for which were filed during the past week, is $467,675. There will be erected on Seventy-ninth street, between Madison and Fourth avenues, five brown stone houses; on Seventy-seventh street, between Madison and Fifth avenues, Mr. S. L. Bradley, purposes building three four-story brown stone front houses at an estimated cost of $36,000. On Willis avenue, One Hundred and Thirty-eighth and One Hundred and Thirty-ninth streets, Wm. O'Gorman intends to erect twenty-eight three-story brown stone houses which, it is estimated, will cost $174,000. At No. 8 East Sixty-eighth street a four-story brown stone house will also be erected, the estimated cost of which is $20,000. We congratulate builders and others on these hopeful signs, and on the prospects of a fuller development of building in many quarters of the city.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending May 23:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICK.—For Common Hards pretty much the old line of quotations remains current, and the tone about steady throughout, but without any special inclination to buoyancy. Demand, probably, has not exceeded the call of last week, but the supply of desirable stock was not over large, and this gave receivers sufficient advantage to enable them to resist any positive reduction on value. A considerable amount of work is progressing favorably, and the promises for a further increase are considered very good, but buyers are careful, and can seldom be found willing to anticipate their wants. There seems to be some trouble over the labor question, and while no serious rupture is advised up to the present writing, there is an evident fear that the workmen mean mischief during the present summer. The offering of new-made brick has been more plenty, indeed, pretty much all that was really fine came under this head, only a few yards now having old stock of merchantable character left to offer. There has been a great deal of washed stock rubbish, etc., sent in to clean up, with the sales naturally at low and irregular rates. On supplies in good condition we retain about former rates. Pale Brick still in large supply, the demand moderate, and prices weak generally. Possibly $2.50 might be obtained for very choice, but $2.25 is nearer the average top rate, and a large number of sales are making at $2.00 per M. Fronts meet with a demand quite in proportion to the movement on the more common grades, and are ruling steady on price. Even the very choice styles have fair attention, and we learn of considerable deliveries of Baltimores this week on previous contract, with further demand current. Export orders are not very plenty, but reduced freight rates have induced some further movement, and we hear of several charters this week from Sayerville, and one or two from Haverstraw for St. John, N. B., mostly on private terms.

We quote Pale, ₱ M., $2.00@$2.25; Hards, Up-rivers, $1.25@$1.75; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@$5.50; favorite brands, $5.75@$6.00: Fronts, Croton—brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $23@$27; Trenton, $21.00@$29.00; Baltimore, $34@$38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@$3 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

CEMENT.—Business fluctuates somewhat, but a few dealers report some slight increase in their local and nearby orders for domestic, and manufacturers are doing a fair shipping trade to most of the regular dependent points. Demand, however, is not sharp, or anxious, and not many buyers are taking more than early wants require, while the amount available equals all the necessities of the market, and a larger offering would be found if called for. Prices are unsettled, and while the general quoting rate at this point remains at 90c., sales have been made as low as 80c. per bbl. On foreign there is more or less trade doing, and from the recent arrivals some pretty free sales have been made, but the receipts have been free, nearly 5,000 bbls. this week, and with importers inclined to offer readily, prices on Portland are easier. Sales were made from pier, as low as as $2.90, and in jobbing lots from store $3.25 is rarely exceeded. The finer grades of foreign are slow and uncertain.

HARDWARE.—The distribution of supplies continues moderate, and without new features worthy of extended notice. Buyers generally adhere to the practice of taking only enough for immediate wants, and prefer duplicating their orders two or three times over rather than run the risk of carrying a surplus. The amount available and the assortment is kept well up to current wants, and selections can at all times be made without difficulty. Values do not vary to any great extent at present, but a few new rates have recently been decided upon, among which is a revised list on tacks, brads, etc., issued under a uniform discount of 50 per cent., pretty much all manufacturers agreeing to this rate. The American Screw Company have made a reduction to 8c. per gross on common sizes of knob and cap screws in lots of 100 gross or over. The export demand for American hardware keeps up to pretty full proportions, and is taking out a great many tools and assortments of builders supplies. As we close we learn that the American Screw Co. have published the following discounts on their new patent wood screws: Flat Head, Iron, 55 per cent.; Flat Head, Brass, 50 per cent.; Round Head, Iron, 45 per cent.; Round Head, Brass, 35 per cent. They also quote Iron Cap and Side Knob Screws 8 cents per gross, net, and Brass Side Knob Screws 35 cents per gross, net.

LATH.—There appears to have been no positive wholesale market during the period intervening since our last report, owing to the absence of supplies. Up to the present writing we can learn of no cargoes coming to hand, and the test of actual sales has in consequence been lacking. Receivers, however, tell us they have had application for a fair amount of stock, and incline to the belief that they can again obtain $1.55 per M., though of course, under existing circumstances quotations are entirely nominal.

LIME.—Matters remain just about the same on the general market. The supply of Eastern is not very full as manufacturers keep shipments down, but there is enough offered for the outlet, and former rates are still quoted on both kinds. State meets with a proportionate demand, and the finishing grade, it is said, continues to be sold close up to the amount within reach, with full former rates ruling.

LUMBER.—Matters move along in much the same form on the general lumber market, with possibly a somewhat better tone gaining ground. The local demand has not increased "on account of the large number of building permits issued," as stated by one of our city journals, claiming to be a commercial newspaper, but the issue of the permits affords good grounds for hope that city consumption will improve, and that as contractors gradually settle upon their plans, they may be expected in the market on the look out for supplies. Manufacturing wants, also, appear more promising, and altogether encouraging features are thought to be shown on the outlook for Summer trade. It is, however, very evident that no class of buyers intend to hurry themselves, or to close contracts until they are sure that they have obtained the very best terms possible, and that in many cases any important addition to cost will effectually kill demand. There is also a probability that many would be buyers will not progress rapidly toward ownership of the supplies they may desire, in view of the close settlements dealers have very generally determined upon. The export movement is very good, mainly toward the West Indies, at present, the most important orders for South America having been filled. In small lots there continues to be considerable taken for Europe, mostly as ceiling for grain vessels, the selection of a general character, though hardly including so large a proportion of hemlock as intimated by one of the recent reports from Albany.

Eastern spruce, as it comes to hand, finds a place, a portion of the arrivals being on contract, and the randoms selling here and there wherever buyers can be hunted up, good full lengths commanding a fair rate, say about $12.50@13.00, but short and undesirable having an irregular tone with sales as low as $11.50. The feeling this week, however, appears to be somewhat firmer, and advices from the Eastward are said to be very stiff. We quote at $12.00@$13.00 for random, possibly $13.50 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $13.00@$14.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White pine appears to be held with a fair amount of confidence, and on all desirable parcels about former full rates are asked, but more especially on good lots of shipping stuff. The demand about as last week on West India account, quite a number of parcels being called for, but business with South American ports at the moment is rather limited. We quote at $15@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $20.00@21.00 for South American do; $15@16 for box boards; $17 for do, wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@40 per M.

Yellow pine meets with only a moderate and irregular demand on consumptive account, the local market affording little of a promising or encouraging character for sellers. On export orders business is fair, the operation as usual being confined to the sale of cargoes for direct shipment from the points of production. Prices as a rule are steady on all standard grades. We quote random cargoes at about $18@21 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@24 do; green flooring boards, $20@21 do; and dry do. do. $22@23. Cargoes at the South, $14@15.50 per M; hewn timber, $7.50@14.

Hardwoods are steady on all the principal descriptions, and meet with some little demand on export account with a few orders now and then from manufacturers. Supplies not abundant, but appear to be enough for all present requirements of the market. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@85 ₱ M; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do., culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $45@75 do.; white wood, ½ and ⅝ inch., $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $25@30 do. for Western, and $40@50 for good near-by stock.

At the yards, trade keeps along in about the usual channels, fluctuating from extreme dullness to quite a show of animation, and back again two or three times a week. Yet the aggregate outward movement of stock reaches a pretty good volume, and most dealers appear to be very well satisfied. Prices do not change to any great extent, but are a shade steadier if any thing.

