PLUMBERS AND PLUMBING.

Beyond question, a veritable crisis has been reached in the history of the plumbing trade, at least in this city, and possibly in the country at large, which promises to limit the plumbers' opportunities for good or harm and to seriously curtail the demand for his workmanship. It is certain that to average house holders, the plumber long ago became an object of genuine terror; and the plumbing work of buildings, particularly of dwelling houses, a source of deep anxiety and unaffected apprehension. The revolution which menaces this branch of domestic artizanship may be attributed either to the sanitary scare or to the ceramic craze. Whichever solution we may choose to adopt, it is a patent fact that the ancient wash-stand with its ceramic bowl and ewer is becoming a conspicuous object in well regulated households, and threatens to dislodge and supersede the plumbers' handiwork of stationary fixtures. Many new houses which are now being constructed at the owner's private order are especially notable for having the water service reduced to an absolute minimum by the discarding of superfluous and even necessary plumbing fixtures. Not only is this the case in city dwellings, but in summer residences the preference is being given to portable appliances over the introduction of stationary plumbing work.

The great conveniences which mechanical water service was supposed to afford and which it really does afford, such as the readiness of supply, the promptness of discharge, the lightening of domestic service and the superior cleanliness which it ensured, are all weighty arguments in favor of the system. Equally strong considerations must be supposed to operate to effectually disparage and unsettle it.

The rise and decline of the domestic plumbing system will furnish in time the subject of an interesting essay. That it is now in a state of hopeless decline, none but the most prepossessed and biassed would undertake to deny. The forecast of such a condition may be easily discerned in the frantic attempts that have been made by interested parties to reconcile and adjust public opinion to the possibility of overcoming latent and radical defects and flagrant objections in methods that have heretofore been practised. No amount of scientific palaver or of mechanical ingenuity will suffice to allay the alarm occasioned in any one household by the appearance and fatal termination of a case of zymotic disease. But when cases have been multiplied in the same household and widely developed through populous centres, and the cause has been deliberately and unerringly traced to a single seat, then it is not to be wondered at that people who value health and life should seek to apply a radical and permanent cure of the evil. What was once only a whisper among builders and house mechanics grew at length to be the subject of sensational newspaper writing. After passing through these stages it came at last to be dealt with by men of science who elucidated the problem to their own satisfaction, if not to the ready or clear comprehension of the public. The cause of prevailing ill health and of much fatal disease has been reliably assigned to the plumbing work. Efforts have been made to overcome the defined difficulties by the ignorant and the skilled, but without wholly satisfactory results. At length persons of commanding influence in social matters have set the example of totally discarding or materially abridging the use of this great modern improvement and of returing to the customs of our fathers in the adoption of the wash-stand bowl, pitcher and slop-pail.

The inducing cause of this signal domestic revolution or reaction may be attributed directly to the alarm excited in the public mind by scientific investigation. In the failure or only partial success of all prescribed remedies, the public with proverbial common sense and promptness has undertaken to apply a simple but efficacious cure. Whatever we may think of other methods of reform, the one now in course of adoption has the advantage of instituting a complete cure at all points. Certainly if water and drain pipes are restricted in or abolished from a house, and no other fixtures used but the innocuous wash-bowl and earth closet, with their accessories, there will be a sure relief afforded from the incursion of sewer gas. It is certain for the future, that in dwelling houses, whether built by owners or by speculative builders, the item of plumbing will be considerably dwarfed from its former dimensions. Instead of boasting, as was once done, that the plumbing of a single residence has cost from four to five thousand dollars, the builder of the future will no doubt base his claims to public confidence on the fact that his plumbing work is so restricted in extent as to have cost no more than four or five hundred dollars.

There are other causes which we might enumerate as underlying this great domestic reform, and upon their correction and eradication will depend the possibility of the ultimate reinstatement of the plumber's handiwork in the confidence of the community.

That plumbing and house drainage can be made perfectly safe, convenient and healthy, is an indisputable proposition. But that the general public may be convinced that any particular system possesses these qualities is quite another matter.

If plumbers wish to preserve their branch of business as a separate department, and prevent its being merged in some collateral trade and made to play a subordinate part, they will do well to give heed to the frequent admonitions which are addressed to them in current literature and by the experts of their profession.

PLUMBERS.—With all its pretensions as a skilled trade, the workmen in it probably receive less actual training and instruction than those connected with any other branch of house building. The result is, that there are more botch plumbers than expert workmen. The very acme of a plumber's competence is reached when he is able to neatly wipe a joint. In all other respects, such as the laying out and connecting of water service pipes and the distribution of house drainage, the work may be considered as ranking in simplicity much below the workmanship of the brick mason. The trifling demand which the plumbing business as conducted makes upon the intelligence of its mechanics is an encouragement for ignorant and inefficient persons to seek admission to the trade. While an unskilled mason or plasterer may be detected in half-an-hour's work, the unskilful plumber is allowed to perpetrate his blunders and to bury them up unhindered and unmolested through a life 'time. The fact that plumbing work, as a rule, is entangled in a maze of complication and buried out of sight so that none but a professional or expert person can follow the winding courses of the pipes, gives the plumber a superlative advantage over all other trades, and renders his calling an exclusive monopoly. The visit of a house plumber is generally more to be dreaded than that of the family physician, as, in experience, it is often found to be equally or more expensive. The multiplication of plumbers and plumbing establishments creates the necessity for an extortionate system of charges, and few householders can claim exemption from the brazen impositions of jobbing plumbers. Besides charging from one hundred to five hundred per cent. profit upon material furnished, it is the exclusive privilege of the plumbers' trade to be able to make eight quarters out of a single day's work. The custom of sending two men to do the work of one and of subjecting the householder to a charge of from five to ten dollars for the most trivial service, are among the considerations which tend to disgust the public with the trade. The scale of charges exacted even by respectable plumbers is so arbitrary and the details of an ordinary plumbing bill are so perplexing and bewildering as to completely defy the comprehension and intelligent scrutiny of house owners.

Next to the difficulty of finding a skilled mechanic among plumbers, is that of finding one who is possessed of average honesty. And yet there are not a few who pretentiously assert their claim to the distinction of being honest mechanics, and go so far as to charge an extra price for dealing fairly and conscientiously with the rebellious public. When work on an extensive scale is called for, the bill usually transcends the capabilities of an ordinary bank account, and many an owner when confronted with the plumber's startling account has heartily wished that he might abolish the entire system and resort again to simpler and more economical appliances.

The prevailing disposition of plumbers from the first introduction of the Croton water has been to multiply the number of their fixtures, to enlarge the functions of their service and to unnecessarily complicate the plumbing system of houses. House owners, in sheer despair of being able to cope with such unequal adversaries, are now beginning to turn their backs in merited aversion upon the whole plumbing system.

PLUMBING.—During the era of expensive building, it was the aim and pride of builders, seconded by ambitious plumbers, to introduce as many fixtures as possible throughout a house. On every floor, almost in every room, the work of the plumber became the principal feature, if not the chief ornament. Devices of all kinds calculated to extend the water service were introduced into houses, whether or not they were necessary or likely to be useful, and it came at length to be regarded as an evidence of the superiority of buildings that the plumbing work was of the most elaborate and costly description. When we consider the almost inextricable network of pipes, fixtures and stopcocks involved in elaborate plumbing, we can easily understand how completely the owner of an expensive house is left at the mercy of the unscrupulous and rapacious jobbing plumber.

As a rule, builders are totally ignorant of the office or the effects of water service and drainage. They are apt to pride themselves on careful and correct building in the departments of mason work, carpenter work and plastering, and then credulously to leave other details of house construction entirely in the hands of mechanics who claim to be specialists in these particular lines. The plumbing is left without superintendence in the hands of the plumber, the gas-fitting in the hands of the gas-fitter and the furnace work in the hands of the furnace-maker. The average builder usually cares nothing for and knows nothing about the details of these important works, and when called upon to verify their quality, or to make good any defects, he defiantly invokes the name of the mechanic to whom he entrusted their execution. Even at this late date, after so much has been written upon the subject, and so much more been talked concerning it, we will venture to say there is not one builder in a hundred who could give, if called upon, a correct account of the science of house-drainage. They display conspicuously in their advertisements and ring the changes in private conversation upon the words ventilation, plumbing and drainage, while they are aware that personally they have given little or no study or thought to any one of these features of sanitary building.

The reconstruction of old plumbing work and drainage has become a leading feature of the plumbing business of late years, and we will venture the assertion, notwithstanding enormous expense which may have been incurred in this kind of work and the blatant promises of the professional plumbers who do the overhauling, that this reconstruction itself, in time, if not immediately, will need a fresh overhauling. It is no uncommon experience for housekeepers to be called upon to respond to bills ranging from $500 to $2,500 exacted by plumbers for the reconstruction of an old system. After such work has been done it too often proves inadequate as a remedy for evils complained of.

The extensive ramification of pipes throughout a building, however skilfully the work may be done, exposes them to risks of leakages from natural causes and of freezing and subsequent bursting from accidental causes, and an accident of this description is almost as injurious and expensive in household damage as the invasion of disease.

Elaborate systems of plumbing must be abandoned and eschewed altogether. The plumber must be contented in the future to reduce his work and limit it to the sheer necessities of a household. The rule stands good, even under the most approved and scientific systems, that the fewer pipes and the fewer fixtures, the greater the exemption of the household from incursions of sewer gas.

It is altogether probable that the standard of future buildings in respect to plumbing will be a basin for each floor, with the addition of a single bath-tub and water-closet for a given building. These fixtures will be grouped together and confined to some room or portion of the building which may be readily and completely isolated from the living and sleeping rooms.

NEW AND OLD HOUSES.

In a city noted for the transition of its residence quarters as New York has been, it is not surprising that house buyers are frequently called upon to institute comparisons between new and old houses. A fashionable quarter once dislodged is relegated to a condition of occupation totally different and often vastly inferior to its former one. Old houses in an abandoned quarter therefore are rarely brought under the criticism of persons of modern or cultivated taste.

The development of the present fashionable quarter has been so slow, as compared with those of earlier growth, that the opportunity is constantly presented there of contrasting the latest type of modern dwelling with types which flourished and were acceptable as long ago as say twenty or twenty-five years.

If the enthusiasts of the rapid development of a new fashionable quarter intended to supersede the present one will only reflect that it has taken between twenty and twenty-five years to bring the present quarter to its existing status, they will be more readily persuaded that the new quarter will probably require nearly as much time for its ultimate maturity.

The issue is frequently presented to current house buyers whether they shall choose for occupation an old house or a new one. Singular as it may seem, the question is a perplexing and debateable one, upon which public opinion is nearly equally divided, since the scarcity and high cost of new houses contrasts unequally and unfavorably with the plethora and cheapness of old houses. Moreover a goodly share of the prevailing popular demand for old houses is readily traced to the growing spirit of veneration for our ancestors and to a desire to cultivate the antique in such mild forms as it is possible in a new country to present it.

Many a young couple setting out in married life give a ready preference to an old house, over a new one, in this city of expensive residences, upon the score of economy, such houses being often purchasable at lower prices than the more modern and elaborate ones. Older and more expert house buyers claim as advantages in the old building that it has had time to settle and establish itself safely in its moorings, to develop any latent weakness or inherit defects which may exist, that it has undergone the costly and troublesome process of a general overhauling, has been treated to successive applications of the painters' skill, and possibly may have received the benefit of artistic garnishing and embellishment. Thus the incoming owner is spared untold trouble and a large item of expense. Besides the foundation is thus conveniently laid for any new work of improvement and betterment which the last purchaser may see fit to undertake.

There are drawbacks and disadvantages, however, to these houses which cannot be overlooked or made light of. In the first place, they are commonly found to be wholly out of date, and to present such marked contrasts to later standards of house building, that the owners are likely to derive little satisfaction in their occupation, unless they happen to be of an exceedingly eccentric turn of mind. The advantages of settlement and previous overhauling may be more than offset by the inherent deficiencies of the original work, since very few will claim that the work of twenty or forty years ago was equal in merit to the average of first-class work at the present day. In an old house, the principal fixtures, such as plumbing, furnace work and grate work, stairs and carpenter work in general may be worn out or sadly disfigured through sheer wear and tear, and the repair of these different items of work would often fully make up the difference in cost between an old and a new house. There are certain to be odors, nuisances and blemishes attaching to an old house which are never found in a new one, and which are apt to prove wholly ineradicable. However much we may respect a taste for the antique, and however indulgent we may desire to be to those who prefer old houses with their many infirmities and disabilities, we will not attempt to conceal a preference for bright and fresh modern houses, such as our unequalled and indefatigable builders are annually producing and offering to the public. There is an agreeable sprightliness and brilliancy about a new house which will be rarely found in, and can never be imparted to an old one.

In point of mere convenience alone, new houses so far excel and outrank old ones as to cause their superiority to be easily recognized.

The buyer of a new house will have the satisfaction of knowing that he is its first and only occupant. Whatever degree of domestic neatness he may adopt he is at liberty to apply to the ordering of his new home without obstructions arising from former occupation of it. If built by special order, the house not only possesses all the advantages of newness, but the inestimable and incomparable one of typifying and embodying the special ideas of the owner himself. In this case the house becomes a lasting monument to the wisdom, thrift and domestic thoughtfulness of its founder.

The rapid march of improvement in household construction has elevated the work of building, in this city, to the rank of a fine art. In the more expensive houses of the present day, a degree of æsthetic skill and resources is displayed which gives these houses the character of veritable museums of the fine arts.

There is no friendlier wish that we can entertain, at the beginning of the new year, than that our readers may be able to possess, according to their means, the title of a new, tasteful and well-appointed house.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The official statement of The New York Life Insurance Company is published in this edition of our paper.

The exhibit of the business of the institution is so concise and exhaustive that it would seem to be an act of pure supererogation to call attention to any particular items in the tables, or in any way to invoke encouragement in behalf of the Company. That its business is steady, is apparent; that its resources and surplus are simply enormous is amply shown and that its system of speedily adjusting death claims is perfect, is likewise made evident.

In our last issue, under the heading "Expensive Houses," we alluded to the elegant new building on Fifth avenue, between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth streets, erected by the Messrs. Lynde, and stated amount expected to be realized as $90,000, in this we were misinformed. We now desire to give the correct figure, which is $110,000.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

At the Exchange Salesroom a larger number of sales, by order of executors and owners, were held during the week than for the same period for months past. A. H. Muller & Son sold the five-story brick store, No. 180 Washington street, northwest corner of Dey street, for $20,000, to H. Offerman; No. 182 Washington street, for $8,900, to Julia Sullivan; Nos. 184 and 186 Washington street, for $17,800, to J. M. Jackson; No. 76 Dey street, for $10,000, to J. M. Jackson, and No. 242 Fulton street, southwest corner Dey street, for $21,150, to C. S. Carter. R. V. Harnett sold the block of land on the easterly side of Broadway, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets, for $141,200; fourteen lots, comprising the block, on the south side of Eighty-fourth street, between Grand Boulevard and Eleventh avenue, for $32,225; the three-story brick house, No. 20 White street, north side, 150.3 west of Church street, for $14,500, to James McCormick, and the four-story brown stone dwelling, No. 110 West Fifteenth street, for $9,700, to J. C. Dalrymple. Full particulars of all sales made are appended.

Seventeen mortgages made to the defunct North America Life Insurance Company will be foreclosed during the coming week, the aggregate amount due for principal, interest and costs is about $616,300. The property to be sold is situated on Madison avenue, Sixty-first, Eighty-first and Eighty-third streets. Full descriptions, with character of improvements and amount due on the separate parcels, will be found in the list of Advertised Legal Sales, in another column.

Twenty plans, embracing thirty-five buildings, to be erected at an estimated cost of $240,700, were filed with the Superintendent of Buildings during the week. The following are noteworthy: S. L. Bradley will erect three four-story brown stone dwellings on the south side of Fifty-sixth street, 100 feet east of Madison avenue. On the south side of One Hundred and Sixteenth street, east of Third avenue, J. A. Fagan will erect three three story brown stone dwellings. E. S. Higgins will erect two three-story Ohio stone dwellings at Nos. 42 and 44 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street. At No. 29 East Twenty-eighth street the Alpha Club will erect a three-story Free stone club house. Mrs. Sarah J. Wyckoff will erect two three-story brick dwellings on the west side of Washington avenue, near One Hundred and Seventy-fifth street.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending February 28:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Whenever the state of the weather would permit, the consumption of Common Hards was up to the full former average, and the market has been supported without difficulty. Indeed, on the wholesale market the demand may be said to have exceeded the supply, as the principal primary points are still effectually shut off from all communication. Offerings afloat have been principally from New Jersey, Staten Island and Long Island yards with the latter now giving rather scant supplies, as most of the stocks have been pretty nearly exhausted. Quotations generally range from $5.00 per M up to $5.50, with not many sellers willing to accept the inside rate, and buyers, as yet, scarcely prepared to exceed the extreme. Accumulations in yard are moderate, the indications are considered favorable for a good spring trade, and, generally, the current feeling seems to be cheerful and hopeful. The combination of manufacturers referred to last week, we are told, is making progress, and a portion of the trade appear to think it will be perfected to a sufficient extent to give the matter a fair trial. It is understood that no fixed line of price is to be named, but simply that the brickmakers agree to reduce the productions a certain percentage, and, by keeping the offering within control, to preserve advantage in favor of the selling interest. Some of our principal dealers, however, doubt the success of the movement, as nothing of the kind has ever progressed much further than an attempt. Combinations have rather gone out of date in pretty much all articles of manufacture during the past few years, as the producer has found it more to his interest to be entirely free in his movements when seeking a market for his wares. In the present condition of business the time to sell is when somebody is ready to buy, and it is a presumption founded upon the experience of the past, that sellers will find some means to evade the provisions of a combination when desirable customers can be secured by such action. Conpacts of this kind are only adhered to when no sacrifice of personal interest is required. We quote Pale, ℔ M., $3.00@—; Hards, Up-Rivers, $—@—; Haverstraw bay, $—@—; favorite brands, $—@—; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $7; dark, $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $26@28; Trenton, $24@29; Baltimore, $34@38. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@3 higher on ordinary and $5@6 on fronts.

HARDWARE.—The market is in very good shape and the average report made by dealers has a cheerful and encouraging tone. Demand has scarcely shown the force and volume frequent in former years at this period, but still has kept along quite steady from day to day, and week to week since the year set in, and moved a good aggregate of supplies, with the promises fair for an expansion rather than any falling off. Buyers are not coming forward in person, as samples brought to their doors by travelers have in a great measure overcome this necessity. Prices in most cases rule steady, and many manufacturers complain of the limited margins at ruling figures. Not many changes are announced since our last. The Buffalo Hardware Company issue a price list for Clark's patent blind hinges as follows: No. 1, for wood, throws blind 1¼ inches from casing, $3.50 per doz. sets; No. 3, for brick, throws blind 3¼ inches from casing, $5.25 do; No. 5 throws blind 4½ inches from casing, $10.00 do. Discount 75 and 10 and 5 per cent. The Dibble Manufacturing Company have issued a new price list of hermacite door knobs, subject to a discount of 50 per cent. to the trade.

LATH.—There has continued a firm tone on this market and the advantages may be considered as entirely with the selling interest. Business was of necessity restricted by the small offerings, but buyers were inquiring for stock and a few parcels could no doubt have been placed at full former figures, or say $1.60 at least. The distribution from yard is good and supplies in second hands are becoming reduced.

LIME.—The market has commenced to work into better and more hopeful shape, with prices strengthening. Dealers stocks are much reduced and they are looking for something to replenish, causing a direct demand on the wholesale market. The small arrivals from the eastward were, in consequence, quickly taken up and commanded 80c. for common, and 90c. for finishing, at which rates the position, as we write, is firm on Eastern. For State, values are also well-sustained at 75c. and 90c. respectively for the two grades, with a fair business doing.

LUMBER.—For the season, the volume of trade may be considered fair, and, if anything, tends to increase somewhat. The demand comes in the regular form of orders for local consumption, in such ways as our city wants require; in a few cases for shipment to domestic dependent points, and about up to calculations on the export outlet. There is also a fair amount of animation in the contract business for delivery at this port, and others usually supplied by outside agents, and now and then an order is filled for foreign shipment direct from the primary points. There is nothing of an active or spirited character to the demand, however, nor is the business well distributed through the market, and it is to this we attribute occasional complaints which some of the dealers still seem inclined to indulge in. Another source of dissatisfaction to a few, including, however, some who are getting a portion of the business, is the closer figuring of buyers in all ways, and the consequent extra amount of labor required to secure customers. The majority, on the contrary, have learned that goods no longer sell themselves, but have to be sold, and while the opportunities for doing this are increasing, the supply of stock seeking an outlet is ample, and sellers must constantly keep their eyes open for those in want, and be prepared to compete sharply to secure orders. There does not appear to be any doubt but that the spring harvest of logs will be full.

Eastern Spruce receives a great many encouraging reports from the selling interest, but mainly in the way of expectations and predictions of what is to come that, upon what has been as yet fully accomplished. Some specifications have been contracted for most certainly, and at a good round price, but as before noted, buyers have some special necessity to urge them on at this season, and their operations hardly afford a fair criterion of what may come when manufacturers are ready to offer with greater freedom. There is a possibility that a few first-class randoms right on the spot might be run in at good figures, according to the offers reported as now current, but it is a noticeable feature on this as well as many other markets, that buyers who bid loudest and highest only when there is absolutely no stock available, generally happen to be out of town when arrivals take place. We quote at $12 50@13.00 for random, possibly $13.25@13 50 for choice lengths in small cargoes and $13.50@14.50 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White pine remains about steady. We hear occasional claims for both a firmer and a weaker tone, but do not discover that any positive variation has taken place on the general range of values and continue about former figures. Demand pretty steady and tending to increase on export account. It is expected that sugar luggers returning from this port will carry out considerable lumber. We quote at $14.50@15.00 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@21 for South American do.; $14@15 for box boards; $16@17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $38@50 per M.

Yellow Pine is still finding a good demand and holds pretty steady on values. We hear some disappointment has been met with as to the amount of sales accomplished for the use of elevated roads, etc., but as the source of consumption is sure, it is merely delayed, and not lost business. Local wants, domestic and export shipping orders, are all affording base for negotiation and without showing unusual activity, trade is on the whole good. We quote random cargoes at about $18@22 per M.; ordered cargoes $22@24 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21 do., and dry do. do, $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $13@14.50 per M.; hewed timber $7.50@14.

Hardwoods have continued very fairly active without new features of special import. All former outlets are wanting some stock, and buyers submit to the rates asked without much objection. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do., culls, $18@$20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, ¼ and ⅝ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $33@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good near by stock.

Yard business is very good, as a rule, and beyond such natural temporary checks as may arise at this season, dealers make a steady jobbing distribution of most regular styles of stock. Prices as before, and the average tone quite well sustained.

From among the Lumber Charters recently reported, we select the following: A Br. barque, 356 tons, hence to Matanzas, lumber, $5, and shooks, 17@18c.; an Am. barque, 558 tons, from Bosion to Montevideo for orders, lumber to River Plate, $13 50; a schr., 496 tons, hence to Rio Janeiro, lump snm; a Br. barque, 719 tons, from the South to River Plate, lumber, private terms; a schr., 246 tons, from Doboy to Annapolis, N. S., hewn timber, $10; a scr., 103 tons, from Portland to New York, lumber, $1 75; a schr., 140 tons, same voyage, $1 87½; a schr., 313 tons, same voyage, heads, 3c.; 260 M. feet lumber, from King's Ferry, Florida, to Philadelphia, $6; a schr., 280 M. feet lumber, from Savannah to Philadelphia or Baltimore, $5 25; a schr., 190 M. feet lumber, from Savannah to Philadelphia, $5 25; a schr, 240 M. feet lumber, from Wilmington, N. C., to Kennebunk, $6 50; a schr., 174 tons, from Georgetown, S. C., to Thomaston, lumber, $8.

STATE.

In noticing a movement among the Tonawanda lumber dealers to increase transportation facilities, if possible, the Herald of that city says: "A large trade in lumber is rapidly developing from dealers in the New England States, with Tonawanda as the principal source of supply. Several heavy transactions from that quarter have been recorded during the season just passed, with brilliant prospects for 1879. There is but one drawback to the consummation of this desirable feature of our principal industry, and that is, the lack of sufficient lumber box cars to transport the products of our dealers. They look solely to the New York Central Railroad for accommodation for that section, and they are really inadequate to the task. Where an order should be filled in a week, it now takes nearly a month, owing to the delays in getting the cars here. Should present indications be fulfilled, and this immense trade secured for Tonawanda and retained here, every business man and laborer in our midst would be directly benefited. It is well known that the sale of a million feet of lumber yields a greater profit to this community than four times that amount simply put through the forwarding process. Now, our lumbermen should look closely and seriously into this matter, and take the necessary steps to secure that trade for this market. It is apparent that more cars must be furnished by the Central."

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office:
BAY CITY, February 25, 1879.

The market for this season of the year is unusually quiet and but few outside buyers have as yet made their appearance. The sales thus far made are exceptional and doubtless do not safely indicate the market. One made by N. Barnard, of Saginaw, of 700,000 feet to Eastern parties, at $6, $12 and $26, and one or two other small sales at nearly as good figures, is taken as an index of fair figures at the opening of the season, and figures it is believed will be generally maintained. The feeling generally is that although there will be a good supply of logs in the spring, there will be no overstock, while the demand throughout the country will be good, and fair prices may be expected throughout the year. The season opening later this year is rather in favor of a very lively market during the season. Lumber, cargo lots, may be safely quoted as follows:

Three upper qualities	$25 00@27 00
Common	15 50@11 00
Shipping culls	5 25@ 5 50
Lath	1 25
Shingles, No. 1	2 15@ 2 25
Shingles, No. 2	1 15@ 1 25

LOGGING NOTES.

There are no apprehensions entertained among Michigan lumbermen on account of any shortage in the log supply for the mills next season. The winter in this state has been one of the most favorable that we have had for years, and the bulk of operators have kept steadily at work, without any effort to crowd matters. In this immediate vicinity there has been no snow of any consequence for several days, but in the lumber woods there has been just enough thaw to settle the body of the snow, and the roads, as a general thing, are better than at any time during the winter. Many operators have put in all the logs they calculated for when they went in and have came out of the woods. While we do not anticipate that the log supply will show such an overstock as many affect to believe, there will be all the logs the mills require, and they have been banked at from $1 to $1 25 per M. cheaper this winter than last. If summer loggers would take a vacation this season there is reason to believe that the winter's cut of logs would meet the requirements of the market, and at the same time not overstock it.

Estimates of the log product of many of the streams have been made, in some instances pretty accurate and in others largely in excess of the actual conditions. On, or soon after the first of next month, we will give the product of the state, as obtained from the most reliable sources from which information can be obtained. We believe that the totals will fall short of the estimates of many croakers about an enormous overstock of logs.

While loggers in Michigan have been blessed with a favorable winter for logging, those in Wisconsin are having a hard time of it. A gentleman recently from the Green Bay district, informs us there has been but little snow, and logging has been difficult as well as expensive. On the Wisconsin river, reports reach us that but little snow has visited its waters, and now that is all gone. The logs so far put in, have been got to the streams by means of sprinkling, and other bare ground devices. Those operating pole roads have done fairly well, but the majority of the loggers have good cause to wear mourning. In one respect most Wisconsin streams are much better off than last winter. The ground is frozen hard and deep, and it will take a long spell of warm weather to thaw it out.

A letter from St. Paul, Minn., written January 29, says: "There is not a particle of snow in this country. Loggers on the Chippewa where I have just been are taking off their teams from long hauls and doubling up on the short ones. I never saw such weather up here in this season of the year. The mercury is 44 degrees above zero here in St. Paul this morning, and it has been almost as warm for the past week. The lumbermen's faces are long and blue."

CHICAGO.

The Northwestern Lumberman, February 22, says: "The condition of the market seems to be improving gradually, and prospects grow steadily brighter. Prices are being upheld more firmly than might have been supposed, and trade in Illinois especially seems to be picking up materially. The southwestern pool rate on lumber to Missouri river points is rather against Chicago dealers just now, and shipments at the new tariff are a little slow. There is more inquiry at Mississippi river points, but the condition of stocks at most of them is not such as will divert a great amount of trade at present. If the Mississippi dealers had their yards as full as they have had them in times gone by the present attitude of the pooled lines would make Chicago lumbermen stir around pretty lively. As it is, however, certain of the river markets are liable to be obliged to draw upon Chicago to sort up their depleted stocks, before they get new arrivals of log or lumber rafts."

The following from the Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., February 20, 1879.

There is nothing of especial interest to report in the way of trade in the Mississippi Valley. Remarkable quiet, and prices nominally unchanged would probably cover the whole situation. There is nothing doing at the river towns. Chicago and the Saginaw markets are at a standstill. The looked-for increase in trade during February has not yet been realized, nor do the present prospects point to anything better for some time to come.

In the local trade we are able to report a slight increase. The shipments for the week ending on the 15th were ninety-three cars, twenty-five more than the preceding week.

From all the logging regions we get reports of an abundance of snow, which has fallen within the past ten days. This has given new impetus to operations, and there is no longer any doubt but a full stock of logs will be banked; nor is there any doubt, either, that should there be plenty of water for driving in the spring, logs will be cheaper than they have been for years. Nothing can save the lumbermen now but a scarcity of water in the driving streams.

Snow is reported in ample quantities during the past week, on all the logging streams of the upper Mississippi, St. Croix and the Chippewa, Black and Wisconsin rivers. Jesse G. Jones, just down from Rum river, reports good hauling and loggers doing good work.

THE EAST.

FREIGHTS.—LUMBER.—By Sail.—Vessels are coming in rather in excess of demand, and freights are dull at quotations. Charters to arrive are effected with difficulty, and only at a concession. Very little demand for West India or other off-shore tonnage. We quote: To Baltimore and Chesapeake ports, $5@5.50; to Philadelphia, $5; to New York and Sound ports, $5@5.50; to Boston and eastward, $5@7; to St. John, N. B., $8; [Timber from $1 to $1.50 higher than lumber rates]; to the West Indies and windward, $7@8, gold; to South America, $18@20, gold; to Spanish ports, $14@15, gold; to United Kingdom, timber, 34s.; lumber, £5@£5 10s. From 25c. to 50c. additional is paid for change of loading port.

FOREIGN.

Mail advices (A. C. Nathan & Co.), from Rio Janeiro to February 4th are as follows:

Pitch Pine Deals.—The arrivals consists of 428,257 feet per New Republic sold at 44$000, but owing to heavy damage this cargo will be re-sold at auction. 220,155 feet per Trelawny sold to arrive at 41$000; 295,446 feet per Mary McKee sold to arrive at 42$000. The market continues firm and we expect the next arriving cargoes to fetch from 42$000 to 44$000 per dozen 3x9x14.

White Pine Lumber.—In the beginning of the month the market remained very quiet, and the 130,362 feet per Estella had to be sold at 90 reis, additional depression having been caused by the arrival, on the same day, of 400,000 feet Canadian Lumber per Amicus. But when, a few days after, this latter cargo was ordered on to the River Plate a better tone set in which, however, was again checked by the sale of 91,252 feet per Albermarle at 85 reis. Since then the arrivals have been 103,697 feet per str. Glensannox sold at 90 reis and 153,578 feet per bark W. W. Thomas not yet sold. The stock here is not large and a temporary stoppage of supplies would probably produce a marked advance in prices.

Havana advices to Feb. 23d as follows:

White Pine.—There is a cargo for sale for which higher prices are demanded, but as nothing has been done as yet at pretended figures, we still consider the prices nominal at from $32 to $33 gold per M. feet, with little demand.

Pitch Pine.—Abundant and hard to sell. According to report last sales have been at $23.50 cash, and we quote $23.50 to $25 gold per M. feet, according to class.

Cooperage Stock.—Box shooks abundant and without inquiry at 7 rs gold.

Hogshead Stock.—Sales of those for sugar at 18@19 rs gold. Small request and no sale of those for molasses that we quote at 21@22 rs gold.

Empty Casks.—Market is supplied, and the demand is now slack at $3@3.50 gold for good ones.

Hoops.—There have been some receipts, and prices can now hardly be quoted at over $55@57 gold, for long shaved.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

LIVERPOOL, February 12.

Small as was the business done during the last two weeks of the month of January, that of the first fortnight of the present month has been still less; in point of fact, it may be put down almost as nil. Of course this, in a great measure, is the result of the strike amongst all the laborers in the port, which has completely put a stop to all business; only a few small orders have been executed; and, in order to get these loaded from the yards, the foremen, clerks and others have had to do the necessary labor.

Several timber-laden vessels are lying in the docks with their cargoes on board; and although the owners are willing to pay the old rate of wages, the men who are willing to commence work are deterred from doing so, and have been driven away and all work is in a complete state of stagnation.

GLASGOW, February 12.

The only imports to Clyde during last fortnight have been 2,000 spruce deals and a quantity of pickets.

The decrease in stocks, although going on slowly, as may be looked for at this time, gives sufficient indication that prices will not recede. Sales lately made have been principally at auction. Undermentioned are the rates realized:

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot remains quiet, most of the movement being embraced in small jobbing parcels. Holders' views are steady, but not buoyant, and the offerings quite balance the outlet offered. Quoted at 15½c. for Lake. Manufactured copper steady, but without much animation at the moment. We quote about as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz. per sq. foot, 24c. per lb.; do. do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz., per sq. foot, 26c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per sq. foot, 28c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; circles, less than 84 inches in diameter, 27c. per lb.; do. 84 inches in diameter and over, 30c. per lb.; segment and pattern sheets, 27c. per lb.; locomotive fire box sheets, 24c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 22c. per lb., and Bolt Copper 24c. per lb. IRON—Scotch Pig has remained pretty steady in price, with a very fair average business doing, but buyers incline to withdraw when an advance on cost is hinted at. We quote at $19.00@22.50, according to brand and quantity handled. American pig shows increasing firmness in price, through the support and stimulus of a good active trade. Many of the principal brands are now very indifferently offered, and manufacturers entertain higher views on values. We quote nominally at $16.50@18.00 for No. 1 per ton, $15.50@17.00 for No. 2, and $14.50@16.00 for Forge. Rails have of late been rather quiet, and no important contracts are made public. Holders ideas, however, are firm at full former rates. We quote at $32.00@36.00 for new iron, and $41.00@44.00 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $20.00@21.00 per ton; scrap, $21.50@22.50. Manufactured iron has been rather slow of sale, and the tone of the market is easy, with some dealers anxious to operate. Common merchant bar quoted in round lots at 1.7c., and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.8c and 2c. are respectively asked. Common sheet, 2⅝@3c., and best R. G. American, 3⅝@4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic Pig found only a moderate and somewhat uncertain demand, but stocks were held steadily at rates slightly reduced since our last. We quote at 4½@4¾c. The manufactures of lead are steady and quoted: Bar 5¼c., Pipe 5½c. and Sheet 6¼c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin-lined Pipe 12c., Block Tin Pipe 10c., on same terms. TIN—Pig is firmer, and somewhat indifferently offered on an increased demand here and more encouraging accounts from abroad. We quote at 18@18¾c. for Banca, 14¾@15c. for Straits, 14½@14⅝c. for English refined, and 14@14½c. for do. common. Tin plates have been moving out to a fair extent in small lots and ruling steady on most kinds. Spelter slow of sale, somewhat more plentiful, and favoring the buyer. Quoted 4½@4⅞c., as to brand. Sheet Zinc fairly active in a jobbing way, and about steady at 6¼@6½c. from store, according to quantity.

NAILS.—The situation does not greatly change. Demand fluctuates somewhat, but still appears to amount to enough to take equal to about the total for some time moving, and comes from the usual sources. Supplies balance the outlet, and prices rule fairly steady. We quote on a basis of $2.10@2.15 per keg for 10d. to 60d., according to size of invoice.

OILS.—There has been a fair average demand from the usual sources and at steady rates. Supplies are equal to the outlet provided, but holders are not crowding. Linseed oil is quoted at 60@61c. per gallon from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—Trade as a whole is better and improving, and jobbers find no great fault with the market. A great many openings for stock are presented, both on local account and on orders for country shipment, and with a fair sprinkling of export wants a very good movement is reached. Values have shown a trifling amount of variation, but nothing to influence the general range, and former quotations are in most cases well supported.

PITCH.—Business has shown about the ordinary movement, and there is little or nothing new to advise. Buyers have found all the stock required ready at their call, but sellers are asking and insisting upon about the former range of prices. We quote at $1.80@2.00 per bbl. for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Moderate supplies have given the wholesale market a firm position, and prices generally were supported without much difficulty. In a jobbing way business was fair, and sellers retained the advantage. As this report is closed we quote at 30@32c. per gallon, according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Buyers have been in about the average attendance, and a steady business took place in jobbing parcels. The offering has satisfied the demand, but was not large or offered with pressure, and full former rates are the basis upon which holders insisted in opening negotiations. We quote at $2@2.37½ per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.12½@2.50 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

LAW OFFICES IN THE EQUITABLE BUILDING.

In so extensive a building as that of the Equitable Society, at 120 Broadway, changes necessarily occur from time to time, but the tendency more and more among lawyers is to look out for vacant rooms in a building, which, like this, offers special advantages to the profession.

Only the tenants of the building can use the Law Library, which is one of the most complete in the country, and is a most attractive place for quiet work and study. A room has been prepared in the same building for the use of tenants, specially intended for references and private consultations. These, with the law telegraph and the many other conveniences, render the building the most popular among lawyers in the city.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

Will add much to the beauty of their buildings by using
Gardner's Perforated Three-Ply Veneer Seating,
Which is Ornamental, Durable and Cleanly.

We refer to the following new and elegant buildings fitted up with our goods:

Morris Plains, N. J, Insane Asylum; New York Hospital; American Museum of Natural History, New York; Settees in Depots of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, etc; New York Elevated Railroad Co., Depots and Cars.

NEW YORK, November 1, 1878.

MESSRS. GARDNER & CO.

GENTS—The Perforated Opera Chairs put in my Brooklyn Music Hall have proved a great success. They not only furnish the hall in a very attractive style, but for comfort and convenience they are far superior to any upholstered seat I have ever seen. We have the best audiences that Brooklyn can produce, and as yet I have heard nothing but the highest commendation of our seat. Yours very truly,

(Signed) O. G. WALBRIDGE.

BROADWAY RAILROAD.

The movement in favor of establishing a horse-car route on Broadway, between the Battery and Union square, has now reached an interesting stage of development. No topic of local interest ever attracted more prompt or more widespread attention, or elicited warmer expressions of popular sympathy. While, occasionally, a voice has been raised in opposition, the weight of public opinion, as expressed in the daily papers, preponderates largely in favor of the scheme. Propositions have been freely advanced by writers in all the leading journals, relating to this subject. Our restricted editorial space deters us from entering upon a full discussion and review of these various propositions; so we must content ourselves with a bare enunciation of their salient and distinctive features.

1st. THE EXCLUSIVE MONOPOLY PLAN.—This scheme originated in the prolific brain of the New York Herald. It contemplates bestowing upon some special corporation an exclusive franchise to run horse-cars between the Battery and Union square only. Its author prescribes as a prime requisite that this road shall be equipped with bob-tail palace cars, luxuriously upholstered, highly wrought in varnish and frescoe and bedizened with nickle plate. We presume it is also contemplated that these cars shall be drawn by thorough-bred horses and managed by stylish and liveried drivers. It would be in keeping with such a swell system that the driver should be allowed to present each passenger with a spray of cologne as he hands in his fare. This extremely dainty and finikin idea has really found favor with a numerous, but select, body of capitalists who have already applied to the Common Council for permission to exercise such a franchise. In a cosmopolitan and democratic city like New York, any such restricted, exclusive and Utopian project would find its career beset with difficulties. Of all lines, the Broadway should be designed and adapted for the masses. The natural current of trade and travel have been long enough diverted from the main artery of the city. In providing travelling accommodations along this line, it is desirable to avoid even the appearance of class distinctions or privileges, and, above all, to devise a system which will be wholly adequate to the demand which is likely to be made upon it. The gentlemen who imagine that cars of the capacity of fourteen sittings will meet this demand may probably find, after they have made the experiment, that their enterprise will be anything but a popular or paying one. Such a system would certainly encourage the perpetuation of the Broadway omnibus lines, whereas one of the beneficial results to be effected by the establishment of horse cars on Broadway is the early and complete abolishment of these obstructive and cumbersome vehicles. Nobby horse cars, presumably intended for the exclusive use of the bankers and brokers of Wall street, would be only a slight improvement upon the cab sytem, and so limited in their capacity for usefulness, that the latter might continue to thrive in easy competition

This system possesses but one commendatory feature and that is its novelity. A scheme of palatial horse cars might better be first experimented in on a short line in an out-of-the-way street, like Lafayette place or Irving place, or the existing city lines might place such cars at long intervals on their present tracks. Neatness and convenience are compatible with large accommodation, and no car of less than standard size can possibly meet the requirements of Broadway travel. Besides, the franchise is prospectively too valuable to be handed over to any single corporation.

2d. THE PARTIAL MONOPOLY PLAN.—It has been proposed to extend the franchise of the present Seventh Avenue & Broadway Railroad so as to cover that part of Broadway lying between Union square and the Battery, and to form a connection through Greenwich street with the present tracks of that company on West Broadway. It is also proposed, as a part of this plan, to remove the single track from Church and Greene streets and thus afford relief to these important business streets.

This plan has more to recommend it than the preceding one, although it is open to the same objection of granting a lucrative and valuable franchise to a single company, albeit this company proposes a more extended service. Such a disposition of the franchise would naturally excite the jealousy and antagonism of competing roads, and, in consequence, might lead to an interminable legal contest, causing delay in securing the desired boon. The Seventh Avenue Railroad can lay no special claim to the proprietorship of this franchise. If it is to be awarded to any single company, let it be done under some approved system of competition, coupled with terms and conditions which will be likely to bring the largest possible return to the city treasury. There was a time when the Seventh Avenue road might have successfully laid claim to this franchise and might have conferred a large degree of benefit upon Broadway property owners and the public at large. The rapid growth of the city on the east side, and the necessity of providing an outlet for that population through Broadway, will be a strong argument, at present, in opposition to conferring this franchise exclusively on the Seventh Avenue Railroad Company.

3d. THE FREE TO ALL PLAN.—In various forms, a proposition has appeared in all the leading papers, embodying, amid a variety of unimportant details, the leading idea that a pair of tracks should be laid on the section of Broadway under consideration, and that all horse railroads in the city should be allowed to connect their tracks with this section of the road and to run their cars over it.

This is without question the wisest and most commendable scheme that has been proposed. It is not likely that any line would seek a connection with this new section unless it would result in a profit, and profit to the company would mean increased conveniences to the public and benefit to Broadway. Corporate self interest would be sufficient check upon the number of connections; and if the connections were made at the head, as well as at the foot of the section, so that there would be a complete circuit of track on either side of the city, the beneficial features of the proposition would then be perfected. By forming eastern and western circuits, it would be possible in any given emergency, when the whole line of Broadway might be needed for public purposes, to switch the cars off the Broadway tracks and restrict them to their collateral branches.

Among less important details it has been proposed that the city should lay the tracks, under the supervision of the Commissioner of Public Works, and should charge a royalty for every car running over it.

Another is that it should be owned jointly by all the companies participating in its benefits, and that they should unite in paying a proper tax into the City Treasury. The former proposition has the advantage of throwing open this lucrative branch of travel for the enjoyment of all the car lines in the city which choose to avail of it, and has the further advantage of thus affording the very maximum of accommodation for all passengers who may wish to be carried to or from distant parts of the city to and along Broadway.

A grim and ominous suggestion has arisen out of this agitation, to wit, that the proper way of providing increased traveling accommodation for lower Broadway is to establish along its line a system of elevated steam transit. It is urged that lower Broadway, being used entirely for business purposes—scarcely any dwellings or flats remaining on its line—naturally offers the most favorable conditions for the construction and working of an elevated road. But the present is an inopportune moment to prescribe any such violent and radical treatment of a really simple subject. However practical or even desirable such a scheme might be, Broadway property owners are not likely to court any rash experiments with their interests. The feasibility and capacity of the horse-car system should be thoroughly exhausted before steam transit is even thought of, much less seriously discussed, in connection with our great leading thoroughfare.

AN ENTERPRISING ESTATE.

It would be an erroneous and inadequate conception to imagine that the energy, enterprise and business talent of this metropolis are confined in whole or in any large degree to the Stock, Cotton and Produce Exchanges, and to the projectors of railroad, steamship and rapid transit lines, whose schemes occupy so large a share of public attention and absorb so much of general capital.

As important as we may concede these various interests to be, the work of building a city must rank, in respect to merit, utility and necessity, far above them all. While cheerfully according to the representative business interests of the city their just measure of desert, we will be pardoned for claiming for the interest which we specially represent its merited share of public consideration.

Among the many projectors of prominent buildings in this city, the Rhinelander's estate is one to which we have heretofore had occasion to call attention, not so much for the extent as for the judiciousness and variety of their improvements. This estate is one of the oldest in the city and probably ranks third or fourth in respect to capitalized wealth. It is entitled to the credit of having furnished, in its dwelling houses throughout the Ninth, Fifteenth and Twentieth Wards, the largest number of plain, comfortable and centrally located dwellings that is to be found in any single estate. Many of these residences were erected all of forty years ago, and, though far behind the standard of modern building, retain their popularity and productiveness through sheer force of good management.

This estate owns extensive properties on Sixth avenue, between Tenth and Fourteenth streets. Many of their buildings on this thoroughfare are quite primitive structures, and the business of this avenue long ago outgrew their limited capacity. Already this estate has set the example to adjoining owners of tearing down and removing a building of the sort we are referring to and erecting in place of it a commodious and substantial edifice. We refer to the new building now standing at the corner of Thirteenth street and Sixth avenue and occupied by Knapp's carpet warehouse. We believe the upper stories have been finished as flats. In time the lofts of Sixth avenue buildings, like lofts on Broadway, will be required for business and manufacturing purposes, since the presence of rapid transit there will seriously prejudice first-class flat occupation, and the rentals which lower grades of tenants are able to pay would scarcely be remunerative to the landlord. In future substitutions of new for old buildings, we would recommend owners on this avenue to adopt the model of Altman & Co.'s store at the corner of Nineteenth street and Sixth avenue.

When the business of the avenue fairly demands such increased accommodations, the Rhinelander estate, doubtless, will be among the first to engage in the work of demolition and rebuilding on a scale that will be likely to transform the lower end of this popular avenue.

This estate is also entitled to the credit of having erected an experimental store on the northeast corner of Fourteenth street and Seventh avenue. Although seemingly in advance of public requirements, it is a judicious effort to test the business capacity of Seventh avenue, and the example here presented may find future imitators. The rare foresight and excellent business capacity with which this estate is managed can nowhere be better observed than in the erection of the Berkeley Apartment Hotel, on the corner of Fifth avenue and Ninth street. In arrangements, appointments and management, this family hotel is believed to excel many others of similar type, and to stand in the very front rank of such enterprises. Success is the best touchstone of the quality of an investment, and the large and unfailing patronage which the Berkeley has enjoyed, may be accepted as indicative of the good judgment displayed in its planning and disposition.

And now the rumor reaches us that this estate purposes to improve its vast property on the east side, between Yorkville and Harlem, with buildings suited to the location. This rumor has been somewhat qualified, but not entirely denied. Some business reasons may influence the proprietors of large estates to conceal their plans as far as possible from the public. This rumor may be premature, but it cannot be said to be improbable or unfounded. In fact the story runs so directly in the line of the wise policy which has governed the affairs of this estate, that we are wont to accept it as substantial truth, even though our patience may be somewhat taxed in looking for its realization. With true Dutch thrift the Rhinelanders detest an unproductive estate. None know better than they how to adapt improvements to the capacities and requirements of a given neighborhood. The east side property belonging to this estate is now ripe for improvement, and if houses were there built of the liberal dimensions and plain finish of those owned by this estate in the Ninth Ward, there can be no doubt that the investment will prove an eminently satisfactory and remunerative one.

So good an example set by one of the wealthiest, oldest and most conservative estates in the city could not fail to have a wholesome effect upon other wealthy land owners. Instead of holding their lots in anticipation of a sale to speculative builders, who generally require the accompaniment of a tempting building loan, wealthy owners of uptown property would consult their own interests if they undertook the work of improvement on their own account, and for permanent investment. As compared with the risks and trials of an average building loan transaction, the troubles of housebuilding under a contract with a safe and responsible builder may be reckoned as very trivial. In the majority of building loan transactions the properties immediately revert to the capitalist who makes the loan, and he is thus compelled to accept inferior if not wholly unmarketable and untenantable buildings which are liable to consume in repairs a large proportion of the rent which may be obtained from them. A small addition to the amount usually advanced as building loan would enable the owner to erect and pay for a proper and sound building constructed under the supervision of a pains-taking and conscientious architect with reliable builders. A sound building, however plainly finished, will call for only moderate repairs. We doubt if any current first-class investments can be made to yield a return as satisfactory as good plain dwelling property in the upper part of the city, and certainly none present so fully the feature of absolute control by the owner as does good improved unincumbered real estate.

THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK.

The annual statement of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of this city, is displayed upon another page.

While it is a most comprehensive document it will be found so simple that any one can comprehend it.

The points in it that develop the solidity of the institution are, in brief, the vast number of policies now in force, its huge income and its surplus of nearly eleven and one-half millions of dollars, calculated on the basis of the New York standard of four and one-half per cent. interest.

Its fascinating qualities are found in the disposition of its managers to secure the benefits of the company's success to its old patrons and those who may take out policies, as shown in its general reduction of rates, and in their alacrity in settling up death claims as they occur.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

E. H. Ludlow & Co., by order of J. K. Warren, executor, sold the three-story brick house (25x50x96) No. 41 Bond street, for $14,000, to Dennis Burke. R. V. Harnett sold eleven lots on New and Ninth avenues, One Hundred and One Hundred and First streets, for $14,250. Particulars of all sales made will be found below.

Nineteen plans, embracing thirty sixth buildings, to be erected at an estimated cost of $291,945, were filed with the Superintendent of Buildings during the week. At No. 481 Broadway, Mr. J. J. Astor will erect a five-story brick and iron store. Samuel Blatchford will erect at No. 1 East Fourteenth street one six-story brick, iron and stone store. On the northwest corner of Fourth avenue and Fifty-third streets, Wm. Harloe purposes to build six four-story brown stone dwellings. John Rogers will erect eight three-story dwellings on the southeast corner of Third avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-first street, and Henry Weil will erect six three-story marble and brick dwellings on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and One Hundred and Thirteenth street.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending March 7:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

The market for Common Hards shows no change in its general features. About everything arriving has been quickly disposed of, and there was room for more, had it been offered, the demand keeping up quite full and comparatively little stock being left in dealers' hands to fall back upon. In short, for the time being, the seller retains all the advantage and the market so far as it goes is a strong one. It may be noted, however, that some grumbling over cost is already heard, and whatever supplies buyers call for have the basis of the most imperative wants only, the effort being to postpone consumption when possible until the accumulations at the primary points on the Hudson River become available. We hear no new developments upon the subject of the proposed combination to control the production. Manufacturers are unquestionably determined to make the effort, but as yet the trade here take the matter quite indifferently, and all things considered, the influence has been unimportant. Pale Brick of good quality sell well when offered and command extreme rates. Fronts are not very active, but a few inquiries of a preparatory character have been made. The front brick makers have not as yet given their assent to the combination. We quote Pale, ₱ M., $3.00@—; Hards, Up-Rivers, $—@—; Haverstraw bay, $—@—; favorite brands, $—@—; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $7; dark, $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $26@28; Trenton, $24@29; Baltimore, $34@38. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@3 higher on ordinary and $5@6 on fronts.

GLASS.—Business has been somewhat irregular, at times showing considerable animation, and soon after falling into a quiet position again. Taken altogether, however, there has been a fair general aggregate of stock handled, and the accumulation in first hands, especially of the more desirable styles and sizes keeps within easy reach and management. Many dealers are quite sanguine of a good season ahead, and seem to think that desirable stocks will at no time be permitted to accumulate. The recent revision of prices continues to be the basis of quotations, and the general position is called steady, but it is hinted that very desirable customers occasionally secure small favors in a quiet way.

HARDWARE.—Demand does not appear to have increased with quite the rapidity some dealers hoped for, and this leads to a little grumbling occasionally. Taken as a whole, however, the volume of business has been very fair for the season, and the natural tendency is to grow larger, especially so on out of town wants. A great many sections continue to feel the adverse influence of high freight charges, and are virtually shut off, but travelers report that supplies are really wanted in the interior, and give encouragement to the idea that purchases will be fully up to the vacancies existing in stocks. Values in most cases are steady, but occasionally little irregularities creep in. There has been some cutting on the regular trade rates of files, and Henry Disston & Son and the Nicholson File Company have issued circulars announcing their intention of enforcing the penalties laid down for violation of discount rate. The following list has been issued for Galvanized Fencing: No. 1, 45 inches high $3.25 per rod; No. 1½, 36 do do $2.75 do; No. 2, 30 do do $2.50 do; No. 2½, 24 do do $2.25 do do; No 3, 16 do do $1.50 do. Put up in bales containing 20 rods. Trade discounts by the bale list less 10 per cent., orders for 5 bales list less 50 per cent. Wallace & Sons have issued the following discount sheet: brass butts, 60 per cent.. do Ferrules, 25 do; do and German silver checks, 10 do; do escutcheon pins, 30 do; Iron do, 30 do; belt studs, 20@5 do; Baxters's wrenches, 30 do; brad awls and tools net; brass and silvered jack chain, 60 do; iron jack chain, 60 and 10 do; brass wire cloth, 30 do; copper do, 15 do; do rivets and burs, 50 do; do brazier's rivets, 20 do; do tacks, 50 do; do nails, net; do bottoms, do; do sheet and bolt, do; oilers, tin and zinc, 60 per cent.; do brass and copper, 50 do; do automatic, 45 do; do Olmsted's, 50 do; do Broughtons, 50 do; stair rods, 55 do; do plates, brass, 30 do; do do zinc, 20 do.

LATH.—Up to the present writing business has again been restricted by the absence of stock, and to a certain extent the market is nominal. The situation, however, shows much strength, and sellers may be credited with holding the bulk of the advantage. A number of dealers are in want of supplies, have in fact exhibited much anxiety, and we are informed of bids at full $1.60 per M net, for prompt delivery for considerable amounts. A few cargoes are said to be en route, but it is expected they will quickly be exhausted upon arrival.

LIME.—As yet no change is reported on the line of values, but former figures are well sustained, and the market has a strong tone throughout. Demand gains volume without a corresponding increase in the amount of stock offering, and receivers appear to be in a very confident mood. State lime meets with about an average proportion of the demand, and the cost is full up to former rates, and holders unwilling to sell small parcels except at an advance.

LUMBER.—There has not been quite so much doing in the way of contracts, and as the available supply in first hands is too small to admit of sales on spot to any extent, business has a quiet tone. The position, however, loses no strength, and dealers generally appear to be cheerful. The lull in the call for contracts is considered natural after the fair number already closed, and very likely to revive again at any moment, while for immediate delivery there is in reality a good demand. A great many dealers and consumers are, it is claimed, quietly but anxiously awaiting the offering of supplies suited to their wants, and will be ready to close with freedom as soon as sellers are in a position to meet them. On export account the outlook is a little uncertain as demand fluctuates, but on the whole dealers who cater to this trade take a cheerful view of the future, but depend mainly on the West India and South American orders. No apprehensions over future supplies are expressed, the logging prospects generally proving very encouraging.

Eastern Spruce continues to move a little slowly, with no great change in the general tone of the market. Nice attractive cargoes for immediate delivery can, as usual, at this season be depended upon to find a ready market, and the first arrivals are almost sure to go off at high rates. Buyers, however, who can not use supplies to every advantage show no inclination to contract ahead with freedom, and bids on specials are not plenty. Advices from primary points indicate that manufacturers are expecting, and will make a strong effort to secure higher rates than last season, but will probably have plenty of stock at a fair basis of valuation. We quote at $12.50@13 for random, possibly $13.25@13.50 for choice lengths in small cargoes and $13.50@14.50 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine has a fair sort of local demand, and more or less call in the regular way for export. Supplies and assortments now on hand are somewhat reduced and broken, but enough appears to be available to fill the orders received, and at about former rates. We quote at $14.50@15.00 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@21 for South American do.; $14@15 for box boards; $16@17 for do, wide and sound; and timber to order at $38@50 per M.

Yellow Pine not quite so active. Desirable parcels on the spot could be placed without much trouble to a moderate extent, and there is still occasional business in contracts for all the regular outlets, but buyers are less plenty and without particular anxiety. Prices about as before with, however, some little tendency to occasional weakness in view of easier freight rates from some of the Southern ports. We quote random cargoes at about $18@22 per M.; ordered cargoes $22@24 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21 do, and dry do. do, $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $12@14.50 per M.; hewed timber $7.50@14.