The Albany market is reported by the Argus to May 14th, as follows:

The trade in the District in pine lumber has been moderate. Receipts are fair and stocks ample and well assorted. Quotations are steadily held. Several large lots of Canada lumber, aggregating not far from 10,000,000 feet, have been recently sold to leading firms at New York and vicinity on terms that have not transpired. This purchase would seem to show some anxiety on the part of the trade to secure stock at present quotations.

In coarse lumber there has been a large business, and the supply in market is good. It is estimated that the business which will have been transacted in the District on June 1st will be the largest of any season, to that date, since the organization of the District. The assortment is good and prices are without change.

We spoke last week of the free exports of lumber from New York. The following which we condense from the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, shows for one week the extent of the trade and how widely it is scattered: Ystadt, 13,000 feet; Copenhagen, 11,000 feet; Hamburg, 5,000 feet; Hull, 10,000 feet; Great Grimsby, 26,000 feet; Penarth Roads, 11,000 feet; Penzance, 8,000 feet; Dundee, 15,000 feet; Aberdeen, 16,000 feet; Glasgow, 2,000 pieces; Cork, 120,000 feet; Queenstown, 2,000 feet; Dublin, 2,600 feet; Newry, 717 pieces; Gibraltar, 57,100 feet; British Honduras, 35,000 feet; Havre, 12,000 feet; British Guiana, 8,000 feet; British Australia, 18,000 feet; British West Indies, 68,000 feet; Dunkirk, 16,000 feet; French West Indies, 54,000 feet; French East Indies, 30,000 feet; Cuba, 102,000 feet; Venzuela, 16,000 feet; Bayonne, 10,000 feet; Bordeaux, 10,000 feet; Cette, 12,000 feet; Cadiz, 44,000 feet; Castlewave, 17,000 feet; Lisbon, 8,400 feet; Madeira, 50,000 feet; Hayti, 23,000 feet; Cisplatine Republic, 310,000 feet; making an aggregate of 876,010 feet: this of course does not include the coastwise shipments.

At Saginaw, recent sales of 600,000 feet dry at $6 50, $12.00 and $30.00 ₱ M feet; of green, 600,000 feet at $6.00, $12.00 and $28.00 ₱ M feet. Some Western dealers think the stock of secured logs this season will fall far below the estimate made a few weeks ago, and to which we alluded in our report of April 30th. In the Lake Michigan district, most of the logs in the streams will probably come out; but in the Chippewa and Black River country, the outlook, it is now said, is not so promising. The Western (Mississippi) rivers are delivering logs, but heavy and continuous rains are needed to move those that have a long distance to run.

At Belleville (Ontario) on the 15th inst. the first of this season's cut logs were arriving. The drive, so far, has been favorable.

The receipts at Chicago since January 1st, 1878, are 137,458,000 feet against 75,060,000 feet for a corresponding period in 1877. The shipments, 174,602,000 feet against 142,032,000 feet. The stock of lumber at Chicago on May 1st was 196,892,000 feet against 245,508,000 feet on April 1st and 189,887,000 feet on May 1st, 1877.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week by lake are 6,852,000 feet; by rail, 60 car loads.

The receipts at Oswego for the week 4,396,800 feet; the shipments by canal 2,278,200 feet.

Freights from Buffalo and Tonawanda to Albany are $2.10 ₱ M. feet; from Oswego, $1.70. Freights from Saginaw to Tonawanda are $1.37 ₱ M. feet.

The receipts at Albany by canal from the opening of navigation to May 15th, are:

	Bds. & Sctg. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber c. f.	Staves, ₱
1877	415,200	....	....	....
1878	17,760,000	759	....	....

The receipts at tide-water from the opening of navigation, to May 15th, are:

	Bds. & Sctg. ft.	Shingles, M.	Timber, c. f.	Staves ₱
1877	2,150,400	....	....	20,000
1878	29,034,200	759	....	2,842,400

THE WEST.

The Lumberman and Manufacturer of Minneapolis has the following:

The lumber trade of the West is now in a more satisfactory condition, so far as the demand and prices are concerned, than it has been for many years. The limited stock of dry lumber is disappearing as rapidly as should be desired, considering the length of time which must ensue before a new crop will be available. The prices realized are fair—nothing more, and holders are more confident in the propriety of holding stocks than they have ever been. Only an occasional one can be found who is still suffering from the old fever to sell cheaper than other folks do. The serenity is new and one strangely misses the prophesies of evils yet to come which for years have filled the air. A few from sheer force of habit, mutter over threadbare tales of how cheap lumber is "Just over there," but none are found willing to concede only the odd cents which compensate customers for the difference between trading with them and some one of their competitors. In such compromises as this the customer always gets the worst of the bargain, as he ought to have three times as much reduction.

Prices at Chicago are off again on cargoes, piece stuff again being quoted as low as $7.50, but trade seems to be opening up in Illinois, and other regular tributaries of that city which keeps a reasonable degree of firmness in the yard trade.

The news of the week from all parts of Michigan confirms the original estimates of The Lumberman made in February, that the shortage in the State would be 50 per cent. The fates seem against the Chippewa, Black, St. Croix and Wisconsin lumbermen this year, the present outlook for the drives being very poor indeed. Not to exceed 100,000,000 has been secured so far, and most of the mills on the Mississippi river must remain idle for some time for want of logs.

There is no news of special importance from the drives on the upper Mississippi, except that the Willow river drive, containing 15,000,000 feet, was at Aitken Wednesday night. The probabilities for the other drives on the river are about the same as reported last week. At Beef slough they have rafted out fifteen million and shut down. Fifty million feet secured on Black river and being rafted out at La Crosse. Preparation is being made to improve the river by a system of dams. The Wisconsin drive is hung up.

Of the Minneapolis market the Lumberman writes:

We have little of interest to note since our last. The shipments for the week were 2,052,000 feet, against 2,280,000 the corresponding week in 1877. The local and wagon trade has been large, and is increasing, as are orders from the interior of the State and some portions of Iowa. At the present rate of sales the stocks of dry lumber will be exhausted before the new cut can be sufficiently dried for shipment. The very large immigration into the Northwest is sure to still further increase the demand. The far Southwest trade is light, and, with full stocks, it would take some time to regain the trade from that section diverted by the cut in freights from Chicago to the Missouri river; but, with present or prospective stocks here, very little more could be done than to hold the trade that must come to this market for supplies. With full stocks, however, and an equitable freight tariff, city dealers would soon push their trade into all the territory formerly occupied by them.

Prices have not varied during the week, but as the mills commence their season's work it is not unlikely that some reductions may be made in price lists. Some logs have come into the booms, and reports from the various drives give assurance that nearly all the last winter's cut and those hung up in 1876 will reach the mills. It is now estimated that from 120,000,000 to 135,000,000 feet will come down. Several of the mills have commenced work, and all will be in operation in a few days.

The Bay City Tribune says:

The Pine River drive contains 25,000,000 feet. The logs began shooting the dam at Alma on Sunday, and it will require two weeks for the whole drive to pass, logs shooting to dam at the rate of thirty per minute. The Flat River drive is blockaded between Fallasburg and Lowel, the recent heavy rains have caused Grand River to overflow its banks, and Superintendent Sprague has not deemed it advisable to put any logs adrift on its troubled bosom until the water shall subside. The head of the river is at Fallasburg.

A dispatch from St. Charles says the following is the amount of logs expected to come out from the small streams, tributaries of the south branch of the Bad river:

From the Limbarker Creek, James Bros.	600,000
Pine Creek, Amos Gould	2,500,000
Potato Creek, Jared Fish	900,600

Oregon Timber.—An Oregon paper says: Possibly this State may become as preemient for its ship-building interests in the future as the Pine Tree State has in the past. The attention of shipbuilders has of late been directed to this side of the continent, and they have found inexhaustible forests of red and yellow fir, from which immense sticks, 150 feet in length, are easily obtained. Planks 60 and 90 feet in length, can be procured easily, and in strength they are considered equal to Eastern white oak, and bolts driven through them will break before they draw. In them iron does not become "sick," as shipmasters say. The tide-land spruce of Washington Territory and Oregon is thought to be equal to the hackmatack of the Eastern States, and is suited for the top timber, knees and breasthooks. The fine grained and durable yellow cedar that grows along the coast from Coos Bay to Port Orfort, is fine deck material, and trees 175 feet high are frequently met with. White cedar is abundant in Washington Territory, and laurel for keelsons and sternposts is easily procured. For trenails and staunchions the locust which grows in the warm valleys can be obtained. A cargo of masts, spars, decking and ship keels was recently taken to Bath, Me., from Puget Sound, Washington Territory, and gave such satisfaction in the yard of one of the largest shipbuiding firms there that other shipments of the same kind will be made.