Shingles have continued to find an occasional export call, but nothing of any great magnitude, and the distribution on home account was also moderate. Buyers in some cases, however, have been gradually feeling their way, and the indications continue favorable for quite a little distribution of stock when spring fairly sets in. Cypress are selling at about $6 for saps and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern sawed grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16-inch, as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch, $16@22.25 for A, and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24 inch, $6.50@16 for A, and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch $5@10.50 for A, and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

Hardwoods retain a pretty healthy and generally cheerful market. The demand is not of large volume or of unusual spirit, but is in one way and another moving a considerable amount of stock and giving in return full former rates, on anything at all attractive and desirable. The general manufacturing interest, local and close by, is a good full consumer, and there is also occasional shipments to more distant domestic points, and some orders for export. The supply is not full. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do: oak, $35@40 do; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $20@25; do. do., culls, $18@$20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, ⅛ and ¼ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $32@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good near by stock.

The trade at the yards continues about as before in form and volume, and we learn of no new features worthy of note. A great many of the stocks commence to show the influence of the sales made from them since the close of navigation, but buyers may still find what they require, by diligent search, and at about former cost.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am. brig, 438 tons, from Portland to River Plate, lumber, $14 net; an Am. barque, 440 tons, hence to Havana, W. P., lumber, $6; a Nor. barque, 454 tons, from Pensacola to Rio Janeiro, lumber, $16 net; a schr., 125 tons, from Brunswick to St. Jago, lumber, and back to New York, sugar, $1,500 and foreign port charges; an Am. barque, 353 tons, hence to Caibarien, shooks and heads 18c., and empty hogsheads, $1; an Am. brig, 497 tons, from Portland to Matanzas, sugar hogsheads shooks, 25c., box shooks, 14c., and hoops, $5.50; two schrs., 284 and 365 tons, from Portland to Cardenas or Matanzas, hogsheads, shooks and heads, 26c.; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Savannah to Humacoa, P. THE WEST.

The following from the Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., February 27, 1879.

The lumbermen probably secured more logs during the past week than were ever hauled in one week in the States of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. The abundant snows and cold weather, as well as the fact that the boys were behind in their work, set them trying to see how much could be done in a short time. They are still going it under a big head of steam. The prospects indicate more than an abundant supply of logs.

If the present weather holds out for the next four weeks, Chicago will get all the amusement she desires in 1879. Lumber is selling very slowly and at weak prices. Some changes will be noted in market quotations. St. Louis is off slightly again, to meet the still lower prices at Chicago and Toledo. The outlook is unpromising for better prices or a larger trade during the spring and summer.

In Minneapolis, the shipping demand may be reported a shade better. Each week during the month just ending, has been notable for a slight increase over its predecessor, and the month of February will show a considerably increased trade over that of January. As to prices, the less said about them, the less are we liable to be mistaken. We make no change in quotations, but are not certain that the published list is at all times adhered to. Stillwater prices, we surmise, have about reached bottom.

BLACK WALNUT.

The Chicago Northwestern says:

There has been much said of late about the rapid exhaustion of the supply of walnut timber in this country. Sensational newspapers writers and hard-fisted individuals having a little walnut timber, for which they are anxious to get as good a price as possible, have industriously spread the report that about all of this kind of wood has been consumed, that the supply remaining will suffice for the requirements of a dozen years. It is declared that black walnut trees are becoming almost as scarce in Ohio and Indiana as date palms, and that the time is near at hand, indeed, when the most diligent searching will fail to disclose a single specimen. While it is no doubt true that the supply of walnut, like that of every other commercial wood, is rapidly diminishing under the constant and ever increasing industrial demands of the country, we are inclined to believe that the end of it is still a long way off. In conversation recently with a hardwood lumberman of very wide experience this subject was brought up, and he expressed the opinion that there is no necessity for the present generation, at least, to become alarmed about the stock of black walnut. There is no small amount still standing in Ohio and Indiana in spite of all that is said about the impossibility of finding it. Farmers and landholders who came into possession of the timber when it was comparatively valueless, are holding it very much as they are their bank stocks or government bonds, if they have any, as a provision against a rainy day. Occasionally one of these men dies, and in settling up his estate, the black walnut is thrown on the market in lots varying from 100,000 to 1,000,000 feet. Our informant states that such sales are very frequent, and prove pretty conclusively that Indiana walnut is not a thing of the past. And besides there are extensive sources of supply that have not been touched. Walnut timber is found even in Alabama, and in Tennssee there are vast areas of timber land within whose limits the sound of an axe has never been heard. Black Walnut may become scarce, but we venture to predict that the supply will not be exhausted while anyone now living remains upon the earth.

CALIFORNIA.

The yearly review of the San Francisco Journal of Commerce has the following:

Receipts of leading articles.	1877.	1878.
Lumber, feet	286,691,547	264,837,124
Shingles, No	89,479,210	73,292,470
Laths, No	43,443,186	35,293,760
R. R. Rift	836,216	225,691
Cedar Logs	6,207	5,757
Toa Logs	408	599

Receipts have not varied much from those of 1877, while exports have been larger. The reader must not, therefore, infer from this that 1878 has been a better year in the lumber trade than 1877. The contrary has been the fact. Notwithstanding the plenty found in the land, people did not begin to build as was expected, and, consequently, the lumber business languished. The lumber resources of California are practically inexhaustible and far exceed her placers in value, but the people of California cannot consume all the lumber produced on their own borders and on the coast, and when suffering from exceptional years like 1877, they cannot be expected to use as much lumber as usual. Should our winter rains be seasonable and ample, a great impetus would be given to the lumber, and it would recover its tone. As it is, there was an advance of $1 made on the 1st of February, but it could not be sustained, demand fell off, and though some of the mills curtailed production, the stock on the market was more than it could bear and it broke, lumber selling at retail on the wharves towards the close of the year at wholesale prices. Several failures in the trade occurred during the year—the most notable being that of the Sierra Flume and Lumber Co. The aggregate liabilities of those who failed was close on three quarters of a million of dollars. We look for better times with the new year.

The value of the trade in lumber for 1878, has been $5,000,000.

NAILS.—There has been no great amount of animation shown on the surface of the market, but in reality quote a good business consummated. Local wants have kept up to the average, while domestic shipping orders increased, and exporters took enough to help business materially. To meet the movement the offering has been ample in quantity and assortment, and sellers generally were willing to accept about former rates. We quote nominally 10d. to 60d., common fence and sheathing per keg, $2.10@2.15; 8d. and 9d., common do. per keg, $2.40; 6d. and 7d., common per keg, $2.65; 4d. and 5d., common do. per keg, $2.90; 3d. and 4d., light, per keg, $3.65; 3d., fine, per keg, $4.40; 2d., per keg, $4.10.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $2.60. Floor casing and box, 75c. above the same sizes of common. Finishing, $1 above and fine finishing $1.25 above.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1½in.	2 & 2¼in.	2½ & 2¾ in.	3 in. & longer
$5.00	$1.50	$4.25	$4.00 per keg.

At a meeting of the Atlantic States Nail Association, held in this city, it was Resolved, That the members of the Atlantic States Nail Association hereby agree to run their nail machines only three weeks in any one month, beginning the first day of April, 1879, and continuing until the first day of April, 1880. Excepting only, that those works which depend upon water-power, shall be permitted to run full time in any one month, providing they shall not run more than twelve weeks (of sixty (60) hours each) in each four months. Provided, also, that the nail manufacturers west of the Allegheny Mountains agree to the same limitation. No factory to run more than sixty (60) hours in any one week. This agreement to be binding when signed by all manufacturers.

OILS.—Stocks in some cases are slightly reduced and holders correspondingly firmer in their views. There is not, however, any special effort to force values upward, and all really full fair bids receive attention. We quote linseed oil, 60@64c. ₹ gallon; lard, 58@59c. for winter; 49@52c. for No. 1, and 45@47c. for No. 2; crude cotton seed, 35@36., and refined summer yellow, do., 42@43c.

PAINTS.—In a wholesale way business is somewhat irregular. Demand seldom reaches any great volume, but will occasionally make quite a sharp little run on some one line of stock and then turn to another just as the wants of jobbers may happen to develop. Prices naturally fluctuate, but no late changes of a decided character can be recorded. In a jobbing way business is very generally reported as doing well, and dealers appear to be satisfied with the condition of the market. The demand is of a character to cover most of the leading descriptions of stock, and, as a rule, submits to full rates without much objection. Supplies and assortments without proving excessive or difficult to carry are of fair magnitude, and meet the current wants of the market without difficulty.

PITCH.—In small lots a fair amount has gone out to meet the usual run of orders. Demand, however, is not altogether satisfactory, and sellers can gain no great advantage on price. Without being excessive, the supply is quite as full as the wants of the market require. We quote at $1.80@$2.00 per bbl. for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Supplies have increased somewhat without a corresponding addition to the demand, and the market rather lost tone. The accumulation, however, was not excessive, and most holders refused to make a positive concession especially on choice lots. As this report is closed we quote at 30@32c. per gallon, according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Wholesale operations have been irregular, both as to volume and price. In a jobbing way, however, the situation does not vary to any decided extent, a fair average movement taking place, and the cost ruling about steady for all ordinary orders. We quote at $2@2.37½ per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.12½@2.50 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

CHEAP MONEY AND REAL ESTATE.

It is a noticeable and will be a memorable feature of the present revulsion that for nearly five years the rate of interest on call loans has continuously ranged at minimum planes never before known in the financial history of this country. Call loans represent the highest generalizations of money transactions, the very apex of the lending system. Of these transactions the distinctive characteristics are ample security, consisting generally of choice and marketable collaterals and ability to recover the money loaned almost at a moment's notice. These elements of ample security and prompt availability naturally limit the attainable rate of interest to a point of absolute minimum; and these transactions are taken throughout the year as indicatory of the normal pulsations of the money market. All other forms of investing money involve more or less permanence or fixity, and on this account demand and admit of more liberal rates of interest. Even call loans in which it is stipulated that a definite time must elapse before the call is made, are always negotiated at a higher rate of interest than loans which are made upon call without notice.

The unprecedented low rate of interest which has prevailed during these five years, indicates either extreme inertia of business interests, or a wide-spread and obstinate skepticism which amounts almost to a state of panic. Skepticism and panic, one the result of excessive caution the other of excessive credulity, seem to be the antipodes of financial thought, and alike productive of stagnation and depreciation. For months and years the capitalist has waited patiently with his hand upon his coffer hoping for the re-establishment of higher rates of interest, only to be disappointed. Money has lain in trust companies at 1 and 2 per cent. in anticipation of the return of better times. Securities exist in abundance which would pay a higher interest than the trust company rate, but in consequence of the high premiums which they command, the possibility, nay the certainty, is attached to them of an ultimate loss of principal, which may absorb the entire interest production. Conservative investments, like deposits in trust companies and gilt edge mortgages, are the only ones which afford income without any prospect of capital impairment.

The great engineers of investment in Wall street have repeatedly tempted the cupidity of capitalists by forcing upon their notice stocks and bonds of dubious pedigree, but of vast expectations. The oft repeated experience, however, with such stocks as the Pacific Mail, the two Delawares and Jersey Central, are sufficient to warn even credulous and inexperienced investors from the shoals and quicksands of speculative investments. The outbreak during the present season of a genuine bond craze in Wall street is a fine example of the manner in which the financial classes are educated and preyed upon. In anticipation of a revival of business throughout the country, speculators have brought forward and tried to foist upon the public railroad mortgage bonds from firsts to fifths, which have lain neglected and despised for many years, attached to which are a goodly number of matured and unpaid coupons. These bonds for the most part are now unproductive of interest and, as far as human calculation can devine, are likely to remain so for many months or years, if not forever. And yet they are being forced to the vicinity of par and for some a premium is boastfully demanded. Bonds that have retained their reputation for prompt payment of interest command a premium ranging from 5 to 15 or 20 per cent. No surer way of losing money can be devised than by investing in bonds at high premiums. A non-productive bond is no better than a vacant lot, and productive bonds at current rates may prove the inferiors of well-selected and cheap lots.

Investments in land, it must be admitted, outrank all others in the quality of permanence or fixedness. Hence they are the last to be cultivated in a sensitive state of the public mind. The special wonder, however, is that, with the prevailing plethora of money, the fruitless and wearisome search after investments by capitalists, the meagreness of the Stock Exchange list in desirable and profitable securities, that there should be so little enquiry, we had almost said such utter apathy, on the part of monied men in reference to speculative lots. In former experiences, the periods immediately succeeding the great panics have been the ones when real estate investment was the most liberally and freely cultivated. If there has been any general or wide-spread disposition to invest in real estate in this city since the panic of 1873, excepting in very eligible and productive property, we are not aware of it. The number of notable investments is beggarly, compared with what might have been expected and with the number for which there are such vast opportunities. It confers little benefit on real estate at large, that Mr. Vanderbilt and his family go forward deliberately and take up a few costly corner lots on Fifth avenue or that a score of Mr. Vanderbilt's followers, who are accustomed to rely upon his judgment and to follow in his footsteps, should press closely in his wake and take up costly private residences in the best quarter. If these transactions are the total results of the great revival of real estate, at such a rate the completed growth of New York will not be determined short of a millenium. The problem for future publicists and historians to puzzle over is the lack of general and extended real estate investments during a period of years when money could be easily borrowed at from 1 to 3 per cent. Even if a score or a hundred very wealthy citizens could be counted upon as annual purchasers of costly residences, would such a demand be sufficient to keep our industrial classes employed, and to ultimately fulfil the destiny of the metropolis? Lots must be covered with buildings, not singly but in whole blocks, in order to give form and character to the metropolis of the future. The unoccupied portion of this city is many-fold greater in area than the occupied, and altogether disproportioned to the supposed availability of property.

We would propose to our legislators, to our municipal officers, to journalists and to public writers generally the query—Why do men of capital at this late day studiously abstain from investments in speculative real estate? If approved investment securities pay so meagre a rate of interest, there must be some tremendous stumbling block in the way of investment of money in real estate. If overwealthy capitalists are prejudiced against this form of investment, then it might be expected that thrifty men of business—tradesmen, mechanics and operatives—might see their way to purchase homesteads, or to unite in groups and establish neighborhoods in the unsettled localities of the city. But even the capitalist of smallest rank who might, under favorable circumstances and conditions, be able to purchase a snug home, prefers to deposit his accumulations in a savings bank or in government bonds and to remain a tenant rather than to become his own landlord. To the minds of experts various reasons may occur as explanatory of this anomalous situation. Among others, the highly inflated planes of value which culminated in the panic of 1873, and the slow and well-contested reaction from those values; the incalculable losses accruing from this recent shrinkage and depreciation and the uncertainty as to when bottom prices of real estate will be reached—the absence of any decided activity in property, the general, wide-spread and engulfing disasters of the times, as well as many other causes. We think, however, that any one and all of these considerations will be dwarfed in importance when compared with the overshadowing fact that real estate is taxed disproportionately, inequitably and unjustly. Its valuations for tax assessment are unequal. Upon this unequal basis nine-tenths of State and city taxation are fastened. Unimproved property is also assessed for local street improvements in the immediate and remote vicinities, and real estate mortgages, too, are taxed as personal property. This combined and threefold taxation renders the land costly to start with, and when improved, from 30 to 50 per cent. of obtainable revenue is required to discharge the city's liens for these burdensome taxes.

Experienced capitalists proverbially avoid an overtaxed investment. Moderate capitalists are too sensitive to the demands of government to voluntarily place their little savings directly in the meshes of the tax-gatherer's net. And yet the public mind has been educated to believe that an exclusive real estate taxation is the most desirable one for the interests of the city. We are on the eve, if not in the midst, of the full realization of all the benfits or injuries which such a system is capable of conferring. The advocates and promoters of this system will soon be afforded a favorable opportunity of studying its practical workings. Candid investigation into its effects, we believe, would convince the most stubborn of this sect of economists that they have inculcated a false doctrine; that they have misled and deluded the people, and that they have wilfully and arbitrarily perverted our liberal and comprehensive tax system. Under the present law, it is required that all accessible property shall be taxed alike. If not a feasible or practicable proposition, it at least possesses the merit of an honest and equitable intention. The doctrine of an exclusive real estate taxation is only a revival of a mediæval crudity, proposing, without reason, to fasten the entire load of taxation upon real estate under the wild delusion that taxes can be thus distributed uniformly over personal property. Though opposed, as stoutly as our opponents can be, to the exclusive or immoderate taxation of personal property in the hands of individuals, we do claim that capital under corporate control should be made to bear its just share of the burdens of taxation, and by other means than through the vague operation of a doubtful hypothesis.

We believe the public franchises of this city alone might be made to yield ample revenue for all its legitimate expenses, still we know too well the futility of expecting any such radical reform of our tax system. Business licenses and the assessment of public franchises could be made to yield a considerable share of necessary revenue.

We have said before, and we will renew the assertion as our mature conviction, that there will be no wholesome or widespread revival of real estate interests until this question of taxation has been fairly and intelligently disposed of. Inordinate taxation, the world over, is the insurmountable barrier to the easy flow of capital. Until we throw down the high wall of local taxation or considerably reduce its height, we cannot expect the capital of the rich or of the moderately well-to-do to flow freely or confidingly into real estate channels.

LEGAL SALES.

If the rules recently laid down by the Supreme Court for regulating the conduct of legal sales should be adopted and re-affirmed by the Superior and Common Pleas, a transformation will be wrought in one department of the real estate business which will amount to almost a revolution. From time immemorial legal sales have constituted the foundation of the auctioneering business on account of their regular occurrence and their lucrativeness. For five years last past, these sales have constituted almost the exclusive business of the auction sales room. To the minds of many frequenters of the Exchange this mode of disposing of property under legal decrees may have seemed simple, harmless and efficacious. Still, there are well-founded suspicions that a certain measure of corruption has crept into these transactions. The fees, though small in individual cases and no great hardship to buyers, upon whom they fall exclusively, amount in the aggregate to a very large sum, and their curtailment or abolishment by the Supreme Court must be accepted as evidence that the judges deemed this measure of reform imperative and salutary. The spirit of reform is running so zealously—we had almost said wildly—throughout the whole net-work of real estate affairs, we are not surprised its rod should have at length struck the auction stand.

Of course, the auctioneers will complain bitterly of this invasion of their prerogative, and no doubt legislative help will be invoked to enable them to maintain their authority in these sales.

We are not sure, however, that the auctioneers consider their interest a right in seeking to perpetuate this ancient method of enforcing legal decrees. The rules laid down by the Supreme Court, which have been published and commented upon in the leading dailies, contain wise provisions and suggest consequences which, we believe, are likely to prove favorable in the future to the interests of established and legitimate auctioneers. If we rightly apprehend them, these consequences will more than compensate for a present and momentary loss of business. It is certainly desirable that legal decrees should be enforced from one rostrum and in consecutive order so far as relates to the sales of a given day. No inconvenience, that we can see, is likely to result from this plan, which will be more than counterbalanced by the resulting advantages. A system of time tables might be adopted whereby a considerable saving of time would be effected. For instance, each sale should be begun at the quarter or half hours after twelve o'clock, and in case any one sale should occupy more than the allotted quarter of an hour, the next sale should be begun at the quarter or half hour next succeeding the close of the preceeding sale. These are small matters which may be left to the discretion of the officers in charge.

The saving effected by the new method of selling, however insignificant it may seem, will really be another burden removed from the negotiation of real estate, and will go far to complete the category of petty economies which have been secured within the last few years.

The immediate effect of the enforcement of these rules will undoubtedly be to suspend the business of the present Exchange Salesroom. Whether this will be an evil or a benefit we will leave our readers to determine. For years past the principal business of the Exchange has been the forcible distraint and eviction of owners from foreclosed premises. To these unfortunate owners the Exchange has anything but pleasant memories; and as properties brought under foreclosure during the past five years were those which had been heavily mortgaged during the inflation era, almost invariably it fell to the lot of the plaintiff in the action to become the purchaser, and even then without being able to feel any too well satisfied with his purchase. Consequently, the purchasers in these transactions are probably cherishing no very friendly associations with the Exchange. The compulsory character of these sales have given to the auction stand somewhat the character of a gullotine, where unfortunate debtors have been impaled and beheaded at the behest of their remorseless creditors. The slaughtering character of the operations carried on here have had the effect of deterring well-disposed and fair-minded citizens from frequenting these sales. In fact, as a class, the auditors who congregate in the salesroom, other than the parties in interest, are looked upon as bargain hunters, and, in some few cases, as sharks and wreckers, who attend purposely to depress and hinder sales in the hope of being able thereby to secure undoubted bargains. The uncertainty which necessarily attaches to a forced sale, absence of full and detailed particulars, ignorance of the history of the transaction, lack of information as to what title may attach to the property, have the effect of rendering these foreclosure sales peculiarly unattractive to any but parties in interest.

The true and typical auction sale is one where a large tract of well known property is offered for sale without reserve by responsible and well known estates and individuals, and, under the auspices of a reputable and trustworthy auctioneer. Under these circumstances, the solid men of the city are apt to flock to the salesroom and the bids are backed by a sufficiency of ready money to give them force and genuineness. It is some time since auctions of this character have been held in the city. Either owners of large tracts of property are unwilling to market them at present rates, or else they are thoroughly dissatisfied with the method of selling by auction, and prefer to hold until they can negotiate sale by private bargain. We imagine one cause of the non-occurence of notable auction sales may be that the avalanche of foreclosures, which have taken place during the past five years, has had a depressing and deterring effect upon the minds of both owners and buyers. The dreary procession of foreclosure sales must come to an end in time, and we fully expect their volume will henceforth be noticeably curtailed. The removal of these sales from the Exchange will leave the field open for natural transactions in the auction line by private individuals. Though auctioneers would suffer an immediate loss by the transfer of their business to the sheriff or the referees we think this would be more than made up to them by the influx of new business from private individuals in sales by auction of vacant property, which has recently become eligible for improvement by the extension of rapid transit. Once divorce compulsory from voluntary sales and we believe the latter will far exceed in number and remunerative qualities any or all of the former.

If the sheriff's auction room becomes an established fact in the lobby of the New Court House, there is a prospect that the representative real estate brokers of the city may be enticed away from their obscure hiding places in Pine street, and be induced to establish themselves in better quarters along Broadway. The Astor House and Stewart's store afford eligible localities for the establishment of real estate offices, and if in either of these buildings a suitable exchange could be fitted up for auction sales of private property, we have no doubt a new impulse would be given to the easiest, most natural and generally acceptable method of disposing of vacant property.

The offices of Pine street are being slowly deserted by real estate men, and only a few leading members of the fraternity can be found there. With scarcely an exception, these offices are dark, gloomy and damp, and rival in inhabitableness the worst of the Wall street dives. Advantage should be taken of the redundancy of office accommodation on Broadway to form a new home for the business. Broadway would seem to be the most suitable locality for the establishment of real estate headquarters as the leading interest would then be identified with the leading thoroughfare.

If the enactment of these rules by the Supreme Court should be efficacious in dislodging the real estate brokers in Pine street, as well as in divorcing judicial from voluntary auction sales, they will have accomplished broader and more beneficial results than their framers originally contemplated.

BUILDING AND BUILDING LOANS.

The period is fast approaching when the legitimate functions of real estate will again assert themselves, when all purely speculative, that is fictitious and imaginary elements will have been eliminated and when the forces of depression will have thoroughly spent themselves. With the revival and extension of general business, there will shortly appear an incoming, prosperous population demanding house accommodations. This new demand will furnish the incentive and best stimulus for building activity, new building enterprises will create the opportunities for the negotiation of sound building loans and the employment of capital now lying inert and unproductive.

In a well settled and stable condition of market values, and in connection with trustworthy and experienced builders, there are conceivable cases where institutions might be warranted in making what is called a progressive mortgage loan, which is only another name for a moderate building loan. The element of corruption has played so important a part in the past, in mingling institution funds in excessive loans with building operations, that there is little likelihood of such propositions being again countenanced by the public, sanctioned by the censors of these institutions or favorably considered by discreet managers of corporate funds. The temptation to the abuse of power when corporate funds without proper restraint and oversight are embarked in building schemes is so great as to be altogether condemnatory of the indiscriminate practice of these transactions. While we would rigorously exclude life insurance companies and savings banks from embarking their funds in any form of building scheme, except investment on mortgage upon completed productive properties, there is no reason why stock companies, such as fire insurance companies and real estate trust companies, all of which are supposed to be more than ordinarily conversant with building matters, and under the immediate surveillance of stockholders, might not safely embark in well-considered and well-founded building loan enterprises. The least risky form of these transactions would be for such an institution to advance the whole or nearly all of the land value at the start, thus enabling the builder to secure the advantage of the use of ready money in buying his land. An additional sum might be advanced in installments as the building progresses, but restricted in all cases to an amount which would make the entire loan represent no more than a negotiable first mortgage upon the property. Such an arrangement would afford many economical features which would promote the interests of the builder without impairing the security of the lending institution. Such transactions could be made to yield the full legal interest of 7 per cent., a rate with which financial managers are ceasing to be familiar. The odium which has heretofore attached to reckless and consequently disastrous building schemes may deter judicious managers for an indefinite time from entertaining or embarking in these ventures. When the prospective conditions of these investments have become well settled and assured, we may expect to find some grades of corporate capital seeking outlets in this particular direction.

In the absence of proffers of corporate capital for building loans, builders will be dependent upon private capital for assistance in furthering their enterprises. What would be profitable and practicable for a well managed institution ought to be equally acceptable to a private capitalist.

Undoubtedly, the greatest assistance and relief which legitimate building enterprises could receive would be in the repeal of our present harsh usury law, which defeats any arrangement which might be made with honor and profit between individuals and builders. There are risks connected with building loans well recognized and well defined which present themselves in every case, except, perhaps, in those where the loan is so cautiously conceived as to afford the builder little or no advantage above that derived from a permanent mortgage loan negotiated at the close of a transaction. Annul the penalties of the present usury law and then an addition of 1 or 2 per cent. to the legal rate of interest might fully compensate capitalists for incurring these risks. As the law stands, however, the builder is compelled to make the best arrangement he can as to bonus with such capitalists as understand and are favorable to these enterprises. The natural effect of the usury law is to limit and restrict the builder in the field of his negotiations for money and to incite and determine those few capitalists who embark in building loans and hold a virtual monopoly of the business to seek much larger return than the results of the business will warrant, or the nature of the risks they assume can justify. The typical and professional building loan capitalist is nothing more than an usurious lender who dares to brave the penalties of the law, and exacts more than liberal compensation for his fortitude and temerity. The usury law is directly answerable for conditions which restrain healthy enterprise, deprive capital of wholesome employment and defeats much meritorious building. However honest a builder may be at the start, after he has involved himself in extravagant bonuses, he quickly sees dire disaster staring him in the face and he is often coerced to take steps which he would otherwise shrink from.

There are capitalists, however, and not a few of them, who, as the expression is, know their men. That is to say, they are so well acquainted with the character and surroundings of certain builders, so sure of their responsibility and good faith, that they are willing and even eager to treat with them upon the most favorable terms. Between such parties the larger share of legitimate speculative building enterprises is conceived, projected and fostered.

The relations of the capitalist and builder are carefully and nicely adjusted at the start, and the way is opened up plain and clear for the builder to prosecute his work without financial embarrassment and with every assurance of success. We could readily mention a number of building enterprises which have been inaugurated under these favorable financial conditions and have proved satisfactory to the capitalist and remunerative to the builder, while the buying public have not been defrauded or victimized either in the quality of the buildings, or in the prices which they were obliged to pay for them.

In view of the settlement of the currency question, of the establishment of rapid transit, and of the general revival of national prosperity, we may safely believe that we are on the eve of notable and extended building developments in this city. The whole unoccupied area of the island is ripe for improvement and will shortly be accessible by the most approved means. The one element lacking in the problem of a ramified and energetic output of building enterprises is the proper and satisfactory adjustment of relationship between capitalist and builder. Where this relation can be equitably defined and arranged the result will be well assured of a profitable and progressive business in building.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

A large business was transacted at the Exchange Salesroom during the week; numerous sales were made by owners and executors as well as by orders of courts.

On Tuesday, Louis Mesier sold, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, the two-story frame dwelling No. 679 Greenwich street, northeast corner of Christopher street, for $6,150; six three-story brick dwellings, Nos. 681, 683, 685, 687, 689 and 691 Greenwich street, for $7,025, $6,975, $6,800, $7,130, $7,600 and $7,600 respectively; No. 137 Christopher street, for $6,000; No. 97 Murray street, for $10,900, and Nos. 503, 505 and 507 Hudson street, for $9,225, $8,350 and $8,900. A. J. Bleecker & Son sold the real estate belonging to the late Ira Perego, situated in New York, Brooklyn and Staten Island, for $25,635.

Wednesday, R. V. Harnett sold the following property belonging to the defunct Oriental Savings Bank, New York City: the lot (25x140) on the east side of Fifth avenue, fifty feet north of Eighty-seventh street, for $16,900; the four-story brick tenement No. 627 West Fifty-first street, for $5,000; Brooklyn: four three-story brick and stone dwellings, each (20x40x100), Nos. 271 to 277 Macon street, for $3,675 each; five two-story brick dwellings (each 18x34x94), Nos. 574 to 582 Herkimer street, for $1,725 each; three-story brick and stone dwelling, (20x40x100), No. 368 Halsey street, for $3,100 and the four-story brick tenement (27.3x50x95.3) No. 162 Hope street for $2,700; the total amount realized was $51,025.

Thursday, A. H. Muller & Son sold, by order of the executor, the three-story brick building (25x100) No. 158 Greenwich street, for $11,900; the three-story brick dwelling (25x100) No. 60 East Seventh street, for $12,000; the four-story brick dwelling (21x103.3), No. 16 West Sixteenth street, for $14,050, and the frame house (25x95.2) on the north side of Forty-sixth street, 175 feet west of Eleventh avenue, for $2,150. Full particulars of all sales made are appended.

At the Commercial Exchange, Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Jacob Cole sold ten lots belonging to the Lefferts estate, situated on Nostrand, Putnam and Tompkins avenues, for $7,880, the bidding was slow and the prices obtained being unsatisfactory, the sale of the remainder of the property was adjourned for two weeks.

At private sale, B. W. Williams has sold the house and lot, 26.5x100, on the east side of Fifth avenue, 20 feet north of Forty-eighth street, for $73,000, cash, to Roswell P. Flower.

During the week plans embracing fifty-one buildings have been filed with the Superintendent of Buildings. On the north side of One Hundred and Thirty-third street, 285 feet east of Sixth avenue, A. E. Beach will erect six three-story brick dwellings. Five three-story brown stone dwellings will be erected on the southeast corner of Seventy-second street and Second avenue. John Coar will erect six three-story brown stone dwellings on the north side of Fifty-eighth street, 300 feet west of Sixth avenue, and J. G. Lynd will erect at No. 60 West Fifty-fourth street one four-story brown stone dwelling.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—On Common Hards the market has remained in much the same general condition noted for a week or two past. Demand was quick enough to bring the offering from first hands under immediate attention, and supplies as they came to hand quickly found customers, and this situation naturally enabled the selling interest to retain advantage without much difficulty. Former rates were obtained and quotations supported, but no advance made, while buyers submitted to extreme figures upon the best of quality only. Indeed, the market was simply a firm one, with no difficulty experienced in selling out the comparatively moderate amounts offering, but no basis for buoyancy shown. As we write, the ice on the Hudson is breaking up, and before this reaches our readers it is likely that one or two cargoes from the "River" will be upon the market. Actual competition and sale will, of course, be necessary to determine price, but receivers talk of $5.75@6.00, and seem to think they will be successful in securing these rates. The great bulk of the Long Island and Staten Island supplies have been exhausted, there is few desirable cargoes to spare from the Jersey accumulation, and the stock in yard here is down quite low, while consumptive wants are on the increase. It is not unlikely therefore that on some of the early sales comparatively good rates can be obtained. Buyers, however, are inclined to caution still, and at a full cost, will not be likely to operate beyond imperative wants. Good lots of Pale brick are wanted, and would probably command $3.25 per M. Fronts of all kinds are more inquired after and promise well. We quote Pale, per M., $3.00@—; Hards, Up-Rivers, $—@—; Haverstraw bay, $—@—; favorite brands, $—@—; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $7; dark, $8; red, $9; Philadelphia, $26@28; Trenton, $24@29; Baltimore, $34@38. Yard prices, delivery included, $2@3 higher on ordinary and $5 @6 on fronts.

CEMENT.—Rosendale has continued in moderate supply and very good demand, with prices ruling pretty firm. About $1.00 per bbl. seems to be fair wholesale quotation, and only exceeded on small lots, or for favorite brands, etc. Sellers look upon the situation as fairly promising for their interest for some time to come, but buoyancy is evidently checked by the commencement of the breaking up of the ice on Hudson. Foreign grades have sold very well and at about the former range of values, with the tone steady. Recently, under a sort of forced sale, a contract was made as low as $2.50 per bbl., but about the average inside is $2.75 ex ship, and from this the range goes up to $3.25@3.40 or better, according to quantity delivered, etc. Arrivals have been fair thus far this year, and importers generally seem to be looking for an improving trade, with a number of contracts already closed on leading brands, such as "J. B. White & Bro.," "Laforge," etc. The San Francisco Journal of Commerce, in a yearly review, has the following, which, in substance, expresses the market in about the same form as recently noted in an extract from another journal published in the above-named city:

Imports of cement have greatly exceeded those of 1877; while those of plaster have fallen short several thousand barrels. Receipts of lime have fallen off largely, while the kilns, especially in Santa Cruz Co., have closed down for a considerable time. The market all the year has been about as low on all all articles in this line as it was possible to be. A great deal of cement has been used for the new City Hall, but bids were made very low—$2.08 for Rosendale and $4.14 for Portland. The trade here is practically in the hands of three firms, and but for that circumstance, enabling the market to be easily controlled, things would have been in a low condition during the year. Immense beds of fossil coral extend through the State, that can make the best cement known. A company founded for their development will commence operation near Santa Cruz.

Latest mail dates from Havana (Cuba), report: Cement and Plaster continue abundant and are both moderately sought after at $6 per bbl., respectively.

HARDWARE.—Business still appears to be a little unevenly divided among the Trade. Some dealers report quite a limited movement and others great animation. By far the largest portion, however, take about a midway position and seem to think matters are moving along in good shape, and can so be maintained, with the possibilities favorable to an increase as spring becomes more open. The selections on the invoices made up are comparatively general in character, but show the same tendency toward first class stock so noticeable of late years. Among the new announcements we note, by Mallory, Wheeler & Co., a revised list for door locks and latches, door keys, padlocks, etc. Trade discount on padlocks and padlock keys, 33⅓ per cent. net cash, on all others 35 per cent. net cash. The principal manufacturers have also issued a revised list for cabinet locks and keys, with a reduction on locks and an advance on keys, but all subject to a uniform discount of 25 per cent. The Wheeler, Madden & Clemson M'f'g Co. have issued a new price list from which we publish the following line of discounts: Circular saws, 40 per cent.; shingle do., 40 do.; concave heading saws, 40 do.; re-sawing or siding saws, 40 do.; mulay do., 40 do.; mill do., 40 do.; gang do., 40 do.; drag do., 40 do.; pit do., 40 do.; cross cut do., 35 do.; ice do., 30 do.; one man cross-cut do., 30 do.; cross-cut handles, 30 do.; hand, panel and rip do., 30 do.; back and half back do., 30 do.; pruning do. (except combination), 30 do.; compass do., 30 do.; compass saw blades, 30 do.; butcher bow and kitchen saws, 30 do.; handy do., 30 do.; butcher saw blades, 30 do.; key hole do., do., 30 do.; hack saws, 30 do.; cabinet scrapers, 30 do.; turning webs, 30 do.; saw mandrels, 30 do.; wire gauges, 20 do.; band saw blades, 20 do.; hand saw handles, 20 do.; upset punches, 20 do.; repairing saws, 20 do.; veneering do., in segments, 10 do.; combination pruning saws, 10 do.; wood saw frames, 10 do.; do., do., rods, 10 do.; do., do., blades, 10 do.; cooper webs, 10 do.; wood saws, framed, 10 do.; files, 30 do.

LATH.—There has been a larger arrival of stock and the offering endorsed the strong position previously assumed by receivers. As usual, when supplies came in sight, buyers were less inclined to make an open demonstration of anxiety, but in a quiet way a great many were ready to get in a bid and the seller had the advantage. The full cargoes, which were large ones, could have been placed without difficulty at $1.60 and on a division $1.65 per M was obtained, the two prices named forming the present wholesale quotation, with the general tone firm as we write. As with other material, however, the call comes only from such dealers as may be absolutely in need and while the prospective consumption is good, buyers are in no mood to anticipate very distant wants.

LIME.—The Eastern product continues to arrive to some extent, but finds a good demand awaiting it and the offering is quickly disposed of, with room for more were it available. Prices, under the circumstances, are maintained without difficulty and the market closes firm and promising. State stock also finds a fair proportion of customers, though dealers do not speak quite so cheerfully, in some cases, as last week. Prices are maintained and on jobbing sales our figures have been exceeded.

LUMBER.—There is a little more stir on the wholesale market, but as yet, mostly of a preparatory nature. Supplies available for prompt delivery are wanted to a fair extent and at a pretty full line of value where the quality is first class and attractive, though the volume and form of demand is simply of a seasonable character and is only to be depended upon while arrivals continue small. Upon contracts, negotiations proceed rather slowly. Some of the receivers, especially from coastwise points, appear to be confident that they will secure comparatively full prices and free sales and their views are in consequence more or less buoyant. Others, however, report that thus far their experience has indicated a very careful feeling among buyers, and at the best only fair ideas of values. The prospects for consumption are admitted to be good, but every item of cost is figured very closely and the margin between cargo rates and the return on jobbing distribution is so small, dealers are indisposed to enter into engagements until pretty well assured they have a safe basis.

Eastern Spruce afloat, showing attractive lengths and ready for immediate delivery, is very good stock to handle at the moment. There has been more offering, but not much of it, and in the natural order of things there can scarcely be any great additions for some time to come, and there is the usual attendance of dealers who at this season always want a little to "fill in." The contract business does not greatly improve. Some few engagements have been made, but buyers, as a rule, are cautious and rather inclined to refuse submission to extreme views entertained by manufacturers through their representatives. Most of the recent arrivals were from the Provinces. We quote at $12.50@13 for random, possibly $13.25@13.50 for choice lengths in small cargoes and $13.50@14.50 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine shows no very stirring features. A fair aggregate movement is reached, taking the orders for export and on home account, with probably a slight increase of the latter, and stocks mark down somewhat from week to week. Some irregularity occurs on price, but the fluctuation is not wide enough to alter the general range. We quote at $14.50@15.00 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@21 for South American do.; $14@15 for box boards; $16@17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $38@50 per M.

Yellow Pine has found a fair sale on contract, and we hear rumors of one or two pretty heavy transactions, part for delivery here, and part for the eastward. The advantages, however, appear to be pretty well balanced between buyer and seller, and values are not materially influenced. The prospect for supplies at the primary points is very good, but some fears are entertained that freight charges may advance. We quote random cargoes at about $18@22 per M.; ordered cargoes $22@24 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21 do., and dry do. do, $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $13@14.50 per M.; hewed timber $7.50 @14.

Hardwoods remain firm for most of the leading styles. Supplies on hand are moderate and under fair control, and while owners are not exacting, they generally appear to be looking for full figures. A considerable amount of stock has gone through on European shipment since the first of the year. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do: oak, $35@40 do; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do., culls, $18@$20 do; cherry, $45@75 do: white wood, ½ and ¾ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $3@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good near by stock.

Yard trade is very good, improving in volume if anything, and dealers hopeful As a rule, however, it is found best to accept about former rates as buyers use much care, do considerable shopping, and, when they have cash, find that their custom is very desirable.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br. brig, 167 tons, hence to St. Pierre, Mart., lumber, $5; an Am. brig, 476 tons, hence to Cardenas or Matanzas, empty hogsheads, 75 c., and old shooks and heads 16 c.; a schr., 115 tons, from Charleston to Barbadoes, lumber, $9, and hogshead staves, $11; a schr., 250 M lumber, from Savannah to New York, $5; a schr., 255 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, $9 for the round, sub-let back at $7; a schr., 126 tons, same voyage, $9 for the round; a schr., 196 tons, from Cedar Keys to New York, cedar, 9c. ₱ cubic ft.; a schr., 180 M lumber, from Jacksonville to New York, $6; a schr., 170 M lumber, from Fernandina to New York, $6,50; a schr., 340 M lumber, from Charleston to New Haven $6; a schr., 230 tons, from Georgetown, S. C., to New York, lumber, $6, and shingles $2; a schr., 3,000 white oak R. R. ties, from Norfolk to New York, 15 c. each.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The following is the latest we have from

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office.

BAY CITY, March 4, 1879.

We have no especially new feature to report in the lumber market and matters in this particular are much the same as they have been during the past thirty days. But few, if any dealers have been in the valley during the past week and the prospects are that the market will open much later than usual. This, by some, is regarded as a favorite omen, and significant of better prices. Buyers, as a rule, are holding off, anticipating an over-stock of logs and a consequent depression in the market, and when the market fairly opens, dealers will be here in a body. The general feeling among manufacturers, however, is that the market will open fair and improve as the season advances. The few sales that have been made indicate the following as present market rates for cargo lots:

Three upper qualities	$25 00@27 00
Common	10 50@11 00
Shipping culls	5 25@ 5 50
Lath	1 20@ 1 25
Shingles, No. 1	2 15@ 2 25
Shingles, No. 2	1 15@ 1 25

A few sales have been made at figures much better than the above, including one of 700,000 feet for $6, $12 and $29, but the stock was a choice one and the figures may be regarded as exceptional. There is less doing in mill yards at the present time, and rail shipments thus far this season are less than usual.

The following from the Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., March 7, 1879.

The lumber business can hardly be said to be gaining much, so long as there is so little of it, but the recent cold weather and fine sleighing have somewhat increased the demand for lumber at the retail yards. Collections are reported very hard, many asking for extensions who are usually prompt.

Lumbering is progressing as rapidly as the most ambitious could desire in all parts of the pine country, and the prospective cut sensibly affects prices. Everybody seems to be a little anxious to begin getting out from under the load they have been working so hard to make.

Quotations are nominal at all points and will remain so until the revision of the lists this spring, which must come, for better or for worse, according to the success in driving out the logs. We are obliged to confess that all the signs are on the wrong side. We hear of a considerable sale of lumber, in which the parties agree to fix the price May 1st, both parties being distrustful of the present condition of things and unwilling to trust their judgments.

It is about time to hear of the breaking up of rates out of Chicago, as the pretending contracts have about expired and outward shipments are light.

Trade for February was an improvement on the previous month at several of the river cities, notably Hannibal and St. Louis.

The Lumberman's Gazette gives the following statement of the lumber trade of the Mississippi Valley during 1878, with amounts on hand January 1, 1879:

1874	423,527,000	141,341,000

The Gazette also compiles the following comparative summary of lumber on hand at points named:

	1879. Feet.	1878. Feet.
Saginaw District	653,347,500	657,810,000

Total, feet	2,115,557,318	1,985,761,503

The Lumberman's Gazette says:

The trade in oak timber the past year has been on a reduced scale as compard with former years, the shipments from the Valley amounting to but 453,880 cubic feet as compared with 1,341,000 cubic feet in 1877. The stave trade of the Valley also shows a falling off, the shipments amounting to but 3,372,426 against 4,970,859 during 1877 and 6,641,200 during 1876. In hoops 21,485,000 were shipped last year, against 5,630,000 in 1877 and 17,891,000 in 1876. The falling off of the trade in timber and staves, particularly oak staves, is largely owing to the depression of foreign trade in countries consuming this product. Our oak timber formerly went largely to Great Britian for ship building purposes, while staves go largely to the West Indies, Spain and France. There is considerable business done along the shore in spar timber, and also in long and square pine, which goes largely to Tonnawanda, though the quantity received by Canada is not inconsiderable. The price in this market delivered on the Saginaw River the past season was twenty-two cents per cubic foot for oak and sixteen cents for board pine. The freight ranged from $50 to $70 per M. cubic feet. The freight in years gone by has been as high as $1.50 per M. cubic feet in gold, and the price for oak as high as forty-eight and fifty cents per cubic foot. The timber handled in this market is produced mostly on the streams tributary to the Saginaw, rafted down and loaded at points all along the river from Saginaw to Bay City. This season quite a large amount of timber was gotten out along the line of the western division of the F. & P. M. Railway, and hauled by rail to the Saginaw River for export.

FOREIGN.

The latest mail advices from Havana (Cuba) report:

White Pine.—No sales during the week, we quote prices at $32@33 gold and demand limited.

Pitch Pine.—Large stock and no demand, so that the dealers will only make very low offers. The last sale was reported at $28 gold.

COOPERAGE STOCK.—BOX SHOOKS.—Little or no demand. Prices for small lots nominal at 7½@8 rs. gold.

Hhd. do.—Sales of sugar hhd. shooks, at 18@19 rs. gold; molasses do do without demand, especially now that empty hhds. are so plentiful.

Hoops.—There have been several arrivals and numerous sales, and prices have declined considerably. We quote them now at $52@53 for long shaved.

Empty Casks.—Have come in in considerable numbers and we cannot now quote at over 22@23 rs. gold.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot is unsettled between a strong effort on one side to force values down, and quite as strong an effort to secure an advance. The latter has been rather the most successful so far as jobbing lots is concerned, but no movement made in a wholesale way. We quote at 15¾@16c. for Lake. Manufactured copper in moderate demand at about old prices all around. We quote about as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz. per sq. foot, 24c. per lb.; do. do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz., per sq. foot, 26c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per sq. foot, 28c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; circles, less than 84 inches in diameter, 27c. per lb.; do. 84 inches in diameter and over, 30c. per lb.; segment and pattern sheets, 27c. per lb.; ocomotive fire box sheets, 21c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 22c. per lb., and Bolt Copper 24c. per lb. IRON—Scotch Pig in good steady jobbing demand, and the parcels arriving find a place about as soon as landed, with full former rates obtained. We quote at $19.00@22.50, according to brand and quantity handled. American Pig in very good request and while some of the common grades show occasional irregularity, all the best brands rule firmly. We quote nominally at $16.50@18.00 for No. 1 per ton, $15.50@17.00 for No. 2, and $14.50@16.00 for Forge. Rails not very active at the moment, but there is rather favorable indications for steel, and sellers ideas are firm. We quote at $32.00@ 35.00 for new iron, and $41 00@43.00 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $20.00@21.00 per ton; scrap, $23.00@23.50. Manufactured iron shows no change of importance. Demand lacks positive animation on any outlet, but still a fair, little jobbing trade is doing and on a basis of about former rates. Common merchant bar quoted in round lots at 1.7c., and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.8c and 2c. are respectively asked. Common sheet, 2¾@3c., and best R. G. American, 3⅞@4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic Pig has sold to a fair extent in a small way. Stocks are pretty full, but holders are not pressing and former rates in all cases asked. We quote at 4¼@4¾c. The manufactures of lead are steady and quoted: Bar 5¼c., Pipe 5½c. and Sheet 6½c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin-lined Pipe 12c., Block Tin Pipe 40c., on same terms. TIN—Pig is at the moment about steady, but the market has shown some irregularity since our last, with a tendency to weaken. We quote at 18@18¾c. for Banca, 14⅞@15c. for Straits, 14½@14⅝c. for English refined, and 14@14¼c. for do. common. Tin plates are meeting with a good, steady jobbing demand, and prices rule steady, though holders are willing to listen to all full bids. Spelter is dull and rather tame at about 4½@4⅝c. as to brand and quantity. Sheet Zinc remains steady and sells to a fair extent at 6¼@6½ from store, according to quantity.

NAILS.—Operations continue fair in quantity and form, and the general market in very good shape. Stocks have accumulated in a few cases, but mostly upon the hands of those who will experience no difficulty in carrying, and there is little danger of an "unloading." Prices rule firm. We quote on basis of $2.10@2.15 net per keg for 10d to 60d.

OILS.—Desirable stocks are of moderate volume and well under control, with holders asking former rates. Demand shows some irregularity, but, as a rule, reaches a fair aggregate. Linseed oil quoted at 59c.@60c. per gallon from crushers hands.

PAINTS.—A very good general demand is reported, and pretty much all the leading styles find more or less movement. Dealers think the tendency is toward an increase, especially on interior account, as the advices at hand all lead to the belief of small stocks in the hands of the country trade. Values are well sustained, and in a few cases there seems to be an inclination to add to the line of cost, though on the general range quotations remain about as before.

PITCH.—Demand has been fairly active at times and again quite dull, but the amount of business accomplished reaches about the ordinary average. The stock available fair and prices holding a steady form. We quote at $1.75@2.00 for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There has not been much doing, and to some extent values were nominal, especially in a wholesale way. Stocks, however, remained under good control, and owners very generally refused to make a shading on cost of any magnitude. As this report is closed we quote at 29½c.@31c. per gallon, according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—No change of a decided character reported. The distribution goes on in about the ordinary form, and there appears to be stock enough for all wants, but under sufficient control to prevent pressure to realize, and prices are sustained for jobbing parcels. In a wholesale way, the tone is somewhat easier. We quote at $1.75@2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.00@2.37 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:
1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.
2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

WATER CLOSETS.

In the work of sanitary reform there is no one subject that demands more specific attention than the water closet.

We shall have no occasion to discourse upon all the varieties of this fixture. There are two types commonly introduced into dwelling houses and of these we have a word or two to say.

1. PAN CISTERN WATER CLOSET.—This is the most ancient, widely-used and generally popular of all these appliances, and yet it is the one fixture that has the least claim upon the consideration or confidence of the public. We would venture the opinion that a good hopper closet, that is, a common iron bowl set upon a trap without any intervening pan, would be preferable in the interior of dwelling houses to the pan cistern closet. This closet is usually supplied from a cistern placed at an elevation of from four to six feet above the closet seat. By this means a ready and free supply of water is secured, but owing to the height of upper stories the street pressure of the Croton water often fails to reach it and in this case the closet is left unsupplied. This is one of the minor inconveniences attending the use of this closet, which can be remedied, however, by the introduction of a pump and tank, but these are far from being infallible sources of supply. The closet, itself, has the form of an inverted and truncated cone, or rather of a large earthen funnel. The cistern water is supplied to the bowl through a semicircular tin plate, called the "fan," which is intended to spray the water widely around the bowl, and the hole in the bottom of the funnel is closed with an adjustable pan. This crockery bowl is made to rest upon a cast iron receiver, which in its turn is connected with the usual four-inch lead trap. The handle which opens the supply cock in the cistern also operates a lever crank which tilts the pan at the bottom of the bowl sufficiently to enable its contents to pass out into the receiver.

We allude to these particularities of the closet, not to enlighten any ignorance which we may suppose to exist among our readers, but merely to define the vulnerable parts of this fixture, and to locate its defects.

There are two parts to every water closet, to wit: (1), the water service or supply; (2), the fixture and its outlet. A careful study of these features of the pan cistern water closet will, we think, satisfy any unprejudiced person that it is not only seriously unadapted to its office, but wholly objectionable as a house fixture. When constructed on the very best system the cistern of this closet is incapable of furnishing a sufficient flushing of water to completely clean out the bowl, retainer and trap. In fact, through constant use, the fan through which the supply passes becomes weak and flexible, and the water passes out in a single stream running directly into the retainer and trap without cleansing the bowl at all. Any old closet of this form, when taken apart, will reveal the fact that inside and outside of the outlet the crockery has become stained and saturated with fæcal matter. Moreover, the pans of these closets are wholly unreliable. Though fitting tightly and operating satisfactorily at the start, through constant use the joint of the pan grows weak, and the least weight of water or fæcal matter will cause it to drop and leave an air space of some inches through which the foul atmosphere of the receiver may pass out into the room. The most objectionable and offensive part of this closet is the iron receiver. The metal of which it is composed absorbs odors and gases to such a degree as to render it highly obnoxious, and the operation of the pan within the retainer is like that of a rammer, which compacts and solidifies the excrement and prevents it from passing down the trap. In examining old closets of this description, it is a common occurrence to find the retainer not only foul and polluted from odors, but actually clogged and lined with impacted human excrement.

Another serious objection to this closet is that the trunk or section of the trap extending from the line of the water seal to the receiver is a magazine full of active gasses, the excess of which through their superior buoyancy rise into the closet and room, every time the handle is raised. The crowning and unanswerable objection to this fixture is the necessity which exists for using a trap in connection with it. This trap furnishes a ready and convenient depository for all the solid matters passing through the closet. In the absence of a sufficient flushing from the cistern these deposits are apt to accumulate until the trap is well nigh choked up. It is needless to say that from such an accumulation of foul matter, there is a constant generation of active gases, which are quite as obnoxious, if not as dangerous, as sewer gas itself. Many attempts have been made to improve this closet and to present it in agreeable forms to the public, but practical experience and modern intelligence alike agree in condemning it as the most dangerous and unserviceable fixture that can be introduced into a house.

2. THE SANITARY CLOSET.—Under this title a great number of meritorious closets have been introduced to the public. We are justified in placing them in one category, for the reason that they all agree in one commendable sanitary feature; and that is, instead of having the water supplied from a cistern outside of the closet, as must necessarily be the case in the pan cistern closet, the bowl itself in the sanitary closet is made to serve the purpose of a reservoir of water and thus constitutes the most complete water carriage drain system.

We will take for example the Jennings' Sanitary Water Closet, not because we desire to draw special attention to this fixture, but simply because it seems to embody in the greatest perfection the meritorious features of this kind of closet. We are not aware that there is anything patented or patentable about this closet, except the valve-cock through which the water service is supplied. It is certain that there is a great variety of closets constructed on substantially this same principle, although differing widely from the Jennings' in the methods by which water service is applied to them. There is the Demarest closet, the Carr closet, the Zane closet and the Adee's Twin Bowl closet, all of which are excellent fixtures and have many warm admirers. These agree in many features and dispense with cistern service, thus saving expense and avoiding the trouble inseparable from that kind of service. They also admit of being used as trapless closets, thus saving the expense and the offence of a water closet trap, a fixture of all others the most desirable to be dispensed with. The bowl in these closets is of earthenware, broad and capacious in size, having an outlet at one side of not less than four inches which is completely sealed and rendered gas and water tight by means of a solid plunger which rests in this outlet on a porcelain seating.

As a sanitary fixture, this closest is well nigh perfect and complete with its solid plunger and its ample capacity for containing a body of water in which human fæces and slops may be diluted and held in solution. When the handle is raised which operates the supply-cock and the plunger, the whole fluid contents of the bowl, measuring between two and three gallons along with its contained excrement, is precipitated in a mass and without the chance of delay or obstruction to the bottom of the main soil pipe.

The single difficulty which attends the use of these closets is in furnishing the necessary water supply. This might be furnished through an ordinary stop-cock, but as such fixtures are liable to be used by careless and unskilled persons, it is not always certain that the bowl will be properly refilled from a stop-cock after it has been emptied. Consequently an effort is made to refill the bowl through an automatic cock, commonly called a hydrostatic valve cock, which closes itself gradually by the pressure of the water after a sufficient quantity has been delivered into the bowl. One of these sanitary closets is supplied by a ball-cock operating in an adjoining chamber, which gives to the closet the name of the twin bowl.

Generally these closets are supplied through valve-cocks, whose construction displays more or less ingenuity. Automatic fixtures are proverbially the most likely to get out of order, but as a rule these valve-cocks are so simple in their construction and so accessible that any householder of intelligence, without the aid of a plumber, and with very little trouble, can remedy any fault which may occur in their operation. The principal, and about the only annoyance which is likely to result in connection with these valves, is of some obstruction finding its way into the interior of their shells and preventing the valves from closing as they should. This causes the water to run continuously, passing out from the bowl into an overflow which is attached to the closets. These overflows form a special and important feature of the closets and need to be carefully studied and treated. If the object of these closets is to dispense with the trap and its water seal, substituting therefore the better safeguard of a solid plunger, then it seems inconsistent to connect the overflow with the soil pipe and guard it with a simple water seal. The most perfect condition under which these closets may be used is to connect a second pipe with the overflow and let it discharge into a vessel in the cellar with open end, not connecting it directly with the soil pipe. By this means there is no possibility of sewer gas invading premises through the water closet.

These are the principal suggestions which occur to us in connection with these excellent appliances, and we will have accomplished our purpose if our readers can be induced to personally study and examine any one or all of the several varieties now being offered to the public.

LANDLORDS AND TENANTS.

At this season of the year, according to a time-honored and seemingly irrevocable custom, the landlords and tenants of this city are arrayed against each other in opposing lines. In a more enlightened, and, we trust, not far distant day, this annual conflict, this periodically recurring tug of war, may be avoided and eventually become entirely unknown. In the case of many wholesale stores it is well understood that leases are made to expire on other days than the conventional first of May. In regard to apartments, flats and furnished houses the expiration of leases follows no uniform or established rule, but is made to occur arbitrarily on such days as may suit the convenience of the parties in interest. In the prospective plenitude of residence accommodation, such as this city will ultimately be competent to afford, it will serve the interests and the convenience of both landlords and tenants to discard the time-honored moving day, and allow leases to expire on any of the recognized quarter days of the year. Under the present system the landlord whose premises become vacant in December or January is often obliged to carry them untenanted until the first of the following May, and, on the other hand, tenants seeking accommodations in any other than the conventional season for letting are likely to be subjected to the payment of extravagant rates. The present rule is one which has no compensations. With every recurring spring season tenants are thrown into an agony of suspense, discomfort and uncertainty as to their domiciles, and landlords also are discomposed with reference to the future disposition of their premises. While some landlords and tenants endowed with exceptionally complacent and accommodating dispositions may be able to come to an early and prompt agreement, in the case of the majority a conflict is foreshadowed at the first preliminary interview, and the bitterness of this conflict as it progresses is intensified by the knowledge possessed equally by either party that the exigencies of the season will develop on the one hand an abundance of proffering tenants, and on the other hand a plenteous supply of rentable properties. Supposing that one-half of the present tenants would prefer to have their leases expire on the first of May, and that the other half might be equally or better suited in having them expire on the other quarter days, to wit: 1st of August, 1st of November, 1st of February, the falling in of even this proportion of leases on dates other than the 1st of May would afford a sensible relief from the hardships of May moving and May renting, and would have a tendency to equalize the business of house letting and spread it more evenly throughout the year.