Nails.—Demand now and then reaches a point of animation, but it is only spasmodic and disappears about as quickly, or even more so, than it develops. Indeed, the general movement is small as compared with amount of stock in one way and another seeking an outlet, and the harmony of the market is still broken by strong competition. The list rates remain as before, but it is notorious that dealers can buy 10c. or more per keg under the rates named. We quote: 10d. to 60d., common fence and sheathing per keg, $2.60; 8d. and 9d., common do. per keg, $2.85; 6d. and 7d., common, per keg, $3.10; 4d. and 5d., common do., per keg, $3.35; 3d. and 4d., light, per keg, $4.10; 3d., fine, per keg, $4.85; 2d., per keg, $4.85. Cut spikes, all sizes, $2.85. Floor casing and box, 75c. above the same sizes of common. Finishing, $1 above and fine finishing $1.25 above.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1¼in.	2 & 2¼in.	2½ & 2¾ in.	3 in. & longer
$5@$5.25	$1.75	$4.50	$4.25 per keg

OILS.—As a rule the former general range of prices is asked on jobbing parcels, and dealers are not greatly inclined to waver. The wholesale market, however, is not over strong, and this is reflected to some extent upon the smaller operations with rates shaded somewhat to hasten sales. We quote: Linseed, about 58@61c. ₱ gallon; lard, 56@58c. for winter; 51@54c. for No. 1, and 48@51c. for No. 2; crude cotton seed, 35@40c., and refined summer yellow do, 50@51c.

PAINTS.—Demand does not greatly increase from any quarter, and we find a rather dull market. Local consumption has fallen off materially of late. Interior wants are small, and buyers carefully adjust their orders to pressing necessity, even on the most ordinary run of standard goods, leaving supplies as near first hands as possible to be carried. The amount and assortment accumulated are not large or difficult to manage, as production and importation have been carefully adjusted to the wants of the market, but there is a little surplus and holders are on the lookout for customers. Prices are nominally steady all around, but the tendency is to favor the buyer if business will be hastened thereby.

PITCH.—A slow, regular distribution is made on the ordinary outlets, for which the amount of stock available is quite sufficient, and a little to spare. There is no great surplus, however, and rates retain a basis of steadiness. We quote at $1.87½@2.12½ for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Dealers continue to distribute small lots to a fair extent, and at about the former average cost, but the wholesale market has been less active, and prices declined. At the present writing the feeling is somewhat unsettled, and we quote at 29@33 according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Demand has been fair, and the market held about steady on the former general basis of cost. The amount of stock within reach equals most calls, but is not large, nor does it tend to increase. We quote at $2.05@2.15 for Newberne and Washington, and $2 10@2.25 for Wilmington.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

MISCELLANEOUS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DAMP WALLS.

Buildings in an exposed situation, and houses constructed of brick and stone, owing to the porosity of the material employed, are subject to damp walls, which not only injure the health of the occupants, but also destroy the building. Various compositions have been tried to remedy these difficulties, but none were successful until the Silicate Paint Company of England, some six years ago, manufactured an article which is best termed "Petrifying Liquid," or Solution of Silica—made from a deposit of almost pure Silica, found in North Wales. This deposit has been analysed by several chemists, including Professor Flageolet, with the following result:

Silex.....	79	Water	13
Oxide of Iron.	3	Alumina	4
Magnesia	1.

The "Petrifying Liquid" has the property of hardening and rendering impervious to water, all kinds of brick, cement, stucco and masonry. It penetrates into every pore, petrifying and hermetically sealing the outer surface, and is a protection against the destructive influence of the atmosphere, and the changes of temperature.

The Petrifying Liquid is made transparent, so as not to alter the appearance of any surface to which it may be applied. If used on newly plastered walls it renders them at once fit for papering. If applied externally the plaster will become quite as durable, and far more pleasing to the eye than cement. It makes a most effective, durable and economical washable distemper, inasmuch as it does not rub off. For corridors, staircases, kitchens, wards of hospitals, asylums, prisons and other public buildings, it is highly recommended.

Another important specialty of the Silicate Paint Company is their Silicate White Paint, which has been favorably known for a long time, the demand or it increasing so rapidly that they have recently constructed works at Charlton, Kent, England.

It possesses great advantages over white lead and other paints; is non-poisonous; will not dissolve, even in the fumes of gas, and does not crack or rub off.

These materials of the Silicate Paint Company can be obtained of Howard Fleming, 10 Pine street, who is sole agent for the United States.

NEW BUILDINGS IN THE FASHIONABLE QUARTERS.

It is the privilege of New York to possess many fashionable quarters. Some of these are ancient and others more modern. Each in its turn represents some stage of progress in the growth of the metropolis. It has been customary to regard as quartier premier the one in which the latest improvements are being made, and where the more ambitious and progressive of our wealthy citizens seek their residences. It is no exclusive intelligence that the precinct bounded by Forty-second and Fifty-ninth streets, Fourth and Sixth avenues, represents the elite quarter of the period. Whatever prestige may attach to former localities, and whatever glories may be reserved in further developments of the fashionable element for new localities, it is noteworthy that the best mechanical talent and the largest representative wealth of the city today are being centered in this limited parallelogram. The pulsations of the building interests in this quarter furnish the most reliable diagnosis of the health or sickness of city property interest. There was a time when, through the operation of malign causes, it seemed as though this quarter was likely to be left incomplete or only partly built up. Land owners and builders have found less difficulty of late years in agreeing upon contracts than had previously been the rule. In consequence extensive projections of private dwellings have been made during the last two years in this quarter. A close and critical inspection of these new structures furnishes the cheering assurance that hard times have not entirely eliminated taste and spirit from our master builders, and a knowledge of the results which have attended most of these enterprises furnishes a still more gratifying assurance that the demand for elegant and elaborate residences has not entirely died out, nor indeed been fully satisfied. We purpose at some future time to give our leading master builders the benefit of extended and critical notice in these columns as a merited tribute to their skill, courage and matchless enterprise. For the present we shall content ourselves with a passing review of their several productions. Taking them in the order of streets, rather than in the order of merit, we find that on Fortieth street the Messrs. O'Reilly, eminent and well-known builders, have produced attractive and meritorious works. The standard of these builders in respect to quality, style and finish is an exceptionally high one. Their performances really leave nothing to be desired in mechanical or artistic respects. We have the best authority for saying that the architectural details of their work are elaborated in their own office under their own direction and supervision. The evidences which their completed works furnish of aptitude and success in this direction should silence all cavillers as to the practicability or expediency of a builder undertaking to master the theoretical principles of his trade. In arranging the floors, in the furniture and fitting of houses, in front elevations, in fact, in all artistic details, the Messrs. O'Reilly certainly exhibit no deficiency of talent or handicraft. The best proof of the estimation in which their productions are held by the public may be found in the readiness of sale which attends them even in these unpropitious times. On Fifty-fifth street, between Madison and Fourth avenues, Alderman McCafferty and architect Buckley are just completing four houses that evince care and skill as well as excellent taste in their construction. The sixteen-foot house has original features well worth studying. Mr. Buckley is making rapid strides in his profession, and promises to be among the leaders in establishing models of plan and embellishment.

The prices which have been lately realized by this firm completely dispel the idea of any great annihilation of values in choice residence property. On the corner of Forty-fifth street and Madison avenue there is another block of very massive and elegant houses, also good exponents of the handiwork of this firm. On Fifty-fourth street at the corner of Madison avenue, Daniel Hennessy, with the assistance of R. W. Buckley, the architect, has finished a block of five exceedingly ornate and sumptuous mansions furnished profusely with mirrors, cabinet work and all the appliances of modern fashionable dwellings. Some of these have the dining-room extension, and in addition present neat plant cabinets exposed to the rays of the southerly sun. On Fifty-third street between Fifth and Sixth avenues the Messrs. Talman have finished a block of neat and substantial houses that have met with prompt appreciation on the part of the public. In Fifty-fourth and Fifty-sixth streets the Messrs. Lynde have adorned the respective blocks with attractive and comfortable dwellings finished in various kinds of wood displayed with rare taste and workmanship, the parlor floors being especially deserving of notice. The vestibules are laid in mosaic tiles, and the fire-grates are executed in unique designs of highly polished nickel plate and gilt. Pier mirrors and consoles adorn the parlors, the back parlor mantel and mirror frame being wrought in new designs incorporating neat bric-a-brac cabinets. In Madison avenue an imposing block of ten houses is in course of erection under the directorship of Messrs. Duggin & Crossman, embodying many of their distinctive and original features. On Fifty-seventh street Messrs. Einstern, Scheftel and Main have each contributed specimens of luxurious and richly finished mansions. On Fifty-eighty street Mr. McManus has recently completed and sold two full sized residences which vie in splendor and profusion of details, and in the excellence of their planning with any houses that may be found in the fashionable quarter. Mr. McKenna is just finishing two imposing and elaborate residences with octagon fronts, at a peculiarly eligible point on this favorite street (Fifty-eighth) as they will command an unobstructed and permanent view of the Plaza and grand entrance to the Park. On Fifty-eighth street between Madison and Fourth avenues Mr. Charles Fox has finished and sold three costly and substantial full sized dwellings. At Sixty-first street and Fifth avenue the outlines of Mr. Bostwick's sumptious mansion are looming up in magnificent proportions and with conspicuous effect.

BUILDERS' BOOK-KEEPING.

Few builders are so utterly reckless of consequences as to omit to keep any account of their building transactions, and these few belong to the least reputable class. The fault which may most generally be charged to the craft is a lack of accuracy in the methods of accounting which are adopted. Loose and irregular book-keeping, an unwarrantable dependence on the accounts of others, and a total inability to arrange the costs of building in a clear and intelligible total, lie at the bottom of much of the prevailing misfortune in building enterprises. And yet no manufacturing business admits of more easy control in the matter of accounts, or presents such a favorable opportunity for the natural and systematic array of costs. There are many establishments, the leading ones, of course, in which careful and accurate books of account are kept, and where the book-keeping is as exact and scientific as in any bank or counting-room. The majority of active builders, however, are prone to charge their memories merely with the items of their business, and to rely rather upon haphazard or lump calculations of cost. As we are now entering upon an era of close and sharp competition in the building line, accurately determined costs of production will become indispensable elements of success and safeguards against failure. Builders generally should habituate themselves to reduce their business to a reliable system of accounts, and accustom themselves to regard their operations from the standpoint of close and careful calculation.

The advantages of accurate accountings are too obvious to require illustration or enforcement, and must be already fully appreciated by any who have heretofore relied upon them. The slightest experience with systems of accounts cannot fail to commend them to those who have heretofore ignored them.

The simplest phase of the building business is, that in which the master builder acts merely as an overseer or superintendent of the work, and does not undertake to perform in person any specific task. Where all the different items of work, including mason's and carpenter's work, are given out in contracts, the arrangement of these items of detailed cost in a consolidated result is a simple matter of arithmetic. The work becomes more complicated where either the mason or carpenter work, or both, is undertaken in person by the master builder operating through foremen and employed mechanics. To make the cost of such works tally with the other items of cost, it becomes necessary to keep a close watch over the outgo of expenditures.

No man is competent to act as foreman who is not able to keep an accurate time book, and to apportion the sums paid for labor to the various jobs where they belong. The foreman should also be able to discriminate the bills of materials purchased, so that their cost may be likewise properly apportioned. Where a business is large and intricate, such tasks are likely to become too onerous for the foreman to attend to, and then it becomes necessary to deputize a clerk of the works, whose business it shall be to regulate and formulate the expenses of production.

Some builders undertake to perform with their own hired mechanics a great variety of work connected with house building, such as the painting, plastering, brown stone and stair work, besides the mason and carpenter work. In these cases the accounts become very voluminous and complicated, and the employment of a skilled book-keeper becomes imperative.

We have no idea of being able to suggest plans and methods to those builders who are already conducting their business on a sound mercantile basis. But we cannot lose sight of the fact that a great deal of business is not so conducted. For the benefit of the average house-builder we will venture to suggest a few leading ideas which will enable an intelligent man without trained assistance to maintain thorough or sufficient oversight and control over the expenditures of his business.

The items of work which are given out in separate contracts present little difficulty, as these may be readily formulated. A strict record should be kept of payments made to the several sub-contractors on account of their contracts. An ordinary memorandum book, such as may be purchased on the streets or at the stationers, will suffice for this purpose. One page in such a book should be devoted to each individual contract, and should be headed with the name of the sub-contractor. On such a page should be entered the date and amount of each partial payment of the contract price. This will enable the builder to see at a glance how much has been paid and how much is due upon a given contract. We may add that such an account faithfully kept will constitute acceptable evidence in any court of law.

The accounts of mason and carpenter work call for greater minutiæ and particularity. Separate and accurate pay-rolls should be kept for each job, whether the work performed may be done on the premises where the improvement is being made, or away from them. In carpenter work, especially, the pay-roll of all shop work should be properly apportioned and distributed among the several jobs, and each sub-division charged under its appropriate head in the book of each job. The rule should be rigidly enforced of requiring all material men to furnish separate itemized bills for materials sent to any particular job, or intended to be used for a specific job. As these bills are received their totals should be entered on the account book under the appropriate heading, whether for carpenter or mason work.

A page in the memorandum book should be devoted to lot account, in which the original cost of the land should be entered, and for convenience all the incidental expenses not appertaining to the mechanical portion of the work may be entered in this same account, such as interest, taxes, legal and architectural fees, brokerages, etc.

Such a system of accounts really embraces all that is necessary to furnish a builder with an intelligible view of the cost of his work as it progresses. It would be well to devote a page in this book to a record of any notes which may be given out, indicating their dates of maturity and amounts.

The only further suggestion that we have to make is that a monthly balance sheet should be taken off in a form which we will indicate. This balance sheet will consist of an enumeration of the headings of all these accounts. Three parallel columns will be required to display the needful data. In the first column opposite it appropriate heading may be stated the total amount of each contract as made, or the assumed cost of the item of work. In the second column may be given the amount paid on account of each item. In the third column may be stated the difference between the respective amounts in the second and first columns—which will be the amounts unpaid and due on each item of work and the total of these differences will be the whole amount unpaid on the job. This balance sheet will enable the builder to perceive at a glance the precise financial position of his job and will constitute besides a faithful monitor of the accruing costs and their distribution.

We submit this form of balance sheet without any further explanation, believing that it will commend itself to the approval of painstaking builders, and as here presented will be self-explanatory.

ODORS AND NUISANCES.