It is not likely that the present season will prove any exception to past experiences in respect to the acerbity or the obstinacy of this annual conflict. The natural progression of events has caused the relative positions of landlord and tenant to be completely reversed. During the years of the war, and for several years succeeding its close, landlords enjoyed the supreme prerogative of dictating the terms on which residence in this city might be enjoyed, and in exercising this prerogative they were not at all lenient or considerate.

The panic and its attendant revulsion, the enormous depreciation of values and the radical change which has lately occurred in the tastes and habits of our people have slowly but surely brought down the landlord from his high pinnacle of power to the abject condition of a real object of pity.

For more than a year the landlords of this city have been genuine philanthropists and benefactors. If fortune favored, and they were possessed of free and clear property, their net income, after paying taxes and repairs, has become so narrow and restricted as to almost pauperize a millionaire. If less fortunate, and happening to be the possessor of mortgaged property, the function of landlord would resolve it into that of a mere agent for the collections of moneys, the full amount of which he would have to hand over first, to the city for taxes; second, to the mortgagee for interest; and, third, to his mechanics and tradesmen for repairs. It is no stretch of the imagination, but a statement which may be verified in the experience of hundreds of landlords in this city, that the income from property during the past year has utterly failed to meet its expenses; and in order to perpetuate his title to the property free from embarrassments, the owner has been obliged to draw upon his personal resources. It is generally conceded, and widely believed, that real estate for the present has seen its worst day; that the initiative of recovery has already been well taken in the best quarters of the city, and that this potent example will exert a recuperating influence throughout the whole system of metropolitan real estate. For the first time since the panic there has been developed a sharp and eager demand for the purchase of choice residences, a demand, we may add, which has completely absorbed the stock of new and finished houses, while some builders have been fortunate enough to sell houses yet to be constructed. This state of things is a premonition of a better demand for rented property. When we bear in mind that with one or two notable exceptions there has been no specific projection of dwellings in any part of the city for renting purposes, we will then be able to realize the imminence of a scarcity of properties to rent. The opportunities for hiring residences in this city, other than from a few leading estates, arise out of the misfortunes of individual owners who are obliged to leave their homesteads and seek plainer quarters elsewhere, and also from the misfortunes of speculative builders whose finished or unfinished houses may be taken in under foreclosure by capitalists concerned in these undertakings, by whom the properties may be offered to rent. Any intelligent observer of the growth of this city must be aware that projections of extensive blocks of residences, such as have been made in the past by the Astor, the Goelet and the Rhinelander estates, for the express purpose of renting, have been altogether unknown and uncontemplated for many years.

Without the development of the apartment house system, which has been the prevailing dwelling feature of the past five years, there would have been felt before now a real and serious scarcity of dwellings to let.

The furore for the projection of apartment houses seems to have abated for the time being, and there are large classes of population that these buildings fail to satisfactorily accommodate. Families with growing children, and even families without children, or composed of adult members only, fail to find that complete privacy, independence and quietude so indispensable to the enjoyment of a home. With the heavy decline which has taken place in the rentals of private dwellings, precipitated in no small measure by the development and extension of the apartment house system, discontented families are gradually emerging from apartment houses and seeking the occupation of entire dwellings. While the apartment houses for a time underbid the extortionate rents once asked by landlords for whole dwellings, the depreciation in rents has gone to a point now where single dwellings easily compete in rentals with the better class of apartment houses, and successfully compete even with the plainer models. What will be the effect of this revival of competition we cannot now undertake to say. We have a presentiment that in time New York will be better provided with dwelling accommodations in its forms and varieties and on a more extended scale of rentals than any other city.

In the meantime, tenants as well as landlords should be impressed with the fact that there is an end to depreciation in real estate, and that an end for the present has fairly been reached.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

During the week very few sales were held at the Exchange salesroom.

The sale on Wednesday of the Bond street Savings Bank building, No. 330 Bowery, northwest corner Bond street, attracted a number of persons, few of whom, however, bid for the property, which was sold for $55,000 to M. J. Adrian, President of the German Exchange Bank. The original cost of the building and lot was about $220,000. Particulars of all sales made will be found below.

The following private sales are reported: Four-story stone front dwelling (lot 25x100), No. 9 West Fifty-sixth street, for $35,000, to Rev. J. Tuttle Smith; similar dwelling (lot 17x100) No. 667 Fifth avenue, for $42,720, to Dr. Joseph W. Clowes; and similar dwelling with extension (lot 17x100) No. 31 West Fifty-second street, for $27,250 to John Griffiths.

Sixteen plans, embracing thirty-four buildings, were filed with the Superintendent of Buildings during the week, the following are noteworthy: G. N. & N. A. Williams will erect four four-story brown stone dwellings on the north side of Sixty-third street, 150 east of Fifth avenue; Mary A. Turner will erect five three-story brick dwellings on One Hundred and Fiftieth street, near Mott avenue; four three-story dwellings are to be erected on One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, 160 west of Fifth avenue; and eight three-story dwellings on the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-first street; At Nos. 113, 115 and 117 Fulton street and 52, 54 and 56 Ann street, A. C Downing proposes to build a five-story iron store at an estimated cost of $50,000.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending March 21:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—The market for common hards commences to show some symptoms of change, with the inclination in buyers' favor. On the general range pretty much the old line of prices has been asked during the week, but when it came to actual sales a modification of extreme views was necessary in order to secure customers. Arrivals have continued from Jersey, and, as anticipated, the opening of navigation on the Hudson gave access to supplies so long shut off, and quite a number of cargoes at once made their appearance. Naturally, buyers manifested some interest, and a fair proportion of the offering was gradually worked off, but the demand had somewhat of a dragging tone, and cargoes were taken only on the pressure of actual necessity. In fact, business did not prove quite as snappish as hoped for with the renewal of offerings from the "River," though sellers remain hopeful, and it is intimated that the "combination" is using powerful efforts to sustain the position. As we write Haverstraws are valued at about $5.50@5.75, and Jerseys at $4.75@5.00 per M. Pales finds a fair inquiry but at somewhat shaded cost, and $3.00 per M is now about all that can be depended upon. Fronts, as yet, are rather quiet, but dealers report an increasing call for terms, etc., and look for a very good trade. Prices pretty firm, and on the best brands Croton point, etc., about 50c per M is asked. We quote Pale, ? M., $3.00@—; Hards, Up-Rivers, $—@—; Haverstraw bay, $5.50@5.75; favorite brands, $6.00; Fronts, Croton —Brown, $7.00@7.50; dark, $8.00@8.50; red, $9.00@9.50; Philadelphia, $26@28; Trenton, $21@29; Baltimore, $34@38. Yard prices, delivery included, $2.00@3.00 higher on ordinary and $5.00@6.00 on fronts.

CEMENT.—Up to the present writing the actual selling rate on Rosendale remains at $1.00 per bbl., at which the regular local and domestic shipping trade has been carried on, as well as some very fair operations for export. The prospects on the new offering as soon as the "creek" shall open, however, are already under consideration, with some indications that the initiative price will be 90c. per bbl. delivered here. We, however, hear of no contracts at the latter figure, and a portion of the sellers say they will resist a deduction from current figures. Foreign steady at former rates, with further sales both on spot and to arrive.

GLASS.—Some few mail orders came to hand and there is occasional inquiry on local account, but the general market fails to develop any positive activity as yet. We note among nearly all dealers, however, an expression of confidence and culculations, one evidently based upon a good trade during the coming season. At the recent meeting of American manufacturers the question of prices was very thoroughly discussed and the result was to be found in only a few changes. The second bracket was altered to 11x14@15x24, and the third bracket to 16x24@20x28; the fourth bracket now commences 15x31 instead of 15x36 as before. In addition an advance was made of 75 cents per box on the first and second brackets; the discount is the same.

HARDWARE.—Demand, while not without irregularity and in some cases a source of slight complaint, is on the whole very good, and the market has a reasonably cheerful tone. All the sections of the interior thus far reached by travelers for our dealers, show reduced and broken accumulations, with every probability that deficiencies will be made good, but buyers prefer for the present to confine their orders to absolute necessity in hopes that freight charges will be reduced within a few weeks. As a rule, prices run pretty steady and the announcements made by manufacturers and dealers since the first of the year are adhered to. The Jacobus & Nimick Manufacturing Co. have issued a revised price list for locks, latches, knobs, etc., with a discount of 60 per cent. on locks, knobs, escutcheons, builders' hardware, etc. There is an advance on Coe's malleable wrenches to 75 and 10 per cent. discount—formely 75 and 10 and 10.

LATH.—A somewhat smaller offering during the period covered by our report is about the only new feature developed. A sale at reduced cost was reported, but upon investigation we find it to have been part cargo of a lumber vessel and disposed of where she was unloading, at terms as to delivery and payment, tending to fully neutralize the moderate concession allowed. Sellers' views under ordinary form of operations have remained at $1.60 per M, and some look for 5c. more, but it is fair to state that buyers are unwilling to submit readily and hope for some advantage. There is considerable stock overdue, the demand cautious, and the feeling current that it would not take much to cause a surplus.

LIME.—There is not much change. Demand very good, arrivals scarcely so free, and with an accumulation in first hands prevented, the former line of values was preserved without much difficulty on all first-class stock. Only a very moderate supply remains in second hands.

LUMBER.—Business does not change much in form and generally the market developes nothing but the old monotonous features. The slight increase of interest referred to in our last is retained, and on pretty much all kinds of stuff buyers are figuring to some extent, but there is an entire absence of positive anxiety and stout resistance to all attempts at an increase of cost. Thus far the negotiations closed have been, where very urgent wants required, just as early delivery in the spring as could be made, and beyond this neither consumers or dealers appear inclined to move for the present. A portion of the selling interest adheres to the usual spring talk about high prices, a moderate production ahead, and the other embellishments; but the majority are disposed to consider it a good time to make contracts, and are on the look out for desirable customers. No important reaction on price is expected, but it is difficult to discover upon what basis an advance could be made, and therefore to stand off would gain nothing.

Eastern Spruce has about the same general market. Some few contracts are making for special cuts to be delivered later in the season, and there is a fair demand for choice and attractive randoms afloat. Buyers, however, only want enough to carry them along on present necessities, and the demand would not exhaust a very full offering even of choice stock. The offering afloat has been moderate during the week. We quote at $12.50@13 for random, possibly $13.25@13.50 for choice lengths in small cargoes and $13.50@14.50 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine moves along in about the same old form. A very fair home movement takes place in small lots, and for export the demand keeps up to the ordinary average, and a few dealers expressing a little more gratification with the condition of the foreign trade. Prices as before and about steady. We quote at $14.50@15.00 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@21 for South American do.; $14@15 for box boards; $16@17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $38@50 per M.

Yellow Pine is held about steadily, and as a rule the principal dealers are offering with moderation. There is, however, a great many outside parcels to be found seeking a market now and then, and these show an irregular tone, with a tendency to favor the buyer. Very few bids for large contracts are now called for, and only a moderate amount of yard stock is wanted. We quote random cargoes at about $18@22 per M.; ordered cargoes $22@24 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21 do., and dry do. do, $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $13@14.50 per M.; hewed timber $7.50@14.

Shingles still move rather slowly, and as a rule only on the basis of the most positive wants. The export demand has been a little disappointing, but dealers seem to think it will improve, and there is also calculations made upon a fair distribution for home use. Cypress are selling at about $6 for saps and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern sawed grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16-inch, as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch, $16@22.25 for A. and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A. and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10.50 for A. and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

Hardwoods have retained a steady amount of attention and the market is pretty well supported throughout. Demand for local use is confined in the main to such small parcels as immediate consumption may require, as buyers prefer to make frequent purchases rather than risk handling a surplus, but even in this form business is satisfactory. Prices rule steady and stocks are moderate. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do: oak, $35@40 do; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do., culls, $18@20 do; cherry, $15@75 do; white wood, ½ and ⅝ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $33@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good near by stock.

Yard distribution keeps up to a fair general total, and covers about the usual assortment. Prices are steady in a general way, but it requires a wide range of quotations to cover the figures arising from difference of terms, distance and form of delivery, etc., upon which sellers base their valuations.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am. brig, 504 tons, hence to Buenos Ayres, lumber, $17, and general cargo 17c. and primage; a schr., 135 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back, with lumber, $9 for the round; a schr., 464 tons, from Portland to Havana, hogshead shooks, 29c, and hoops on deck $6; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Portland to New York, $1.75; a schr., with 190 M hard pine, from Wilmington to Bath, at $7.50 per M, taking ice out free; a schr., 159 tons, from Rappahannock River to New York, warf piles, 35c. each: a schr., 380 tons, from Savannah to New York, lumber, $5.25; a schr., 87 tons, from Savannah to Baltimore, lumber, $5; a schr., 250 M lumber, from Union Island to Boston, $6.25; a brig, 521 tons, Portland to Havana, sugar shooks and heads, 28c.: a schr., 464 tons, Portland to Havana, sugar shooks and heads, 28c.; a brig, 421 tons, Portland to Matanzas, box shooks, 15c.; four schrs, Portland to New York, lumber, $1.75.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, March 18, 1879.

Quite a number of buyers have been in the market during the past week, and the spring trade has fairly opened, although not with the vim that characterized last season. Prices, however, are fully up to expectations, and but little trouble has been experienced in making sales. Following are among sales made: 300,000 choice at $6, $12 and $27; 3,000,000 at $5.25, $10.50 and $25; 1,000,000 in small lots, at a range of $5.50, $11.50, and $25 and $6, $12 and $25. Mr. McBrier, of Erie, of the firm of James McBrier & Co. (formerly Clemmens & Co.), bought during his visit, at both ends of the river, in the neighborhood of 3,100,000 feet, paying $5.25, $10.25 and $25. Mr. Fascett, of the firm of Smith, Fascett & Co., Tonawanda, bought $400,000 feet of James Hill & Son and 300,000 of Jerome, paying the former $5.25, $11 and $26 for choice stock and the latter $6, $12 and $26; P. A. O'Donnell made a sale of 1,200,000 feet to Harmon & Co. of West Troy, N. Y., at fair rates. The stock was cut last fall and is now on the Crow Island mill dock. Yeomans & Van Winkle also sold 600,000 feet of lumber to New York parties at $5.50, $11 and $26. A number of other sales are known to have been made, the transactions differing but little from the above, while the aggregate sales of the week will reach 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet, which will be covered by the following range of quotations:

Three upper qualities	$25 00@27.00
Common	10.00@11.00
Shipping culls	5.00@ 6.00
Lath	1.25@ 1.30

The following from the Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., March 13, 1879.

The situation has been very materially changed in the last week. The continued warm weather has suspended logging operations on nearly all the lumbering streams of the northwest and sent a large part of the men out of the woods. This unexpected turn of affairs interferes seriously with all calculations and estimates on the cut of the winter. The experience of all loggers in the past has been that winter would last until April 1st, and now they are twenty-five days short by a special interference of Providence. All that remains to do is to figure up what has been done and what chance there is to market what has been cut in the little time allowed.

We are not now prepared to furnish our readers a statement of the amount done on the whole river, but have figured up the St. Croix during the week, and taking that as a fair sample, are obliged to say that there is a full average cut of logs in the West now on the bank.

Lumber is selling a little more briskly than last week, but prices are seriously demoralized at all western points.

More general attention is being given to the matter of railway freights and it is hoped that in about one hundred and fifty years the fraternity will wake up to the fact that it is simply a question of railway tariff whether any person can do business or not at any point in the country, and, as a rule, the better the facility for doing business at any place the more discrimination is used against it by the transportation companies.

Prices are so weak that they can hardly stand by leaning up against a wall, but no one has issued any new trade lists during the week; hence our quotations are nominally the same as for weeks past.

We obtain the following from the Lumberman's Gazette:

THE PROBABLE LOG SUPPLY.

Up to this time we have received returns from all the leading lumbering points in Michigan, as well as from the Penobscot in Maine and the Susquehanna in Pennsylvania, indicating the probable result of logging operations during the past winter, and the figures received may be condensed in the following table, the first column representing the amount of logs run out of the streams named during the season of 1878, the second column showing the estimate of the stock put in last winter to be run out the coming season:

*Amount manufactured at Manistee, Ludington and Cheboygan during 1878.

The figures for Michigan for 1878, it should be remembered, are for an exceptional year, a poor winter for lumbering and a poorer summer for log running, so that the contrast with a good winter would seem greater than a too hasty conclusion would justify. The contrast would also be materially lessened when it is taken into consideration that an immense amount of logs were marketed last year by railroads, which amounts do not appear in the above list, and which, if they could be given, would materially lessen the difference. It should also not be forgotten that the estimate for 1879 is only for logs banked. There are many contingencies that may arise to materially curtail next season's log supply but we believe the demand in consequence of the improved condition of the market, will be fully equal to the stock that is liable to be supplied, and the season of 1879 will be a good one for the logger and lumberman.

The Lumberman's Gazette discourses as follows upon the opening market:

The opening market for lumber is now a serious question that many readers of the Gazette have propounded to themselves and to others, in most cases obtaining satisfactory answers. The general impression among dealers and manufacturers of the Valley is that the market will open fair and continue good throughout the season. The fluctuations will be light and the demand steady and although the prices realized will not reach those prevailing during and immediately preceding "war times," they will be fairly remunerative and uniform throughout the season. Stocks on hand at the leading distributing points throughout the country, are, as a rule, somewhat larger than this time last year, but throughout the country generally, among the consumers, they are light, and as a season of activity usually follows one of depression, the demand, it is to be presumed will be greater. An abundant log crop is beyond any reasonable contingency; its preparation and harvest requires a vast amount of labor, and in this respect the movement will prove a great blessing to the country, as has the summer lumbering of the past year. The Saginawian very sensibly commenting on the situation says: "One of the most intelligent and observant lumbermen of this city, who has of late given some time to a careful investigation of the markets of Ohio and the West, informs us that as a rule the stocks in the interior are light and the demand good. The extraordinary call for shingles of late indicates that a class of repairs long delayed and put off on account of close times have become imperative, and these require large amounts of lumber. Freights by rail, and the increased allowance as to car loads are matters that give material advantage to the interior dealer and buyers for actual consumption, and while the past season has not been prodigal for farmers, the agricultural interests everywhere are sound, and shows no failures among its numbers, and from this source is promised a large demand for lumber another season. There are some unfavorable indications, to be sure, as low prices of product compensated in a measure by the low price of articles of wear and consumption, but while the indications are not for a period of kiting, they point to another season of close business. There is nothing in the general outlook, even though the stock may be larger than ever before, that warrants any prognostications of disaster to the lumber business.

FOREIGN.

The London Timber Trades Journal as follows:

LIVERPOOL, February 27.

The collapse of the laborers' strike and the numerous auction sales recently held, have made business appear a little brisker than has been the the case for some time past. Still the demand is very languid and prices continue to rule very low, as will be seen from the results of the sales.

Yesterday Messrs. Robert Coltart, Smith & Co. offered two cargoes of sawn and hewn pitch pine timber. One cargo was nearly all withdrawn, there being too great a difference between buyers' and sellers' ideas of values to admit of business.

GLASGOW, February 26.

There is little change to note in reference to the timber market here since my last communication. The consumption of wood all over the city and in the country districts, continues to be trifling. On the other hand, stocks are not receiving additions of any consequence, the only arrivals during the fortnight being one cargo of East India teak and a cargo of pitch pine. There is now no mahogany here of any description in first hands, the last having been sold at the beginning of this month. The stock of American spruce deals is low, but prices have been kept back by the competion with Baltic and Norwegian goods of a similar description, of which there was a large import last season.

LEITH, February 27.

I have no arrivals of wood goods to report during the past fortnight, but several cargoes are expected shortly to arrive. Various shipments of pit props will make their appearance at Bo'ness so soon as the vessels can leave Norway and Sweden.

Messrs. Risk & Co. offered for sale at their saw mills, Leith Walk, on the 18th, American logs, cut timber, &c. There was a large attendance, but the buyers were limited. Sixty-eight lots yellow pine boards were offered and the half were sold at fair prices. These lots were not sold at five-eighths average, as is customary.

NAILS.—Buyers are in about the usual attendance, and from regular sources, with little or no variation in the general status of the market. Supplies are available to about the extent of the outlet afforded, but without showing any decided surplus, while in all cases full rates are asked and the tendency, if anything, is to gain tone. We quote nominally 10d. to 60d., common fence and sheathing per keg, $2.10@2.15; 8d. and 9d., common do. per keg, $2.40; 6d. and 7d., common per keg, $2.65; 4d. and 5d., common do. per keg, $2.90; 3d. and 4d., light, per keg, $3.65; 3d., fine, per keg, $1.40; 2d., per keg, $1.40.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $2.60. Floor casing and box, 75c. above the same sizes of common. Finishing, $1 above and fine finishing $1.25 above.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1½in.	2 & 2¼in.	2½ & 2¾ in.	3 in. & longer
$5.90	$4.50	$4.25	$4.00 per keg.

OILS.—Supplies continue pretty well together and holders quite firm, though naturally this is shown to the most decided extent on choice grades. Demand fair with some buyers taking invoices slightly in excess of immediate wants. We quote linseed oil, 60@61c. ℔ gallon; lard, 58@59c. for winter; 49@52c. for No. 1, and 45@47c. for No. 2; crude cotton seed, 35@36, and refined summer yellow, do., 42@43c.

PAINTS.—Jobbing dealers continue to advise a good steady demand for standard stock of all kinds and a cheerful encouraging market. No special or direct inclination to buoyancy is claimed, but rather an ability to preserve about the current line of values and keep a steady movement of supplies toward consumption. On the wholesale market some irregularity has been shown, but fluctuations were not wide and were, in the main, the result of natural and legitimate causes. Arrivals from abroad were fair, but in many cases the stock appeared to have a place provided for it immediately upon landing, and the market was not influenced. Sales of whiting have, in some cases of late, proven quite free.

PITCH.—There is nothing of special interest. Buyers who want stock come forward and get it from a stock equal to all their orders, and which holders offer at former rates in pretty much all cases. We quote at $1.75@2.00 for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Business has continued moderate and uncertain with the general tone of the market rather slack, but as holders refused to offer with freedom no serious decline took place. Stocks are about all that the market requires. As this report is closed we quote at 29@30½c. per gallon, according to quantity of stock handled.

STONE.—Exports of marble from Leghorn to the United States, from January 1 to February 15, as per Charles Malenchini's circular, were 2,950 tons, as against 180 tons for the corresponding period last year. The shipments to the several ports were as follows:

		1879.	1878.
To New York	Tons	1,630	1,515
To Boston	"	500	399
To Philadelphia	"	350	225
To Baltimore	"	450	131

On the 14th ult. there was loading 750 tons for New York, 400 tons for Philadelphia, and 300 tons for Baltimore—total, 1,450 tons.

TAR.—Demand moderately active from ordinary sources and in usual form. The stock holds out very well for the wants of the market, but is not excessive, and owners' views are steady at about the former line of cost. We quote at $1.75@2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.00@2.37 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

PROPERTIES FORECLOSED BY INSTITUTIONS.

In the subjoined table our readers will find an accurate statement of the properties situated in this city, taken in under foreclosure during the year 1878 by incorporated companies. The value of this table is three-fold:

1st. It furnishes a reliable index to the measure of ability and foresight heretofore exercised in the management of these companies, with reference to their capital investments. 2d. It constitutes a directory of ready reference as to the ownership of these vast estates, and 3d. It enables the general public to comprehend the extent to which concentration of real estate in corporate hands is now going on.

It is proper to remark that these lists furnish only a partial account of the results of corporate foreclosures. Under the pressure of their accumulation, these institutions applied to the legislature some ten years ago and obtained the enactment of a law allowing them to invest their funds on mortgage at points anywhere within a radius of fifty miles around New York. They already possessed the authority to lend on property situated anywhere within the State. Abundant evidence has recently been furnished to prove that these companies availed themselves largely and perhaps recklessly of this permission, and, in consequence, have been compelled to become the owners of many properties situated outside of the city of New York. Our records contain the data of the mass of such transactions, but our space is too limited to admit of producing a synopsis of foreclosures that have taken place outside of the city. The archives of the State at Albany, and the books of these companies must contain full returns of all such transactions, and it would be a meritorious enterprise on the part of any leading daily to collate and publish reliable lists of out-of-town properties taken in under foreclosure by corporations.

Our principal concern is with transactions pertaining to this city, and we have, therefore, taken the pains to prepare and present the annexed tables. As some of our readers may be aware, a statutory period is prescribed within which corporations are allowed to retain the title of foreclosed property, such period being five years. The jealousy of the American people over the corporate holding of real estate is reflected in this statute. As corporate foreclosures did not occur in any great numbers prior to 1874, we are now entering upon the year during which the statutory limit will expire in respect to properties foreclosed during 1874, but a recent amendment to this law extends the period whenever it would lead to a serious sacrifice of the interests of the corporation.

Since the first of the year there has been a marked falling off in foreclosures and particularly in those initiated by institutions. We may warrantably suppose that this depressing feature of the real estate market will gradually subside and in time altogether disappear. Surviving institutions have carefully weeded out weak and undesirable loans, and the thoroughness with which this has been done is attested by the immense volume of foreclosures which were consummated during the year 1878. It will be incumbent upon the State officers having the supervision and control of these matters to see that corporations faithfully and promptly comply with the prescribed provisions for the re-sale of foreclosed property. While this enormous mass of real estate remains in corporate hands it will serve as a menace to the market far more depressing and deterrent in its effect than would be the simultaneous offering of this property at peremptory sale by auction.

REAL ESTATE AND RAPID TRANSIT.

Things that are unknown are often apt to unduly exalt the imagination, and things that are long and patiently looked for are apt to be disappointing in their realization, simply because unwarranted or irrational expectations may have been indulged. From the date of the earliest suggestion of rapid transit, hopes were entertained that the sequel of its establishment would be an enormous advance in the values of metropolitan real estate. Those who indulged in this vagary seem to have lost sight of the fact that the inflation of prices, which once prevailed, was due as much to repressed circulation as to any other single cause. When the growth of the city could be calculated by thousands in population, and the accessible area for building improvement could be computed by the square foot, it was no hard matter to maintain a progressive scale of values. But when high prices expelled population by tens of thousands and inaccessibility rendered residence far up-town undesirable, then the necessity was developed for a rapid transit system. Rapid transit does away effectually with the repression which was stunting the growth of the city, and overturns and revolutionizes former methods of real estate calculation.

One of the first consequences of rapid transit will be to equalize land values upon a lower rather than upon a higher plane. This will be due to what may be called the centripetal force of rapid transit, that force which will operate to distribute and diffuse population throughout corporate limits.

There is another force in rapid transit which must not be lost sight of and which for convenience we will call the centrifugal force. This force will operate to concentrate and confine population around chosen centres. The population will be carried to a distance which is compelled, through force of circumstance, to seek low-priced accommodation. The population which naturally and habitually affects the fashionable and expensive quarters of the city will be confined to those quarters more strictly and exclusively than ever, because new, distant and unexplored sections must promptly take on the offensive badge of cheapness. Rapid transit, by taking off the pressure of those who are compelled or may prefer to cultivate habits of domestic economy, will make the needed room for those who are able to indulge in the expensive luxury of fashionable residences.

New centres of residence will, no doubt, be created in time, but these will be of uncertain development and their prevailing characteristic must, of necessity, be cheapness. The older centres will retain their popularity and will strengthen their prestige and dignity through the facility which rapid transit will afford for the sifting and re-adjustment of neighborhoods.

Instead of raising rents and values of real estate to a common high level, rapid transit will be the means of giving a definite and permanent classification and arrangement to urban real estate and of justly equating the values of the same. It will distribute population throughout the whole extent of the municipality in carefully graduated districts, wherein the tastes, means and circumstances of our varied and composite citizenship can be accomodated and fully satisfied.

Residences in New York city will, in time, be obtainable at prices ranging from fifty dollars a year up to the highest rent which has ever been paid, and at a corresponding gradation of purchase prices. This extended scale of rentals and values will embrace common tenements, apartment houses, cottages, snug dwellings, private residences and sumptuous mansions.

THE EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES.