No subject demands more earnest and united attention, on the part of property holders, than do the twin subjects of odors and nuisances. The one is general and pervasive, the other is special and local. Together or singly they exert an almost immeasurable influence in the depression or destruction of real estate values. They may properly be ranked among the potentially destructive forces, such as fire, tempest and earthquake, and are not surpassed by the moral force of panic. The American notion of the rights of property is so radical and absolute as almost to defeat itself. Until quite recently, the slightest invasion of individual rights of property was sure to provoke the greatest storm of indignation. The progress of enlightened civilization has led to some modification of this extreme notion. A generation which has sat quietly under the enactment of the General Railroad Law, of the Pipe Line Law, and which has tolerated the absorption of vast areas of private property for the creation of boulevards and parks, might in time be educated to listen to some fair and reasonable proposition looking to the protection of property against the invasion of nuisances and the dissemination of foul odors. At this late day, our citizens have little occasion to be instructed in the rudiments of this subject. But few persons who frequent this island as a place of residence or of business have escaped the discomfort and annoyance of nauseating smells. The vitiating and destructive power of these odors intensifies in ratio as their source or fountain-head is approached, although the Board of Health cannot be so persuaded. No better illustration can be asked for of the destructive power of foul smells than is to be found in the condition of real estate in the section of the city once known as Chelsea. Ever since the establishment of the gas-works, at the foot of Nineteenth street, North River, a blight has rested upon the surrounding property. Many years ago the founder of the Moore estate engaged in a laudable and enthusiastic effort to render this quarter one of the most attractive and desirable in the city. The results of that effort can be seen in the superior styles of residence that there prevail, many of them being as spacious and elegant as can be found on the line of Fifth avenue. Its ready accessibility, its commanding view of the North River, its exposure to the invigorating westerly winds were natural advantages which few other sections of the city could lay claim to; and yet none of these were sufficient to withstand the malign influence of the nauseating smells emitted from the gasworks and the intolerable discomfort of an atmosphere heavily laden with coal smut. Smells not only pervade the interior of dwellings, but the coal smut finds its way in-doors, through crevices and open windows, and sadly begrimes and mars delicate furniture, frescoing and carpeting. So notorious was this state of things that, during the great inflation of real estate, this property scarcely participated in the rise, and its value has remained stationary for nearly twenty years. The destructive influence of special nuisances is plaintively exemplified all over the surface of the island. One of the greatest hardships that speculative builders have to contend with, after having commenced their improvements on an unrestricted block, is the possibility of the projection in close proximity of some formidable nuisance. On one of the uptown streets, adjacent to Fifth avenue, there stands a conspicuous and elaborate dwelling, which was fully completed over six years ago, and yet has never been sold or occupied. This building cost the original owner what would now be considered a moderate fortune. It has been taken in under foreclosure by an insurance company, and the secret of its present unsaleableness is found in the fact that directly opposite there stands a livery stable built shortly after the completion of the dwelling. This facility of planting palpable nuisances, such as stables, breweries and factories, in the midst of select residence quarters is a grievous and intolerable injury to property interests, and one for which some legal and potent remedy should be devised.

The method heretofore commonly resorted to is for property holders to combine together and place restrictions upon neighboring land. The utility of this method was demonstrated in the case of the Columbia College property, all of which was leased many years ago, and built upon.

The negotiability and popularity of these leases so far exceed that of any other experience with leased property that these facts may be fairly attributed to the wise and stringent restrictions which have been placed upon these lots. Other neighboring estates, particularly the Willets and

Stevens, have found their advantage in imposing similar restrictions upon their property. The action of individual property owners is apt to be inharmonious, discordant and unreliable. The sentiment of citizens in time, we believe, will tolerate and demand the framing of some general statute intended to regulate the improvement of property. A discretion should be confided to the Building Department, or the Board of Health, or both, to determine when any projected building is likely to be obnoxious to surrounding occupation, and when the facts will warrant its total prohibition.

A fine opportunity is presented in that portion of the city north of Fifty-ninth street, for property owners to combine in some well considered and concerted movement which will have the effect of guaranteeing suitable portions of this property as permanently select residence sites. We may safely dismiss the idea that any of this property will be wanted for business purposes during the next fifty or one hundred years, or if any is likely to be so wanted these portions can be easily defined and reserved from such restrictions. That such action would be welcome to the mass of house occupiers in this city is as certain as that it would confer substantial pecuniary benefit upon the owners of the land.

In this connection, we cannot forego an allusion to the able and incisive report which has recently been given to the public by Mr. Thomas B. Musgrave, the banker, in reference to the odors and nuisances that afflict our long suffering and forbearing citizens. We refer to this report with pleasure, as an indication and an outcome of citizen energy and vigilance. By substantial and meritorious service, Mr. Musgrave is unconsciously asserting a claim for recognition as a courageous and public spirited citizen. Half a-dozen prominent citizens, endowed with the force, energy and persistence of Thomas B. Musgrave could easily and speedily effect all the vital reforms so sadly needed in this city. Popular rights in this city need a few more champions, equally determined and fearless.

METHODS OF BUILDING LOANS.

We propose to describe some of the legal formalities with which building loan transactions are usually invested. Ostensibly these transactions are sales of land at given prices coupled with a loan of money as an inducement or incentive to the builder to make his improvements, the whole property, land and improvements, being made subservient to the capitalist's claim for the value of the land and the amount of the advances made as loans. In effect many of these transactions are devices for evading the usury law and are framed and projected with the view of deriving from the use of money more than the legal rate of interest. Rarely are they prompted by any sentimental spirit of enterprise or unselfish desire to develop the resources of the country.

Embarkations in these schemes are apt to encounter two formidable obstacles, to wit: the Mechanics' Lien Law and the Usury Law. Legal ingenuity is taxed in its utmost resources to render the interests of venturesome capitalists invulnerable to the penalties of these statutes. Under the operation of the Mechanics' Lien Law, the capitalist is supposed to incur a responsibility to the creditors of the builder; while, under the Usury Law, he runs the risk of forfeiting his entire investment of capital at the caprice of an ignorant jury and under the constrained interpretation of our harsh statute relating to the interest on money. There are able counsel in the city who will undertake to guide their clients safely through all these labyrinthine dangers. Conservative and experienced lawyers, however, preferring to pluck from the nettle danger the flower safety, are in the habit of warning their clients away from this class of financial undertaking. Now for the several methods by which the business can be executed.

1. By Contract.—In this case the capitalist is supposed to be vested with the title of vacant lands, whether by recent or remote purchase it matters little. Then under the form of an executory contract, he stipulates to sell the land to a builder at a given price and upon certain covenants and conditions; the principal one of which is that the builder shall proceed immediately to erect a certain number of buildings, whose character and general design are carefully defined. The building specifications are drawn with more or less rigor according to the degree of confidence which the parties may repose in each other. The agreement to lend money is a closely guarded and conditional one and its fulfilment depends upon the freedom of the premises from liens for labor and materals, and the progress made in advancing the building improvements. The capitalist usually binds himself to make certain graduated payments at several stages of progress in the work, and reserves important rights in case of delay, total default, or the imposition of liens. Failure to carry forward the work generally involves the forfeiture of the contract and qualifies the capitalist to re-enter the premises, take possession and sell out the interests of the contractor at public auction. The expectation primarily indulged, however, is that the builder will carry forward his works to completion, and then release the capitalist either by sale of the property or by mortgaging it for a sufficient sum to cancel his claim.

This method of doing the business, is probably the most acceptable and practicable of any. It has many advantages to recommend it. For example, the title of the real estate remains vested in the rightful owner, and the terms of the contract plainly recognize him as the real, though passive master of the enterprise. The monstrous fiction is avoided of installing as owner a person, who, possibly, may not be possessed of sufficient ready cash to pay for the fences enclosing the property, and who assumes the mask of owner by the grace or favor of the real owner, upon exchanging for the title deeds certain indentures of mortgage. The contract system avoids this false pretence—and when properly framed, should define in plain and unequivocal terms, the true relationship of the parties and the nature of their undertaking.

Such a contract takes its root, not only in the organic law of the land, but in the common law recognized by English speaking nations, and would be invincible and impregnable to all legal assaults but for the interposition of special statutes.

The freedom and ease with which capitalists have operated in this way, often deriving exorbitant profits, and the summary and unceremonious manner in which they have appropriated under the provisions of these contracts the property of others in satisfaction of their claims, have led the sub-contractors and mechanics to procure the enactment of special statutes designed to protect their interests. The Mechanics' Lien Law has always been a terror to building loan exploits, and a stumbling block in the administration of these contracts, particularly, as it is subjected to frequent and material changes, involving opposite and intricate constructions and effects. At one time the law was so stringently framed that it actually invaded the rights of property, and vested rights in mortgages. By the interpolation of a single line, the Mechanic's Lien was made superior to any mortgage, and as thus worded it was sustained by the Courts. This perverted and harsh phraseology had the effect of completely stopping the business of building loans, and there was no revival of it until after the Legislature of 1863 expunged the offensive language and restored the law to its original shape. Successive and arbitrary changes in this law continued to excite the apprehension of learned counsel as to the safety of funds mixed up in building transactions. At the present day, experienced practitioners consider it an open and unadjudicated question as to how far the amended law of 1875 protects the capitalist in advancing money on unfinished buildings. Notably in the cases of Burbridge vs. Hart, Robinson Judge: and Holly vs. Dacunha, Van Vorst Judge, the integrity and inviolability of these building loan contracts as against the operation of the Mechanics' Lien Law were decisively maintained. An adjudication of these questions in the Court of Appeals, would be of incalculable value to the building trade of the city, and would set at rest a line of qustions which these contracts are constantly suggesting.

Under the authority of these latest decisions the capitalist is allowed to embark with impunity in these transactions under the contract form. The mechanics, material men and sub-contractors are compelled to look for their dues to the financial responsibility of the builder outside of the transaction in which he may be engaged, as their liens will only apply to the earned but unpaid portion of a loan.

2. By Deed and Bond and Mortgage.—In this case, under the terms of an executory contract, the capitalist conveys, at the first step, or at an early stage in the affair, the vacant land in fee simple to the builder and takes back a mortgage for the purchase money. Then, under the terms of the agreement, he makes progressive loans of money, securing each advance by a separate mortgage. One mortgage may be given at the commencement of the transaction covering the entire amount of the proposed loan. The former method of separate mortgages for each advance of money is favored by more cautious counsel as being the cleaner and more specific method of dealing with the subject. It is the commoner custom to find one mortgage executed for the whole amount of the proposed loan. This general plan is deemed to be the most efficient in guarding against the operation of mechanics liens, as in case of any default all adverse interests can be extinguished through foreclosure of mortgage and the capitalist enabled to recover possession with an unclouded title. But the objections to this method are many and serious. In the first place it vests the builder with the title of property for which he has not paid a cent, and which may be, and usually is, free of all encumbrances when deeded to him. If the builder is a tricky or unscrupulous person, or if he should fail in an early stage of his undertaking, the capitalist is subjected to a burdensome expense in recovering the title to his property. The element of possession by the builder may be turned to very active account. All sorts of defences may be set up to the foreclosure of the mortgage merely as a means of levying blackmail or gaining a favorable settlement. The critical element of usury may be allowed recklessly or unconsciously to creep into these transactions, and its effect must be far more fatal than when the title is not alienated from the capitalist. For instance, where the property has been but recently purchased, say on the very day when the capitalist reconveys it, the profit, great or small, which may have been exacted is plainly revealed and may admit of no justification on the ground of a market fluctuation. It becomes quite an easy matter for the builder to construe this profit as a bonus paid for the use of money. Where the whole transaction is merged into mortgages, the possibility of such a meritorious defence being urged must certainly contribute to the disquietude of the capitalist, while the courts are only too ready to entertain these pleas from delinquent mortgagors however disingenuously they may be set up.

It is a common occurrence for the capitalist or his counsel to seek to derive premiums or percentages for making payments in advance of their maturity. These deductions from the stipulated payments have an ugly appearance when formulated in an account, and can hardly be justified in reason or in law. A wide door is here opened for establishing a successful defence to the mortgage.

As compared with the contract system this method must be regarded as inferior. The unalienated title, the qualified right of possession, the readiness of recovery, the clear definition of the relations in which the parties stand, must give a decided preference to the former system.

3. By TRUSTEESHIP.—As a refinement of legal ingenuity we have now to consider a case which embraces the advantages of both the other methods with an additional guaranty lacking in each of them. In this case the property is conveyed by deed to the builder and covered back again to the owner by mortgage. The mortgage for the whole sum proposed to be advanced as loan is executed and delivered simultaneously with the transfer of the land; and the money representing the entire loan is paid over at the time to the builder. But it is no sooner received by him than he is required to pay the same over to a trustee mutually agreed upon, who is expected to dispense the money under the conditions of the mutual agreement creating the trusteeship. Of course, the trustee selected is a friend of the capitalist and probably under his complete control. This trustee assumes a position in the transaction, strictly analagous to that of the capitalist under the contract system. The builder in subscribing to the articles of trusteeship is required to waive, and does formally waive, all legal and equitable defences which can be set up to the penalties and exactions of the building loan contract, or to the foreclosure of the mortgages, when the occasion for such procedure may arise. This may be considered the most rigid and metallic straight-jacket that can be devised for encasing a building loan transaction. It may be easily surmised that the money advanced as loan, after it has passed from the builders hands into the hands of the trustee, may find its way directly to the capitalist—the original lender; or at all events is left practically under his control. No greater security can be required by any capitalist than is afforded by this method. The single difficulty will be to find good and self-respecting builders willing to surrender and subordinate their every right to the absolute discretion of the capitalist.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—On common hards there has not been many really new developments up to the present writing. Demand has been fair enough to take most of the stock offering, and some dealers think the movement was a little quicker, if anything, though hardly enough so to stimulate values, and no serious attempt has been made to secure an advance. Indeed the comparatively easy terms are to a large extent the incentive to consumption, as the very close margin upon which all contracts now have to be figured would soon be cut off by an advance on brick. Quality too has been somewhat better on the average and this has given sellers less opportunity to exact a full figure for selections. About $5.62½ per M. seems to be the average top rate on Haverstraws, and "Up Rivers" rarely exceed $4.75, except on choice Fishkills, which can now and then be forced up to $5.00 per M. Pale Brick continue plenty as compared with the very limited demand, and the tone is heavy on all lots with most sales at about $2.00 per M. Croton Fronts are in good fair demand, and about steady. The finer grades of Fronts also receive full share of attention, and dealers seem well pleased with the condition of business. Baltimores naturally are the least active, but a considerable number are wanted, Trentons are scarce, and command full former rates, and Philadelphias are selling well with an inclination to a firmer tone, and not a very large amount of stock at the moment available. Export business seems to be quiet this week on all grade of stock.

We quote Pale, ₱ M., $2.00@$2.12½; Hards, Up-rivers, $4.25@$4.75; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@$5.50; favorite brands, $5.75@$6.00: Fronts, Croton—brown, $7; dark $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $23@$27; Trenton, $21.00@$29.00; Baltimore, $34@$38.00. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@$3 higher on ordinary and $5.00@$6.00 on fronts.

GLASS.—Business shows some irregularity, but no great volume, and most buyers who appear on the market come with small orders closely calculated to immediate wants and beyond which they refuse to operate. Imports and domestic production are kept as near the apparent necessities of the market as possible, but as a rule tend to over-run a little, rather than to result in shortage. On values there is an inclination to talk matters a trifle steadier, but we still find so much variation between the views of various dealers as to just what should be quoted, that it seems prudent to still refrain from mentioning any positive discount.

HARDWARE.—There has been a fairish sort of trade on local account, and some of the wholesale jobbers advise an increased amount of builders' hardware taken out by customers who expect to make an early distribution. Interior demand, however, is by no means brisk or certain, and still appears a source of disappointment to a large portion of the trade. The old plan, however, of stated seasons for buying is broken up in many sections, and customers now merely order supplies as necessities require, but probably handle about as much in the course of a year as before. Prices continue to vary to some extent, but the effort is to make a little better show of steadiness if possible. The slight addition to the cost of wood screws noted last weeks has been adopted by all the leading manufacturers. The Morse Twist Mill and Machine Co. have issued a reduced list for their specialties retaining the old discount of 25 per cent.

LATH.—The advantage of the position has remained with the selling interest to the extent of maintaining former values without difficulty, and disposing of all the stock received up to the present writing. As before noted local wants seem to have capacity for exhausting two or three cargoes every week or so, and as the supply is not allowed to come forward freely, no unsold accumulation takes place. We understand that there was quite a call from Newark at full rates. The sales reported for delivery here were at $1.55 per M., and this may be considered the cargo valuation for the time being. From yard the distribution is fair and rather on the increase.

LIME.—The demand has not fallen behind to any extent, neither has it improved, and the market seems to simply jog along in the old slow and monotous form. Values remain as before with possibly a slightly steadier feeling, but with no special inclination to talk buoyantly, that we could discover. State lime, as usual, follows the tone of Eastern, though there is a claim of greater firmness on fine lots of finishing.

LUMBER.—A canvass of our lumber market in search of new features is about as unprofitable a task of its kind, as can well be undertaken at present, and we again commence our weekly report with the stereotyped "nothing new." The trifling increase of movement advised in our last continues, and many dealers are also inclined to consider the outlook as more promising, but are not speculating in any way upon the chances, and quietly await any addition to demand that may develop. Of accumulations on hand, there appears to be a very fair amount without positive surplus, or any too good an assortment, yet sellers appear to satisty all calls, and have enough to open negotiations with the next customer, in all cases. Some arrivals are, of course, taking place, and more may be expected during the coming month, but our dealers are not as a rule buying beyond positive wants. Indeed one of our leading houses, instead of bringing forward supplies of which they were owners, have sold them to parties at the point of storage, (Mich.), for relatively more than could at present be obtained here. The export trade continues about the same in volume and form with the West Indies' the destination for most shipments on fresh orders. A considerable amount of stuff goes out still for ceiling grain vessels, but not in excess of former years. The Albany Argus in giving a list of amounts and destinations of lumber shipped from this port included a large number of these ceiling parcels, and in such form as would be likely to convey the impression that exports were increasing, and new points calling for lumber. On the contrary, the amount is probably less than last year, but not until this year have the Custom House authorities reported the clearances. The old form was simply to publish the vessel with so many bushels of grain, but now there is very properly added the number of feet and value of lumber carried, and this gives the appearance of an increase of shipments. We make this explanation, as the error of the Argus was a natural one, and may be repeated by other journals.

Eastern spruce of poor and unattractive quality, is not easy to place on any outlet, even when offered quite low, but desirable cargoes are in rather greater favor, and gain a little strength on price. Receivers report their advices stong with a determined expression among manufacturers, and intimations of light shipments from many points, though this is not general, as mills in some cases are well supplied with logs, and whatever they saw for random will be sent to a market. On the general range, prices remain as last week. We quote at $12.00@$13.00 for random, possibly $13.50 for choice lengths in small cargo, and $13.00@$14.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White pine shows no very great change since our last. There has been a litte demand for ordinary local consumption, and a few calls from box makers, though the larger consumers on the latter account are understood to contract mostly with primary markets for through shipments. The supply and assortment on hand is fair. Exporters are calling for about the same quantities as a week or two past, mostly for the West Indies, but the movement is not free, and runs behind last year We quote at $15@17 per M. for West India shipping boards; $20.00@21.00 for South American do; $15@16 for box boards; $17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $30@40 per M.

Yellow pine has a steady market, and dealers appear to think there is a possibility of some slight improvement especially for deliveries here or at nearby points, owing to fuller rates asked on freight charges. Some few sales have recently been made, including siding at $19, and flooring boards at $22 for seasoned, but we hear of very little call for specials at the moment. A moderate export trade is doing on orders for shipment direct from the South. We quote random cargoes at about $18@21 per M.; ordered cargoes, $22@24 do; green flooring boards, $20@21 do; and dry do. do. $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $14@15.50 per M; hewn timber, $7.50@14.

Hardwoods without much general activity. Some exports are making in part on purchases here and in part on through shipments, while on local account a few buyers are to be found, but most orders are moderate and carefully drawn and closely figured on cost. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: walnut $77@85 ₱ M; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do., do., culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $15@75 do.; white wood, ¼ and ⅜ inch., $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $25@30 do. for Western, and $10@50 for good near-by stock.

Some of our dealers have done a very good trade from yard, and others report matters as dragging, but neither represent the general situation. Most of the stuff going out is in small parcels, but when the aggregate is considered, the movement proves reasonably full for the season and the average condition of business. Prices about steady on former bases.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

STATE.

The exports of lumber from New York to twenty-five foreign ports during the week cover about 1,300,000 feet.

The receipts at Chicago since January 1st, 1878, are 165,251,000 feet against 100,157,000 feet for a corresponding period in 1877. The shipments, 186,552,000 feet against 153,726,000 feet.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week by lake are 5,822,500 feet; by rail, 80 car loads.

The receipts at Oswego for the week 3,753,000 feet; the shipments by canal, 2,875,200 feet.

Freights from Buffalo and Tonawanda to Albany are 2.10 ₱ M. feet; from Oswego, $1.60.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office:

BAY CITY, Monday, May 27, 1878.

The lumber market remains active and prices firm for good stock. But few buyers have been in the valley during the week, yet we hear of a number of sales having been made at $6, $12, $28, and one sale of 2,000,000 box lumber, to be sawed, at $7 50. Most of the mills on the river have been shut down for some time owing to high water and the impossibility of getting logs from the booms. Rafts are now arriving freely, and the mills are all starting up again. The dry stock is pretty well sold off, yet there still remain a few lots which are held firm at the market prices.

The demand for shingles is strong and prices firm at quotations. Lath firm, with little in the market to supply the demand.

Shipping is rather light at present, and freights are so low as to preclude a possibility of the owners of floating property making any money. In fact, if a boat clears herself at the present rates of freight her owner may feel thankful.

The following are the shipments from the Saginaw River :

	For the week.	For the season to date.
Lumber	17,970,000	124,589,403
Lath	1,455,000	10,035,890
Shingles	4,150,000	30,174,400
Staves	40,000	133,500
Hoops	500,000	3,113,000
Timber	71,000	83,000

The wholesale quotations following are the prices at which manufacturers hold stocks.

Three uppers	$28 00@30 00
Common	12 00@14 00
Shipping culls	6 00@ 7 00
Lath	@ 1 40

The Minneapolis Lumberman and Manufacturer has the following :

THE LOG SUPPLY FOR 1878.

The drives have so far progressed on the majority of the streams of Michigan as to render it nearly certain that the entire crop cut last winter will be secured; and the same is true of the streams of Eastern Wisconsin. The amount of logs thus made available for sawing this season, though not officially determined, may be figured up with approximate certainty. The Green Bay shore of Lake Michigan may be set down as furnishing the following:

	Feet.
Manistee River	6,000,000
Day's River	3,000,000
Escanaba	5,000,000
Ford River	30,000,000
Cedar River	11,000,000
Menominee	160,000,000
Peshtigo	45,000,000
Oconto	30,000,000
Pensaukee, Big and Little Suamico	8,000,000
Navirino	6,000,000
Green Bay Shore	5,000,000
Sturgeon Bay	18,000,000
Total	327,000,000

This amount, as compared with the crop of 1877, is short. We are unable to make the comparison for want of reliable information as to the amount of logs carried over on a few of the smaller streams, but we give the figures as far as they are at hand, including logs carried over:

	Feet.
Menominee	169 000,000
Peshtigo	41,0 0 000
Oconto	56,000,000
Escanaba	5,000,000
Big Cedar	11,000,000
Total	282,000,000

Or within 45,000,000 of as many feet as the whole shore produces this year. We have not included the Wolf River in the above, as it finds a different market, but it will not vary much from 60,000,000 feet more. The other districts are estimated as follows:

1878.	Feet.
Saginaw District	300,000,000
Alpena and Au Sable	85,000,000
Cheboygan and Duncan City	45,000,000
Manistee	115,000,000
Pere Marquette	75,000,000
Muskegon	225,000,000
White River	60,000,000
Grand River	60,000,000
Total	943,000,000

The comparison with 1877 would be:

1877.	Feet.
Saginaw District	628,000,000
Alpena and Au Sable	161,000,000
Cheboygan and Duncan City	56,000,000
Manistee	168,000,000
Pere Marquette	122,000,000
Muskegon	347,000,000
White River	85,000,000
Total	1,592,000,000

This includes the following amounts of logs carried over, as per Secretary Stockbridge's annual report:

	Feet.
Au Sable	11,000,000
Alpena	15,000,000
Cheboygan	4,000,000
Manistee	20,000,000
Pere Marquette	17,000,000
Muskegon	22,000,000
White River	3,000,000
Grand River	5,000,000
Total	97,000,000

Adding the Green Bay shore and lower Peninsula sums together, we find that the total amount of lumber produced this year will be:

West Shore	327,000,000
Lower Peninsula	943,000,000

Chicago, it is claimed, will endeavor to secure of this amount from 800,000,000 to 900,000,000, against 1,056,000,000 last year; but we venture the prediction that she will do no such thing. Saginaw, Alpena and Au Sable, with their 385,000,000, will find markets for the bulk of their crop through Lake Erie, and then be short of a supply equal to the demand. Milwaukee, Racine and other points on Lake Michigan will claim a large slice of the crop, probably not less than 250,000,000 feet.