The annual statement of this corporation appears in our advertising columns, and seems to indicate a very sound and healthy condition. The number of policies issued for the year is unquestionably large, and the surplus is of satisfactory proportions compared with that of other unquestioned institutions of this class. As no allusions are made in the statement to last years' business, we cannot say how this year compares with it.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

At the Exchange Salesroom numerous sales were held during the week, full particulars of which appear below; for the coming week an unusually large number of sales are announced. Eight dwellings on Madison avenue, Sixty-first and Seventy-third streets will be sold to satisfy mortgages amounting to $159,000, on which there is due about $73,075 for interest and costs.

At the Commercial Exchange, Brooklyn, Jacob Cole sold about seventy-five lots belonging to the Lefferts' estate, and situated on Hancock and Halsey streets, Nostrand and Putnam avenues, for $40,109.

The following are the noteworthy plans filed with the Superintendent of Buildings during the week; Four three-story brown stone dwellings will be erected on the west side of Lexington avenue, twenty-five south of Sixty-second street; four four-story brown stone dwellings will be erected on the south side of Sixty-eighth street, 100 west of Madison avenue, and seven similar dwellings will be erected by Arnold & Constable, on Seventy-second street, east of Fourth avenue.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending March 28:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Common Hards continue to favor the buyers and prices are again somewhat off. There has been more or less demand, but not of an active or decided character, and the receipts were full enough to leave a surplus of stock at times of pretty large bulk. The work already laid out and the prospects of additions are still spoken of in an encouraging manner, but contractors are not much inclined to push matters until the weather becomes more settled. The current consumption, therefore, is, to a large extent, only a matter of necessity, and demand correspondingly restricted. The tone on prices is a little unsettled, some receivers making an effort to hold matters steady, while others prefer to sell and reduce the number of cargoes afloat. Under the latter course favors have to be shown buyers, and, as we close, $5.50 per M. seems to be about all that can be depended upon for Haverstraws, while some "Up-Rivers" at hand are not valued above $5.00 per M. on an attempt to realize. A few Long Islands are quoted at about the same rate. We do not hear much about the combination beyond what it expects to do "later on." Pales have also sold moderately and are easier, with not much certainty of sale above $2.50@2.75 per M. Fronts are quoted steady with a moderate amount of business only doing. We quote Pale, per M., $2.50@2.75; Hards Up-Rivers, $—@5; Haverstraw bay, $5.00@5.50; favorite brands, $6.00; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $7.00@7.50; dark, $8.00@8.50; red, $9.00@9.50; Philadelphia, $26@28; Trenton, $24@29; Baltimore, $24@38. Yard prices, delivery included, $2.00@3.00 higher on ordinary and $5.00@6.00 on fronts.

HARDWARE.—The movement makes some headway, and generally there is a very cheerful feeling retained on the market. Direct sales to buyers are mostly on local account or for orders from nearby points, the distant interior now filling up very generally though the memorandums given traveling agents. Export operations have been fair, and this line of business appears to hold its own in volume as compared with last year without difficulty, while in a few instances there is an increase. Prices continue to be very well sustained, and in some cases there is a tendency to rather greater firmness. The Shepard Hardware Company have published a new list, with the following discounts, etc.: Shepard's patent "noiseless" blind hinges, Nos. 50 and 60, 75 and 10 per cent. discount; Shepard's patent "standard" blind hinges, Nos. 4 and 5, 75 and 10 per cent. discount; Shepards patent "double locking" blind hinges, Nos. 1 and 2, 75 per cent. discount; Shepard's patent blind hinges, No. 40, 80 per cent. discount; Shepard's patent gate hinges and latches, Nos. 10, 20 and 25, 50 per cent. discount; tinmen's fire pots (Boore's patent), net 25 20 per dozen. Most of the leading manufacturers have agreed upon a discount of 60 per cent. for strap and T hinges and hinge hasps. The manufacturers of stair rods have agreed upon a uniform price list, with a discount of 33⅓ per cent.

LATH.—Supplies have again been comparatively few and the offering appears to have caught up to the demand, resulting in a weakening on values. Early sales were made at $1.60, but later $1.55 was accepted, and as we close, the latter rate is apparently all buyers are willing to give and sometimes refuse to bid even this. Receivers, however, seem to think they can hold the market for a time without further decline, as the amounts now reported on the way are small and with more settled weather a better demand is anticipated.

LIME.—About the same general features prevailing. The amount of Eastern offering has been rather moderate and it found sale as fast as received, with former rates obtained and buyers submitting readily. Indeed, more stock could no doubt have been placed, but as yet, receivers scarcely feel justified in making an advance. State lime remains steady in price and meets with about its proportionate demand.

LUMBER.—More favorable weather for coastwise navigation, the reopening of the Hudson, etc. are likely to give us larger supplies, and a corresponding increase of business, as there is a place for a fair amount of lumber. Some experience already gained on the offering of new stocks, however, has demonstrated, that with rare exceptions buyers are just about as cautious as at the close of last season, and must be met upon a conservative basis to insure their custom. Desirable quality and fair terms will no doubt keep a steady trade and bring the final aggregate to a satisfactory figure, and this in fact about covers the expectations of most of the principal wholesale dealers. Local consumption promises an increase over last year, and there is also a very good prospect for regaining custom from near-by points, where a few seasons trial of other sources of supply has proven that this market is the most satisfactory in the long run. Some doubts are expressed over the export trade, but the hope is that last year's total will be reached at last.

Eastern Spruce of very choice quality continues fairly attractive stock, and receivers who can offer such either on spot or to arrive, experience no great difficulty in securing attention. Yet, as we have before noted, buyers are neither reckless or even free in their negotiations, and even those who are most in want of stock will crowd very hard for the last possible fractional gain on cost before closing. A poor and undesirable random cargo under the circumstances does not have much chance, and must be offered low to secure a market. Recent offerings have proven quite as full as the market required, and some of the receivers do not appear altogether well pleased with the situation. We quote at $12.50@13 for random possibly $13.25@13.50 for choice lengths in small cargoes and $15.50@14.50 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine remains about steady. Since our last we have heard some intimation of changes in cost, but dealers who are handling a considerable amount of stuff do not confirm these reports, and advise about the former general range of valuations. Indeed, for many months there has not been a positive fluctuation of 25c. per M, and as this uniformity was the basis of considerable business, its continuation is naturally hoped for. Export demand is about as usual, and there is more or less competition to secure the orders, but sellers are no longer inclined to cut under an actual profit for the mere sake of victory in this contest. On home account some increase of demand is reported, mainly from box-workers whose stocks have run down. We quote at $14.50@15.00 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@21 for South American do.; $14@15 for box boards; $16@17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $38@50 per M.

Yellow Pine has a somewhat uncertain market, but on the whole does not tend to much animation. Contracts for local wants are few, near-by points are calling for rather less than anticipated, and dealers tell us that it requires protracted and close negotiation to place cargoes for export direct from primary points. Quotations, however, are not greatly changed, and the position is rated nominally steady. We quote random cargoes at about $18@22 per M.; ordered cargoes $22@24 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21 do., and dry do. do, $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $13@14.50 per M.; hewed timber $7.50@14.

Hardwoods continue steady in price and in very fair demand. Rather more stock is wanted for consumption by local and near-by manufacturing concerns, a few shipping orders from the Eastward are filled, and exporters occasionally lend some aid in reducing the first-hand accumulation here. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do., culls, $18@20 do; cherry, $15@75 do; white wood, ¼ and ⅜ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $32@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good near by stock.

Yard business is seasonably active and satisfactory to most of the larger dealers who can offer an attractive assortment. Stocks, however, are all more or less broken, and buyers occasionally have to shop around to satisfy their wants. Prices vary very little from the former general range.

At a recent meeting of the Canal Board of New York State, held at Albany, a concurrent resolution of the Legislature fixing canal rates for 1879, was adopted. The toll on shingles was fixed at ½ cent per 1,000 pounds per mile; staves the same; white pine, whitewood, basswood, cedar, boards, planks, scantling and all sidings and other sawed stuff less than one inch thick, 7½ cents.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br. barque, 649 tons, hence to Montevideo for orders, to River Platte, up river ports excepted, W. P. lumber, $15 net; a Br. barque, 463 tons, from Union Island to River Platte, lumber, $19 net; a schr., 142 tons, from Mobile to St. Kitts, lumber, at or about $10; an Am. brig, 438 tons, hence to Cardenas, shooks and heads, 18c., and empty hogsheads, 70c.; a Swe. barque, 522 tons, hence to Matanzas, empty hhds., 60c.; a schr., 614 tons, hence to Cardenas or Matanzas, empty hhds, 70c.; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Savannah to New York or New Haven, $5.75; a schr., 300 M lumber, from Savannah to New Haven, $7; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $5.50; a schr., 225 M lumber, from Savannah to Baltimore, $5; a schr., 225 M lumber and timber, same voyage, $5 and $6; a schr., 185 M lumber, from Savannah to New York, $5.25; a schr., 161 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back, lumber, $9 for the round; a schr., 173 tons, hence to Fernandina, cargo free, and back with lumber, $7; a schr., 372 tons, hence to Charleston, stone, $1.60, and hay, $4, and back with 70 feet piles, $8 each; a schr., 295 tons, from Mobile to New York, timber, $10, and plank $8.5; a schr., 147 tons, hence to Brunswick and back, lumber, basis about $7.50 for the round; a schr., 257 tons, from Charleston to New York, R. R. ties, S. board measurement; a schr., 145 tons, from Charleston to Baltimore, lumber, $5; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Savannah to New York, $5; a schr., 118 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, $9 for the round; a schr., 325 M lumber and timber, from Savannah to New York, $5.50 and $6.50; a schr., 324 tons, hence to Norfolk, Va., in ballast, and back with 70 feet piles, $4.50 each.

From St. Johns as follows:

A brig, 273 tons, deals, 6ds. 6d. o. c., Westport, L.; a schr., 147 tons, lumber, $2.75, to New York; one, 67 tons, laths, 60c., to New York; one, 98 tons, lumber $2.75 to New York; and one, 103 tons, lumber, $2.75 to New York.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,
BAY CITY, March 25, 1879.

A few straggling buyers have presented themselves in the market during the past week, and a number of sales have been made, but transactions as a rule have been light, as compared with former years. The disposition among buyers seems to be to hold off and buy later. There is no disposition among sellers to dispose of their stock at a sacrifice, and the feeling is that better prices will be realized than those tendered by many buyers. The following is given as the range of prices realized:

Three upper qualities	$25 00@27 00
Common	10 00@11 00
Shipping culls	5 00@ 6 00
Lath	1 25@ 1 30

Shingles, first class river brands, bring $2.40@2.55, with No 2s about $1 lower, and 2 per cent. off for cash on all sales. Country brands range somewhat lower, with quotations somewhat irregular. The movement of shingles has been quite large, the principal shipper being James Stewart & Co., who last Saturday shipped some twenty cars to New York and Boston points. This firm has yet about 20,000,000 on hand.

RAIL FREIGHT ON LUMBER.—A meeting of the committee appointed by the joint committee of East and Western trunk lines at the recent meeting in New York, was held at Detroit on the 18th, to discuss and recommend freight rates on forest products for the season of navigation and for next winter. Resolutions were adopted recommending to the joint committee the adoption of the following rates: From Chicago to New York for the summer, on a basis of $55 per car of ten tons, and $40 per car from Detroit; the winter rate to be $10 per car higher. This rate if established will be upon the same basis as those which have prevailed the past two weeks. The committee also adopted a recommendation that the rate from Tonawanda and Buffalo be no lower than $10 per car below the rates as established from Detroit.

The Northwestern Lumberman, published at Chicago, publishes the following table as representing the probable lumber supply of Chicago for the season of 1879:

Green Bay Shore	400,000,000
Manistee	200,000,000
Ludington	135,000,000
White Lake	100,000,000
Muskegon	458,000,000
Grand River	100,000,000
Miscellaneous	75,000,000
Total	1,468,000,000
Lumber now in pile at the mills	213,160,778
Total prospective stock tributary to Chicago	1,681,160,778

The following from the Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., March 20, 1879.

Raft lumber opens on the river at $10 for assorted dimension boards and strips as will be seen by the Dubuque report. This is nearly $2.50 under the figures of a year ago, and may be taken as an index to the trade of the summer. Logs are held at $4.50 to $5 on the Chippewa, and about the same figure on the upper Mississippi, being a reduction corresponding to the fall off in the prices of dry sawed lumber at all markets. The present stocks will evidently be closed out at about the present rates, which so far as the West is concerned is about net cost, and in many cases actually below it. Whatever may be the effect of the large cut of logs in Michigan and the West, or the failure of the drives, these are considerations which should not effect the price of sawed lumber this spring to either force it up or down, as a fair trade will take it about all up before the new crop is available.

At Saginaw the market opens at $5 for culls, $11 for common and $26 for uppers. Sales for eastern shipment are reported at these figures; but we notice a number of sales reported on private terms, which generally means cutting under under market prices.

Chicago is very badly demoralized and getting worse daily. This state of things is attributed to the readjustment of western freight rates, and the consequent loss of western business.

Common lumber in the northwest is selling at about $10. No new lists have been made; hence we are compelled to continue the publication of the old ones, which are considered too high, but we cannot make lists for the trade, if they neglect to do so.

News from the logging regions is to the effect that the freeze-up of last week set a large part of the loggers at work. On the upper Mississippi the roads are reported better than they have been at any time during the winter, and a very large week's work has been done. A snow fall of five inches visited the upper Chippewa, St. Croix and Wisconsin rivers' country on Thursday and set them all at work again. All along the southern border of the pine regions operations have ceased.

The prospects for driving are as poor as can well be imagined and therein lies much hopes for the year.

THE EAST.

BOSTON.

The annual meeting of the Lumber Dealers' Association of Boston and vicinity was held on Saturday, 22d, at the office of Lewis & Hall, No. 77 State street, and the following gentlemen elected officers for the ensuing year: J. O. Weatherbee, president; H. N. Clark, vice-president; Charles W. Lewis, treasurer; Waldo H. Stearns, secretary; Nathan G. Gooch, E. P. Reed, Henry Rolfe, standing committee; George B. Sawyer, William P. Paul, auditors.

THE SOUTH.

The Savannah News as follows:

LUMBER.—Mills are supplied with work for the present. Demand good. Orders can be readily placed at quotations. Prices range about as follows:

FREIGHTS.—Lumber.—By Sail.—There is good demand for coastwise tonnage at full rates. Spot vessels are more especially sought for. Very little demand for West India or other off-shore tonnage. We quote: To Baltimore and Chesapeake ports, $5.00@5.5°; to Philadelphia, $5; to New York and Sound ports, $5.2°@6.00; to Boston and eastward, $6.00@7.00; to St. John, N. B., $8.00; [Timber from $1.00 to $1 50 higher than lumber rates]; to the West Indies and windward, $7.00@8 00 gold; to South America, $18.00@20.00, gold; to Spanish ports, $14.00@15, gold; to United Kingdom, timber, 31s., lumber, £5@£5 10s. From 25 to 50c. additional is paid for change of loading ports.

FOREIGN.

Mail advices from Havana, Cuba, report as follows:

White Pine—Without any sales to report during the past week, we quote prices nominally at $30 to $32 gold.

Pitch Pine—Sales have been reported to us since our last review at higher prices than our quotations; but, although as high as $28@29 gold per M. feet have been secured in one or two cases, we still do not think that prices can be quoted for usual cargoes, and at present, at over $26@27 gold.

COOPERAGE STOCK.—Box Shooks.—Limited demand but stock being nearly all in the hand of one holder, prices are firmer in the local market, though for importations we cannot consider such figures at all obtainable. On the spot by retail we quote 7½@8½ rs. according to quality, quantity and terms.

Hogshead Shooks—We quote 18@19 rs gold for sugar hhd. shooks and molasses do. do., there is no demand and prices rule nominal.

Hoops—There have been heavy arrivals and prices are lower. We quote $50 gold cash, as the nominal price.

Empty Casks—There is little demand, but some have been sold and we quote at $3.50 gold.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot has not sold very freely, and the demand was mainly for small lots. Stocks, however, are carried with considerable confidence in anticipation of increased orders. We quote at 15⅞@16c. for Lake. Manufactured copper in somewhat better demand at steady rates. We quote about as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz. per sq. foot, 24c. per lb.; do. do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz., per sq. foot, 26c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per sq. foot, 28c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; circles, less than 81 inches in diameter, 27c. per lb.; do. 81 inches in diameter and over, 3°c. per lb.; segment and pattern sheets, 27c. per lb.; locomotive fire box sheets, 24c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 22c. per lb., and Bolt Copper 24c. per lb. IRON—Scotch Pig has been dull with the market unsettled, but mainly in buyers favor under the somewhat discouraging accounts from abroad. We quote at $19.00@22.00, according to brand and quantity handled. American Pig has been rather quiet, as most buyers are receiving a supply on contract sufficient to meet current wants. The situation, however, is under very fair control and sellers ideas firm. We quote nominally at $16.50@18.00 for No. 1 per ton, $15.50@17.00 for No. 2, and $14.50@16.00 for Forge. Rails have had a quiet market on iron, but steel sold pretty freely with some companies under contract for delivery well into the fall months. We quote at $32.00@35.00 for new iron, and $41 00@43.00 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $20.00@21.00 per ton; scrap, $23.00@23.50. Manufactured iron has continued to move fairly in jobbing parcels, and at about the former basis of cost on all standard styles. Common merchant bar quoted in round lots at 1.7c., and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.8c and 2c. are respectively asked. Common sheet, 2⅝@3c., and best R. G. American, 3⅝@4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic Pig has declined on cost with considerable irregularity shown, but of late the market steadied up again somewhat, and the offerings are not so free. We quote at 4½@4⅝c. The manufactures of lead are steady and quoted: Bar 5½c., Pipe 6c. and Sheet 6¼c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tinlined Pipe 12c., Block Tin Pipe 40c., on same terms. TIN—Pig has found a good demand with pretty liberal sales at times, both on the spot and to arrive. Values increased and holders at the close are firm. We quote at 17½@17¾c. for Banca, 15½@15⅝c. for Straits, 15⅜@15½c. for English refined, and 15¼@15¼c. for do common. Tin plates have found a rather slow sale, and in the absence of favorable accounts from abroad holers weaken a trifle on price. Spelter has not been very active, but is held steadily at 4½@4¾c. for good stock. Sheet zinc a shade off in price, and quoted at 6¼@6⅜c. from store, according to quantity.

NAILS.—Demand keeps along steadily and gives no evidences of haste or anxiety. Buyers, in fact, simply call for such parcels as may be required for immediate wants, and when these are satisfied withdraw. Total movements, however, are encouraging and values preserve a fairly steady tone. We quote on a basis of $2.10@2.15 for 10d. to 60d. according to size of invoice.

OILS.—The supplies are still in shape and compass to be controlled without much difficulty, and holders remain steady on most of the leading grades. The movement fair and buyers accept the situation readily. We quote Linseed Oil at 60@61c. from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—There is not much animation on the wholesale market and few features of decided interest on the general run of stock. Among jobbers, there appears to be a very fair movement, however, and a cheerful market. Buyers are not taking liberal invoices, but are frequently duplicating orders and the daily footing of the sales books are encouraging. Prices fairly steady, except for white lead, on which combination prices are being cut to a considerable extent.

PITCH.—Demand moderately active, in about the usual form and without new features. Supplies are under fair control, but can be reached without much trouble and holders are, as a rule, willing to accept former rates. We quote at $1.75@2.00 for city delivered.

PLASTER PARIS.—While the season has not as yet fully opened on lump plaster, there has been considerable stock contracted for, and the indications are that a pretty large amount will be brought forward. The cost, as reported, is about the same as last year, at, say, $2.75@3.00 per ton. Calcined is meeting with a good and steady increasing demand, including the usual run of local orders, a fair call from the interior and coastwise dependent points, with a sprinkling of California and foreign shipments. Prices, however, have not improved, the old time competition among some of the leading manufacturers tending to keep the valuation down, even below the cost of production, and buyers, of course, reap the advantage. About $1.00@1.15 per bbl., are talked of according to quality, but there is considerable doing in the way of special contracts at variable figures.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—In a jobbing way, a fair general movement takes place, but on wholesale parcels, buyers have been rather cautious and business was dull. Prices have not greatly changed, the small and well-controlled stocks giving holders an advantage. As this report is closed we quote at 29½@31c. per gallon, according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—A fair average business doing and the market showing no great change. Supplies are not very full, but seem to satisfy the outlet and holders willing to realize when they secure a good fair bid. We quote at $1.75@2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.00@2.37 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

Architects and Builders

Will add much to the beauty of their buildings by using

Gardner's Perforated Three-Ply Veneer Seating,

Which is Ornamental, Durable and Cleanly.

We refer to the following new and elegant buildings fitted up with our goods:

Morris Plains, N. J., Insane Asylum; New York Hospital; American Museum of Natural History, New York; Settees in Depots of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, etc; New York Elevated Railroad Co., Depots and Cars.

NEW YORK, November 1, 1878.

MESSRS. GARDNER & CO.

GENTS—The Perforated Opera Chairs put in my Brooklyn Music Hall have proved a great success. They not only furnish the hall in a very attractive style, but for comfort and convenience they are far superior to any upholstered seat I have ever seen. We have the best audiences that Brooklyn can produce, and as yet I have heard nothing but the highest commendation of our seat. Yours very truly,

(Signed) O. G. WALBRIDGE.

MORTGAGE LOANS BY INSTITUTIONS.

In compliance with a promise of long standing, we present to our readers in this number, tables showing the data of mortgage loans made by incorporated institutions for the year 1878. In our analysis of institution loans presented a year ago, we found so much material for criticism that we were obliged to select from the general body of loans only such as appeared to us to be injudicious or unsafe. Diligent and unsparing scrutiny of loans made by institutions during the year 1878, has failed to develop any great number of transactions which could be unfavorably commented upon. The few cases where the margin of security seems to be below the conservative standard are quite defensible on valid grounds, such as location, bondsmen, prospective appreciation, etc., and their selection for criticism at the present time might seem invidious and superserviceable. The improved character of these mortgage loans may be accepted as evidence of wiser and more circumspect management. The primary idea of these monied institutions is the safe investment of capital, and when caution and conservatism are exercised in their management especially in the selection of real estate investments, they cannot fail to command the hearty and cordial confidence of the public, and thus ensure their own perpetuity.

We have examined and re-examined this list of mortgages, and are unable to detect the existence of a single mortgage which might not be safely recommended to any trustee or executor. If this principle of safe loaning is adhered to in the future by these institutions, we shall forego no opportunity of bestowing upon their investments all the praise they deserve.

We have denoted with an asterisk (*) the few cases to which the most fastidious connoisseur in mortgage loans might take exception.

The letters P. M. (purchase money) denote that the mortgage has been taken in part payment of the purchase price, generally upon a sale, by the institution taking the mortgage.

BONNER PORTLAND CEMENT.

The Bonner Mining & Smelting Association, of Bonn, Germany, call attention to a cement which they are now introducing into the American market. Although they have been manufacturing this article upwards of a quarter of a century, the demand of the continental markets has been sufficiently large and continuous to prevent them from appearing as competitors in the United States. Throughout France and Germany this cement has been used for apparently all the purposes to which it can be applied; in railroad construction among others the Rhenish and Bergish Markish Railroads, various bridges over the Rhine and culverts, in fortifications at Cologne and other places, for shafting in mines, for hydraulic purposes, for bedding of heavy machinery, for forges in such shops as Krupp's, for stuccoing in gasometers at Munich, Cologne and other large cities, on house fronts, and in all of which offices it has earned specifically strong testimonials for its adaptibility.

The claim of the producers is that it has no superior, and is certainly of a finer grade than the English cement, showing from three quarters to five-sixths less residuum when run through the same sieve, permitting a greater admixture of sand without impairing the binding force, which, of course, is is so much clear gain to the consumer. Another most valuable feature the company claim is the marked evenness of their product and adamantine hardness it assumes without shrinkage or loss of volume. Each barrel is guaranteed.

The association received awards of medals for their cement at the international displays in London, 1862; Paris, 1867, and Vienna, 1873; besides prizes from other local exhibitions, and numerous testimonials from engineers of railroads, fortifications, mines, gas, hydraulic and other public works throughout the continent of Europe. Messrs. Miller & Co., of 34 New and 38 Broad streets. are the agents for this cement, and it is for sale by Mr. John Chadwick, of No. 49 Broadway, as will be seen by referring to their advertisement in another column.

THE MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, OF NEW YORK.

The annual statement of The Manhattan Life Insurance Company, which will be found in our advertising columns, should attract notice from those who contemplate investing in that way, and of course will be very carefully scanned by those who already patronize the company. While there is an absence of ponderosity in the figures. they are nevertheless indicators of a substantiability which any company in these times may point to with satisfaction. The bulwark of life insurance, its investments, seem to be good, and certainly the amount of death claims paid show great promptness in meeting such liabilities.

The age of The Manhattan Life suggests a successful breasting of many stormy financial seasons, and looking over its list of directors and officers it is easy to understand how it has done so.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Increased activity has prevailed at the Exchange Salesroom during the week, numerous parcels of improved and unimproved property were offered by owners as well as by orders of courts; the subjoined list contains particulars of all sales made.

Thirty plans, embracing fifty-six buildings, the estimated cost of which is $589,050, were filed with the Superintendent of Buildings during the week, the following are noteworthy: Messrs. McKesson & Robbins will erect three six-story brick stores at Nos. 95 and 97 Fulton and 76 and 78 Ann streets; seven three-story brown stone dwellings will be erected on the north side of One Hundred and Sixteenth street, between Lexington and Fourth avenues; six similar dwellings on Seventy-sixth street, east of Madison avenue; five four-story dwellings on Eighty-third street, west of Fourth avenue; five four-story brick tenements on the northeast corner of Seventh avenue and Sixteenth street; one six-story tenement, to cost $65,000, will be erected on the east side of Washington square, north of Fourth street, by L. Tuckerman; George Ehret (brewer) proposes to erect a five-story building, at a cost of $75,000, on the south side of Ninety-third street, between Second and Third avenues; and Breen & Nason will erect two four-story brown stone dwellings on Sixty-sixth street, east of Madison avenue.

During the quarter ending March 31, 1879, 211 plans, embracing 393 buildings, to cost $3,137,663, were filed

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Since our last report the figures on Common Hards have settled off a further slight fraction on all grades, but the shading appears to have brought cost to rather nearer hard pan, and the market now commences to show a better tone. The flush of the opening receipts has passed, demand has been nearer on a par with the offering, and a much smaller number of cargoes are carried over from day to day. Consumption is more liberal as the weather improves, and the prospect seems good for a realization of the expectations entertained regarding the amount of brick likely to be used this season for regular building purposes in addition to the requirements of the elevated railroads. Some Harverstraws sold as low as $5, but $5.12½@5.50 are now as low as can be quoted while Up rivers range at $4.50@4.75 with not a great many of the latter as yet received. The subject of the combination among manufacturers seems to attract more attention, and there is pretty general belief that the parties to the compact will endeavor to carry out their plans. This, as we have before explained, does not propose making any direct attempt at fixing a standard market price, but is an agreement to refrain from commencing operations until May 5th, and subsequently to limit production to 25 per cent. less than last season. Pale brick have been irregular. A great many lots of soft and broken stock were run in here from Long Island and Staten Island to "clean up," and these were difficult to place, with sales made as low as $2 per M., but really good stock has been scarce and is now wanted with $2.75@3 per M. bid. Fronts continue firm and are in demand for small lots on local account and for shipment South and East. Prices firm and the leading brands of Croton Points held at $8@$9@9.50 respectively for the three grades. We quote Pale, per M., $2.75@3.00; Hards Up-Rivers, $4.50@4.75; Haverstraw bay, $5.12½@5.50; favorite brands, $6.00; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $7.00@8.00; dark, $8.00@9.00; red, $9.00@9.50; Philadelphia, $26@28; Trenton, $24@29; Baltimore, $34@38. Yard prices, delivery included. $2.00@3.00 higher on ordinary and $5.00@6.00 on fronts.

CEMENT.—Arrivals of Rosendale have taken place, and the season may be considered as opened. The rates as anticipated, have commenced at 80c. on "creek," and 90c. per bbl. here, and while a few irregular jobbing parcels have continued to command $1.00, the above may be considered the wholesale prices. Some shipping orders have also been received, and we note a charter from Rondout to Philadelphia at 15c per bbl. freight. Foreign grades in very good demand both on spot and to arrive, and firm on all the principal brands.

GLASS.—Demand not very active on out of town orders, but improving, and hopeful indications of an increase as facilities and cost of transportation improve. For local use the movement tends to increase, with some of the standard sizes pretty active. Prices are steady, and the recent revisions of list and discount quite generally adhered to.

LATH.—Following our last, sales were made as low as $1.50 per M, under some little extra pressure to realize, but as the supply has since been comparatively moderate, the tone steadied up again with 5 @ 10c. higher asked. The market does not appear to show any special buoyancy, however, and a very few cargoes would make a surplus.