In the West the situation is critical. The drives on the Upper Mississippi are safe. The St. Croix is struggling hard, and will secure the bulk of her crop, but we are inclined to think that some of the lumbermen are over-sanguine in the matter, and will have a portion of the logs hung up. The Chippewa, Black and Wisconsin have thus far met with poor success in getting out their logs. In round numbers, the drives have given the mills the following amounts:

	Feet.
Upper Mississippi	115,000,000
St. Croix	25,000,000
Chippewa	75,000,000
Black	50,000,000
Wisconsin	15,000,000
Total	280,000,000

The fair and reasonable prospects are that they will secure at least 650,000,000 or 700,000,000 feet, with such floods as may be anticipated. This will give half a crop, and four-fifths as much as was sawed in 1877; the difference being that there are no stocks of sawed lumber to draw from to make up the shortage.

The figures given above will be understood as only probabilities, and as such we present them, claiming only that they indicate as near the present outlook as can now be given.

FOREIGN.

The London Timber Trades Journal has the following:

LONDON, May 10th, 1878.

The present low quotations of wood stocks offer to speculators a not unfavorable opportunity of investing their spare capital, as it is more than likely the bottom of the decline is about reached, and it merely depends on the clearing away of the clouds at present overshadowing the political horizon whether a reaction will not set in. The question of how a war, in which we are the chief actors, will bear on the timber trade of this country has been dealt with in another part of this number, and we shall not touch further on it here than to observe that it will not make prices any worse than they are now. There is very little doubt but there is plenty of inclination among merchants, here and at the outports, to take advantage of the low prices, if they could shake off the sense of weariness engendered by the state of suspense the country has been in for so long a time, or, in other words, if they could only see their way clear to a profit on their outlay within a reasonable time, but they cannot do so until things are in more settled state. Meanwhile, the present strain is acting most hurtfully on trade generally, and among the community of traders it would be felt as quite a relief if the Eastern question were decided one way or the other.

LIVERPOOL, May 8, 1878.

The contipued depression in the general state of the trade of the country, and the strike which is so widely spread through the cotton manufacturing districts, still keep down, as might naturally be expected, the demand for all kinds of wood goods. Pitch pine timber seems to be the most lively article in the market at present, and sales "to arrive" and "on the spot" fully maintain their late values. For other goods the demand is much reduced, and as the demand is only such as is wanted to supply the requirements of the market from day to day, it makes but little impression upon the heavy stocks on hand, as will be seen from the tables below, which give the comparative imports, stocks and consumption.

GLASGOW, May 8, 1878.

During last fortnight the arrivals of wood goods into Clyde have been only three cargoes; one of Michigan, 1st and 2d pine deals and spruce boards and palings: one of sawn pitch pine from Pensacola; one of Norway spars; and 100 billets wainscot from Trieste, per steamer. Three public sales have been held: Messrs. Edmiston and Mitchells, at Port Glasgow, on the 25th ult., American timber; Messrs. Singleton, Dunn & Co., at Greenock, American timber and deals; and Messrs Wm. Connal & Co. offered on the 7th inst., at Yorkhill Yards, Glasgow, a cargo of Mexican mahogany, ex Ross, from Minatitlan.

The aggregrte import up to this time has been small compared with the corresponding period last year, and yet the sales of such portions of last year's stocks as have been lately exposed at auction have not been encouraging, and do not indicate much activity among consumers. The market is supplied with mahogany; meantime only good fresh wood is saleable at remunerative prices.

At Yorkhill, Glasgow, Messrs. Wm. Connal & Co. sold on the 7th inst. about two-thirds of the cargo of Minatitlan mahogany, per Ross say 78,000 feet, prices ranging from 3¼d. to 6½d., average 4 10-32, the bulk of the cargo small and weathered wood.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot meets with a very slow, uncertain demand, and is moved principally in the way of small odd lots as wanted for immediate use by manufacturers. Prices rather slack, and quoted at 16¼@16½c., for Lake. Manufactured is dull, and nominally unchanged, but current rates are only obtained for small job lots. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary sizes, over 16oz., per sq. foot, 28c. per lb.; do. do., do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per sq. foot, 32c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per sq. foot, 34c. per lb.; circles, less than 84 inches in diameter, 31c. per lb.; do. 84 inches diameter and over, 34c. per lb.; segment and pattern sheets, 31c. per lb.; locomotive fire box sheets, 28c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz., per square foot, 26c. per lb., and Bolt Copper, 28c. per pound. IRON—Scotch Pig in very light demand, and though arrivals are not heavy, the stock tends to accumulate. We quote at $23@26 per ton, but the latter rate is only obtained in a very small retail way. American Pig not very active, and still more or less irregular on value, but the tendency is toward somewhat greater firmness. We quote at $18.00@19 for No. 1 per ton, $17.00@18 for No. 2 do, and $15.50@17 for Forge. Rails continue to sell rather slowly, and contracts could be negotiated on easier terms, except for prompt delivery where a full figure would be asked. We quote at $32@35 for new iron, and $43@44.00 for Steel at the mills. Old Rails, $18.00@18.50 per ton; scrap, $20.00@21.00; the latter slow. Manufactured iron selling slowly, and in about average form with no change on value worthy of note. Common Merchant Bar can be had in round lots at 1.7c. and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.8c. and 2c. are respectively insisted upon. Common sheet, 3c., and best R G. American, 4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic pig in moderate and somewhat uncertain demand with stocks offered readily, and terms easy. We quote at about 3¼@3⅜c. currency. The manufactures of lead are quoted: Bar, 5½c.; Pipe, 6c., and Sheet, 6¼c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin-lined Pipe, 15c. Block Tin Pipe, 45c., on same terms. TIN—Pig is held with a show of steadiness, but the demand continues moderate and uncertain, and only small lots can be moved. We quote at 17¼@17⅜c. for Banca, 14⅜@14½c. for Straits, 14½@14⅝c. for English Refined, and 14⅜@14½c. for do common. Tin plates are benefited by the encouraging advices and rule fairly steady, but the demand is without much animation. Spelter is dull and rather tame at 4¾@5¼. Sheet zinc is dull and nominally unchanged. We quote at 7¼@7½c. gold for foreign, and 6@6½c. currency for domestic.

NAILS.—The market does not work into good encouraging shape and the selling interest fails to secure positive advantage. Business is fair in tolal, has increased if anything of late, but supplies are pretty full, all owners anxious to sell and prices weak. The card rate remains at $2.60 for 10d to 60d, but buyers do better than this by 10@15c. per keg.

OILS.—Linseed oil jobs out slowly and has a show of steadiness on small parcels at about 58@60c. per gallon. All other oils, however, are greatly unsettled and, to a large extent, nominal.

PAINTS.—Only a moderately active distribution can be made as buyers are in an indifferent mood and call for invoices to the extent of simple necessity. In a general way prices are steady but slightly favor the buyer.

PITCH.—Business without new features, the demand proving moderate, supplies ample for the outlet and willingly offered with prices about steady. We quote at $1.87½@2.12½ for city deivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The jobbing movement about as usual and on a basis of pretty much former rates, with the undertone of the market firm. Jobbers are fairly supplied, but stocks in first hands are not large. We quote at 29@33c. according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—A fair number of buyers come forward from day to day and keep the average amount of stock moving, but there is not much activity at basis for any decided improvement in prices. We quote at $2.05@2.15 for Newberne and Washington, and $2.10 @2.25 for Wilmington.