LIME.—As yet, the market shows no important change. Business has been moderate, but, as supplies were small, it is thought that buyers held back mainly through a knowledge of the fact that they could not secure stock if they came upon the market. Quite a number of cargoes are known to have started for this port, but there is a hope that the offering will be wanted, especially as the recent stagnus on the Eastern coast have disabled some of the vessels, and in some cases the cargoes were reported as on fire. State lime is nominally unchanged, but some arrivals of stock wintered over are expected within a few days.

HARDWARE.—Most of the distribution of goods outside the city continues to be made on agents' or travelers' orders, but these call for a full amount of stock and the market is active. On city wants the demand is regulated for small lots, buyers not anticipating their wants, owing to the easy access to first hand accumulations, but the aggregate movement commences to increase. On the general tone, valuations are well sustained and we again hear rumors that existing differences over certain style of builders hardware are likely to be harmonized. The Penfield Block Works have issued a new discount sheet. Galvanized pump or well chains are quoted at 7¼@7½c. per lb. net, according to quantity. The manufacturers of the Eagle anvils (minims) announce a reduced list as follows, to take effect April 1st: No. 000 (silver plated), weighing ½ lb. $1; No. 00, weighing about 4 lbs., $1.75; No. 0, 10 lbs., $2.25; No. 1, 15 lbs., $2.75; No. 2, 20 lbs., $3.25; No. 3, 30 lbs., $4; No. 4, 40 lbs., $4.50; No. 5, 50 lbs., $5.25; No. 6, 60 lbs., $6; No. 7, 70 lbs., $6.50; No. 8, 80 lbs., $7.25; No. 9, 90 lbs., $8, and large anvils, 100 lbs. and upward, 9c. per lb. Discount to the trade without change. A new rod door spring called the "Bee" and a patent burglar proof door bolt are the latest introductions upon the market. The Empire Portable Forge Company have issued a reduced price list, with a discount to the trade of 25 per cent. The following are the rates: No. 0, without hood, for shops, $25; No. 1, do., do., $30; No. 2, do., do., $35; No. 3, do., do., $45; No. 0, with hood, for shop, $30; No. 1, do., do., $35; No. 2, do., do., $40; No. 3, do., do., $50. With pulleys for power, extra, $5. No. 8, rivet heating forge, with dome, $40; No. 8, do., without dome, $35, No. 8, do., without dome or wheels, $30; No. 9, pine legs, extra deep fire pan and swivel handle, $27; No. 10, wrought iron legs, without hood, $21; No. 10, do., with hood, without doors, $27; No. 12, bench forge, without hood, $13; No. 12, do., with hood, $16.

LUMBER.—Our wholesale market continues without incident of an exciting or unusual character. Increased supplies are now nearly or quite within reach and appear to be sufficient to satisfy current calls for most kinds of stock, with now and then a slight surplus, even of the more desirable goods. We frequently hear of some small differences over the line prices but nothing as yet upon which a radical change would be made in average quotations. In fact, the situation seems to be pretty clearly balanced, and between the manufacturer, the wholesale dealer, the jobber and the consumer, the respective limits for margins are so nicely calculated that a uniform market is the protection of all. Such fluctuations as do occur are merely on temporary influences in the way of greater or less attractions in current offering, mode of delivery, terms of payment, etc., sources through which advantages of a minor character can frequently be claimed by both buyer and seller. No danger of a short supply is feared and there is every warrant to hope for reasonable terms at primary points.

Eastern Spruce retains the same general market. Some few buyers are asking estimates on specials, and, as the terms are kept on about the former basis, negotiations proceed smoothly. To random offering of good-sized and carefully cut stock attention also turns very fairly and sales of such are not difficult. Demand, however, lacks decided vigor and this seems to be a source of annoyance to a portion of the Trade whose predictions and preparations have been for a contrary condition of affairs. An ordinary random can scarcely be depended upon to exceed $12 per M. Arrivals continue quite as full as the market requires. We quote at $12.00@12.75 for random, possibly $13 00@13.25 for choice lengths in small cargoes and $15.50@14.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine has found a fair movement on all the regular outlets, but the most satisfactory reports are from sellers to the export trade. Even this has not been without disappointing features in some respects, but, on the whole, keeps up pretty well on the usual run of invoices and occasionally there is an opportunity afforded to figure on a call for full cargoes. Stock here is somewhat reduced but there is more within reach when it may be required. We quote at $14.50@15.00 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@21 for South American do.; $14@15 for box boards; $16@17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $38@50 per M.

Yellow Pine rules nominally steady on price, but, as a general thing, the market lacks animation. Some of our dealers are able to dispose of a cargo occasionally on the export call, the shipment to be made direct from the South, but this is the only regular demand existing. Most of the mills are fairly supplied with logs but a few are behind on their orders. We quote random cargoes at about $18@22 per M.; ordered cargoes $22@24 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21 do., and dry do. do. $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $13@14.50 per M.; hewed timber $7.50 @14.

Shingles in moderately active demand with a few slightly more favorable indications. An increase in the export call is deemed quite certain and dealers report almost positive assurances of a good distribution to the interior as the season gradually opens. Cypress are selling at about $6 for saps and $8.50@9.00 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2 50@4.50 for 16-inch, as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch, $16@22 25 for A. and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24 inch, $6.50@16 for A. and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10.50 for A. and $11.25@15 75 for No. 1.

Hardwoods of all kinds, where condition is good, meet with a fair amount of attention, and may be considered as having a healthy market. It is not likely that an exhaust could be found for any important additions to the supply, but there is rarely much of an interval between present arrivals and their sale, and former rates are very generally secured. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do., culls, $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, ½ and ⅝ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $30@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $55@75 for good near by stock.

Among the retail yards the business is somewhat irregular, but there is a very fair amount of stock going out in various ways, and the situation promising. Some additions have been made to supplies, but they were moderate, mostly held for a special trade, and the general assortment is more or less broken.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A schr., 374 tons (here), from Fernandina to Demerara, lumber, $8; an Am. barque, 431 tons, hence to Sagua, shooks, 16 c., and empty hogsheads, 75c.; an Am. schr., 200 M lumber and timber, from Savannah to St. John, N. B., $8 and $8.50; a Br. schr., 144 tons, hence to St. John, N. B., coal, $1; a schr., 628 tons, hence to Charleston, stone, $1.60, and hay $3.50, and back with 70 ft. piling, $8; a schr., 250 M lumber, from Pensacola to Philadelphia, $7, or New York or New Haven, $7.50; a schr., 292 tons, from Perth Amboy to Port Royal, railroad iron, $1.85, and back to New York, lumber, $5.75; a schr., 120 M lumber, from Brunswick to New York, $5.87½; two schrs., 297 and 330 tons, from Cedar Keys to New York, lumber $8; a schr., 170 M lumber from Savannah to Camden, Me. $7; a schr., 99 tons, from Pantego, N. C., to New York, shingles and cedar logs, private terms; a schr., 295 tons, from Brunswick to Boston or Portland, resawed lumber and boards, $6.50; a schr., 194 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, $9 for the round.

Private advices from St. John, N. B., to a local journal announce lower deal freights, and the following charters: The Br. ship Crown Prince, to Liverpool, deals 56s., and timber 30s. c. d.; Br. ship Black Prince, same; Br. ship Henry, same voyage, deals, 55s. 3d., c. d.; Br. barque Etta Stewart, to east coast Ireland, deals, 57s. 6., o. c.; Br. brig Liffey, to Belfast or Waterford, deals, 57s. 6d., o. c.; and Br. barque Silver Cloud, to east coast Ireland or Bristol Channel, 60s., o. c.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,
BAY CITY, April 1, 1879.

While the general disposition of the Saginaw lumber market is to hold on, there has been considerable activity of late, and a large number of transactions have occured of late, some, it is true, at low figures, as compared with last year, but it is believed at figures fairly remunerative, and it is generally believed among the trade that the figures will be maintained throughout the season, and that fairly remunerative prices will be received. The past winter, as a rule, has been favorable to logging, and there will be but few if any summer cut logs brought in the market, the main question being on the amount cut which will come to market. In the Saginaw district, including the Shore, the prospects are favorable. While lumber dealers and manufacturers complain of the dulness of the lumber trade just now, during the past fifteen days the sales will in the aggregate amount to probably 12,000,000 or 15,000,000 feet. With the exception of one sale of 7,000,000, the stocks disposed of were mostly small lots. The trade has opened later than usual this spring, owing largely to a disposition to wait the results of the operations in the woods, but there is every indication that the ensuing thirty days will witness considerable activity, as all the indications are that the season will be a decided improvement over last year. Reports from all the distributing points are to the effect that an increased demand for lumber is manifested. The Toledo Commercial says:

The lumbermen are generally fixing up and preparing for big work this season. The inquiry from retailers is greater than it has been for some seasons, and the general prospect is very encouraging.

A Saginaw lumberman who has been looking over the market gives it as his opinion that in the interior, as a rule, stocks are light and the outlook promising.

The shingle market is steady, and the receipts continue large. River brands, $2.35@2.50; country, $2.15@2.25.

The following from the Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., March 27, 1879.

The mild weather of the past week has had the effect of increasing the shipments from all points in the valley, as will be noticed by the reports from several points. A spring trade may be regarded as fairly opened which will exceed that of 1878. Stocks are somewhat broken and prices weak. Below we print a list for Minneapolis, which somewhat nearly represents the prices of lumber at this point, but does not agree with the figures of more than one or two in every particular. Each dealer has a list made to suit his stock and feelings. It will be conceded that these figures are very low, and we hope they are the lowest that will be reached this year.

News from Michigan is to the effect that rates on lumber have been fixed so as to ship direct to Western points, and go around Chicago. The new arrangement also includes Eastern points. Look out for trouble!

Logging is over, and everyone engaged in the business is fully of the opinion that his neighbors have cut more logs than there was any necessity for, and cannot understand why they were so foolish. Driving prospects are not at all flattering; many of the small streams are perfectly dry. The ice is out of the main rivers, and the snow all gone, without making any change. It will require heavy rains to get any large amount of logs out of any of the tributaries, except the Chippewa.

Vanderbilt & Hoyt, of New York, are cutting 3,000,000 feet of seventy-foot timber in Clare County, Mich. It is Norway, and will make 6,000 pieces in all. It will be shipped via Saginaw.

The Saginawian has the following on the Michigan log crop:

We give in supplement a report of log crop for 1879. Since collecting the information furnished on our part, we have not had one moment's time to figure, generalize or philosophise on the subject. A revision of aggregates by the Courier brings the product for the Titiabawassee and tributaries down to 515,000,000 feet, 90,000,000 feet in excess of the product of any former years, and we are certain this calculation is not too high.

NAILS.—Stocks have been found sufficient to meet the calls of the market, even at times when the movement was pretty free. The surplus, however, was by no means large and the production it is claimed will be so gauged as to prevent an uncomfortable accumulation. Prices rule about steady at the advance recently made by the Atlantic States Nail Association bring the figures for 10d. to 60d. up to $2.15, net, and 5@10c. more for job lots. We quote: 10d. to 60d., common fence and sheathing per keg, $2.15; 8d. and 9d., common do. per keg, $2.40; 6d. and 7d., common per keg, $2.65; 4d. and 5d., common do. per keg, $2.90; 3d. and 4d., light, per keg, $3.65; 3d., fine, per keg, $4.40; 2d., per keg, $4.40.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $2.30. Floor casing and box, 75c. above the same sizes of common. Finishing, $1 above and fine finishing $1.25 above.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1¼in.	2 & 2¼in.	2½ & 2¾ in.	3 in. & longer
$5.90	$4.50	$4.25	$4.00 per keg.

OILS.—A very fair consumptive demand has prevailed and some inclination to speculation in a few cases. On the wholesale market fluctuations occured, but for jobbing parcels a pretty even line of values was held, though there is no tendency to buoyancy. We quote linseed oil, 60x64c. ℔ gallon; lard, 55@57c. for winter; 48@51c. for No. 1, and 45@47c. for No. 2; crude cotton seed, 30@35c., and refined summer yellow, do., 45@46c.

PAINT.—The market, in a general way, remains in just about the situation for a long time current. From first hands, the distribution of supplies is irregular, according to the necessities of buyers for breaking up, and values fluctuate slightly in accordance with amount of stock moving. The jobbing trade, however, keeps along quite steadily taking up standard goods, and a uniform line of cost is firmly preserved without much difficulty. Assortments and quantity available are for the time being equal to the outlet, but not excessive. The irregularity on White Lead continues with the results favorable to buyers, as competition leads to the shading from combination rates.

PITCH.—Supplies are equal to all calls and the market gains no special strength or character. Stil the offering is under sufficient control to prevent a free or forced offering, and most holders are pretty steady in asking about former rates. We quote at $1.75@2.00 for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Business has been irregular and not very active, but still enough so to retain the steady tone, and sellers had most of the advantage. Supplies only fair. As this report is closed the quotations stand at about 29½@31c. per gallon, according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Demand has been irregular and without reaching much volume. Holders entertain fair confidence in their stocks at ruling valuation and refrain from forcing matters, but are not willing to refuse a really good bid. Supplies fair. We quote at $1.75@2.12½ per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.00@2.37½ for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

NEW YORK, November 1, 1878.

MESSRS. GARDNER & CO.

GENTS—The Perforated Opera Chairs put in my Brooklyn Music Hall have proved a great success. They not only furnish the hall in a very attractive style, but for comfort and convenience they are far superior to any upholstered seat I have ever seen. We have the best audiences that Brooklyn can produce, and as yet I have heard nothing but the highest commendation of our seat. Yours very truly,

(Signed) O. G. WALBRIDGE.

VACANT LOTS IN THE FASHIONABLE QUARTER.

The baffling and inexplicable phenomenon of New York city is the arbitrary character of its fashionable residence quarter. While in other cities, citizens are at liberty to choose sites for their residences in any direction of the compass, the wealthy and fashionable resident of New York is limited strictly in his choice to the quarter which happens at the time to be the favorite of fashion. The exclusiveness, fastidiousness and gregariousness of our fashionable population, have heretofore caused the prevailing fashionable quarter to be solidly built up, or nearly so, before a new one had been fairly opened or explored. This operation is now repeating itself. The number of existing vacant lots below Forty-second street, between Park and Sixth avenues, may be counted on the fingers of one hand, and above Forty-second, as far as Fifty-ninth street, between the same avenues, the district which is now recognized as ultra fashionable, the stock of vacant lots is being gradually reduced to an enumeration of tens, rather than of hundreds. We published a year ago a full and reliable inventory of the vacant lots in this last mentioned quarter, and we now present for the edification of our readers an inventory of the present stock of such lots.

It will be seen that the absorption of these lots during the past year has been unprecedentedly and unexpectedly large, and has so far exhausted the available stock, that, if a corresponding demand is kept up for two or three years longer, the entire number will be taken up. These facts are significant and instructive. They portray more graphically than words could do, the intense infatuation which pervades the minds of wealthy citizens to occupy this quarter, and defines and determines the law of expensive growth in the metropolis. The remark is commonly applied to such citizens that they are "Fifth avenue mad." Although this particular mania has been quiescent for many years, it has broken out recently with renewed force and vigor. The infatuation, however, seems to be of a healthy type and to assail citizens of abundant means who are availing themselves of the existing opportunities to secure residences in close proximity to the avenue if not directly on the avenue itself. The real estate in this active quarter represents the very acme of the metropolitan system. Here the highest prices are paid for vacant lots, the most sumptuous edifices are erected and the greatest variety of the institutions of modern civilization abound. It is no wonder that all eyes are turned to operations in this quarter as furnishing the concert pitch for the entire real estate symphony. The influence here exerted sends its vibration for good or for ill to the very extremities of our city real estate system. It is folly to attempt to place any real estate outside of this quarter upon a level with that within it, or to suppose that equal eclat can be conferred upon other real estate at a moment's notice. The distinctive dignity and value of property within the fashionable quarter are the result of many years of slow development, patient self-assertion and gigantic investments of capital. In this quarter real estate may be compared to old books and old wines, which ripen and mature and appreciate in value with the lapse of time.

As the above table will demonstrate, the past year was one of exceptional activity in this select quarter. This activity was not at all of a speculative character. Few, if any, building loan operations were therein exploited and nearly all of the speculative building ventures were conducted by builders of recognized standing and responsibility. The readiness with which their productions have been marketed is an indication both of their merit and of the steady demand among wealthy people for choice residences. The most noteworthy feature of this activity is the extent to which private owners are taking up lots for immediate and special improvement. Of transactions, matured and unmatured, there is likely to be during the spring a brilliant display of building enterprise on Fifty-seventh street, between Fourth and Sixth avenues.

This whole movement represents sound and healthy real estate investment, as far removed from the wild and kiting speculations of the inflation era as opposite arcs of a circumference.

EQUALIZATION OF RENTS.

Real estate values and rentals have struck the lowest depths of depreciation, and are now moving upon an upward turn. It probably represents the case truly to say, that while there is no immediate prospect of any speculative rise, or of any startling or inordinate spontaneous advance, the scales of lowest values have for the present been recorded. At present figures, both the prices and rents of property may be expected to crystalize and harden. The principal business of landlords and tenants, as of sellers and buyers, in the present juncture, is concerned in efforts to effect the just and true equalization of rents and prices.

In the matter of rents this operation is two-fold, and applies to the landlord as well as to the tenant. The landlord is required to forego all recollection of the fabulous rents which he once received, or if he dallies at all with these precious but ancient memories, it must be only for the purpose of striking an average, and of estimating his good or bad fortune thereby. Rents and values of property have depreciated on an average about 50 per cent. The sooner the landlord makes up his mind to accept the ascertained measure of depreciation as an irrevocable and accomplished fact, and to content himself with such rents as are now attainable, the better it will be for his mental tranquility, and the greater satisfaction will he be likely to derive from his property. Leases which were made three or four years ago, are no criteria of what may now be realized from property. Landlords must congratulate themselves upon having then secured such favorable leases if made with solvent parties and reconcile themselves easily and cheerfully to their altered fortunes.

There should be no difficulty in determining what is a fair and equitable return from property. Values throughout the city have now become so clearly defined at gold prices that it is a simple arithmetical problem to determine what income property should rightfully and naturallly produce. A clear, net return of six per cent. upon current values is as little as any landlord should be expected to content himself with; and no tenant has a right to begrudge such a moderate rate. In clamoring for reductions of rentals, tenants are too apt to loose sight of the fact that nine-tenths of the taxes of this city and State are levied on real estate, and are so levied with the understanding that landlords shall collect them again from their tenants. It would simplify this feature of the problem if landlords were to affix their rentals independently of the taxes, and then require the tenant to pay the taxes. This method is adopted in Boston and in other cities. So long as our present system of taxation is maintained, it would be a wholesome and remedial step for landlords to adopt this same method of re-assessing taxation. Instead of including the taxes in a round rental, it would be better to accept a smaller figure, to wit, a fair percentage upon the value of their property and then require the tenant to respond to the city for local taxation. In no surer way can the tenant class be made to feel a personal interest in the administration of the local government.

Equalization of rents suggests considerations of a personal nature applicable to tenants. In the present exigency of affairs, sacrifices are called for from them as well as from landlords. No American community probably lives more completely under the dictatorship of Mrs. Grundy than do the affluent classes of New York. A residence in the best quarter is aspired to by every person of high or low degree who may claim to be above the condition of manuel labor. There is an innate and irrepressible desire on the part of every American to improve his social condition, which means, in this city, to secure a residence in the best attainable location. A man who could comfortably afford to pay a rent of one thousand or fifteen hundred dollars may be tempted under an impulse of social ambition to undertake the payment of a rent of eighteen hundred or two thousand dollars, and the same criticism will apply to the payees of higher and lower rentals. Equalization as regards tenants demands that they should be ready and willing to drop at once to the rate of rental to which their means are suitably adapted. Besides the natural shrinkage of values, which has played such havoc with real estate fortunes during the past five years, landlords have had to contend with this foolish pride of over-ambitious persons to continue to occupy premises to which they were not financially equal. The landlord who expects fifteen hundred, two thousand or twenty-five hundred dollars for a house requires to meet a tenant who is able to undertake such a rental. The aspirations of persons who are not able to respond to these rentals, supposing them to be fair and reasonable, should not be allowed to operate as depressants, for the reason that if the landlord gratifies their ambition and reduces his rents to meet their purses, he may be excluding from his property men of larger means who will be abundantly able to pay the rents originally demanded. Instead of trying to cheapen the rents of more valuable properties, tenants should become reconciled to living in such houses and in such locations as their means will easily and comfortably warrant.

A PROPOSITION TO TAX REAL ESTATE EXCLUSIVELY.

In the Sun of April 7 there appeared an able and learned critique of measures of taxation now pending before the legislature, accompanied by affirmative suggestions relating to the general subject of taxation, all of which deserve the attention of lawmakers and real estate owners. These utterances are understood to proceed from an eminent publicist and highly esteemed private citizen, whose advanced years and infirm health compel him to forego active participation in the present agitation for tax reform. We may add that he is the recognized author of the doctrine of exclusive real estate taxation, to whom Messrs. Wells, Andrews and Briggs are indebted for their main stock of ideas and arguments.

We have clipped from the Sun for reproduction here a single paragraph containing a clear, full and explicit statement of this peculiar doctrine. This statement should be carefully pondered by real estate owners, as presenting the mature and deliberate convictions of one of the highest, if not the very highest, authority in this country on the subject of taxation. Unfortunately, our own views are diametrically opposed, believing, as we honestly do, that real estate should be free of tax, upon whatever else the burden might have to fall.

A REAL ESTATE TAX THE BEST.

"The best form of taxation for local and State purposes is an exclusively real estate tax. More than one-half of the taxes collected in this country are collected by the general government, and the national taxes are all collected from personal property. If there is any fancied necessity for equality of taxation between real and personal property, it can only be accomplished by the States taking the exclusive field of realty. All visible and tangible property is produced upon real estate and consumed upon real estate. Commodities are only parts of land separated from the land by a legal fiction. They are still on the land and produced on the land, and consumed on the land. Land has no value, except for its capacity to produce personalty, and the value of the land is always in exact proportion to its power to produce personal property, and the amount of personal property immediately upon it, or in the immediate neighborhood reflected upon it. You take the statistics of Ohio, for instance, and in agricultural districts the land bears a direct ratio to the personalty. The city of New York, or rather the land covered by the city of New York, if it had no personal property upon it, or reflected upon it, would be worth just as much as when Hendrick Hudson discovered it, and no more or less, and that is—nothing at all. The value of the land may be said to be in proportion to the crops it produces, and this land has now produced a crop in the form of a city, the most valuable crop that land can produce. Taxation of real estate will permeate all forms of personal property within the taxing district, and likewise burden all the property exported from the taxing district and follow such property wherever it goes. Therefore there is no necessity for spending money and time producing vexatious annoyance and trouble, which are burdens, in taxing small atoms or infinitesimal quantities of personal property, when this same personal property can be so directly and effectively reached through the land which produces and contains the personal property, and upon which personal property is consumed. The natural law of supply and demand, cost of production and competition, will diffuse the real estate tax with unerring certainty upon everything else."

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

It cannot be said that the market proper has shown any decided features during the past week. In the matter of legal sales, there was a diminution, and there was little done in a private way. We note a sale by Messrs. W. H. Falconer & Son of the four-story brown stone house, 25x65, and lot, 25x98, at the southwest corner of Madison avenue and Fifty-fourth street, which was purchased for $41,000 by George E. Belcher, Esq., also a sale by Mr. Homer Morgan of the premises recently belonging to Cardinal John McCloskey, being the four-story brown stone front house, with lot, 37.6x95, on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and Thirty-sixth street, for $60,000, and further, the execution of a contract to Mr. H. Deane of eight lots on Eighty-sixth street for $27,200, and of four lots on southwest corner of Broadway and Fortieth street to a private party for $120,000

The building reports show that twenty-three plans have been filed for the week, comprising twenty-four buildings, six of which are for car houses, shops, sheds, &c., for the New York Elevated Railroad Co., and one for the New York Central & Hudson Railroad Co. These corporation plans have no estimated cost attached, but for the remaining seventeen the aggregate cost foots up $161,350. No other erections worthy of note will be found in the list.

The particulars of all the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending April 11, will be found below.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending April 10:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—On Common Hards the tone of the market has, as a rule, been pretty steady and the demand very fair. Buyers were not over-anxious operators beyond their immediate or near-at-hand wants, but there have been sufficient to exhaust pretty much all the offerings, and about former rates were secured with comparative ease. Still there was no decided tendency to buoyancy, and receivers have in most cases deemed it judicious to listen to all really fair bids rather than stand off on the attempt to draw out higher figures. Haverstraws generally rule at about $5 25@5.50 for the average offering of stock, and "Up-Rivers" $4.75, with the Fishkills at $5. Pale brick have scarcely held their own. A few somewhat anxious buyers last week paid comparatively extreme figures, but at the present writing the bids will not average much above $2.50@2.75 at the best. Prevailing reports are to the effect that the combination is working harmoniously, and will make every effort to accomplish the proposed reduction in the product. Front brick are selling in about the average proportion on local and shipping order, and the general tone of the market remains steady at full former rates. The amount available is only fair. We quote Pale, per M, $2.50@2.75; Hards, Up-Rivers, $1.50@3; Haverstraw bay, $5.25@5.50; favorite brands, $6.00; Fronts, Croton—Brown, $7.00@8.00; dark, $8.00@9.00; red, $9.00@9.50; Philadelphia, $26@28; Trenton, $24@29; Baltimore, $34@38. Yard prices, delivery included, $2 00@3.00 higher on ordinary and $5.00@6.00 on fronts.

HARDWARE.—With few exceptions a good fair trade is reported and many dealers call the position pretty active. Beyond this, there is nothing noticeable in the form of business calling for lengthy comment. The inquiry comes from the seasonable sources and a good proportion of it is still secured through the solicitation of traveling agents, only occasional sales to buyers in personal attendance taking place. On prices, the tone is firm, as a rule, and all recent compacts between manufacturers are supposed to be adhered to. At a recent meeting of the manufacturers of augers and auger bits the ruling line of prices was endorsed and confirmed and the regular discounts fixed at 50@50 and 10 per cent. H. Burden's Sons and the Rhode Island Horse Shoe Co. have reduced prices 25c. per keg and under the revised figures quote as follows: Horse shoes, $3.25 per keg; snow or trotting shoes, $3.75; mule shoes, Nos. 1@6, $4.25; Nos. 00@0, $4.75; and jack shoes, $5.25, all free on board at factory. For New York delivery 12½ per keg to be added.

LATH.—In most particulars, the general tone of the market remains about as last given. Demand is fair and has thus far this season exhausted a pretty good supply, but buyers are careful in most of their bids and quick to resist an extreme rate. Of late, the offering pretty full and $1.50 per M. all that could be obtained on cargo lots, but at this something over one million were sold, and the close is steady.

LIME.—The market generally is in quite a firm condition. Such lots as come to hand from the Eastward, sold readily and commanded former rates, and a considerable amount more is wanted by dealers, with great uncertainty as to the supply. In addition to the cargoes destroyed by fire, as noted last week, we now learn that several vessels have not been heard from at all, and it is feared they were lost during the recent storms. State lime in very good demand and ruling about steady.

LUMBER.—Business shows no great amount of natural animation as yet upon the wholesale market. Such supplies, as come to hand, coastwise, are placed with variable success as to value, but, as a rule, the figures cannot be considered full and the selling interest are not receiving quite the encouragement they expected on the early operations of the season. In fact, buyers are moving with quite as much caution as at any time last year, and, while admitting the outlook to be encouraging, are in nowise inclined to take in stocks on mere prospects alone. Manufacturers or their representatives from the interior have been in fair attendance for a week or so past, and the majority talk strong with a few merging into rather buoyant ideas. They do not, however, appear to have been very successful in impressing dealers here with corresponding ideas and secure few offers except to take supplies on commission, awaiting the "good time coming" the producer predicts. In brief, this as well as other seaboard markets promises a fair consumption of lumber, but only upon a basis of low cost and under the policy of handling supplies merely to the extent of current necessities.

Eastern Spruce does not find much direct demand, and the basis for valuation is somewhat nominal. Receivers have an idea of about what they expect for incoming cargoes and place their offerings upon the market with some display of confidence in many case, but full expectations are rarely realized and frequently quite a little shading has to be made before sales can be consummated. There is room for a considerable amount of stock in the city and immediate neighborhood, but dealers only handle supplies as they actually require them. Of late the arrivals have been rather small. We quote at $12.00@12.75 for random, possibly $13.00@13.25 for choice lengths in small cargoes and $15.50@14.00 for specials, the extreme for extra difficult.

White Pine continues in about the usual demand, with an occasional temporary increase of the movement. Shippers now and then have reasonably full orders and increased calls for local consumption have lately been made. Many of the smaller box makers are in constant want of stock, and some of the large manufacturers in this line finding their accumulation running down have also found it necessary to become buyers. First hand supplies are reduced, but will probably last until additions can be made, the principal dealers having parcels already to come forward as soon as they can be moved. We quote at $14.50@15.00 per M. for West India shipping boards; $19.50@21 for South American do.; $14@15 for box boards; $16@17 for do. wide and sound; and timber to order at $38@50 per M.

Yellow Pine finds rather an irregular demand and is not over active. Local and nearby shipping orders are careful and limited, with buyers requiring extremely close calculation on cost, etc., before they will close, and the export movement is not over encouraging, though most of the Southern mills are reported to be full of orders for the time being. Recent arrivals not very large. We quote random cargoes at about $18@22 per M.; ordered cargoes $22@24 do.; green flooring boards, $20@21 do., and dry do. do. $20@23. Cargoes at the South, $13@14.50 per M.; hewed timber $7.50@14.

Hardwoods are well maintained with a good and possibly better demand for the finer and more attractive grades. Amounts on hand are comparatively small and well under control with holders quite generally insisting upon full former extreme figures. We quote at wholesale rates by car load about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do., culls, $18@20 do; cherry, $15@75 do; white wood, ½ and ⅝ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch $33@35 do; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good near by stock.

The distribution from yard continues up to a pretty fair aggregate and is of a sufficiently general character to keep a little of all standard lines of goods in motion. Trade also appears to be spreading over a larger district and a greater number of dealers securing their share. Prices about steady, but allowances have to be made for the thousand and one influences affecting sales.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am. ship, 1,172 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Liverpool, deals, at or about 55s.; a Br. ship, 855 tons, on the spot, same voyage, deals, 53s. 9d., and timber, 28s.; an Am. barque, 546 tons, from Boston to Lisbon and Cadiz, staves, about $3,000; a schr., 451 tons, from a Mexican Gulf port to New York, cedar, $8; a Br. brig, 182 tons, from Annapolis, N. S., to Port Spain, lumber, $7; a Br. brig, 290 tons, and an Am. schr., 150 tons, from Annapolis, N. S., to the windward, lumber, $6.50; a schr., 175 tons, from Bucksville to Martinique, lumber, $9; a schr., 181 tons, from Calais to Ponce, P. R., lumber, $6.50, silver; a schr., 398 tons, hence to Cardenas, empty hogsheads, 65@70c.; an Am. brig, 190 tons, from Wilmington, N. C., to Hayti, lumber, $7; a schr., 174 tons, from Rappahannock to New York, white oak timber, $5; a schr., 300 M resawed lumber and boards, from Doboy and Philadelphia, $5.50; a schr., 350 M lumber, from Savannah to New Haven, $5.50; a schr., 300 M lumber, from Brunswick to Portland, $6.50; a schr., 150 M lumber, from Cedar Keys to Portland, $7.50, ice out, $2.25; a schr., 175 M lumber, from Charleston to New York, $5.25; a schr., 225 tons, hence to Jacksonville and back with lumber, $9 for the round; two schrs., 349 and 339 tons, from Portsmouth, Va., to New York, 70 ft. spiles, $4.50 each; a schr., 240 M lumber, from Pensacola to New Haven, $7.50; a schr., 200 M lumber, from Fernandina to New York, $6.50 and New York wharfage.

THE WEST.

The following from the Lumberman and Manufacturer:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., April 3, 1879.

The week has brought quite a demand for lumber to all western markets, as will be seen by the reports. St. Louis is enjoying a much larger trade than she had in 1878, and fully up to Chicago, in proportion to the stock on hand. We mention in this connection that the receipts of lumber at St. Louis are nearly all from the South.

At the points above Dubuque, common lumber is sold at $10, and prices are steady at such list. There was no special occasion for the late drop in prices, but, having made the reduction, it will hardly be possible to get the prices up again in 1879. The stocks of dry lumber are considerably broken now, and in sixty days, with the present trade, it will be hard to find a yard in the West that can fill a considerable bill. In other words, the "drop" has been a clean case of "scare," so far as dry lumber is concerned.

We mention elsewhere the breaking up of the railway combinations and the probable war between the companies. This may very largely affect the markets of the West, but in case of a general drive, it will avail Chicago but little, as in that event the river men will sell lumber at prices which will meet Chicago figures minus the railroad robberies. One important item in reference to the trade of Chicago in the West:—the Chicago Lumber Co., South Branch Lumber Co., T. W. Harvey, and other leading wholesale houses of that city, have retail yards scattered over Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri, probably nearly a hundred of them, and much of the lumber sent West goes into their own yards, to be sold at retail.

The prospect for securing the logs does not improve. The streams are all very low; the snow is all gone, and no rains have come to raise the rivers. It would seem as though the Mississippi waters had entered into a conspiracy with the lumbermen of Michigan to harrass and impoverish the West. However, there is time enough for plenty of water, and it is proper to expect as well as hope for it.

Logs are selling at low figures, as will be noted. Stumpage can hardly be counted worth anything in Wisconsin or Minnesota, as the price of logs is barely sufficient to cover the expense of cutting, hauling and driving, with a reasonable profit on the work.

The Lumberman's Gazette says:

We learn, unofficially, that a summer rate for rail freights on lumber has been substantially agreed upon, to take effect at once, and continue without change until November 1st next. The following are the rates which it is reported have been decided on:

	——Saginaw.——100 lbs.	per car.	Detroit. 100 lbs.	Buffalo. 100 lbs.
New York	.28	$56	.20	.15
Philadelphia	.26	52	.18	.13
Baltimore	.25	50	.17	.12
Boston	.33	66	.25	.20
New Haven, &c..	.35½	71	.27½	.22½

It is reported that the Grand Rapids rate is 2 cents lower and the Chicago rate is 1½ cents lower per 100 pounds than the Saginaw rate. It is said that all the roads and freight lines will enter the pool, and that a strong effort will be made to maintain these rates intact during the season upon East bound freights.

PENNSYLVANIA.

From The Williamsport Bulletin:

Spring lumbering operations are about to start up with very favorable prospects. As we before stated, a heavy stock of logs has been put in by our lumbermen during the past winter, and a good season's business is anticipated. Preparations have for some time been going forward actively about the various yards and mills in the city, and there is very little wanting now but the logs to enable the manufactories to begin work. At the mill of Brown, Early & Co., yesterday, the boilers were fired up in order to try them with the water, and the mill will begin cutting next week. The logs for the purpose will be brought down the canal as soon as the water is high enough to permit.

It is understood that there is plenty of snow in the woods to make water enough to bring in all the logs as soon as the weather gets warm. The rain which set in yesterday, it is thought, may facilitate things in favor of starting the logs. Some lumbermen are even apprehensive that there will be an excess of water, as it is claimed that very little rain would cause such a state of affairs. The water, which was let into the canal at Lock Haven on Tuesday reached Williamsport last night. The basins were filled up yesterday, and it is believed that canal navigation will be fully opened by Monday next. This, of course, will give an additional impetus to shipping operations, which are already active. During the past month shipments on the Pennsylvania road have been unusually heavy, and the other lines have also been doing a brisk business. Since the reduced freight rate went into effect, an increased readiness to make shipments has been shown by manufacturers, between whom and the transportation lines thorough harmony now seems to exists. On the whole, our lumbermen are naturally feeling cheerful over the generally favorable condition of affairs in their special line of industry.

FOREIGN.

Mail advices from Rio Janeiro to March 8th, are as follows:

Pitch Pine Deals.—After the arrival of the Mary Frost with 221,497 feet, which were sold at 43$000, advices arrived here of 5 cargoes being on the way and sundry cargoes loading, and this fact stimulated our dealers to an attempt to force down prices. When therefore, the Valero arrived with 303,174 feet, only 38$000 was offered for it though the cargo was ultimately sold at 41$000.

Our dealers, however, seem determined to take advantage of the considerable shipments now afloat and we therefore look for a fall in prices though that fall will probably be but temporary as our market is out scantily supplied.

White Pine Lumber.—As anticipated in our last our market has recovered from the effects of heavy shipments by steamers and prices have improved. The only arrivals has been the A. Heaton from New York with 55,253 feet, sold at 97 reis per foot, and if shipments continue moderate we expect the next arriving ots to fetch somewhat more.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

LONDON, March 15th, 1879.

We have no improvement to record in the past fortnight's trade, and in some respects prices may be considered a shade more depressed than they were at the time we penned our last report. At the public sales sellers have again begun to press goods on the market, and as a consequence large quantities of unreserved goods figured at the recent Baltic sales. If this may be taken as a sign of the times, it augurs badly for the first open-water goods that will come to market; if in the meantime the trade is to be stuffed with all descriptions, the appetite for fresh stock will be proportionately lessened. Time is drawing short now before the new imports are to hand, and if things are going to mend, they will have to exhibit some signs of it in the interval, or the already overcrowded market will be further glutted.

LIVERPOOL, March 12th.

The market shows perhaps a little more life, more retail orders being in course of delivery than has been the case for some time past; yet they are not of great extent, and do not make much impression upon the stocks. Prices continue to rule low for all kinds of goods, and by auction spruce deals have been sold at rates almost unknown before.

Liverpool Timber Sales.—On the 7th inst., Messrs. A. F. and D. Mackey offered for sale by auction their customary assortment of spruce deals, birch and pine timber, &c. The attendance of buyers was somewhat limited, and prices throughout the sale were low. All the Quebec pine timber was withdrawn for want of competition.

Mail advices from Cuba this week report:

White Pine.—One cargo has come in and is being offered for sale. With the only exception of one small lot of Canadian boards, sold on private terms, we have heard of no sale and quote nominally at from $31 @32 gold, per mille feet, as to class and assortment.

Pitch pine.—Nothing new to report and in the absence of sale we repeat nominally our last quotations of $27@28 per mille feet, as to class and assortment.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot remains under very good control, and the most desirable parcels are offered indifferently. Prices naturally are pretty well supported, but business is slow and buyers refuse to handle any but the ordinary jobbing parcels. We quote at 15⅝@16c. for Lake. Manufactured Copper has found a very good sale and prices remain quite steady on all grades. We quote about as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz. per sq. foot, 24c. per lb.; do. do. do., 16 oz. and over 12 oz., per sq. foot, 26c. per lb.; do. do., 10 and 12 oz. per sq. foot, 28c. per lb.; do. do., lighter than 10 oz. per sq. foot, 30c. per lb.; circles, less than 84 inches in diameter, 27c. per lb.; do. 84 inches in diameter and over, 30c. per lb.; segment and pattern sheets, 27c. per lb.; locomotive fire box sheets, 24c. per lb.; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz. per sq. foot, 22c. per lb., and Bolt Copper 24c. per lb. IRON—Scotch Pig is selling moderately in small lots as required to fill the ordinary run of orders, and commands about former rates. We quote at $19.00@22.50, according to brand and quantity handled. American Pig shows no new features of a decided character. A fair amount of stock changes hands in the aggregate, but mainly in the form of small and irregular parcels. Offering are moderate and prices maintained. We quote at $16.50@18.00 for No. 1 per ton, $15.50@17.00 for No. 2, and $14.50@16.00 for Forge. Rails have not been very active for either iron or steel, but the tone of the market remains pretty firm. We quote at $32.00@35.00 for newiiron, and $42.00@45.00 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $21.00@21.50 per ton; scrap, $24.00@25.00. Manufactured iron has not found a very active demand, the business rarely going beyond small job lots, but prices as a rule are firm. Common merchant bar quoted in round lots at 1.7c., and Refined at 1.9c., but for ten-ton lots from store, 1.8c and 2c. are respectively asked. Common sheet, 2⅞@3c., and best R. G. American, 3⅞@4c. from store. LEAD—Domestic Pig has still further declined since our last, and without attracting much attention, the general demand lacking spirit. At current valuations, however, holders are inclined to make a show of steadiness. We quote at 3½@3¾c. The manufactures of lead are easier and quoted: Bar 5¼c., Pipe 5½c. and Sheet 6c.—less the usual discount to the trade; and Tin-lined Pipe 12c., Block Tin Pipe 30c., on same terms. TIN—Pig in moderately active jobbing demand, but otherwise the market is slow, and prices somewhat heavy. We quote at 17½@17⅝c. for Banca, 15@15¼c. for Straits, 15@15½c. for English refined, and 14¾@15c. for do. common. Tin plates generally remains about steady, with demand for standard grades fair in a jobbing way. Spelter remains quite dull and has rather favored the buyer, but without any positive decline. Quoted 4½@4¾c. for the best stock. Sheet Zinc meeting with about an ordinary demand, and ruling steady at 6⅛@6¾c. from store.

NAILS.—A very fair demand prevailed from most the regular sources, and the market had a good, solid tone. Production is now somewhat reduced, and manufacturers and dealers feel more confidence in their ability to control the position. We quote on a basis of $2.15@2.20 net, for 10d to 60d.

OILS.—Goods in first hands have found some irregularity of value, but on the jobbing line the market preserved a steady tone, and a fair average business was transacted. We quote at 60@63c. for linseed oil from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—There does not appear to be many changes taking place on the jobbing market. The movement of parcels from first hands is somewhat uncertain and prices occasionally fluctuate; but the distribution to consumers keeps along in steady form and at full prices on all goods. The additions to supply are small, but enough to preserve an assortment.

PITCH.—Business continues moderate and somewhat uncertain, with not much character to the market. Supplies are equal to all calls, and former rates very generally accepted. We quote at $1.75@2.00 for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—A limited and well controlled stock and an increased demand has materially stimulated the market, and for a time the feeling was quite buoyant. Demand, however, has not greatly increased, and few parcels were taken beyond actual wants. As this report is closed the quotations stand at about 34@35c. per gallon, according to quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—About the average movement of stock is reported, and to the ordinary outlets, with holders retaining a fair advantage. Buyers, however, are quick to resist attempts at an increased cost, and no buoyancy can be infused. Supplies pretty full. We quote at $1.50@1.87 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $1.62@2.00 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

EXPENSIVE LOTS.

It is an oft quoted saying that every panic leaves the value of real estate in this city upon a higher plane than did the preceding one. There is every prospect that the revulsion from which we are emerging will present no exception to former experiences in this respect. Indeed, there is a likelihood, amounting almost to a certainty, that after the full effects of the lately existing depression have spent themselves, the values of choice property and of a good deal of speculative property will be found to be firmly established upon a higher plane than prevailed after any preceding period of depression. For the last two years the resistance to depreciation in real estate has been so unyielding and obstinate as to fully determine the fact that values had crystallized upon a stable and sound basis. Within the past year the prices realized by builders for improved property have been so uniform and concurrent, in respect to certain grades of dwelling property, as to indicate that people of wealth are satisfied to buy their dwellings at present rates. The practical success of building operations has been quickly followed by an upward impulse in the value of lots. In public consideration the lot owner who sells his property without gain must rank next to the builder who markets his production at a loss; either case presenting features of deplorable hardship.

During the era of inflation, and until its culmination, the prices of vacant lots throughout the island were carried and maintained far above the responsive abilities of the building trade. The movement on the part of lot owners at this juncture to advance the prices of their lots is inopportune and indiscreet, however justifiable it may seem to themselves. We know it is hard to reason with men who are merely striving to regain lost ground, and who feel that their property owes them to-day more than they can possibly realize out of it under the most favorable circumstances. But as continuous holding will involve an additional outlay for taxes, and additional loss of interest, it will be proper for these owners to consider whether it were not better to invite a market at attainable prices than to defeat one by advancing prices.

In the present fashionable quarter the depreciation of vacant property has been fully arrested and overcome, and owners generally have advanced their figures from 10 to 15 per cent. Time alone will determine the wisdom or unwisdom of this course. It will be useless to argue or remonstrate with owners who are indifferent to income and careless about the unavoidable outlays connected with property. It is the high privilege of an American citizen to do as he pleases with his own. These owners have the unanswerable argument at their command of actual scarcity of available lots. So long as the present quarter is so exclusively preferred by the wealth and fashion of the city, these owners will be justified in looking for higher prices, and the public, desirous of acquiring these lots, will be compelled to pay for them such prices as may be demanded. Vacant property on this island, whether of high or low degree, is relatively of an expensive character. The lot in Harlem at five hundred or a thousand dollars is measurably as expensive as the lot in the fashionable quarter at twenty-five or fifty thousand dollars, whether gauged by present salability or productiveness. In truth the whole vacant area of this island has ripened to its fullest maturity. The inducement to carry vacant property for future realization must be found in considerations other than those of probable money results. Pride, caprice, infatuation or extravagant conjectures of the future growth of the city may impel owners of certain lots to carry them indefinitely or for a lifetime. With a reasonable degree of certainty, the capabilities of every lot on this island may now be clearly determined, and any expert or intelligent forecast will be likely to hold good through a series of years. Lots that are supposed to be in the line of fashionable development, if carried until the march of improvement reaches them, will have cost so much more then, than may be realized from their immediate sale that their early improvement with some suitable structure adapted to their present surroundings and capabilities will render them a more lucrative investment than to allow them to lie fallow. The sale of lots to-day at current prices would result in a larger benefit for the sellers, provided the proceeds were judiciously invested at 6 per cent., than if the same amount of money was kept invested in vacant lots.

ROOF GUTTERS AND LEADERS.

Among the petty annoyances connected with the ownership of improved property, there is a serious and expensive one which is likely to occur in frosty weather, to wit: the freezing and bursting of roof gutters and leaders, or, speaking more exactly, from the freezing of the slush which collects in the gutters and leaders, and which, upon thawing, cracks and bursts both of these fixtures. In fact, scientists tell us that water is the one element which expands when congealing, and probably the initial injury to these important fixtures is done in the very act of freezing and is probably aggravated when the expansion and disturbance due to melting take place. That the prevailing system of roof drainage is an improvement on the ancient method of wooden cornice and gutters and tin leaders, discharging upon the sidewalk or yard flagging, we will admit, but the improvement consists only in the fact that the modern leader is connected with the house soil-pipe, and thus affords an easy outlet for roof water, besides being a safe and convenient ventilator for the sewer system.

There are three methods of roof drainage ordinarily adopted, which we will recite and criticize seriatum.

1. METAL GUTTER AND LEADER.—Any person taking the trouble to examine the rear of modern houses will observe in the majority of them a rim of galvanized iron projecting over the top of the brick work, the office of which he may be at a loss to comprehend. Many suppose that this is merely an ornamental appendage or finish for the rear wall, whereas it is in fact the metal gutter connected with the roof tinning, and which is intended to carry the roof drainage into the leader. This gutter is secured to the roof beams by strips of iron, and soldered with close joint to the tinning. At one end it is pierced by the leader, and the pitch of the gutter is towards the leader. The leader really connects the soil pipe in the cellar with this gutter, and is the channel or conduit for carrying the roof water into the soil pipe. These fixtures answer their purpose admirably in the summer time. Their operation would present no field for criticism or improvement in a milder latitude. In a climate as uncertain and variable as our own, where winters of exceptional severity are not altogether unknown and where mild winters are characterized by extreme changes, these fixtures become unserviceable, defective and troublesome, often being the cause of great internal damage to a building. The trouble arises in this way: at certain seasons the melting snow is arrested in the metal gutter by a change of temperature which reduces it to a viscid consistency, usually denominated "slush." As this hardens into ice, the gutter and leader become choked and obstructed. In this case some will imagine that the roof water might pass directly over the gutter and thus relieve the roof, but a more serious result is apt to ensue. The expansion and contraction of the metal of which the gutter is made will very likely start or warp the joint between the roof tinning and the metal gutter, and the weight of ice firmly congealed in the gutter will be sufficient to break it away from its moorings under the tinning. Thus a large gap is often left, through which the roof water courses into the interior of the house. Not infrequently a considerable volume of water is thus introduced into a building, sufficient to cause a soakage which extends down through many stories. This system is less objectionable where there is a southerly exposure, as in this case the gutter is less liable to become clogged with slush and ice, but one accident of this kind will serve to disgust any householder with the use of this appliance.

2. THE PARAPET WALL AND BOXHEAD LEADER.—Another method of treating roof drainage was devised by a prominent building firm and has been extensively copied by other judicious builders. It is to carry the rear wall a foot or two above the roof beams and cope it as a parapet wall. Then to form a valley behind this wall to act as a gutter, which will lead the roof water to a sluice-way or opening in the parapet wall, in which is firmly secured a spacious boxhead attached to the leader, the opening in the wall being protected by lattice guards to prevent the washing down of cakes of ice. This method dispenses entirely with the use of the metal gutter, although it still adheres to the exposed metal leader.

3. THE SOIL PIPE ROOF LEADER.—The prejudice of builders against introducing roof water into any pipe carried through the interior of a house, even though built within a solid wall, is the only excuse for the extensive use and perpetuation of the metal gutter and outside leader. The apprehension has always been entertained that roof water possesses a ready power of congealing and would turn to ice possibly in a red hot pipe, which in time might burst and inundate the house. To avoid the risk of such a deluge, builders have preferred to inflict upon householders the evils and annoyances of the metal gutter and outside leader.

No wiser disposition could be made of roof drainage than to carry it into a soil pipe properly flanged into the roof tinning and protected at the top by a suitable mouse trap or bird cage. The drainage system of every house should be composed of two verticle pipes connected together by the horizontal soil pipe in the cellar, one of these should be used as an inlet air pipe and as a water closet soil pipe; the other should be carried along a hot flue, such as the range flue to and above the roof. In such a system, it is perfectly proper and feasible to use the inlet pipe as a roof leader. We have seen this plan put into practice with very satisfactory results. The apprehension of any possible freezing of the water in this soil pipe is a perfectly idle one, because the pipe is too far removed from the action of the frost, and the gasses of decomposition within the pipe generate heat enough to keep the temperature of the pipe at a point considerably above freezing through its whole line to within a foot or two of the roof. Roofs drained in this way are subject to fewer accidents, and the tinning as well as the rear brick work are exempted from the trying effects of a cracked gutter and bursted leader.

LENIENCY TO TENANTS.

Leniency to debtors is the controlling and unalterable American sentiment. We have abolished imprisonment for debt and have forever closed the debtor's prison. We enact State bankrupt laws which invariably lean to the side of the debtor, and have only lately repealed a national bankrupt law, which was found, after protracted experience, to be altogether too loosely drawn and to afford too many loopholes for an easy escape of the debtor. Mercantile debts differ from rent debts or debts for borrowed money. The former embrace or are supposed to embrace some share of profit, and the risks of delinquency or insolvency are guarded against in well-regulated establishments by the creation of a guarantee account—a sort of sinking fund for the extinguishment of bad debt. It is a poor business in which the annual bad debts exhaust the capacity of the guarantee account. Lenders of money and lessors of property without security have no indemnity for the defaults of debtors. Borrowed money, in civilized communities, is a debt of honor, but rent is a debt which rests more lightly upon a debtor's shoulders than any other, and is apt to be treated with the coolest indifference. In this country there is a bitter prejudice against landlords, and a strong repugnance to the payment of rent which together disqualify the average American from being an acceptable tenant, and where the ability exists predispose him to become his own landlord. The landlord is apt to be regarded as a despot and tyrant, and a condition of tenancy as next to that of vassalage. In legal contests the courts, the juries and the law almost invariably favor the complaint of the tenant. In the esteem of the average tenant the landlord is quite outside the pale of ordinary creditorship. Business debts may be more or less seduously and conscientiously provided for, and family expenses may be scrupulously and promptly met, but the landlord is apt of all others to be selected as the victim for the largest, if not the only default in the payment of debts. This agrarian antipathy may be easily traced to notions and traditions handed down to us from European countries, where the landlord completely fills the role which his title aptly implies. In England property is owned principally by inheritance in large blocks or estates, and taxes on land are exceptionally light, consequently rents on the average are very low. If, for the same class of property rents were exacted corresponding to those that are necessarily current in this city, the revolt of tenants there would be prompt and spontaneous, and if such demands were persisted in the old empire might rock with revolution. Owing to the magnitude and the heredity of the estates in England, and their practical exemption from taxation, it is easily possible for landlords to be contented with moderate incomes from their property. The case is completely reversed in this city, where real estate alone is made the scape goat for tenelevenths of our enormous and burdensome taxation. The attempt to recover any great share of this taxation from the tenant compels the landlord to ask as rent a sum which seems disproportionate and unjust. Our present tax laws compel the landlord to act as the apologist and the publican of the city government. The long continuance of the hard times has brought to grief many a real estate owner who once considered himself in affluent circumstances, and scarcely any member of the real estate community except the owners of unencumbered estates have escaped serious embarrassment. Throughout the whole tenant class also, from the highest to the lowest grade, the nip of the hard times has been keenly felt, and its effect has been duly reflected in their negotiations with landlords. Landlords have been compelled to scale their rents down to what may be fairly called starvation prices, inasmuch as the rents now currently realized fail to pay the ordinary charges of property, to wit: the interest on a moderate incumbrance, taxes and the cost of repairs. Little or no mortgaged property in this city can be made, at present rents, to yield any interest upon the equity. Consequently landlords are literally improvished. The remedy for this situation may be afforded by either of two means: a general revival of prosperity which will enable landlords to exact better rents, or some substantial relief from taxation. Tenants as a class are disposed to ignore the circumstances in which landlords are placed, or else from pure inconsiderateness are unwilling to take the landlords interests into account. The protracted dulness and depression of the times have caused tenants to fall into a chronic state of unresponsiveness. They have become used to a settled default in the payment of rents, or to partial and tardy payments, and to an annually recurring demand for reductions in rentals, and are slow to realize that these things must sometime come to an end. Delinquent tenants must be impressed incisively and energetically with the fact that a change has come over the face of the rental market. There is no great surplus of rentable properties, and of the properties most in demand there is a marked scarcity. The landlords have done their utmost, and even more than they were justified in doing in the way of scaling down their rents, and tenants must make up their minds to accommodate themselves to the present situation. Much of the prevailing hesitancy and default in the payment of rent arises from a silly ambition on the part of tenants to occupy better quarters than they are able to pay for. Landlords show equal foolishness who attempt to cater to this weakness. Tenants must drop cheerfully, willingly and at once in the scale of rentals until they find that grade which they are comfortably able to respond to; and having assumed the payment of a given rent they must be made to feel its obligation equally with that of the grocer's and butcher's bill. During nearly six years of continuous ill luck landlords have become pretty thoroughly demoralized. The lack of decision and firmness on their part only encourages a wavering and bargaining disposition on the part of tenants. Probably the best fate that could befall the landlords of this city would be to have their properties remain vacant for six months if they might thus succeed in dropping grumblers and delinquents and secure a fresh crop of paying tenants at rates which would more nearly agree with the present marketable value of property. A change for the better has set in throughout the whole field of city real estate, and, although the change has manifested itself principally in improvable and speculative lots, the reaction is bound in time to affect rentals also.

The times are propitious and ripe for a radical change of policy on the part of landlords. Instead of indulging weak and dilatory tenants in the non-payment of rent, there should be a determined and unsparing weeding out of bad tenants. The tenant who is promising to pay one or two thousand dollars rent when he is only able to pay one-half is depriving a wealthier tenant of the enjoyment of the property as well as injuring the landlord to the extent of his default. Under the harsh system by which our present tax laws are administered the landlord is compelled to pay nearly the whole of State and city taxation. This includes the support of charitable institutions which consume several millions of the tax budget. It is unwarrantable to expect the landlord to turn his rented premises also into charitable institutions for the support of those who are not able to pay a satisfactory rent. Rents can be found in this city of comfortable quarters ranging all the way from fifty to five thousand dollars a year, and there is no reason why tenants should not adjust and adapt themselves to the necessities of their circumstances. The landlord who indulges and retains a crippled tenant is depriving the owner of cheaper premises of what might be an acceptable tenant, and at the same time depreciating his own property and impairing his rental income. Besides a thorough weeding out of weak tenants, it is necessary that landlords should take a firm stand in regard to the rents which they may ask. The right rule to follow is to fix fair and reasonable valuations upon property, then calculate interest at the rate of six per cent., to this add the amount of taxes and the expense of ordinary repairs. Any landlord, whether weak or strong, should be willing to stand firmly upon the result of such a calculation. It is useless to attempt to inspire confidence unless the same is actually and rationally entertained. Unless the landlord believes his property to be worth the rent he asks he cannot expect others to respond cheerfully to his demands. A firm adherence to moderate rents will do more to reinstate the tone and character of the rent market than can be expected of any other policy. Landlords have played the part of benefactors and philanthropists long enough, and to their great detriment. It would be far better to run the risk of an occasional, or even a prolonged, vacancy for the sake of establishing better rates of rentals, and of securing a better class of tenants.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

At the Exchange Salesroom, during the week, very few sales were held, except by order of courts. Full descriptions of all sales made are appended.

Twenty-eight plans, embracing sixty-three buildings, to be erected at an estimated cost of $615,154, have been filed during the week, the following are worthy of note:
